PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1860.

☞ To Advertisers.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men in this and the surrounding cities—among those who buy and who sell—and among manufacturers and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting rooms, store houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and commission houses in the two cities, where it is read and carried home to the families for perusal. As a medium for advertising, therefore, it offers inducements which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can offer, to all who desire to reach this large class of our citizens. The WEEKLY GAZETTE at this time has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia among substantial farmers and merchants than any other secular paper in this section of the State.

A RAILROAD SCHEME.—It was a matter of surprise to many that the majority of the New York delegation, under the lead of Dean Richmond, should vote for Douglas steadily in the Charleston Convention. There was no real sympathy between them, and the interest of the New York softs apparently lay in conciliating the administration. The difficulty, however, is cleared up by the following, which we clip from the Washington correspondence of the Cleveland Leader:

"The scheme of the Albany Regency was this. More than a year ago, Dean Richmond assumed the enterprise of electioneering and lob-jobbing that vast enterprise, the Pacific Railroad; and had chosen the Little Giant as the stalking horse on whose shoulders the job and its connections were to be carried through. No wonder the Little Giant carried the Western Delegations—But just now a screw is loose somewhere, and Dean may have, to trust, like other lobby-jobbers, to the chances of the hour. Or perhaps the Regency, reinforced by the Rothschilds in the person of Auguste Belmont, who went to Charleston as Delegate and Purser, with Dean, in the steamer Nashville, have concluded to set up some other Ajax than Douglas, or it was a ruse to bring his great rival, Mr. Slidell and his friends, to a sense of their dependency, and show clearly to Mr. Douglas the power and hatred in Tammany for the purpose of making additional terms. Certain it is, great dissatisfaction prevails on all sides with Mr. Richmond and his coterie. The Little Giant most peremptorily declares he will never surrender his claims to the Belt that has caused him so many battles in the "turbid pool of politics;" and his seconds refuse to throw up the sponge" and give up the stakes. Fight it out they will. The difficulties, however, may all be satisfactorily arranged when the chiefs of the two factions again come together. Dean ordinarily takes too practical a view of politics to incur hazards when spoils are at stake; besides the prospects of the Little Giant, though damaged and his ruffles soiled in the tilt at Charleston are not destroyed; his energy is prodigious—his power in the party immense for mischief.

The plan of Dean Richmond, in case it could be carried out, is for Congress to legislate a company with a Land Grant covering an immense portion of the Government domain lying between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with powers to construct a railroad from some point on the Hudson river to San Francisco; consolidating the New York, the Erie, the Lake Shores, in Ohio, the principal Michigan and the Illinois roads, in the one vast enterprise. To raise money for the construction of the same, the foreign stockholders, who hold stock in the consolidated roads, may not prove entirely worthless. The novice will not fail to perceive how essential it is to carrying forward this project, that the forthcoming President should be a man of nerve.—There must be no winning at taking the responsibility, no misunderstanding or disagreement between the Executive and his Cabinet on the financial matters, as in the case of Buchanan and Secretary Cobb. It is essential also, the President should be surrounded by a Cabinet who understand their business."

THE JAPANESE.—The courts in California have decided that a native of China is not a white man, and therefore not entitled to any of the rights of white men. The Japanese are of the same race, and as tawny in color; and if natives of India, no darker in color than the Japanese, have been excluded from hotel tables and the accommodations of public conveyances, solely on account of the dusky hue of their skin, how will our dainty democrats in Washington and New York manage to hold up their heads while tendering to these "colored persons" from Japan the honors accorded to princes?

A Washington letter writer, speaking of the Japanese embassy, puts the matter in this light:

"The question has been raised as to the color of these visitors. Can it be that this administration, which refuses a passport to a black man, will bestow the most flattering attentions upon a set of colored persons? If so, where is the distinction? Did the Dred Scott decision only disfranchise Africans, or was our glorious constitution made only for white Americans or Anglo Saxons? The Japanese do not belong to the 'white race,' and Democrats everywhere claim that every other race is stamped as inferior by the constitution. Shall we bow down before the 'colored' Japanese and make a great national sensation about them, and then turn round and administer additional insults to the race on our own soil of the same hue?"

THE LAST DISEASE AVOIDED.—Some people will be glad to hear that the democratic party was saved, by the Charleston Convention, from a disgrace which would have been overwhelming. For particulars, read the following, from the New York Leader, a prominent democratic journal in the city of New York, contained in its daguerreotype of the Charleston Convention:

"We congratulate our democratic brethren of the Union on being saved from the last and worst disgrace which could have befallen our party. Amidst all the unpleasant, deplorable and tumultuous incidents which marked the conduct of certain parties within the walls of the Charleston Convention; amidst the many disingenuous, not to say dishonorable tricks, to which certain men (otherwise respectable) did not hesitate to stoop in their opposition to Judge Douglas;—nevertheless, and in spite of all this, there was not to be found in the whole Convention one delegate with brass enough on his forehead, or federal gold enough in his fob, to stand up in his place and insult the moral rectitude of that body by even suggesting as the name of a candidate that of—James Buchanan! This shows—as indeed all history teaches—that there is but one man in each age of a country who can touch bottom in the pit of political degradation."

THE MOUNTAIN HOUSE.—Mr. W. S. CAMPBELL, the popular and well known host of the Mountain House for some years past, has retaken it, and will open that delightful summer resort about the middle of June. He has much enlarged the main building, adding 50 additional rooms, which will enable him to accommodate a much larger crowd than heretofore. He has also had the grounds tastefully laid out, and loungers will find increased accommodations in the billiard saloon and ten pin alley.—Cresson, the locality of the Mountain House, is 2000 feet above tide water, directly on the line of the Pennsylvania Rail Road, and is a cool, pleasant and attractive spot, well suited in every respect to those who are seeking for a quiet country resort during the warm months.

REV. DANIEL WORTH.—This gentleman, who was convicted and imprisoned in North Carolina upon a charge of circulating the Helper book, has entered an appeal to the Supreme Court of that State, and been released on bail. On Monday night last he addressed a large audience in the City Assembly Rooms, New York, on the subject of his recent indictment and conviction, and produced a profound impression. A collection was taken up in his behalf, and the purpose seems to be to raise enough to indemnify his bail and let his bonds be forfeited.

THE Buffalo Commercial Advertiser reports that, from personal information received from that region, it is satisfied that there will be an abundant peach crop in Western New York this year.

A MATTER OF FACT WAG, not very enthusiastic in his admiration of Mr. Douglas, has made up the following table of estimates of the smash-up of office-seekers and spoilsmen, resulting from the tremendous fall of Mr. Douglas at Charleston, to wit:

Douglas candidates for the Vice Presidency	1
Douglas expectants of cabinet places	12
Douglas aspirants for foreign mission	150
Other office-seekers, great and small, tiptoers and browsers for Douglas	270
Lobby jobbers, contract hunters and spoils-hucksters generally	100,000
Railroad monopolists and speculators	25,000
	5,000
Sum total of spoilsmen	130,000

Fire in the Woods.

Destructive Conflagration in New York and Massachusetts—Many Hundreds of Acres of Timber Burnt.—For several days the Northern horizon has been dark and hazy, and the sun and moon at rising and setting have shown that redness which characterises them in "Indian Summer." The murkiness of the air has been increasing from day to day, and the wind when northly has brought a perceptible odor of smoke.

These appearances originate in large and destructive fires which have been burning for several days at the North and East of us.

One of these fires broke out about the middle of last week, in Berkshire County, between Winsor and Cheshire, and has spread thence towards Dalton, consuming hundreds of acres of forest.

Another commenced soon after, in the vicinity of North Adams, which has now run through a mile and a half of woods, and is still burning.

A third began somewhere between Clarksburg and north Adams, and is said to have swept away already hundreds upon hundreds of acres of valuable timber, and threatens to sweep away still more

While these fires are raging in and about the Hoosack range of mountains, the Adirondacks to the north of us present a similar scene. Fires have been raging, for some time, at different points on the west side of Lake Champlain. At night, the broad patches of burning forest are distinctly visible from the Lake, and from the Vermont shore, and by day the atmosphere is dark and sultry with accumulated smoke. These are scattered through the southern and eastern parts of Essex, and the northern part of Warren County.

The fires in Berkshire County are said to have originated from the brush heaps burned, as usual, by the farmers at this season. These at the North are supposed to have been kindled by the carelessness of hunters. But in both cases, the suppositions are rather conjectures than certainties. The protracted drought has rendered the woods dry and inflammable, and they have doubtless taken fire in various ways, as they are always liable to at such seasons.—Alb. Exc. Journal

A WHITE SLAVE.—We find the following in the Lorain News:

At the Oberlin Church, on Sunday, the pastor stated that Prof. Monroe would lay an interesting matter before the congregation.

Mr. Monroe came forward and in substance said, that he occasionally entertained, and at times almost adopted, certain theories averse to the practice of buying men and women from slaveholders for the purpose of giving them their freedom. "But, when a tall worn woman, as white and delicate as our own wives and daughters, knocks timidly at my door and asks, for the love of God, that I will give her something to buy her own mother from bondage, my hand goes into my pockets, and my theories are gone in a moment, like water which, spilled on the ground can never be gathered together.'"

Mr. Monroe then stated that there was in the congregation a woman who had been a slave. Her father and owner had lived in South Carolina. Her father dying without freeing her, she with her mother passed to another owner, who, becoming embarrassed, was forced to sell them to different masters, she going to New Orleans, her mother to Texas. At the death of her third master, the daughter was emancipated, and, coming to Cincinnati, resolved to devote her life to the redemption of her mother. After many unsuccessful efforts she learned her whereabouts, and ascertained that her mother could be purchased for $1,000. At first she thought to lay up the amount by taking in washing, but she found after years of trial, that she might scrub till she grew old and died and yet not have the requisite sum. Taking the advice of a Quaker friend she resolved to visit the friends of the poor in the State of Ohio and ask for money. She has done so. She has wandered from city to city, from village to village, from farm to farm, meeting with some encouragement at some re-buffs, until now she has gathered nearly six hundred dollars of the required thousand.

At this juncture Hon. Ralph Plumb arose and suggested that many would like to see the lady who was the subject of Mr. Monroe's remarks, being requested, she came forward with Mr. Plumb and stood a moment upon the stand.

Every one was astonished at her whiteness and purely Saxon appearance, and three thousand men and women gave a welcome her who had more than once stood upon the auction block. In figure she is tall and erect, was neatly attired, and her whole appearance was that of a well-bred but grief-subdued Saxon woman.

No further appeal was needed; the collection that was then taken up for her benefit attested the feeling of the audience.

Mr. Monroe remarked Mrs. Piquet (we have neglected to mention her name before) visited Columbus during the session of the Legislature, and although some skepticism was at first entertained about her having been a slave, on account of her whiteness, yet when the facts were substantiated, men of all parties gave liberally. It added that when men failed to sympathize with the slave because he is black, he thanked God that the opportunity was given for such men to exercise their benevolence towards men and women of their own color.

CHILDREN.—"During the first five years," says the author of Lovaas, "children say neither what is true nor what is false—they merely talk. —Their talking is thinking aloud; and since the one-half of thought is frequently a yes and the other a no, and both escape them, (though not us,) they seem to lie when merely talking to themselves. Further, at first they find great pleasure in exercising their new art of speech, and so they often talk nonsense, only for the sake of hearing their acquisitions in language. They frequently do not understand some word that you have said. Little children, for instance, often confuse to-day, to-morrow, yesterday, as numbers and degrees of comparison, and so give rather a mistaken than a false reply.

"Again, children use their tongues more in sport than in earnest, as must be seen in the long discourses they hold with their puppets, as a minister or an author does with his; and they easily apply this sportive talking to living people. Children always fly to the warm, sunny side of hope. If the bird or the dog has gone away, they will say, without any further reason, it will come back again. And since they cannot altogether separate their hopes, their wishes, their fancies, from copies or truths, their own self-deception assumes the appearance of a lie. It is worthy of consideration whether children, when they practise a lie, do not often relate remembered dreams which must necessarily be confounded by them with real occurrences."

THE season is late and cold in England. The London Illustrated News of April 21st says:

"Official returns testify to the deleterious influence of the extraordinary weather which is afflicting us at a time when we usually look for 'gentler skies.' Fierce storms of hail and sleet towards the end of April are unwelcome phenomena, and, despite Mr. Kingsley, the east wind is not much blessed by those who are obliged to face it. But we must find what comfort we can in the belief, first, that the backward season is good for the fruit, and secondly, that the account will be balanced by a bounteous summer. What, however, was done for the calendar in the last century must really be done for poetical arithmetic—it must be rectified, and we hope that, charming as are Isaac Watts's lyrics, no innocent child is being now taught to speak of the rose as 'the glory of April and May.'"

"THE HEADSTONE".—In the Seceders' convention, at Charleston, Mr. Yancey, of Alabama, said that the platform adopted by the majority of the committee, rejected by the regular convention, and taken in charge by the seceders, was "the headstone" to the builders of the democratic party. A headstone is a proper appendage to a grave. Mr. Yancey probably meant 'corner stone.' But the language was significant. The adoption of the majority platform would have proved a grave, so deep to the democratic party, that tomb builders would find their occupation gone, while Mr. Yancey's headstone would prove of immediate service.

THE REPUTED DEATH OF MR. HARRIS.—Our Washington correspondent yesterday stated that the rumored death of Townsend Harris, Esq., was confirmed by private advices, by whom these advices were received, from whom they came, what was their date, and what other advices have ever been received on the subject, are points left wholly in the dark. Meantime we are informed that no such intelligence has reached the State Department at Washington, nor have the friends and correspondents of Mr. H., in this city, any information of the kind.—N. Y. Times.

BY what right does Mr. Augustus Shall make use of the U. S. revenue cutter Harriet Lane to carry himself and his special followers to the Democratic Convention at Charleston? Is it for that use that the vessel is maintained by the Government?—Or will Mr. Shall tell us that his business at Charleston was to prevent smuggling? If so, we would like to know whether it was a successful voyage."—N. Y. Trib.

EASTON, PENN., Monday, May 7, 1860.—A horrible murder was committed near here this afternoon. Mr. Thomas Richardson, an old, wealthy, and respectable farmer, living three miles above Easton, on the Lehigh River, had an altercation with two of his laborers, which terminated fatally to the whole three. One of the men caught Mr. Richardson around the neck with a scythe, pulling him down on a fence, and holding him in that position while his companion beat him on the head with a rail, finally jamming the rail into his brain. Two sons of Mr. Richardson, on coming to his assistance, were threatened, and threats were made to fire the premises and murder the family if they were interfered with. One of the boys ran into the house, got a double-barreled gun, and shot both of the men dead.

THE TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AT EASTON A HOAX.—Easton, May 8.—Our community was thrown into an intense excitement about 7 o'clock, last night, by the report of a terrible tragedy committed in this vicinity, and the statement as telegraphed, was furnished to your reporter by respectable citizens who vouched for its correctness. At least a dozen parties stated that they saw the bodies of the murdered men.

Hundreds of our citizens went out to Mr. Richard's homestead last night, and found the family all well and considerably surprised at the visit of an excited multitude. The family were kept up nearly the whole night by anxious inquirers.

An evening paper posted a flaming bulletin, giving an account of the "horrible murder" and promising further particulars in to-day's edition. It is now ascertained that the report originated with a man who labored under an attack of mania-potu, and whose imagination created and feasted upon this terror. Though experiencing the same feeling of relief that pervades the whole community at this turn of events, your reporter is nevertheless much chagrined, at having given the report so wide a currency. It was sent telegraphed, however, until it had been vouched for by persons entitled to credence, and its falsity was not ascertained until about midnight, too late to be corrected.

It is said that Capt. de Riviere, "the gallant Zouave," has turned Jesuit, sought peace in the Philadelphia Redemptorist Monastery, and begged a reconciliation with a deserted wife, now in Brussels, who has agreed to re join him; after spending a year in devotion in some quiet convent.

☞ CALL TO THE DELEGATES OF THE LATE PEOPLE'S CONVENTION WHICH ASSEMBLED IN PITTSBURGH ON THE 21st OF MARCH LAST—Whereas, it appearing to the Executive Committee, appointed by the late Anti Tax Convention, that, without strenuous exertion on the part of the people, there is danger that they will be, in all probability, compromised on the great question of resistance to Railroad Taxation by the wirework ings and influences of office-seeking politicians, and being authorized by the fourteenth resolution to call the Convention again together when they might consider such a step necessary; therefore, all the Delegates who assembled in that Convention will again reassemble at the COURT HOUSE, in the City of Pittsburgh, on WEDNESDAY, the 30th day of May, inst., to consider the propriety of putting in nomination candidates for the various County, State and National Offices, whose views are known to be perfectly sound and reliable on the subject of resistance to Railroad Taxation.

Save Your Carpets!

THE great enquiry has been made for a number of years by housekeepers, What shall we put under our carpets to protect them from wear and moth?—This grand and valuable discovery was effected and patented April 1st, 1856, by J. R. HARRINGTON, and is called Harrington's Patent Carpet Lining.

This article having proved its utility has now come into general use, so much so, that scarcely a carpet will be put down with it, and its cheapness puts it within the reach of every family. It is warranted to add fifty per cent. to the durability of Carpets, Oil Cloths and Matting. The details of its merits are too numerous to mention. It can be obtained at any of the principal Carpet Stores throughout the United States and is manufactured only by the NEW YORK CARPET LINING COMPANY.

Also, extensive manufacturers of MAMMOTH COTTON BATTING AND COMFORTABLES, the best and cheapest that have ever been introduced in the market.

Prince Imperial Champagne.

FROM DE VENOGE & CO, EPERNAY, FRANCE.

Sold by all respectable Dealers throughout the Country.

THIS fine brand of CHAMPAGNE, which until the past year was confined exclusively to the tables of the Continent of Europe, has now obtained the most unbounded encomium and popularity in this country. It is recommended by some of the first Physicians of the city of New York, over all other wines, on account of its extreme purity and delicacy, and those who once try it rarely use any other brand. Although one year has elapsed since its introduction into the country, the demand is enormous and constantly increasing. Our arrangements are such as to ensure the quality of the Wine being maintained at its present high standard. The Prince Imperial is imported solely by us, we being the sole agents for Messrs. De Venoge & Co. in this country.

RICHARDSON'S
IRISH LINENS,
DAMASKS, DIAPERS, &C.

CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should examine that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm,
J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN,
as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods. This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season, and sealed with the names of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted also on the American consumer and the manufacturer of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

Mrs. Winslow,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING, which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH OF IT, that we have never been called upon to record a case of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily relieved, end in death. We believe this is the best and the pleasantest remedy in THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
Sold by Druggists throughout the world.
