LOST.—A daguerreotype of a deceased friend, enclosed in a shell case, and which is prized very highly by the relatives, was lost some time ago, in the Fifth ward, or on Liberty-st., wrapped up in white paper. Any one knowing anything about it will be suitably rewarded by leaving it at this office, or at the Mansion House, near the Penn's Central Railroad station. The portrait is that of a gentleman, holding a small English terrier dog upon his knee, and is of no value to any one except the friends of deceased.

THE ANTI-DISCRIMINATION MEETING.—We remind the merchants, manufacturers and citizens that the meeting on this subject held last week, was adjourned until 3 o'clock to-day. The adjournment was on account of the slim attendance at the former meeting. The Board of Trade Report which takes up so much of our space to-day, contain truths enough to rouse every person who feels an interest in the prosperity of the State to aid in the remedial movement. The Bill introduced by Mr. Irish will probably be discussed and measures taken to secure its passage. We observe that the bill has been much improved. As it reads now, the Railroads are not prohibited from giving through receipts, but the officers are restricted from owning boats on the river. We hope the meeting will be large to-day, that a full and fair expression of the popular sentiment may be had.

AN adjourned meeting of the citizens, steamboatmen and all others interested, will be held at the Board of Trade Rooms, to-day, 21st inst. at 2 o'clock, P. M. for further consideration of the subject of Rail Road discrimination and a Pro Rata Freight Bill.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.—It is not very generally known that we have now residing permanently in our midst a physician and surgeon, Messrs. GREGORY & STEVENS, late of Buffalo, N. Y., who are very successfully practicing on the new system of Electropathy, which has but recently begun to attract the attention of eminent and scientific men of the medical and surgical professions. Messrs G. & S. have had under treatment several citizens who have experienced great advantage already from their system of practice, and we are pleased to learn from sources entirely way reliable that the system of Electropathy, as applied to these professions, has been so far eminently prodoctive of important results. These gentlemen come among us with the high-

"The first Colonists of Florida and contributions by Thackeray and Tennyson, besides a variety of others to which our space will not permit us to allude. The Editor's Easy Chair and Drama have likewise an unusual quantity of anecdotes, criticisms and novelties, and we could urge all who desire a publication enriched with all the learning and beauties of the best writers among us to procure this number at once

HOUSE.—The Speaker announced the following select committee on the Senate bill to abolish the franking privilege: Messrs. Vallandingham, Kellogg, Burnett, Adams, of Ky. and Stokes.

Mr. Lovejoy asked leave to introduce a preamble and resolution, reciting the rights and privileges of citizens of the several States under the constitution. That it is alleged by responsible parties that citizens of some of the States going into other States on business, such as the collection of debts, teaching and other lawful business, have been personally treated with indignity and violation and driven from their property for certain sentiments they may entertain, and without allegation of crime; and,

Whereas, An alleged practice similar to the European passport system is springing up; therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to inquire into the above recited facts, and whether any further legislation is necessary to give effect to the said provision of the Constitution, and that the committee be empowered to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Lovejoy demanded a vote on the passage of the resolution, but objections were made.

Mr. Houston moved a call of the House.

The resolution lies over.

Mr. Rice introduced a resolution that the Committees on Post Offices and Post Roads inquire into the expediency of a revision of the postal laws. Passed.

A joint resolution was resolved from the House appropriating $10,000 for the inauguration of the States of Washington.

On motion of Mr. Pugh it was taken up.

Mr. Pugh moved to strike out $10,000 and insert $5000.

Mr. Hamilton thought the sum small enough. It was the intention of the Committee to entertain the bill while here, if they came.

Mr. Pugh withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Hall asked for the year and nays.

The resolution was then passed.

A resolution from the House on joint rules for the two houses was agreed to.

Mr. Brown's resolution was taken up.

Mr. Clark said he should speak on the fourth resolution, and called attention to the speech of Mr. Pettigrew, who said it was the aim of every Southern Senator to keep the slavery question out of Congress, where it only did harm. No Southern Senator or Representative attempted to legislate upon it. He read the extract, but to call attention to the debate of the resolution, but to call attention to the modern history of the slavery agitation since 1850. He denied that there was any power under the Constitution to take slavery into the Territory. Slaves were held by State law. When the constitution was formed, the framers of it made no provision for the carrying of slavery into other States. Since this restriction commenced these bulls have rung, with disunion. Senators were trying to scroll each other. The South is said to be for slavery and disunion and to threaten secession if slavery is not protected. He referred to the Senator from Virginia's remarks, who referred to the Union was the cap stone of the arch of the Union was call that the cap stone of the arch of the Union was a black stone slavery. This was not true; it was not the cap stone but the cobble stone in the earth, making it tremble and shake, but the arch would not fall if it were taken out.

A message was received from the House announcing the death of William O. Goode, of Virginia.

PITTSBURGH MARK[ETS]

[Reported Specially for the Pittsburgh]

PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUA[RY]

We had a delightful change in the weather yesterday morning and in the afternoon, brightly, warmly, and comfortably. After suffering the severities of the Polar regions so long, the change imparted life and cheerfulness to all classes of outdoor business operators. The stir on the wharf was truly exciting. The stocks of goods, wares, and Pittsburgh manufactures was a sight gladdening to behold. The Ohio, Iowa, War Eagle and the Gemma Graham came into port, all with fair loads, adding immensely to our stock of groceries, etc. There was some considerable business done in the grain and flour line, some large sales of [illegible] being effected, as will be seen by our report below. Goods holds up bravely, when the large amount on hands of some of them is considered. Large sales were effected at 6[illegible] on the track and the figures from store are reliable. Should shipments from West hold off until the stock on hand becomes reduced somewhat, their consignments will find ready buyers, but at remunerative figures.

FLOUR—we have quite a number of sales to note, amounting in the aggregate to some 2500 bbls; 300 bbls sold at $5.[illegible] per bbl by a Chicago dealer at $5.25 for Extra and $5 for Family; 1[illegible] bbls from store of various qualities at [illegible] for Extra Family and $5.[illegible] for Family; 200 bbls choice extra sold at the [illegible] Penn; 1[illegible]
