PITTSBURGH:

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 6, 1860.

FOR GOVERNOR,
HON. ANDREW G. CURTIN,
OF CENTRE COUNTY.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.—The Democrats, with their usual presumption, claim the result of the election in this State as a triumph for their party, and accordingly announce it with a general hurrah. During the canvass their party papers and orators in Rhode Island denied that it was a partizan contest, and assured the voters that they would not claim it as such after the election. The Republican nominee for Governor was SETH PADELFORD, who was obnoxious to what is called the American-Republican portion of the opposition, and accordingly WM. SPRAGUE, of Providence—an American-Republican in politics—was placed in nomination by that wing. The democrats, in a hopeless minority, made no nomination, but cast their votes in opposition to the regular Republican candidate. The State of Rhode Island, in the coming national contest, will be as thoroughly Republican as it was in 1860.

Mr. Sprague is at the head of an immense calico printing establishment, and is said to be worth over five millions of dollars. It is reported that he spent at least one hundred thousand dollars to secure his election.

THE CONTEST IN CONNECTICUT.—The New York Tribune, of Wednesday last, in an article on the late contest in Connecticut, indulges in some reflections which should not be indifferently received by the Republican National Convention that is to meet at Chicago, in the course of a few weeks. We believe that the prospects for Republican success were never brighter than at this time, and nothing can change this condition of affairs but a want of proper regard for the sentiments of the various elements of the opposition to the party in power. Let conciliation be the watchword at Chicago—let the temper and feeling of doubtful States be duly consulted—and a triumph will follow as sure as a nomination is made. This is no time for quarrelling about abstractions, or for contention about leaders, but we should rather concentrate our strength on the candidate, who besides showing a clear Republican record, can command the largest support before the people:

"The recent efforts to break the Republican line by carrying Connecticut for the Slave Democracy were never before equalled in desperation. Money never flowed so freely in any former State Election. In some cities, our friends found all the eligible public halls hired weeks ago, and closed against them till the election. The Naturalization mill was worked with utter recklessness up to Saturday night. Fraudulent voting—a crime hitherto almost unknown in Connecticut—was largely planned and perpetrated. The influences of "Southern trade," and of threats of withdrawal, were wielded to the utmost. Yet the Republicans have signally triumphed, securing a United States Senator for six years ensuing, though we shall not be surprised to learn that one if not two of the minor State Officers are against us. Lt.-Gov. Boyd, as an old-time Abolitionist, was especially struck at, and lost some Republican votes. The prevalent impression in the State, however, seems to be that the whole Republican ticket is elected. No one even pretends to doubt that the Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican.

Outside of the few but populous localities wherein the heavy Naturalization told against us, there is no change from last year. The vote is heavier, but the proportions remarkably well preserved. The cities and a few large manufacturing towns alone exhibited gains for the Sham Democracy.

This election bears two lessons. The first is one of warning—of admonition. Many Republicans are accustomed to talk and act as though we had scarcely more to do than to count the votes next November. They hold that our adversaries cannot harmonize on the Territorial question—that the Squatter Sovereignty men and Southern clamorers for a Congressional Slave-Code for the Territories will quarrel at Charleston, and that we shall thenceforward walk over the course. Connecticut disproves all this, and shows that the approaching Presidential contest is to be the severest ever known.—The Sham Democracy will not quarrel at Charleston—they love the spoils of victory too well for that—at all events, we have no reason to suppose they will. The strong probability is that they will meet us in perfect array, and will give us the most desperate fight of the last half-century. They are not the boys to surrender Sixty to Eighty Millions per annum and Sixty Thousand desirable offices without a struggle.

On the other hand, the result proves that, strong as they are, we are yet stronger. Only let our nominations be unexceptionable, our union perfect, our organization effective, and our exertions such as befit the magnitude of the stake, and we shall beat them in November. Connecticut shows that the strength is really with us, if we husband and exert it. We can beat them; but it will take us to do it, and it will be all we can do at that. Let us organize at once for the struggle and the victory!"

FRESH GOLD AND SILVER EXCITEMENT.—The late news from California and Oregon indicates that every body has a fresh attack of mining fever, and is well calculated to turn an immense emigration of adventurers from the Eastern States Pacifieward. The Oregon papers are glowing with the accounts of the marvelous richness of the deposits recently discovered in Southern Oregon. The gold quartz rock gathered at a locality called Gold Hill, shows astonishing auriferousness. Rock taken from the surface, and at a depth below, averaging from one to four feet, given an average yield of $10 to the pound of quartz; and it is now ascertained that there is twelve feet of the edge of pure unburned quartz, twenty inches wide and six feet deep, that is permeated with threads of gold, and will pay about $10 per pound. So far its richness increases with depth. Quartz taken out at mess increases with depth. Quartz taken out at the depth of six feet, yields $1 to the ounce. In six hours nearly three tons of rock, and all of the most extravagant richness, were taken out. The Ish company had already extracted fully $125,000 worth of gold quartz rock, while the ledge gives indications of increasing richness and extent. Such, in brief, is an abstract of the reports in the Jacksonville Sentinel of Feb. 25th.—Cleve. Leader.

LETTER FROM GEN. HOUSTON.—A letter from Gen. Houston, of TEXAS, to the Secretary of War, dated March 12th, has been published, detailing the late troubles on the Rio Grande. He denies that he ever proposed crossing over into Mexico with an armed force, although such a step was in accordance with the wishes and impulses of the people of Texas. He has also, since 1857, been strictly to from various parts of the United States urging him to invade Mexico, with a view to the establishment of a protectorate, and assuring him that men, money, and arms would be placed at his disposal if he would engage in the enterprise. To these overtures he never made any favorable response. His recent action, therefore, in calling out volunteers, he avers has been grossly misrepresented. Texas, not only on the frontier, but in some of the interior counties, has lately suffered severely from Indian depredations, and he took the best means at his command to stop the evil. In so doing he consulted with the United States officers, and deferred in all things to the Federal requirements. He trusts the department will call out a regiment of rangers, and attempt to negotiate with the Indians.

POISONS IN LIQUORS.—The extensive adulteration of liquors offered in the market as pure and the introduction of poisonous ingredients into those which are pronounced healthful, may well excite alarm and call for the attention of our Legislature. Why there should be so much brain fever, delirium tremens, and so much sudden death among our young men who indulge at the bar, cannot be explained upon any common principles. An expert chemist of this city bought of an importer a bottle of what was called genuine champagne. An analysation proved it to contain one quarter of an ounce of sugar of lead. The same gentlemen analysed sixteen samples of wines—Port, Sherry, and Madeira—in which not one drop of the juice of the grape was found. The basis of the Port wine was diluted sulphuric acid, colored with elderberry juice, with alum, sugar, and neutral spirits. The basis of the Sherry wine was a pale malt, sulphuric acid from bitter almonds, with a percentage of alcoholic spirits from brandy. The Madeira wine was a decoction of hops, sulphuric acid, honey, Jamaica spirits, &c.—New York Com.

TWELVE CHURCHES SIMULTANEOUSLY STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—In a debate which recently occurred in the House of Commons on the subject of protecting public buildings against lightning, Mr. Freeland, a member, read the substance of a despatch from the English Minister at Brussels stating that on the third Sunday on February a violent thunder storm, accompanied by an unprecedentedly heavy fall of snow, had overspread Belgium; and that twelve churches had been simultaneously struck by lightning. The accident was quoted for the purpose of urging upon the Board of Public Works the necessity of protecting the public buildings with lightning conductors.
