A MEAN CANDIDATE.—Gen. Joe. Lane, in his letter accepting the nomination of the southern wing for the Vice Presidency, commits himself very frankly to the ultra pro-slavery platform. He says:

"Non-intervention on the subject of Slavery, I may emphatically say, is the cardinal maxim of the Democracy—non intervention by Congress and non-intervention by Territorial Legislatures, as is fully stated in the first resolution of the adopted platform.

"In vain should we declare the former without insisting upon the latter; because, to permit Territorial Legislatures to prohibit or establish Slavery, or by unfriendly legislation to invalidate property, would be granting powers to the creature or agent which, it is admitted, do not appertain to the principal, or the power that creates; besides which, it would be fostering an element of agitation in the territory that must necessarily extend to Congress and the people of all the States."

While, however, he is thus frank in his letter, he has shown on the stump that he is capable of being equally mean. During his speech at the Breckinridge Ratification meeting in Philadelphia the following took place:

"A voice—How did Lincoln vote at the time of the Mexican war?

Gen. Lane—I'll tell you. While your humble servant was having his arm almost shattered to pieces, and while other good soldiers of this State were battling in defence of your country's honor, our friend Lincoln was over in Washington voting against supplies for the army. [Laughter.] I didn't say 'friend,' did I? I'll take that back; for it was you I alluded to, when I said friends—for you are not our friends, but you are patriots, and you are law-abiding citizens, that I am proud to meet—that I am delighted to have this opportunity to see and to speak to; and if it was any other occasion than this—if I wasn't on the ticket with that gallant, noble, and generous, gifted man, Breckinridge—I would say much more in his favor."

To show up this deliberate lie, uttered by this would-be President, we need only copy the following extract from a speech delivered by Senator Douglas, in the Illinois Senatorial canvass of 1858, wherein he makes this candid admission:

"I never charged him with voting against the supplies in my life, because I knew that he was not in Congress when they were voted. The war was commenced on the 13th day of May, 1846, and on that day we appropriated in Congress ten millions of dollars and fifty thousand men to prosecute it. During the same session we voted more men and more money, so that, by the time Mr. Lincoln entered Congress, we had enough men and enough money to carry on the war, and had no occasion to vote for any more."

The descent men in the democratic party long ago abandoned this state and paltry lie against Lincoln, and none but the meanest of mean men would repeat a falsehood which has been so thoroughly exploded.

We are glad to note, while we have our hand in about Lane, that the people of Oregon understood him, and have elected a legislature which is sure to cust him from the seat in the Senate which he disgraces.

The Philadelphia Press announces itself in favor of "a pure Douglas electoral ticket, pledged against the Disunionists, headed by Breckinridge and Lane." It states that Richard J. Haldeman, Esq., the member from Pennsylvania of the National Democratic Committee, appointed by the regular National Democratic Convention, will, under instructions from that Committee, address letters to the different candidates for electors, appointed by the Reading Convention, demanding of them an explicit answer whether they are in favor of the nomination of Douglas and Johnson for President and Vice President. If they shall refuse to answer, or shall answer in favor of the Disunionists, then their names will be stricken from the roll, and others substituted. The Press further remarks:

"We are also desired to state that it is intended to call a Democratic State Convention, whether a delegate or a mass Convention hereafter to be determined—to which body will proceed to fill any and all vacancies on the electoral ticket: It ought to gratify the friends of Judge Douglas that he, himself, cordially endorses the policy of having no connection, direct or indirect, with the Disunionists: that he desires above all, and most of all, to maintain the position in which he has been placed by his record and his nomination, and is glad that he can enter into no coalition with Disunionists—in the free States who insulted and degraded those gallant men in the Southern States now fighting for the National Democracy, and for the old fashioned principles of the Democratic party, against a banded oligarchy intent alone upon the destruction of the Union. No true friend of Douglas is in Pennsylvania, or elsewhere, can touch an electoral ticket, which contains upon it the single name of a Breckinridge Disunionist. Even one out of the twenty-seven electors would disgrace a Douglas ticket, precisely as a single drop of a deadly poison thrown into a goblet of pure and crystal water might render the whole a deathly potion."

FOSTER'S HOME ORGAN REPUDIATES THE COALITION MOVEMENT.—The attempt to coerce the Democracy of the State into the support of a "double-headed" electoral ticket, will not take in old Westmoreland. The Greensburg Argus, the home organ of Henry D. Foster, calls it an "infamous proposition," and says:

"This proposition cannot be entertained for one moment. It is too infamous to be named. Thanks to an overruling Providence, and the firmness of the Baltimore Convention, the question of who is the Democratic candidate, is not an open one. That question has been irrevocably settled. There is but one Democratic candidate in the field, and that is Stephen A. Douglas. The people had long since nominated him, and the Baltimore Convention only ratified it, or, in a legal phrase, recorded the verdict."

CIVIL WAR IN SYRIA.—The New York Post has a letter from Beirut, detailing the horrors of a civil war now raging in Syria. The Druses, aided by the Turks, Moslems, Arabs and others, have simultaneously attacked and massacred the native Christians. Their villages have been burned, and every violence that barbarism could invent has been visited upon them. It appears that the war is the result of a long and violent animosity, and that unless interrupted it will be one of extermination to one party or the other.

SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY REPUDIATED.—The following resolution was voted down in the Committee on Resolutions, of the Convention which nominated Douglas. This is a significant fact:

Resolved, That the right and power of self-government is inherent in every community organized for political purposes, let it be called a State, Territory, or by any other name, and that this power in this country is limited only by the provisions of the American Constitution.

THE PROBABLE DEFEAT OF LANE.—"Independent," the Washington correspondent of the North American, writes as follows to that paper, under date of July 5th:

"The probable defeat of Gen Lane in Oregon is hailed here with much satisfaction by all who think that future pretension deserves rebuke, and such rudeness should be excluded from the Senate of the United States. If there was nothing else to condemn him in public estimation, his recent self-glorification at the Philadelphia meeting, and the false winnes he bore against Mr. Lincoln, by making a charge that was notoriously unfounded, ought to be sufficient cause for his defeat. His own people have doubtless found more direct and satisfactory reasons in his humiliating abandonment of their principles and interests, for the purpose of conciliating extreme southern sentiment, and of recommending himself to favor by becoming a willing champion of its pro slavery policy. This session is to be without its instruction, and may have some effect upon the few doughfaces who yet remain in public life, by teaching them that the people are not yet debauched, although the politicians may be debased."

In relation to Gwin, of California, the same correspondent remarks:

Mr. Gwin will probably be the next victim, for although the opposition may not now succeed in carrying the legislature of California, his public career in that State is considered as substantially closed, no matter which party may succeed. That much is settled, and the causes are perfectly understood. So far as the next Congress is concerned, it is extremely doubtful now if the Democrats north and south will exceed fifty members in the House of Representatives. They will be almost swept out of political existence in the former, if their opponents practice ordinary discretion. The friends of Mr. Bell will undoubtedly increase their number in the south, with the issues which the investigations last session will enable them to make.

THE CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL TREASURY.—Mr. Conn, who is famous for his cheering estimates when he thinks it necessary to wheedle Congress into the adoption of his views, will have ample opportunity during the coming year to reduce to practice many of his Goo-spun theories. The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says:

"The Treasury balance is less than half the margin required for smooth working, and the current receipts are not equal to the ordinary expenditures. In cutting off the power to reissue Treasury Notes, Congress compelled the Secretary to live within his income, or to exhibit the excess through a deficiency bill next session. While that authority existed, he could contrive to shift; even when pinched, he knew there is no resource but to expose the true condition of the Department, and to admit the inadequacy of the revenue under the present tariff to carry on the Government. It is obvious that a loan will be required immediately on the meeting of Congress, and that, when the proposed liabilities have been legislated for, another must be voted for to meet those obligations which will swell up from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. At the end of Mr. Buchanan's term, the public debt will probably be eighty odd millions, exclusive of a balance of $20,000,000 transferred to him by Mr. Pierce."

A debt of eighty millions saddled on the country by an administration that found a surplus of twenty millions in the treasury four years ago! Is it any wonder that no party—not even that of his own creation—will hazard its existence by endorsing a President who has been so faithless in office?

GEN. FOSTER GOING TO DECLARE FOR DOUGLAS.—The Reading Journal says:

"It is well known that Gen Henry D. Foster, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was particularly active at Baltimore in securing the nomination of Judge Douglas for the Presidency by the regular Convention. We learned, yesterday, from a source entitled to credit, that it is his purpose to visit Reading at an early day, when he will take occasion to come out flat-footed for the 'Little Giant,' as the regular nominee for the party, and as such entitled to the undivided support of all good Democrats."

THE RESULT IN OREGON.—Advices from Oregon by the way of San Francisco, announce the election of Logan, the Republican candidate for Congress, by a majority of 150. The Legislature elected stands as follows: Democrats in favor of Lane and Smith, sixteen. Opposition, Democrats elected by Republicans and anti-fusion, twenty-one. Republicans elected by same fusion, thirteen.

A NEW SENSATION!—From the Gallows to a Fortune.—Henry Jumpertz Heir to Wealth.—The Chicago Herald has seen a letter from the Prussian Consulate, resident in New York, addressed to Gressenbaum Brothers, making inquiries as to the whereabouts of Heinrich Jumpertz, stating that a lady residing near the place of his nativity, had died recently, leaving Henry, his brother Franz, and one or two others, heirs to a vast estate, consisting of lands, stocks and money, and requesting the Messrs. Gressenbaum, bankers, to make out such documents as were necessary to secure to Henry his share to the legacy. The letter stated several circumstances which leave no doubt that Henry Jumpertz, so well known to the citizens of Chicago, in connection with the Sophia Werner tragedy, or tragical mystery," as it has been termed, is the favorite heir to legatee. Don is given as his birth place, 1834 as the year of his birth; it is stated that he came to this country with his brother Franz, from whom he parted in New York city, and that he had been tried and acquitted on a charge, the nature of which was not stated; and other circumstances were mentioned which leave the identification complete.

It is said that after Jumpertz was acquitted upon his trial for murder, he endeavored to get an honest living in Chicago, but was regarded so suspiciously that he could not. A few of his friends who believed him innocent, gave him funds, and abandoning his original intention to live down the opprobrium which the greater part of the community heaped upon him, he went to St Louis. Under an assumed name—for the press had made the name of Jumpertz notorious—he followed his trade, and afterwards, we believe, was employed as a barber on one of the river steamboats. His present whereabouts is not known.

DOUGLAS A FREE TRADER.—Now that Mr. Douglas is on the track as a candidate of one of the wings of the "great Democratic party," it is well to let the people know where he stands on the great question of Protection to American Industry. The following, taken from the official documents, will show that he is a worthy colleague of Isaac Hall in the platform which declares in favor of "Progressive Free Trade!" Read it, Pennsylvanians, and then say whether you can vote for a man who goes further in favor of Free Trade than even the Tariff of 1846:

December 11th, 1843.—Mr. Rhett, of South Carolina, moved a suspension of the rules in order to introduce the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means do inquire, as soon as practicable, into the expediency of reporting a bill repealing the tariff act passed in the year 1842, and in lieu thereof imposing a maximum rate of duty of 20 per cent ad valorem, on imported, discriminating below this maximum in the duties imposed, on the principal of producing revenue only."

Stephen A. Douglas voted yea! See Congressional Globe, vol. 13, page 44

Jan 3d, 1844.—Mr. Rhett submitted the following resolution, on which he moved the previous question:

"Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to report a bill reducing all the duties on imports over 20 per cent ad valorem, to that amount; and providing for a final reduction within two years, to 20 per cent ad valorem, with such discrimination below this maximum as the purposes of revenue shall require.

CHOICE COLLECTION OF EPITHETS.—A London paper collects the various epithets bestowed upon Garibaldi by Continental and Italian papers. The result speaks in the highest terms for the imagination of those who conduct the press of Europe.

A Stunich paper says that "the bandit will soon be overtaken by divine vengeance in his wicked and bloody trade of murder." The Vienna Gazette calls him a "professional rebel." A Leipsic paper speaks of "the pirate Garibaldi." A Berlin journal only says "the adventurer," and a Cassel paper disdainfully terms him "the parvenu," while raising "the standard of revolt in the hitherto happy kingdom of Naples." The Gazette of Rome calls him "the Antichrist," possessed of the Devil" and aided by "the godless and heretic English."

The Bologna Gazette, on the other hand, calls him the "heroic son of Italy;" the Florence Gazette speaks of him as "the redeemer of Italy" and the Milan Journal as "the Genius of Italy." The Turin Gazette offsets the Roman paper, by saying that "the Archangel Gabriel has appeared in human shape on earth in the person of Garibaldi." The Naples Gazette gives us our choice; in one issue it speaks of the "monster in human shape;" and says that the Government have taken measures to capture and punish him for his rash and lawless undertaking; and in another it says that "the Commander in Chief of the King's troops in Sicily has signed a capitulation with his Excellency General Garibaldi, at Palermo."

A COMET with two tails is visible nightly in the North-west. It is symbolic of the Democratic party, the Southern tail being longer than the other.

Read the following testimony in the success of Dr. PAYNE'S INFALLIBLE CURE:

DR. PAYNE—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in certifying to the perfect cure it has effected in my family. Cordial, and cheerful I recommend it to those who have children in the like case, as I have used it in my own family, and have sold over two hundred bottles during the past year. All those who have ever used it, unite in its praise for all diseases for which you recommend it. Yours, &c.,

DR. PAYNE—Sir: It may not be ridiculous, to you, to know that I have used the different preparations of Blood Food in several cases, and uniformly with success, and that I am convinced they are a better approximation to the cure for which they are prepared, than any other Medicinal Agencies known to the Pharmacopia.

I recommend these Preparations, as I am naturally desirous that they should be most widely tested and adopted.
