DR. R. A. WILSON'S

Tonic, Cathartic and Anti-Dyspeptic

PILLS.

WILSON'S PILLS have had a more local existence for over twenty years, unsupported by advertising of any kind, and held as double the price of what they are now sold at, yet with all these disadvantages, wherever used they have in no instance failed to render the utmost satisfaction in performing all the requirements of a valuable family medicine, and as such are recommended by some of the most worthy and responsible citizens of the land. Hear for instance what Col. William Hopkins, of Washington, Pa., says:

From Col. Wm. Hopkins, late Canal Commissioner of the State of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, January 8, 1858.

DR. R. A. WILSON, Philadelphia—Dear Sir: I have been using your Anti-Dyspeptic Pills, when occasion required, for many years, and can truthfully say that I have never found any medicine equal to them in relieving me from affections of the stomach and heart; they have never failed to relieve me from headache, and have always left my system in better condition than they found it. I most confidently commend your Pills as a safe and highly valuable medicine.

Yours, respectfully, WM. HOPKINS.

Hear Dr. Keyser.

MESSRS. B. L. FAHNESTOCK & Co.—I have had considerable experience in the use of the extraordinary Pill compounded by Dr. R. Adams Wilson, of which you are now the proprietors, and have often felt their benign influence in my own case for Nervous Headache, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach. I have likewise prescribed them for others, in cases of Acute Cerebral and other forms of headache depending on a deranged and irritable condition of the stomach and digestive organs, for which they seem peculiarly adapted, being entirely free from any griping tendency. I regard them as a very valuable Pill, and one that purges, without at all debilitating.

Yours, truly, GEO. H. KEYSER.

Prepared and sold by B. L. FAHNESTOCK & CO., Wholesale Druggists, and Proprietors of B. L. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE, No. 60, corner of Wood and Fourth streets, Pittsburgh, Pa. Sold at retail by Druggists everywhere. fe22-lmdawF

MOFFATT'S LIFE PILLS.

THE HIGH AND ENVIED celebrity which this pre-eminent medicine has acquired for its invariable efficacy in all the diseases which it professes to cure, has rendered the usual practice of ostentatious puffing not only unnecessary, but unworthy of it. They are known by their fruits; their good works testify for them, and like virtue they live by the faith of the cautious. In all cases of costiveness, dyspepsia, bilious and liver affections, piles, rheumatism, fevers and agues, obstinate head aches, and all other deranagements of health, these Pills have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy. A single trial will place the Life Pills beyond the reach of competition in the estimation of every patient.

Dr. Moffatt's Phœnix Bitters will be found equally efficacious in all cases of nervous debility, dyspepsia, headache, and the other maladies incident to females in delicate health, and every kind of weakness of the digestive organs. For sale by Dr. G. B. MOFFATT, 253 Broadway, New York, and by Medicine Dealers and Druggists generally throughout the country. fe8-2awd&wT

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY BY

R. ERRETT & CO.,

FIFTH STREET, ABOVE SMITHFIELD.

PITTSBURGH:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 25.

Charleston Speculations.

Charleston, April 22.—Douglas' strength in the South has declined considerably. North Carolina has nearly caved in, where half the delegation was claimed for the Little Giant. Kentucky repudiates the idea of ever going over to him, and Tennessee will not give over two votes for him when Johnson is abandoned. One majority of the Missouri delegation and part of Maryland alone adhere to him, with perhaps a few scattering votes from other quarters.

His friends from the Northwest and elsewhere met at their head-quarters last night, and proclaimed the alternative of his nomination or the defeat of the party. There is a very strong sentiment for retaliation against the South if Douglas be rejected by the Convention, as it is now feared he will be. While the Kentucky delegation stands by Guthrie, the outside pressure from that State exercised by Powell, Burnett, Clay, and others, is for Breckinridge, who is gaining elsewhere.

Hunter will start with the largest Southern vote, and will increase on the second ballot. His friends are discreet, but objection most imperiously urged against him is the doubt of his success.

The Southern vote will be divided between Guthrie, Hunter and Johnson, at the outset, with the exceptions already stated, which is a very remarkable change. Hunter cannot carry two-thirds of the Convention in any event, but if forced upon them by an unexpected turn of events, four, and probably seven States will bolt, and run an independent candidate.—N. Y. Trib.

Senator Douglas' chances have declined considerably. The best informed politians think he cannot possibly be nominated.

It now appears that the nomination rests between Breckinridge and Guthrie—the chances being in favor of the former. This seems to be a settled fact.

Neither the Wood delegation, from New York, nor the Cook delegation, from Illinois, will be admitted.

Douglas has no Southern delegates whatever, except, probably, ten from Missouri. The South will, undoubtedly go solid for Hunter, but probably unite eventually on Breckinridge, when a sufficient number of Northern votes are obtained to nominate him. The impression is that Douglas cannot, at any time, get over one hundred and twenty votes.

The hotels are not filled.. The landlords are disheartened, and prices have come down.—Phil. Inq.

Washington, April 22, 1860.—A private despatch, received here this morning, from Charleston, says the entire Pennsylvania delegates agreed in caucus, to unite with six States in the South against the nomination of Douglas, and the unanimous voice of the delegates of the six Southern States referred to, is in favor of seceding, if Douglas should be nominated. The Pennsylvania delegation have agreed, with the Southern States referred to, upon Guthrie as the most acceptable man to the voters of the old Keystone. The despatch says there is a strong Southern under-current for Houston.

Another private despatch from Charleston, this morning, to a gentleman who bet largely against Douglas, informs him thus: "You have won your bets. Douglas has gone under."—Phil. Inq.

CHARLESTON, April 22, 1860.—It is generally supposed here that on the first ballot Mr. Breckinridge will receive more votes than any other candidate but Douglas; but the present indications are that the Southern delegates opposed to the latter will finally make stand on Dickinson, of New York, who is now being more talked of than Joe Lane, or any other anti Douglas candidate.

The prospects of Hunter appear to be looming up. It is now claimed that he will have more than fifty votes on the first ballot, and that the delegates opposed to Douglas will generally make him their first choice, Breckinridge their second choice, and if both fail, finally concentrate on Dickinson or Lane.

The Kentucky delegates visited the Pennsylvania delegation this evening, and protested against the nomination of Breckinridge.

A caucus was held last evening of the friends of the proposition to insert a slave-code plank in the platform, but the delegates from Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and Maryland, refused to agree to the programme, and the caucus broke up without taking any definite action on the subject.

The National Democratic Committee have given tickets of admission to three delegates from Kansas, who will demand the privilege of voting in the Convention.—Phil. Press

Washington April 22.—Despatches state that Guthrie is working hard for the nomination, aided by P. G. Washington and Geo. W. Caldwell. His capital in trade is the Tariff, and his friends pretend great affection for Douglas and his supporters

The Republican Committee, last night, got the following important despatch, dated Charleston, 7 o'clock P. M., April 21:

"Indications increase against Douglas. Six Southern States (Alabama, Texas, Miss sippi, Georgia, Louisiana, and Arkansas,) resolved Friday night to stand on the Alabama platform, and will bolt if Douglas is nominated. Pennsylvania meets to-night, and will vote as a unit, thus excluding him from eight votes. The South is not yet united on a candidate, but nearly solid against Squatter Sovereignty."

Buchanan is in great glee to-night, on account of having received despatches which tell him that Douglas' nomination is impossible.

The New England delegates have been demoralized. Whitney, who was elected a delegate to Charleston as a friend of Douglas, was afterwards appointed Collector at Boston, and then changed front. He is now against Douglas, and has appointed several delegates to places in the Custom House to induce them to unite with him. Live Oak Swift is at the bottom of this. Connecticut has also been approached by the Administration, and Bishop will be figured on to Yancey's 50th doubtful. The delegation of Rhode Island is firm for Douglas.

The anti Lecompton Democrats are resolved in view of the threatened secession in Douglas, to support no other Charleston candidate.—Phil. Press.

EFFECT OF UGLINESS ON THE WORLD'S REGARD.—The last Blackwood has a peculiar article on "Lord Elgin's Mission to China," in which the reviewer expresses some ideas on the effect of ugliness upon the consideration awarded proved a century ago, if not its rights. A French philosopher," he says, "has endeavored to account for the small interest we used to take in Chinese affairs, by the fact that the population was so portentiously ugly. A certain amount of departure from the Grecian model, he said, is compatible with our esteem. Nay, positive bad looks, if they rise to frightful, have attractions of their own; but the fate of a people, with figures and faces only to be equalled by the grotesque masks at a pantomime, is merely to be laughed at, whatever woes befal them. Perhaps this, to a certain extent, is true. Nobody could hear, with the same equanimity, of the destruction of a village of Circassians, as of the engulphing by earthquake of half the city of Pekin. We should certainly feel more for the miseries they are exposed, to the butcheries that depopulate a province, and the total disregard of the poor fellows' lives, visible in the treatment bestowed on them by their rulers, if they had a little closer resemblance to the human face divine. But the sight of that ideal Chinaman, low-browed, broad mouthed, twinkling eyed, cunning, sneaking, and altogether fantastical in his divergence from the ordinary workmanship even of nature's journeymen, separated in from our sympathies, and we look on him as if he were a native of Lilliput or Brobdignag.

THE BEARD.—A writer in the Lynn Reporter says:

The deaths by consumption have decreased some 60 per cent. per annum among the stone cutters of Quincy, Milton, Rockport, and the marble works of Vermont, since they have ceased shaving and give nature her sway in matters she may be supposed to understand. Workmen in Western flour mills; colliers in numerous mines of the Middle States; miners at Galena, Dubuque and the copper regions of Lake Superior; employes in drug mills; drivers, engineers, arctic navigators; residents in low wet countries, and thousand of artisans whose employment is prejudicial to healthy lungs, generally wear the mustache as a sanitary rather than an ornamental appendage to the face of manhood.

WHILE the salute to the Japanese Embassy was being fired at San Francisco, Commodore Cunningham, of the Navy Yard, happened to be standing in range of one of the guns. A piece of cartridge struck him in the face and put out his eye. He had the misfortune to lose the other some years since, and is thus made totally blind.

LADY railway speculators are becoming quite common in England, and among them Maria, Marchioness of Allesbury, reigns Queen. She is a large holder of railway and mining shares, is perfectly posted on the prices and prospects of the daily market, and is a good judge of what are likely to turn out successful ventures.

A BUSINESS QUAKER.—The Quakers are, in the main, as every one knows, a thrifty, kind-hearted, and undoubtedly honest people; but in some of them, even as among the "world's honest people," love of filthy lucre will predominate. In one of their farming communities lived friend Benjamin and his son. It was their custom to buy up cattle to fatten for sale. One day Benjamin, Jr., had selected a choice portion of stock from a passing drove, and was about to buy when Benjamin, Sen., came along.

"Father, I am about to buy these cattle, what dost thee think of them?"

"What does he ask? So much? I guess thee'll get them for less: offer him $800 and wait till morning if he don't trade."

Filial Ben assented—made an offer in vain—went home with the old gentleman—slept—and next morning, after carlog for the stock, mounted his horse to try again to buy the cattle. But on the way he met Benjamin, Sen., returning home with the whole herd in question. Benjamin, Sen., was wealthy as well as smart—he had taken an early stand and bought the lot.

"Thee will let me have my 'portion,' will thee not?" asked filial Ben.

"No, sonny, of course not! I've bought the whole—want'em all."

"What! Isn't that a hard trick to play thy own soul and I trusted to thee!"

"Ah, Benny," said pater familias, reproviogly, "thee must be sharp and wide awake, trust nobody, Benjamin; watch everybody; watch thy father, Benjamin; watch thy father!"

Quite likely for young Benjamin the admonition was needless thence forward.—Phila. Press.

AN ADROIT THIEF.—"One evening, as Marie Antoinette sat quietly at her lodge at the Theatre, the wife of a wealthy tradesman of Paris, sitting nearly vis-a-vis to the Queen, made great parade of her toilet, and seemed peculiarly desirous of attracting attention to a pair of splendid bracelets, gleaming with the chaste contrast of emeralds and diamonds. She was not without success. A gentleman of elegant mien and graceful manner presented himself at the door of her lodge; he delivered a message from the Queen. Her Majesty had remarked the singular beauty of the bracelets, and wished to inspect one of them more closely. What could be more gratifying! In the seventh heaven of delighted vanity, the tradesman's wife unclasped the bracelet and gave it to the gentleman, who bowed himself out and left her—as you have doubtless divined he would—abundant leisure to learn of her loss.

"Early the next morning, however, an officer from the department of police called at the lady's house. The night before, a thief had been arrested leaving the theatre, and on his person were found many valuables, among others, a splendid bracelet. Being penitent, he had told, to the best of his recollection, to whom the articles belonged, and the lady was called upon and indicated as the owner of the bracelet. If Madame possessed the mate to this singular bracelet, it was only necessary to intrust it to the officer, and if it was found to compare properly with the other, both would be immediately sent home, and Madame would have only a trifling fee to pay. The bracelet was given willingly, and with the stiff courtesy inseparable from official dignity, the officer took his leave and at the next fete joined his fellow, the gentleman of elegant mien and graceful manner. The bracelets were not found to compare properly, and were not returned."

Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia!! Dyspepsia!!!

What is it? How Cured?

DYSPEPSIA is our National Disease—weak stomach, feeble digestion, distress after eating, costive habit, bilious condition. How many suffer with it and its concomitant symptoms of low spirits, bad taste, coated tongue, obtuse head and attacks of headache! Yet how few know how to cure it! Generally, because the bowels are constipated, resort is had to cathartics, or laxatives. But such a condition was never cured by cathartics, whose only office is to weaken the digestion and impair the integrity of the entire assimilative system.
