GREAT STOCK SALE—Farmers and Stock Men take Notice.—In another column of our paper will be found the advertisement of George W. Smith, Esq., of Wheeling, Va., who proposes on the 25th of April next, at his model farm near that city, to sell several large lots of choice stock, consisting of the finest grades of horses, cattle and sheep.

DISTRICT COURT—Before Judges Hampton and Williams.

Tuesday, April 3d—The case of Electa Lyon vs. Wm. Denny and the Exchange Bank was argued yesterday. This was a bill in equity asking for a preliminary injunction on Denny and the Exchange Bank from making or permitting any transfer of 28 shares of stock claimed by Electa Lyon, and that Denny be compelled to pay over the dividends he has received. Electa Lyon gave a power of attorney for the transfer of 28 shares of stock to Wm. Denny as collateral security for a sum of money borrowed by her son to aid him in building a boat. The borrowed money was subsequently paid, but the stock was not re-transferred to Electa Lyon, being retained as a satisfaction for some other debt. Mr. Denny's counsel alleges that at the time of the transfer to him as collateral security, he was not aware that it was made for the single purpose of securing borrowed money by the son and no other, as alleged by Mrs. Electa Lyon. Mrs. Lyon's counsel insist that it was so assigned, and that Mr. Denny had notice of this fact.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judges M'Clure and Adams.

Tuesday, March 3.—Com. vs. Peter Miller, Jacob Boltzer and Valentine Felger, indicted on oath of Conrad Minke for conspiring to defraud their creditors. From the evidence it would appear that the defendants met at the house of Conrad Minke, to enter into an arrangement by which they could defraud the creditors of Miller and Boltzer. They made a feigned sale of their effects to Felger, and stipulated with him to sell their effects and divide the proceeds among them. Only two of the latter appeared, Boltzer having fled to parts unknown. During the trial it came out that Miller and Boltzer had $800 of counterfeit money secreted in a barn.

Our issue of this morning contains the advertisement of Mr. H. Williams, whose Classical and Commercial School, No. 28 St. Clair street, was resumed on Monday last. This gentleman has been teaching the branches which his course of study now embraces for about thirty years in our city. He has in fact grown up with it, and many of his former pupils, taught when Pittsburgh was in comparative infancy, are now largely engaged in commercial pursuits, and are some of the most prominent of our merchants. He is earnestly devoted to his profession, as one would suppose he must be, having spent the most vigorous and mature years of his life in the practice of it. He is also conscientiously watchful of the interests and proficiency of those put under his tuition, so that we have no hesitation in assuring parents that those sons will husband their time well, and not waste it in idleness, as sometimes happens. The certificates of Alex. T. Magill, D. Elliott, S. M. Sparks, Judge Shaler, Dr. Gazzam and John B. Warden are comprised in the advertisement, and are splendid testimonials of Mr. Williams' fitness as a teacher.

OIL NEWS.—A correspondent of the Erie Gazette states that among all the hundreds of wells which have been commenced in the oil region, not one has been abandoned as hopeless. This is a strong fact, sustaining the theory that the oil is generally diffused throughout a porous stratum, and not collected in particular veins. If this is the case, then all wells sunk within the range of any stratum will prove more or less profitable.

The oil sites are usually located by receiving a certain proportion of the fluid, and sometimes a bonus for the first perceptible operation of boring. Others dig a shaft about 2 feet in diameter down to the rock, the distance varying from 10 to 40 feet. A wooden conductor made of plank, with a chamber of some 5 or 6 inches square, is then set down on the rock, reaching to the surface of the ground, when the work of boring is ready to commence. Some bore with a steam engine and some with a spring pole. The boring generally goes on at the rate of from 2 to 6 feet per day, and, to sink a shaft of 4 inches, probably costs about $2 per foot. After the rock is ground to sand beneath the drill, it is drawn up by means of a sand pump.

The quantity of oil flowing from the Crosby well is still held to be almost incredible, though the figures are not now held as high as they were in the first outbreak of the excitement. It is estimated that the well yields 60 bbls a day of 40 gallons each. The Barnsdale is hardly inferior to it. It yields nearly pure oil, the amount of water not exceeding one tenth of the whole. A stream of pure and transparent fluid, far superior to the ordinary petroleum, flows incessantly into a mammoth oil vat, whose capacity is 8,000 gallons. This well maintains its yield of 25 bbls a day.

The clarified oil, obtained by distillation, excels that obtained from coal for illuminating purposes and is likely to supercede it altogether. The demand for light in Europe and this country will consume more oil than these wells can furnish for years to come. It will no doubt also be extensively applied as a lubricator and for many other economical purposes. The idea, therefore, of the supply being greater than the demand and the price of the oil reduced, is without much foundation. This will probably never be the case, and there is a prospect for a rich traffic being carried on in this product, which will add another pillar to what we denominate, for want of a better term, the mineral wealth of the old Keystone State. The influx of strangers is still wonderful. Of these from a distance, the most come from the city of New York, who are not of a disposition to allow such opportunities as these for money-making to escape them. It is this spirit of enterprise which has contributed to make their city the commercial emporium of America.

IRENE.—The ravages of scarlet fever still continues to some extent in the vicinity of Steubenville, Ohio, and in Beaver county.....One or more burglars entered the jewelry store of Mr. Plate, in Bridgewater, Beaver county, on Tuesday night last, and abstracted 30 gold and silver watches, a lot of jewelry, &c., in all amounting to about 6 or $7000. They obtained admission into the house by boring a hole through the back door.

Universal Washing Machine.

CLOTHING, TIME AND LABOR SAVED.

Indispensable to Housekeepers.

THE MOST SIMPLE, ECONOMICAL and durable article ever offered to the public to alleviate the discomforts of wash day.

Description.

It consists of a metal cylinder, with the ribs on the inside, and an interior cylinder of wood with ribs. There is a space of from 6 to 8 inches between the two cylinders. One crank turns both cylinders at the same time in opposite directions, rapidly creating a suds, forcing the water through the clothes, and effectively removing the dirt. The action of the water does the work quickly, dispenses entirely with rubbing, and thus saves the wear of clothes.
