PITTSBURGH:

FRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 30, 1859.

Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of Allegheny County are requested to meet in their respective election districts on SATURDAY, 31st December, and elect two delegates from each to a County Convention, which will meet at the Court House on WEDNESDAY, January 4th, to elect seven delegates to represent this county in the State Convention which meets at Harrisburg, on the 22d of February, 1860. The meeting in the townships will be held between 2 and 5 o'clock P. M.; in the cities and boroughs between 7 and 9 o'clock P. M. JOHN M. KIRKPATRICK, Chairman.
H. HOLLE, Secretary.

Republican County Mass Meeting.

A Mass Meeting of the Republicans of the county will be held at Lafayette Hall, on WEDNESDAY NIGHT, the 4th of January, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Republican County Club for 1860. The Republicans of the county generally are invited to attend. fd

THE MESSAGE.—The President, as those of our readers who have perused his Message will remember, takes very decided ground in favor of the Dred Scott decision in its broadest and most comprehensive phase. He contends that Slavery exists, by force of the Constitution, in the Territories, and that there is no power in the people of the territories to abolish, prohibit or restrain it. He does not go the full length of the Southern men, who carry the principle out to its legitimate end, and contend that it is the duty of Congress to protect Slavery therein, if the territorial legislature fail to do so; but he will very naturally follow to that conclusion: all he needs is time—and the Charleston nomination.

This monstrous doctrine is one upon which the Opposition will very gladly join issue with the administration. It is a complete abandonment of the ground occupied in 1856—a repudiation of the Cincinnati platform and the pledges made by Mr. Buchanan while he was a candidate. His letter of acceptance of the Cincinnati nomination in 1856 took ground directly opposite to that now occupied in the Message. He contended, then, that the people of the Territories had full and absolute control over the whole subject of Slavery; and upon his pledge to that effect, iterated and reiterated by every democratic speaker throughout the North, he was elected. He could have been elected upon no other ground. If he had then stated the views he now proclaims he never would have been President. He knows this right well, and that he obtained his election upon the basest of false pretences. He seems, however, to feel no shame for the deception. On the contrary, he expects the party to rally to his support, and that it will take the deception as one naturally to be expected from him and the party he represents.

The Message seems however, to have been thrown into Congress at an inopportune moment. Just while Mr. Morris, of Illinois, was imploring the Conservatives of the House to unite on some conservative man for Speaker, in pops the Message, running over with this shameless abandonment of the Squatter Sovereignty platform; and this fact so incensed Mr. Morris, who appears to be a sincere Squatter Sovereignty man, that he incontinently kicked over his own pail of milk and proceeded to denounce the administration as corrupt, powerless and utterly degraded. His concluding speech was a queer commentary upon his opening one: and the consequence seems to be that the administration and Anti-Lecompton forces are now further apart than ever. The Message, in thus contributing to defeat a coalition arrangement for the election of a Speaker, has the merit of having done that much good.

There could be no better electioneering document than the Message for the Republicans of the North. In that respect it comes next to the democratic speeches gratuitously advertising Helper's book. His bold avowal of the odious doctrine that the Constitution carries Slavery everywhere; his proposal for an invasion of Mexico; his demand to have the war-making power entrusted to him; his bold bid, which the whole document presents, for a renomination, and the attack therein involved upon Douglas and his friends, and his graceless abandonment of the pledges he made in 1856, all help to swell and deepen the current of indignation which is setting in so steadily against the party in power. For these reasons we are glad it is to have a wide circulation: and we may therefore be excused for recommending it to general perusal, which, under other circumstances, we should be sorry to do.

THE N. Y. Times says that "the leading Democratic paper in Allegheny county, Pa.—the Mountain Echo—nominates Mr. BRECKINRIDGE for the Presidency." Our neighbor Barr is a man of considerable agility and he might, by an extraordinary exercise of his skill in that direction, mount an echo; but the name of his paper—the only democratic paper in Allegheny county—is "the Pittsburgh Daily Morning Post"—we give the name in full—and not "the Mountain Echo."

I HAVE not made any statement in reference to your usage, [in the formation of Committees,] except to yourselves privately, for now four years. I knew that if I said it, the declaration would be made that the Senator from Ohio wanted to be Chairman of a Committee. But, sir, I am going out of the Senate; and, in the little time that remains to me, it would not be of the slightest consequence to me; and, therefore, at least now, I can say that your usage is intolerably bad. It is a usage which has operated to give to the Senators from the slaveholding States the Chairman of every single Committee that controls the public business of this Government. There is not one exception. Hon Geo. E. Pugh, in the U. S. Senate, Dec. 16, 1856.

This is valuable testimony, and we propose to keep it before the people. That which is true of the Southern sectionalism in the Senate is true of every Department of the Government in which the Democratic party is in the ascendant. It is true of the Cabinet and of the Supreme Court. The majority of this Court, toward which Democracy has been teaching us for some years, we must look with such humble trust and awful reverence, is composed of men from the minority section, and the Southern politicians are filled with horror at the idea of its reorganization upon a just basis. The more this matter is examined into the deeper will be the conviction that the usage is intolerably bad, that the demand for reform imperative.—Cin Com.

MR. DAVIDSON, of Louisiana, in the House of Representatives on the 20th, in the course of a fire and fury harangue, said:

"All the Abolitionists in the world cannot keep slavery from a Territory where it belongs. Send Abolitionists to a Territory where African slavery is profitable, and the first thing those davils do is to get slaves themselves, and they are the only hard masters that live upon earth."

One would think then that the Abolitionists would be the very fellows wanted by the slavery propagandists in the Territories.—Cin. Com.

CONFLICTING AUTHORITIES.—At the late Union-saving meeting in this city, wherein sundry gentlemen distinguished themselves no less for their lofty patriotism in preventing the dissolution of the Union than for their generous abuse of the Republican party in general and Gov. Seward in particular, the speech of Mr. O'Conor was the gem of the occasion. It is, however, deserving of special notice, not on account of its poverty, its logic, or its moral tone, but for the simple fact that the leading Democratic journals have pronounced it a bold and manly effort, and assumed it as the key note of Democratic conservatism. As a lawyer, Mr. O'Conor, in giving utterance to his extreme Pro Slavery sentiments, so utterly abhorrent to the intelligence and moral sense of the North, should at least have attempted to fortify his doctrine by a show of authority or logical argument.

We do not, however, deny the right of this distinguished advocate, in presenting the case of his Southern clients and of the Northern Democracy to take his own course; but we propose to call him and several other witnesses, whom he himself will recognize as men of some eminence as lawyers, jurists, statesmen, philosophers and theologians, and present their testimony to the American People, in order that they may come to a right conclusion as to the success of Mr. Charles O'Conor's defense of Slavery, and in its Democratic judgement. And first, consider an extract from Mr. O'Conor's speech upon this subject of Slavery.

"If Negro Slavery] is not only not unjust, it is a wise and beneficent."
CHARLES O'CONOR.

This ipse dixit closes the case on the part of the Democracy. Now, on the other hand:

"Slavery is inconsistent with the greatest of republicanisms—it lessens the sense of the equal rights of mankind and habituates us to tyranny and oppression."
LUTHER MARTIN, of Md.

"If [Slavery] is so odious that nothing can be sufficient to support it but positive law."
Lord MANSFIELD.

"It is unjust to permit slavery to remain for a single hour."
WILLIAM PITT.

"Slavery is contrary to the fundamental law of all nations."
MONTESQUIEU.

"Slavery in all its forms, in all its degrees, is a violation of divine law, and a degradation of human nature."
BRISSOT.

"Those are men-stealers who abolish, keep, sell or buy slaves or freemen."
GROTIUS

"Slavery is detrimental to virtue and industry."
BEATTIE

"Slavery is a system of outrage and robbery."
SOCRATES

"Slavery is a system of the most complete injustice."
PLATO

"White men despise fraud, and loathe rapine, and abhor blood; they will reject with indignation the baneful and guilty pleasure that man can hold property in man."
BROUGHAM.

"Slavery in a state so improper, so degrading, so ruinous to the feelings and capacities of human nature, that it ought not to be suffered to exist."
BURKE

"No man by nature is the property of another."
D. LORD

"A system; Slavery [which is not only opposed to all true principles of morality, but as it appears to me, is pregnant with appalling and inevitable danger to the public]"
Baron HUMBOLDT

"Every man has a property in his own person: this no body has a right to but himself."
LOCKE

"It perverts human reason, and induces men endowed with logical powers to maintain that slavery is sanctioned by the Christian religion."
J. Q. ADAMS.

"I never would consent, and never have consented that there should be one foot of slave territory beyond what the old thirteen States had at the formation of the Union. Never, never."
DANIEL WEBSTER

"If [Slavery] ought not to be introduced, persons"
ALEX. HAMILTON

"Natural liberty is the gift of the benefient Creator of the whole human race."
JOHN JAY.

"Slavery is an atrocious debasement of human nature."
FRANKLIN.

"If Slavery] impairs our strength as a community, and poisons our morals at the fountain head."
Judge GASTON, of N. C.

"The evils of this system [slavery] cannot be counteracted."
G. W. RUMMERS, of Va.

"So long as God allows the vital current to flow through my veins, I will never, never, never, by word or thought, by mind or will, aid in or submit to the root of Free Territory to the everlasting curse of Human Bondage."
HENRY CLAY

"Sir, I neither spy the least nor the blackest of that man from the North, who rises here in Congress to defend slavery from principle."
JOHN RANDOLPH.

"We have found that this evil [slavery] has prepared us for the very trials of the Union, and has been a principle latent in the states in which it had existed."
JAMES MONROE.

"The abolition of domestic slavery is the greatest object of desire in these colonies, where it was unhappily introduced in their infant State."
THO. JEFFERSON.

"I can only say, that there is not a man living who wishes more sincerely than I do to see a plan adopted for the abolition of it [slavery]."
GEO. WASHINGTON.

For Mr. O'Conor's special benefit, we shall produce two other witnesses.

"Not only does the Christian religion, but also its agreement with the principles of nature."
POPE LEO X.

"We further repudiate it as Apostolic, sinful, diabolical, abominable, traffic in slaves and holding them in slavery as utterly unworthy of the christian name."
POPE GREGORY XVI

Wesleyingly add that the Roman Catholic Church, the Lutheran, the Greek, the Nestorian, the Church of England, the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, the Reformed Churches of France, Switzerland and Holland; indeed, the whole Protestant Church—all, except a few churches in the Southern States—now, and at all times, have deplored and denounced human bondage, as a social, moral and political evil—either by their creeds, laws or constitutions, or by the authoritative opinions of their most eminent divines. And yet, Mr. Charles O'Conor, as the representative man of the vast multitude of the Unionsaving Democracy—standing in the great commercial emporium of this great Republic—has the effrontery to proclaim (and is applauded for so proclaiming) that the system of Negro Slavery, which the united voices of the wise and the good, in all ages, and which the advancing civilization of the whole of Christendom unite in denouncing as abhorrent to all law, human, and divine, "is not only not unjust, but is just, wise and beneficent." And the Pro-Slavery Democracy not only does not condemn the utterance of this abominable sentiment, but sustains and applauds it!—N. Y. Tribune.

HOW THE SENATE INVESTIGATES. The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

Near the close of the last session of Congress, two prominent citizens of Louisiana presented a memorial charging Senators Slidell and Benjamin, of that State, with having procured an act of Congress surreptitiously confirming the Himmas land grant, by which few hundred families were turned out of their homes in Louisiana, and several hundred thousand dollars' worth of property voted into the pocket of Slidell, with the allegation that Mr. Benjamin received certainly ten thousand, and probably forty thousand dollars for his services in procuring the grant. Congress having no time to examine the question, passed a joint resolution suspending the issuing of the patent until the end of this session of Congress, with the knowledge that the question would come before the committee of private land claims at this session, and that the accusers are now in this city, renewing the charges. Mr. Benjamin, who is the party implicated, has been appointed Chairman of the Committee to investigate his own conduct.

A GOLDEN THOUGHT.—Nature will be reported. All things are engaged in writing their own history. The plant and pebble go attend by their own shadows. The rock leaves its records on the mountain side, the river its channel in the soil, and the animal leaves its bones in the strata, the fern and the leaf their modest epitaph in the coal. The falling drop makes its sepulchre in the sand or stone; not a footstep in the snow or along the ground, but prints in characters more or less lasting, a map of its march; every act of sound inscribes itself on the memories of his fellows, and in his own face. The air is full of sound; the sky of tokens; the ground is all memoranda and signatures, and every object is covered over with hints which speak to the intelligent.
