PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 14, 1860.

To the Readers of the Gazette. Mr. J. M. Stonen, of this county, has purchased one-fourth of the Gazette establishmen and will at once enter upon his duties as one of the editors and proprietors of this paper. We bespeak for our pariner and friend the kind regard and confidence of all our patrons; we do this the more readily because we have every reason to believe he will prove deserving and worthy in his new vocation. He is a gentleman who is well and favorably known to a large class of the citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, which fact obvistes the necessity of on saying anything more in his favor at this time. It will be seen by the above apnouncement that I have become connected with the Press of this city-a novel position to me, as I have hithcrito been engaged in pursuits of a different character. The business of journalizing involves some difficulties, especially to one one capable.

Air. Finney also had passed a supplement to the act to incorporate the Crawford county Muwhith its details. Some discrimination and judgment in the act to incorporate the Crawford county Muwhith its details. Some discrimination and judgment in the selection of matter to make the selection of matter to fine newspaper, and some degree of activity

The other bills passed were of no interest to constant the newspaper. The selection of matter to fine newspaper. The selection of activity and the newspaper. The selection of activity and the newspaper is a selection of activity and the newspaper. The selection of activity and the newspaper. The selection of activity and the newspaper. The business of journalizing involves and diligence is also required in preparing it for publication in the short period allowed for this purpose. The countenance and encouragement of my friends and the courtesoy of my co-workors of the Press will contribute largely in overcoming these embarrassments, and relying on their aid. I trust that there may be no such falling off from the management of my prodecessor as scriously to injure the favorable standing of the paper. J. M. STONER.

DECLINATION OF GOV. REEDER .- GOV. BEEDER has written a letter to Mr. Albanour, one of the delegates to the State Convention from Northampion county, in which he withdraws his name as a candidate for Governor. The letter declination breathes the right spirit, and not only shows that the writer is faithful to his on taken in 1856, but that he is willing to exert all his energies for the furtherance of the decirines of the Republican party. Gov. Reeder deserves a high place in the affections of all who are opposed to the excesses of the reckless party in power, and we trust the day is not far distant in power, and we trust the day is not far distant whon the friends of "free speech and free soil" will have the privilege of attesting their admiration of the man. We quote from his letter to Mr. Albright the following extract:

"I say now, as I have said from the first suggestion of my name, that I do not deaire it, and would deeddedly prefer that it should be conferred on some one else. In saying this, I have no idea of disparaging the nomination, or of affecting to look down upon it. Canferred by that party which embodies all the true and genuine democracy, the real conservation and well directed patriciam, which are to be found in the political organizations of the present day, it is an honor of which any man may be proud. Still I do not desire it, and would very much prefer not it have it. For this I have three or four private reasons, which are quite convincing to myself, and equally so to many friends who are acquainted with them, but which it would be in bad taste and obtrurive to thrust upon the public. Influenced by these, I have from the public. Influenced by these, I have from the beginning expressed the wish, and repeat it now, that is many will urge my nomination from the motive of mere personal friendship to me.

I novertheless recognize fally the obligation resting upon every man to ascorifice personal considerations to any reasonable except, when called the state and the spirits of wance and the spirits done and the spirits of wance and the spirits decay the control of the provision of the present day.

Invertheless recognize fully the obligation resting upon every man to sacrifice personal of such that the spirits droop. The lange upon by his party to become a capdidate, for their sake, and not his own; and recognizing this obligation. I would respond to it whenever such a state of circumstances should occur. On this present occasion, however, with a number of eminent, gentlemen and desirable candidates ready to take the nomination, such a contingency meet not at all be apprehended. This fact assures me of a result most consonnat to my own feelings and wishes, and eaves me from a sacrifices of them, without violating my bonsistency and displessing some of my friends by and repute the continued beyond a very few has unqualified withdrawal of my name.

Do not infer from this that I am indifferent to the great struggle which is coming, and will and regularity, ore the most panaecas for prorupt or unqualified withdrawal of my name.

Do not infer from this that I am indifferent to the great struggle which is coming; and will soon upheave the political community. I only sak to fight as a private in the raths. I am alive to all its influences and effects, and feel the deepest and liveliest interest in its results.

The first is whether slavery shall be precognized, extended and perpetuated are a social blessing; and the second is whether free white labor shall be cherished and protected against rations foreign competition. Much reading, thought and observation have fixed on my mind the indelible conviction that if we would preserve our institutions in their purity, and roll back it he lide of corruption and subservinery which has made the miscalled democratic organition is mere proslavery, southern-sectional spoils party, we must play our certain stand by them with fidelity and deterministion.
