...AL FINANCES UNDER MR. BUCHANAN.—...nual" thus notices the financial abilities ...Buchanan administration, as represented ...Treasury department by Secretary Cobb. ...r, in the history of the country, were the ...ncial affairs of the Government in so deplo... a condition. It seems incredible that in ...o of peace, and when there is in reality no ...ecessity for any extraordinary expenditures, ...t we should be plunging deeper and deeper ...ebt. It is to prevent an investigation of ...s matter that such strenuous exertions are ...e by the Democrats against the election of ...epublican Speaker. They dread a fair and ...discriminating as much as the guilty prisoner ...ears having justice meted out to him. Should ...there a faithful and impartial investigation ...o much public corruption would be exposed ...the gaze of an astonished public!—

...Secretary Cobb came into the Treasury when ...he was in his coffers a surplus revenue of al... ...ms $30,000,000, and in a brief space there ...s money enough left to pay only the smallest ...ds. The Treasury hobbled along in a ...and clumsy gait, until millions and mil... and millions of credit notes were autho... to be issued by the Secretary. ...Correspondence of the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Jan. 16, 1860.

Eds. Gazette: The two Houses went into joint Convention, to-day, for the election of State Treasurer. Mr. Slifer had 82 votes, and Mr. Maynard 42. Nine members were absent—2 Rep. in the Senate and 2 in the House, 3 Dem. in the Senate and 2 in the House.

The nomination of Wm. R. Dowett, as State Librarian, was taken up in the Senate and unanimously confirmed.

Mr. Bell's resolutions in favor of the election of a Speaker pro tem at Washington, were taken up and passed through Committee of the Whole. They will be negatived when put on final passage.

Mr. Penney read in his place a bill supplementary to the act incorporating the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Passenger Railway Co. Also, an act providing for the election of an additional Judge in the District Court of your county.

Mr. Irish an act supplementary to the act incorporating the Monongahela Insurance Co.

Mr. Imbrie an act to create a new Judicial District out of Lawrence and Mercer counties.

In the House, Mr. Sheppard offered a resolution calling upon the State Treasurer for a statement of the money in the Treasury, and where deposited. Laid over.

Mr. Dejard introduced a bill supplementary to the act incorporating the Pittsburgh & East Liberty Passenger Railway Co. Also, an act to incorporate the East Liberty and Wilkinsburg Gas Co.

Mr. Espy introduced a bill supplementary to the act taxing certain offices. This is the act written and forwarded by Mr. Bigham, of the Journal, to punish Sheriff Graham for not advertising in that paper.

Mr. Davis read in place a bill relative to viewers of roads in Venango county.

Mr. Butler introduced a bill, which was passed, relative to the fees of the Sheriff of Crawford Co.

Mr. Davis an act to restore the act for the encouragement and further developement of the mineral resources of this State, so far as relates to Venango county. Passed. This is a bill growing out of the oil fever.

The bill to authorize the re-opening and auditing of Gen. Calhan's accounts, as an officer on the Portage Road, passed. It will probably pass the Senate to-morrow.

The Governor has signed the bill authorizing the Controller of your city to appoint an Assistant. Judging from the terrible agitation already manifested by the Journal and Dispatch, I fear for the consequences of this proceeding on the part of the Governor upon the editors of those sheets. It will certainly deprive them of the little wit that seems to be left them.

I am satisfied there would have been no opposition to or complaint about this bill had it not been that the Controller elect was interested in it. The opposition is personal to him and not to the bill. The interests of the city are well guarded by the bill and cannot suffer by it. If Mr. J. Herron Foster had been nominated for Senate last summer and Mr. T. J. Bigham had got the city printing, there would not have been a word said about it in those papers. They are disappointed men: blame their disappointment upon the Controller elect; and hence vent their spleen upon this bill as the best means of spitting their spite at him.

Now, the opposition of the Dispatch is a matter of no concern whatever. Mr. Errett has borne the malice, abuse and persecution of Mr. Foster for twenty years, and keeps an open account with that individual which he will take occasion to square as opportunity offers; but he has some little regard left for Mr. Bigham; and he therefore protests against the misrepresentations of that sheet. The Journal is entirely mistaken in saying that Mr. E. attempted to secure the City Printing for the Gazette. He did not ask a single member of Councils to vote for the Gazette. He left that matter entirely in the hands of its friends, in the caucus, and has no doubt they acted with a full knowledge of their duties and responsibilities. If my information is correct, the Gazette first beat the Dispatch in the caucus, and then the Dispatch defeated the Journal. It certainly was not the fault of Mr. E. that the Gazette was first chosen without solicitation on his part, nor that the Dispatch proved stronger than the Journal in a single handed contest between the two.

With regard to the Controller's office, I have no doubt Mr. E. would very gladly accept the suggestion of the Journal and allow Mr. Lambert to hold over. If that gentleman will consent to that arrangement, the whole matter can be settled satisfactorily all round.

Among the stuff put forward on this subject the silliest is the pretence that the Controller's office is a judicial office. It is nothing of the kind, unless the Councils can confer judicial powers, and I have never heard that power claimed for them. The only provision in the Acts of Assembly relative to the office is as follows:

The first section provides that the citizens shall elect "one person to serve as Controller of said city," and the 5th section then provides:

"SEC. 5. That the Controller shall give bond to the said city in such sum as the City Councils may from time to time direct, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and shall, before he enters on said duties, take and subscribe an affirmation before the Mayor of said city, faithfully to discharge the duties of said office; and if he shall knowingly violate said oath or affirmation he shall be deemed guilty of perjury; he shall perform such duties as the Councils of said city may from time to time prescribe, and is hereby empowered to administer oaths or affirmations to all persons presenting bills for probate against said city."

This is all the Acts of Assembly contain on the subject. The only judicial power conferred upon him is that of administering oaths, and [illegible] is enjoyed by every [illegible] Controller or clerk of the [illegible]ughout the Commonwealth, without injury to the public interests. His duties are all prescribed by Councils, and the entire routine of affairs is within the control of these bodies. He passes, it is true, upon claims against the city, in pursuance of the ordinance of Councils, but he does not adjudicate them, and his decision is not final. The Committees of Council pass upon most of them, and the others are submitted to Council for approval. To speak of such an office as a judicial one is a gross abuse of language and an unjustifiable perversion of the record.

I have entered at some length into this matter in order to make a general answer to the attacks with which the interested journals of your city have teemed for days. The citizens of Pittsburgh, who have a right to take a deep interest in this matter, may rest assured that their interests are in no danger. The whole dust has been raised for the purpose of venting spleen at Mr. [illegible], and none but [illegible], of those who are nursing a supposed grievance against him, are engaged in it. If any body but Mr. E. had been elected Controller, not a word would have been said in the matter. R.

THE LAWRENCE CATASTROPHE.—The coroner's inquest on the victims of this horrible catastrophe still drags its slow length along. The great point toward which the inquiry is directed now, is the cause of the awful disaster. It is attributed to various causes. One thing is so evident as to need no further parley, to wit, that the weight in the mill was greater than the walls could endure. In connection with the examination now proceeding, a correspondent of a New York paper calls attention to a Mr. Swift's Comp und Syrup of Pinepates, or Chemical Food, for sale by Jos. FLEMING, corner Market st. and the Diamond. ja17

☞DR BORT will shortly return to London, this being his fourth visit among us—this visit being a short one, but long enough to insure him a cordial welcome whenever he revisits us. He has proved to all who had any professional intercourse with him, that he is not only a scientific Oculist and Aurist, with the true judgment of a man skilled in his profession, but combines in his dealings that of a gentleman in its full measure. His advertisements are not such as are usually put forth by those who profess in public print to cure every possible ailment which flesh is heir to, but they bear the stamp of a man who is master of his art. Dr. B. despises the empiric and quack as much as any one; nor will he stoop to deceive anybody by false hope, or by warrant ing cures by any other means generally employed by those who use all artifices to get patients, and then give them their sentence, which have really no other worth than the mere act of getting some fees only of the applicants. Dr. B.'s prescriptions have been examined by the best physicians and chemists that we have in our Province. He has no secret in his office, nor whatever he does in his profession; nor are his testimonials from that class of persons who commonly give medical certificates, but they are of the very best authorities, and he fully deserves the confidence of any community that he may visit. We advise all to call on him before he leaves us."
