slave-dealing States.

On this question all others are dependent, and such is the devotion of the modern democracy to the interests of the South that it makes no movement that has not the "inevitable and the everlasting negro" involved in it to a large extent. Northern men may suffer on Southern pillorles, rot in Southern prisons or even perish on Southern gibbets, and they will receive no sympathy from that party or its official representatives. Such emotions are only manifested when a purpose is to be gained, as the croceodite wife and scross research indicent to moura his wife and size or seven children to moura his when a purpose is to be gained, as the crocodile a wife and six or seven children to mourn his is said to shed tears over the victim it is about untimely end.—Cleanfield Raftwan. to derour. Democratic philantrophy, under the guidance of the resident, is destined for the present at least to flow in the direction of Mexico until its end is gained. After this is accomplished the nation will be called upon to chastise with its strong arm the obstinacy and insolence of semi-barberous Mexicans, who may object to having their country again dismembered and divided. In contemplating this course of President Buchanan, we confess ourselves at a loss to decide which to condern most, the ruler who would thus deliberately attempts to usurp the suthority of the government, or the variety of the government, or the variety of the government, or the variety of the following serious account.

The Mercury says the Free States, with eighteen votes from the Slave States, can control the choice of the Convention, while in the electoral college the party must rely on the South for its if the other portion is not. The democrats mus depend on the South for its votes, none being reserved for it in the entire North. In this the Mercury is tight.

Such a plea would be out of place at a time when he proposes to userp the well defined powers of the government for the purpose of invaling the territory of a reighboring people with whom we are, as ought to be, at peace. But the difficulty lies not here. The President's sympathy for the supposed sufferings of American residents in Moxico is a mere sham, and, when properly understood, means a desire to steal a large slice of Mexican territory for the purpose of restoring the territorial equality of the clave-holding and slave-dealing States.

On the guarding all claves are dependent and slave-dealing States.
