"Capital should own Labor."

Many, perhaps most, of the democrats in this county and State are working men. Most of these workingmen are poor and all of them have to depend upon their daily toil for their daily bread; but all of them are free, and they know all about the advantages which freedom gives to the honest son of toil.

Let us suppose, now, these working democrats gathered together to hear a democratic speech; and let us suppose, further, some magnate in the democratic party rising to address them and telling them that free society is a failure; that our free system is all wrong; that workingmen ought not to be free, but slaves—that, in fact, Capital should own Labor, instead of Labor owning itself: what would that mass of workingmen think? Would they esteem that true democratic doctrine, or would they not straightway mount the orator on a rail and treat him to a dress of tar and feathers?

Yet there lives a man who has talked this very doctrine in the car of Pennsylvania men, upon Pennsylvania soil, and within a very recent period. In the month of September, 1856, only four years ago, a distinguished Democratic orator used language like this, at a democratic meeting in the city of Philadelphia. He said:

"We believe CAPITAL SHOULD OWN LABOR; is there any doubt that there must be a laboring class everywhere? In all countries and under every form of social organization, there must be a laboring class—a class of men who get their living by the sweat of their brow; and then there must be another class that controls and directs the capital of the country."

There have been many ugly things said by Southern men—such as Wigfall, Hammond and Green—about workingmen and free labor; but nothing more offensive than this has ever been uttered.

And who uttered it, pray? HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON, the Democratic (Douglas) candidate for the Vice Presidency. The speech is upon record. It was published at the time; and the correctness of our extract will not be denied. It was the outspoken sentiment of an orator imported into this State from Georgia to urge the election of Buchanan; and now the workingmen of the State are asked to elevate him to the Vice Presidency.

Let the workingmen of the country look at it. The doctrine is, not that Capital should own Negroes but, that Capital should own Labor. To own Labor is to own Laborers; and this term embraces every man, white or black, who works for a living.

In the opinion, therefore, of the Douglas candidate for the Vice Presidency, the man who owns a Cotton Factory, a Foundry, a Glass House, or a Rolling Mill, should own also all who labor therein. How do our workingmen relish this doctrine? Do they believe it? Do they think, as Johnson does, that the man who is poor should be the purchased slave of the man who is rich? Is it their opinion that "Capital should own Labor?" Whatever may be their opinion of Negro Slavery, do they think White Men should be made Slaves? Johnson thinks so, and plainly says so; and they are asked to endorse Johnson's views by voting for him. Will they do it? Some of them will. So party ridden are they that they will vote for their party no matter what its candidates may think; but no Workingman who appreciates the dignity of Labor, who realizes the blessings of Freedom, and who has manhood enough to stand by his God-given rights, will vote for any man holding such sentiments. That there are thousands and tens of thousands of such in the ranks of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania we firmly believe, and we confidently expect all such to repudiate their manhood by voting for LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

The Philadelphia Custom House officials don't like the prospect of losing the future chance to plunder the national treasury, and hence they are willing to modify their opposition to Douglas in order to prevent the triumph of the Republican. The Pennsylvanian is out in favor of a compromise, and thinks that "matters can be settled by running far in advance of the present electoral ticket, and by the friends of both Democratic candidates striking from the list either VAUX or KELLY, as they see fit." Of these persons it says:

The one represents the Douglas wing of the party and the other the Breckinridge wing, as we understand it. If VAUX should be returned as receiving the highest vote, then let the electors cast the vote of the State for Douglas, and if, on the other hand, KELLY should be the highest, let the whole vote be cast for BRECKINRIDGE.

The Pennsylvanian says "that this plan would infuse vigor into both sections of the organization. It would bring out the entire vote of the State." It would enable both to co-operate against LINCOLN as a unit, and afterwards—for local purposes. It would defeat LINCOLN beyond all peradventure, and insure, at least, a NATIONAL PRESIDENT. Besides these important advantages, it would show to the country the position of Pennsylvania in this great crisis. This arrangement, we believe, will meet with the concurrence of the people of this State. There is not a sincere opponent of LINCOLN who can reasonably object to it, much less is there a true Democrat who will oppose the policy of permitting the majority to rule. By its adoption all views may be indicated by the popular voice; while, by its rejection, only one end can be attained—the election of LINCOLN. Are the people of Pennsylvania prepared to aid in such a result?"

We believe the people of Pennsylvania have made up their minds to cast the electoral vote of the State for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, and it is therefore a matter of indifference to them whether the contending factions of the Democracy unite or divide. Our State has interests at stake of greater importance than the squabbles of a herd of mercenary office-holders, who are willing to throw principles to the dogs so that they may enjoy fat salaries for doing nothing. The Custom House oh-okers, however, will not fight, as its owner will discover in good time.

DOUGLAS SECRET CIRCULAR.—The Philadelphia Press says that the Breckinridge National Committee has issued a secret circular, begging for money to carry on the campaign, which has been sent to every postmaster in the country.

THE Pennsylvanian, the paper which required so many thousands of the public money to keep the breath in its body, gives place in its columns to the following unblushing falsehood:

"ECONOMY AND REFORM."—Upon the books of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, and in his vouchers at the Treasury Department, there stands the following record:

Hon Abraham Lincoln,
Three pairs of Boots, $25 00

These boots were sent by Mr. Lincoln's orders to the stationery Clerk at the Capitol, and were drawn by him as "stationery." A striking exemplification of "economy, retrenchment and reform," in paying for boots out of the National Treasury. This is one of the reasons, perhaps, why his party call him "Honest Abe Lincoln." At the second session of the Congress of which he was a member, "honest Abe Lincoln," procured another pair of boots, which were charged as an "stationery" to the United States Treasury. When he was leaving for home, he ordered an extra fine pair at nine dollars, charged also as stationery, and they were tied up with his books, and franked to Hon. Abraham Lincoln, Springfield, Illinois.

It is not too much to say that the Pennsylvanian knew this to be a falsehood when it published it. Weeks ago the stationery Clerk at the Capitol published a certificate that he had examined the vouchers during Mr. Lincoln's term of service in Congress, and given a close scrutiny to the stationery account of that gentleman, and that no such bill could be found. The evidence, in fact, was so clear that all the decent democratic papers in the country apologized for having given currency to the story.

JOHN HANKS.—The Democratic papers are very keen on the scent for an item of encouragement, and the Columbus (O.) Statesman recently luxuriated over the following as a precious tidbit:

"We were informed a day or two ago by a delegate to the Baltimore Convention, who called at our office, that John Hanks, the man who assisted Abe Lincoln to make those rails about which the Republicans are making such a terrific bubbub, has announced himself opposed to the election of Lincoln. Hanks, who has never been a Democrat, is against the Republican dominee, because he knows Lincoln to be a humbug, and nothing else. Hurrah for Hanks."

Now, John Hanks has always been a democrat. He has never voted any other than a democratic ticket, and there should be nothing wonderful in the fact if he should continue a democrat, notwithstanding the circumstance that he and Lincoln once mauled rails together. But Hanks is cruel. He refuses to allow the Democrats the poor consolation of still claiming him as one of their own; and with an utter disregard of the tenderness of their feelings, he publishes a letter in the Illinois papers declaring his determination to support LINCOLN. In this letter he bears the highest possible testimony to the integrity, honesty and ability of his old workfellow; and, although acknowledging himself still a democrat, says his admiration of and confidence in Lincoln is so great that he intends to give him his vote and his hearty aid. And there's an end of that story.

DOWN ON THE GERMANS.—The Chicago Daily Times, Douglas' special organ, speaks of the leading Germans in this country in this language:

"Pestilentious rantors and extravagant or reckless reformers, who fled from the oppressed States of Europe, not daring to meet and combat their oppressors, are come here to indulge their oratorical propensities entirely out of harm's way."

The Germans will go almost en masse for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, free soil and free labor. Hence this malignant attack upon them by the Douglas organ.

JOHNSON DOUGLAS.—Johnson, the Douglas candidate for Vice President, headed the bogus delegation from Georgia to the Baltimore Convention, and the Douglas men in that body voted unanimously to exclude him. They brauded him as bogus, and afterwards took him up as a candidate for Vice President.

MONEY AND GRAIN IN EUROPE.—The intelligence from Europe does not indicate any stability in its political affairs, or in the financial relations arising from such political features. Every unfavorable grain harvest occasions disstress among the people, and, sooner or later, a disturbance of the money market, and of the resources of the country. England and France are both on the borrowing list. Of the uneasy feeling abroad, a London contemporary remarks:

"No country, in fact, suffers more than France, from the existing uneasy feeling as to the course of political events. * * * The excessive extension of the system of railways in France, will be a heavy draft on the floating means of the country for some time to come.

The amount for which Railway Companies are liable on bonds now afloat is one hundred and seventeen millions sterling, which bears a monthly proportion to the whole consolidated debt of France, amounting to £44,000,000. The Bank of France is upon the point of opening a public subscription for a new issue of £12,000,000 of railway bonds."

"The unreasonable weather brings the question of the supply of grain to the surface. A bad harvest would be particularly inconvenient this season. There is no saying what the exigencies of the public service may be before the year is over.

"A good deal has been said about the prospect of a late and deficient grain harvest, but sufficient attention does not seem to have been directed to the effect—less important it is true, yet still considerable—of a prospective deficiency IN THE HAY CROP. Owing to the long continuance of cold wet weather, the grass has acquired neither the height nor the weight usual at this season, and there is reason to apprehend that when the hot weather now due sets in, the forcing process to which it will suddenly be subjected will not do much to improve the prospects of the farmers and graziers. But there is another feature which points in an equally strong manner to a deficient hay crop. The stocks of fodder are so completely exhausted that it has become necessary to have recourse already, to an unusual extent, to the growing crops of grass."

The weather has changed considerably for the better within the past two days, and it is to be hoped that it will continue as fine as it is at present. This is a critical moment for the wheat crop, as it is now in bloom. The accounts received from the south of France continue to announce the favorable appearance of the growing crops. The reports from the wheat-growing districts in the neighborhood of Paris represent one third of the wheat crop to be excellent, one-third passable, and one third bad. All will depend on the weather; a scorching sun is now as much dreaded as rain. Letters from Algiers state that the wheat crop in the province of Oran was much injured by the excessive heat, which set in at the moment it was arriving at maturity. The last accounts from the north of Italy announce that the wheat crop is ripening, but that the present harvest cannot be reckoned among the most abundant. The news from Germany announces that the constant rain has seriously injured the rye crop. This is the more unfortunate as the people of Germany rely upon that grain for their subsistence.

CROPS IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The Gettysburg Sentinal of yesterday says:

The crop of grass and grain is very abundant everywhere. It is thought that rarely has there been a heavier and finer crop of the former in this region. The wheat crop is now being harvested, and yields handsomely—the grain being unusually well filled. From all appearances, and from what we hear, the whole crop will be more abundant in this county than for years.

The York Press of Tuesday says.

Our farmers are now busily engaged in harvesting their crops of wheat and rye, and if the weather continues favorable during the present week the principal part of it will be housed. The crop throughout the county is an abundant one, and the quality is said to be excellent. We have, however, been told that the army worm has been very destructive to the entire wheat in some sections. It is said that in some localities whole fields of wheat have been destroyed by them, but we are inclined to believe that the damage is not as great as has been anticipated by many. The oats and corn crops also promise well.

DOUGLAS PAPERS IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The following is a tolerably full list of the Douglas papers in this State:

Lycoming Gazette, Luzerne Union, Lancaster Enquirer, Allentown Democrat, Perry County Democrat, Huntington Globe, Carlisle Volunteer, Butler County Herald, Westmoreland Democrat, Doylestown Democrat, Harrisburg Sentinel, Carlisle Democrat, Hollidaysburg Democratic Standard, Blairsville Record, Juniata County Democrat, Johnstown Echo, Chambersburg Valley Spirit, Philadelphia Press, Pittsburgh Post, Washington Review, Fayette county Genius of Liberty, and West Chester Democrat.

HARVEST IN GENESEE VALLEY.—The valley of the Genesee begins to win back its old fame for harvests. A correspondent of the Rochester, New York Democrat says:—"Wheat ready for the reaper in June is beyond the experience of the writer, and of those of the oldest inhabitant of the Genesee Valley. Can any one recollect the year or place where?" We have a piece ready to cut to-day, June 30th, 1860.

A TEXAS paper says that a man named Lankford, in Coryell county, recently whipped a negro slave girl "from sunrise till 12 o'clock." He suspected her of stealing money, but afterward found the treasure where he had laid it, and then with his natural impudence of memory, had forgotten the occurrence. The negro furnished the information and that "she was the most unhumanely whipped creature he ever saw, neither horse nor ox excepted."

THE population of the borough of Butler, as ascertained by George W. Crozier, Esq., Deputy Marshal, is something over 1,400, being an increase of about twenty five per cent. since 1850. The rate of increase in the to nships is considerably more, than it is in the boroughs; and it is believed that our county population at this time exceeds 50,000.—Butler Amer.

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES is sending money to the Pope of Rome. When St. Peter, the archetype of his Holiness, was in need of money, he just stepped down to the water with his fishing tackle, and in the mouth of the first fish he caught found the requisite funds. Perhaps the same sort of fish doesn't abound in the Tiber.—Lou. Jour.

MELLVILLE AND DANA.—The author of "Typee" and "Omoo," is gone in the track of the author of "Two Years Before the Mast," and will circumnavigate this round globe. Dana was at Japan when last heard from, and Melville has just sailed from Boston. Doubtless we shall hear from them both if they get safely home again.

J. B. BROWN, of Alexandria, Va., who was arrested and tried on a charge of circulating incendiary documents, such as "Helper's Impending Crisis," N. Y. Tribune, &c., has had a fair and impartial trial, and although the books were found in his possession, yet he was honorably discharged.

THE Congressional Conferees met on Wednesday last, at West Brownsville, and ratified the nomination of Hon. Andrew Stewart, on first ballot. The nomination of Dr. Smith Fuller was also ratified, on Wednesday last, at Connellsville, by the Senatorial Conferees.—Uniontown Standard

THE St. Paul Minnesotian says that when all of the Democratic papers in Minnesota have taken their position they will stand eleven for Breckinridge and Lane and four for Douglas and Johnson.

Dyspepsia! Dyspepsia!! Dyspepsia!!!
What is it? How Cured?

DYSPEPSIA is our National Disease—weak stomach, feeble digestion, distress after eating, costive habit, bilious complaint. How many suffer with it and its often fatal symptoms of low spirits, heart-burn, coated tongue, constipated head and attacks of headache! But how few know how to cure it! Generally, because the bowels are constipated, resort is had to cathartics, or laxatives. But such a condition was never cured by cathartics, whose only office is to weaken the digestion and impair the integrity of the entire assimilative system.

But HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC DYSPEPSIA PILLS—a simple medicated sugar pill—have cured hundreds of the worst and most obstinate cases. Thiels done simply by invigorating the tone and restoring the integrity of the digestive organs, from which flow good appetite, regular habits, a clear head and bounding spirits. Such a thing as being a gem, and only requires to be known to be appreciated.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes, $1.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty different remedies, in large vials, morocco case, $5; do, in plain case $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address DR. F. HUMPHREY & CO.,

MOTHERS!

READ the following testimony to the success of DR. EATON'S PANACEA OR SYRUP:

Jerseyville, July 20th 1859

DR. EATON—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in certifying to the perfect harmlessness and efficacy of your Infantile Cordial, and cheerfully recommend it to those who have children teething. I have used it in my own family, and have sold over one hundred bottles the past year. All those which you recommended have given entire satisfaction.

Yours, &c.,
E. T. LATHROP.

BLOOD, FOOD! BLOOD FOOD!!

DR. SCHENCK—SIR: It may not be valuable, to you, to know that I have used the different Preparations of Blood Food in several cases, and uniformly with success, and that I am convinced they are a great approximation to the truth of a RADICAL CURE of those cases of Chronic Disease for which they are prepared, than any other medicinal agents known to the Pharmacopœia.

I recommend three Preparations as I am naturally desirous that they should be more widely tested and adopted.

RICHARDSON'S
IRISH LINENS,
DAMASKS, DIAPERS, &C.

CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE ARTICLE, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the Trade Mark of this firm.

J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the genuineness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, stamped and sold with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Hucksters, who, regardless of the injury they inflict alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.
