DR. R. A. WILSON'S
Tonic, Cathartic and Anti-Dyspeptic
PILLS.
WILSON'S PILLS have had a more local existance for over twenty years, unsupported by advertising of any kind, and have at double the price of what they are now sold at, yet with all these disadvantages, wherever used they have in no instance failed to render the utmost satisfaction in performing all the requirements of a valuable family medicine, and as such are recommended by a number of the most worthy and responsible citizens of the United States, for instance what Col. William Hopkins, of Washington, Pa., says:

From Col. Wm. Hopkins, late Canal Commissioner of the State of Pennsylvania.
WASHINGTON, January 6, 1858.
DR. R. A. WILSON, Pittsburgh, Pa.—I have been using your Anti-Dyspeptic Pills, when occasion required, for many years, and can truthfully say that I have never found any medicine equal to them in relieving me from affections of the stomach and heart; they have never failed to relieve me from headache, and I have always left my system in better condition than they found it. I most confidently commend your Pills as a safe and highly valuable medicine.
Yours, respectfully, WM. HOPKINS.

Physician for Dr. Keyser.
MESSRS. B. L. FAHNESTOCK & Co.—I have had considerable experience in the use of the extraordinary Pill compounded by Dr. R. Keyser Wilson, of Pittsburgh, and have also had their merits fully tested in my own case for Nervous Headache, arising from a disordered condition of the stomach. I have likewise prescribed them to others in cases of dyspepsia and other forms of headache depending on a deranged and irritable condition of the stomach and digestive organs, for which they seem peculiarly adapted, being entirely free from any griping tendency. I regard them as a very valuable Pill, and one that purges, with out at all debilitating.
Yours, truly, GEO. H. KEYSER

MOFFATT'S LIFE PILLS.
THE HIGH AND ENVIED celebrity which the Moffat Life Pills have acquired for its invariable efficacy in all the diseases which it professes to cure, has rendered the usual practice of ostentatious puffing not only unnecessary, but unworthy of them. In all cases of costiveness, dyspepsia, bilious and liver affections, piles, rheumatism, fevers and agues, obstinate head aches, and all general derangements of health, these Pills have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy. And as a general purgative the Life Pills beyond the reach of competition in the estimation of every patient.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL,
BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.
WHEN completed six years ago the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. It was then the wonder of the age—it remains so to-day—without a rival in size, in completeness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the travelling public has been omitted in its plan, or is neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its home-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the proprietors. Crop Prospects.

THE CORNING HARVEST.—We have good accounts from Wisconsin. The Elkhorn Independent says that crops never looked so well in that section as at the present time, and are allowed by all to be in a most promising condition.—Spring wheat never looked so well as now. Fruit and vegitation of every kind is in good condition.

The Whitewater Register has the following:—An unusual breadth of Spring grain has been sown in this vicinity and it never looked better. Farmers say it resembles the crops of old. Judging from personal observation and from what we can gather from those who ought to know, the prospect of an abundant harvest was never more promising than now. Some complaints are already made about the ravages of the chinitz bug, but we are led to believe such complaints are not very general.

The Liberty Tribune says that many of the farmers of Clay county, Mo., are plowing up their wheat fields and planting them to corn, the wheat having been killed out by the continued dry weather of the past winter. A vast breadth has been planted and sown in corn, but in the northern section the prospect is regarded as very doubtful, in consequence of the drought.

For the same reason the prospect in Kansas is a gloomy one for a large crop. A writer dating at Leavenworth says the drought has destroyed nearly all the grass sown in the fall, and blighted early spring vegetables. Such a season has never before been known.

But with exceptions here and there, take our country through, the reports are cheerful ones, and the promise bright for full garners.—Chicago Tour.

THE Burlington, (Iowa,) Hawkeye says:

The severe drouth of the present spring, which has extended over Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois, has seriously injured the hay crop, rendering it very probable that hay will bring a high price during the coming year. In Kansas it is said that the wheat crop has been hopelessly destroyed. In the sections of Illinois and Iowa that we have seen, no serious damage has been done to the wheat. The straw is likely to be short, but the grain is less likely to suffer from rust than in Ohio and Indiana, where warm and wet weather have produced a heavy growth; the grain now standing three feet high.

WHEAT IN INDIANA.—The Indianapolis Journal of the last inst., after personal observations of many fields of wheat in Marion, Boone, Clinton, Tippecanoe, Carroll, Hamilton, Tipton, Howard, Miami, Wabash and Huntington counties, and interviews with farmers in the counties named concerning the growing grain, does not believe there will be an average crop. The grain is very short, owing to the recent dry weather, and stands on the ground rather thin. There are only occasional patches of first rate wheat.

FRIDAY and Saturday last were spent in the Cove, extending through Bluff and Bedford counties. We never looked on more luxuriant fields of wheat, grass, &c., than we did on this occasion. The growing crops have but one fault, so far as we could see or hear, and that is their vacuant appearance upon the ground which is causing it to fall and lodge together. If no unfore seen accident occurs, the farmers will be largely benefitted with an abundant harvest.—Blair Co Whig.

We read the following in the Ohio Farmer.
Crops in Stark and other Counties — Judge Kelley, of Massilon, Stark county, Ohio, writes: "I wish you could see the prospect of crops in Stark. She never promised a better crop. Everything looks well, beyond description and should no ill luck befall us, we will be all right after harvest. I have just returned from short trips in Tuscarawas and Carroll. Crops look right. I saw very many fine flocks of sheep in those counties. I think they are in advance of many others."

THE Glasgow (Barren county Ky.) Free Press says:

The accounts we get from the growing crops, except wheat, are extremely gratifying and hopeful. The oat crop, which has been a failure for two years successively, promises finely, while corn has never been known to stand better or grow more thrifty. All kinds of grapes are very fine.

THE Russellville (Logan county Ky.) Herald says:

From all sections of the country the prospects of growing crops are more flattering than otherwise. The crop of wheat in many sections will not be as heavy as that of last year, but taken altogether will be a good one. Indeed in some places complaints are being made of the fly injuring wheat. The oat, rye and corn crops are all promising.

Crops in Eastern Ohio — Our wheat was very much winter killed, but where there was any left standing it looks very well, and I think we will have a good half crop of wheat, providing that nothing injures it after this. The worms are destroying the corn to some extent. Oats look well. The grass crop is unusually good. The prospect for fruit is very good.

THE CASE OF JAMES WAGGONER.—James Waggoner has been sold into slavery, with what attendent circumstances of disregard to law, unfairness, and cheating generally, full account in our local columns will show. If any of our readers can read that account and be unmoved to anger and detestation, he possesses a temperament which nothing could excite. Here is a free man, a man born of parents legally freed and residing as free in Ohio, kidnapped, kept in jail six months, and finally sold for jail fees, while his kidnappers were allowed to escape. Of the disgraceful alacrity to enslave a human being which certain individuals in Newport have manifested, we cannot trust ourselves to speak.

Not only has a grevious and irreparable wrong been done to Waggoner, but the honor of the great State of Kentucky, in whose name the wrong was committed, has been sullied, and the dignity of the State of Ohio insulted. For an Ohioan has been made a slave by tricks which would disgrace a "sharper" before that lowest of human tribunals, the Toombs Police Court in New York.

We trust our readers whose blood will be stirred by the recital of this wrong, will not forget that the Democratic party is the champion and defender of that system which this whole business is but the legitimate outgrowth. Their indignation should not vent itself in frothy declamation and violent invective, but should obrystallize into efficient action.—Cincinnati Gazette.

DEFALCATION A HEREDITARY DISEASE IN THE FOWLER FAMILY.—The New York News says: "Fowler's father was President of the Highland Bank, or some other important office in that institution. He was a similarly dashing, gay and exhuberent gentleman. He became a victim of a defalcation to a heavy amount, and committed suicide in his mortification. His son, our late postmaster, inherited his sires love of a brilliant existance, and spent a patrimony of $60,000 in his first dash at social experience. He next spent $100,000 for his mother, when she wisely cut off his supplies.

His third application was through the funds of the postoffice; and we suppose his deficit there will reach $18,000. Besides this, he expended much money that he was constantly making in successful speculations, and lost much in a host of unfortunate ones, for he was ever dabbling in enterprises of the dazzling and desperate kind. He made $50,000 in three days in the purchase and sale of lots on Staten Island, but it did not last him over a week."

EMANCIPATION OF SEVENTY-FIVE NEGROES.—Some time ago Mr. A. Caldbert, of Georgia, son of a former U. S. Senator from that State, emancipated all his slaves, seventy-five in number. We learn that that gentleman has recently purchased and settled upon a farm lying near the Patterson and Hamburg turnpike, about four miles from his former place. Mr. Caldbert has brought five of his former "chattels" with him, after giving them their liberty; the others have been sent to Liberia. May he long live to enjoy the approbation which his own conscience must afford for the performance of such an act of Christian humanity.

MARSALA, where Garibaldi has landed, is a port of Sicily, situated about 95 miles from Palermo. It belongs to the Province of Trapani, which extends, as well as the Province of Palermo and that of Messina, along the north coast of the island. Marsala carries on a large business in the wine which bears its name; it also deals in corn, fruit, cotton and salt. The population is about 20,000. It possesses a number of foreign commercial houses, the most important of which are English. It was a flourishing place under the Romans, and its prosperity was maintained until the close of the fifteenth century. In 1532 the port was filled up by order of Charles V. to prevent the fleets of Soliman II from getting possession of it. It has never completely recovered from that disaster, and vessels of large tonnage cannot enter. The attack on Marsala indicates the plan conceived by Garibaldi. He carries the struggle on the north coast of the island, where all the strong places are located, and approaches those positions, which, is seized on by him, will give decisive results.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT IN PRACTICE.—The Keokuk Gate City says that a procession of nine wagons, one carriage, a dozen yoke of oxen, and several spans of horses, passed up Main street, on Saturday morning, bound for Madison county, Iowa. The people—and there were a lot of them—came from Kentucky, and are seeking homes where they can enjoy the blessings of freedom and a genuine popular sovereignty. They belong to one family, the head of which is the Rev. John Blain, who informed Mr. Alexander that they were obliged to leave their homes on account of their sentiments on the slavery question. At the last August election they voted for the Opposition candidates, and since then the feeling against them has been gradually intensifying, until they found it too hot to remain there. They could not be allowed the expression of even the most moderate anti-slavery sentiments, and therefore they have come with ample means, to settle in a State where freedom of opinion can be tolerated, and the rights of men are not only asserted, but protected. Thus the irrepressible conflict goes on.

NEW WHEAT.—The first lot of New Wheat offered in this market consisted of thirty-three and a half bushels, received from Memphis, by Mr. E. Marsh. It was grown in De Soto County, Miss., and was sold in Memphis at $2 50 per bushel. A sample was exhibited on 'Change, this morning, and bids were received, but the competition was not spirited—the quality falling far short of the first New wheat received last year. It was bought by Messrs. Leonard & Schuyler, of the Saxony Mills, at $2 65 per bushel, including bags.—St. Louis News, June 2d.

BASKING AND TANNING COMBINED.—It may not be generally known that the Branch of the Union Bank in this city is extensively engaged in the tauning business, having a tan yard for that purpose in Chattanooga. A dealer in this city shipped a large lot of hides for the bank of Chattanooga yesterday.—Memphis Appeal. May 30.

We have often heard of Banks that skinned people, but never before heard of one that tanned the hide after it was taken off

A WASHINGTON correspondent thinks that "if the worst comes to the worst, the Administration will support the Douglas ticket." Unquestionably if Buchanan & Co., should come to Douglas & Co., it will be a clear case of the worst coming to the worst.—Louisville Jour.
