Douglas in the North and in the South.

The friends of Senator Douglas claim that their candidate's peculiar doctrines are endorsed by his supporters in all sections of the Confederacy, and assert that through the magic influence of his name "Popular Sovereignty" is received by his partizans in the extreme South with as much favor as in the North. The assumption, however, is by no means correct, as a reference to the manner in which the canvass is conducted will satisfy any candid person. In his late speech at Boston, the Senator from Illinois thus endorsed the Compromise measures of 1850:

"You have done no more than justice in stating that I stand on middle ground between the two parties who are now agitating the country in furtherance of the views of their particular sections. On one hand you will find a party demanding the interference of the federal government for the purpose of destroying slavery where the people want it; on the other, you find a party who demand the same interference in order to force it where the people do not want it. I stand where the Democratic party has stood for four years, and where the Whig party stood in 1852, upon the ground of non-intervention by Congress in the matter of slavery in the Territories. Non-intervention is the doctrine to which all national men stand pledged. When the Southern fire-eaters, in 1850, sought to bring trouble on the country, the immortal Clay came forth to pour oil on the troubled waters and restore peace to the distracted country. The language of the compromise was, to the South 'Hands off!' to the North 'Hands off!' 'No interference by Congress with the institutions of the people of the States!' If you cherish a sectional party at the South or at the North, you produce an irrepressible conflict and destroy the bonds of affection which hold the Union together."

This declaration was for the North. Now let us see how his friends talk in Georgia. The Atlanta Confederacy—a Southern Douglas journal and the organ of Mr. Johnson, the nominee for the Vice Presidency—in offering some reasons why Douglas should be elected in preference to all the other candidates now before the people, said: "We believe that the neutrality laws, the Compromise measures of 1850, and all subsequent compromises WERE UNJUST TO THE SOUTH, and that by the election of Mr. Douglas a policy will be inaugurated by which the South will be placed on an equal footing with her sister sections. Mr. D. saw the injustice of the Missouri Compromise to the South, hence through his instrumentality it was repealed, and Slavery extended from 36 degrees 30 minutes to the 36*th parallel of north latitude.*" The Confederacy, as an additional reason for its support of Douglas, urges its desire for the reopening of the African slave trade. On this point we quote its views at length:

We are for the repeal of the restrictions upon the African Slave Trade, regardless of its construed impolicy by Northern fanatics and Southern submissionists.

This is our cherished article. We are an out-and-out advocate for the re-opening of the African Slave Trade; for the reason that if we had more negroes the South could now and then admit new Slave States, and we would hear less about Squatter Sovereignty, and there would be no demand for Congressional protection. Besides, another very great reason why we are for repealing the restrictions upon all African Slave Trade is, that under the existing status a slaveholder is stigmatized as a "pirate," when these very "pirates" not only clothe, feed and christianize a heathen race, but from the produce arising from the labor of these slaves owned by these "pirates," the world is clothed and fed.—Commerce, the arts and sciences flourish. All, all; we say, from the impetus of slave labor.—And should the slave holders of the South, or their ancestry, who were slave traders, be denominated "pirates?" We believe in the statesmanship of Mr. Douglas, his forecast, his judgment, and that by his election, justice and equity will be meted out to every section. Hence we advocate his election."

It is evident that Mr. Douglas' friends in the South will not permit him to occupy a "middle ground" in their section, and so they are to "power in the land" we shall not be surprised to find him, in the course of a short time, explaining away the moderate sentiments of his Boston speech.

SUPPRESSING THE TRUTH.—The Douglas papers throughout the country most generally refuse to publish the Dred Scott resolution adopted as a part of the platform at Baltimore. They suppress it lest their readers should become disgusted at it. They also suppress the record of Herschel V. Johnson, their candidate for Vice President, on Squatter Sovereignty. Some of them have been offered pay to publish, as an advertisement, the report of Herschel V. Johnson to the Georgia Democratic Convention on the 4th June last, with the names attached, and a brief introductory statement of the circumstances under which it was prepared, but they have all declined to do so. That document, only six weeks old, is an open repudiation of Squatter Sovereignty and advocates a Slave Code for the Territories. The Douglas papers dare not publish it. Their inconsistency would be made so glaring by it that they ignore it. We do not wonder at the cowardice they show, under the circumstances.

A PROMINENT Republican member of Congress from Pennsylvania admitted in this city last Tuesday that Pennsylvania will not vote for Lincoln and Hamlin.—Lou. Jour.

Who was he? Let us have his name. A man who would give such an opinion ought not to be ashamed to give it the weight of his name. Was it prominent Republican member of Congress from this State was it? No dodging. Out with his name. If the Journal will not give it, the Republican members of Congress from this State can answer for themselves, and say each for himself whether he did or did not make such a statement.

LYNCHED THE WRONG MAN.—Dr. Horlscher, a leading democrat of Union county, in this State, who was lynched last year in Mississippi for being an Abolitionist, has announced himself as for Breckinridge.

There is a story told of a Yankee who was once whipped badly in the South, and who laughed all the while the whipping was going on. On being asked why he laughed at such a time, he replied it was because they were whipping the wrong man. Upon this principle Dr. Horlscher must have enjoyed his lynching hugely. They were lynching the wrong man.

The famous free trade treaty between France and England made under the auspices of the Emperor of France and Mr. Cobden, it seems does not work to the satisfaction of the British people, who have finally arrived at the conclusion that they have been over reached by his Imperial Majesty, in a manner not very flattering to their reputation for commercial shrewdness. The practical workings of the treaty have opened the eyes of the credulous, and alarmed the parties most interested, in the future prosperity of some of the most important manufacturing interests. On the other hand, the French manufacturers are everywhere as much delighted as their English friends are disappointed. The English complain that the arrangement of the details of the treaty were effected with too much haste, and charge Mr. Cobden with having forgotten the interests of his own countryman in his eagerness to propitiate the French. The London Times in an article on the subject uses the following language:

"The dissatisfaction among various English manufacturers at the consequences of the hasty manner in which the French treaty has been framed, is manifesting itself, not merely in the silk districts, where the immediate consequences to the operatives have been especially disastrous, but also at Huddersfield, Leeds, Manchester, Leicester, and other important towns. The grievance of the silk manufacturers lies in the fact of the protection under which the trade has been suffered to grow up having been cut away from them without a moment's warning, and with all the needless ceremonies of a treaty which, instead of containing a single clause to mitigate the blow, actually gives the French Government power to increase the existing duties by which English silk goods are kept out of France. The consequence is that mills which two months back were working overtime, are now being rapidly closed, while the operatives are thrown into destitution.

"In many branches of the linen, woolen, hosiery and other trades, there appears also to be a growing sense of disappointment, and a conviction that if specific are adopted instead of ad valorem duties—a point on which they apprehend we have been left to the mercies of the French Government—most of their anticipated advantages will disappear. Meanwhile, it is alleged, applications continue to be pressed upon our leading commercial men to proceed to Paris, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, with the hope of being able to convince the French Commissioners that liberality is the true policy. These invitations, however, fail in some instances to meet a sanguine response, discouragement being occasioned by the reflection that if our deputations convince the Commissioners, it will remain for them to convince the Emperor, and for the Emperor to convince the people."

REPUDIATING AN INDEPENDENT JOURNAL.—The "Constitutional Union Executive Committee" of Maryland have, on motion of Mr. Coleman Yellott, repudiated the Baltimore Patriot for not being sound on the Bell and Everett question. That truly independent journal, however, takes the matter very coolly, and announces its intention to "pursue the even tenor of its way," as if there were no such self constituted censors as the members of this Committee in existence. In announcing the action of the Committee, the Patriot remarks:

"We are really very sorry that the Union State Executive Committee, and especially Mr. Yellott, disapprove of our mode of supporting the election of Messrs. Bell and Everett, and that they are so offected about it. In so doing it necessary to deny to us the common right and privilege of supporting those statesmen for the Presidency in our own way, and upon their own noble record as the reliable friends of the institution of slavery, not only in the States where it is, but of its extension into free territory. If our course militates against the Bell and Everett ticket in Maryland, it must be weaker than we supposed it was. But the Patriot is not to be driven from pursuing the course it has marked out for it-self, by any such fulminations as those of the State Union Executive Committee. It will go on to support Bell and Everett, in spite of the opposition of Mr. Yellott and confreres, not as an Union Party paper, but as an Old Line Whig journal, free and independent; and we trust and hope that our efforts will be countenanced by the suicidal course of Mr. Yellott and his abettors, which tend directly to give the State to Breckinridge and Lane."

THE CROPS IN EUROPE.—As the prices of breadstuffs on this side of the water depend very much on the crop prospects in England, we select the following information from a letter of the well-informed London correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser:

"Confidence with regard to the harvest, is now becoming general and is satisfactory to feel that the readers of the Commercial Advertiser have all along been cautioned not to place reliance on the exaggerated apprehensions, expressed in the various English advices during the last month or two. In the course of a few days the crop will have been generally secured, in a fortnight, oats and barley in the Southern part of the kingdom will be ready for reaping, and the wheat promises to be in perfection in the same space of time. The only crop that is spoken badly of is mangel-wurzel—an important one, it is true, but less so than grain and potatoes.

"Under these circumstances, of course, it is difficult to do business in the wheat market, except at a severe decline. The latest mail announced a fall equal to 6 cents per bushel, and a further similar fall would perhaps now have to be submitted to by holders desirous of forcing sales."

POLITICAL ITEMS.

PEYTON LINCOLN.—The editor of the Cumberland (Md.) Telegraph, the American organ, referring to a statement that the opposition party of Alabama had, in convention, repudiated Bell and Everett, and declared their purpose to support Breckenridge and Lane, says:

"We prefer Mr. Lincoln before either of the democratic nominees, and if driven from our support of Mr. Bell by the treachery of our leading men—if our party is to bandle a dishonorable wing of the democracy—then we are for Lincoln, with tens of thousands of others in good old Maryland."

WISCONSIN.—The Madison Argus, which has long been the leading Democratic organ in the State, has at last taken its position for Breckinridge and Lane. The Beaver Dam Democrat has followed its example. The Waukesha Democrat is about to do likewise, and a Breckinridge paper is about to be started in Milwaukee. The Breckinridgers confidently expect to get more votes in Wisconsin than the Douglasites, though of course neither of them will be anywhere as compared with the Republicans.

OHIO.—Hon. D. P. Leadbetter, one of the "old Wheel Horses" of Democracy, in Democratic Holmes, is no active Breckinridge man and delegate to attend the State Convention, at Columbus, on the 7th of August. Mr. Leadbetter has been one of the unchangable and unalterable for the last twenty years. Hon. Wm. H. Safford, of Ross, Democratic candidate last year for Lieutenant Governor, is on the stump for Breckinridge and Lane.

MR. BUCHANAN says there is no regularly-nominated Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and no doubt he is right. Such being the case, why should's all patriotic Democrats, who cherish a great respect for regular nominations, abandon both Breckinridge and Douglas, and go in for Lincoln! He was not only regularly nominated, but he will be regularly elected too.—N. Y. Trib.

THE President's gracious declaration that "every Democrat is at perfect liberty to vote as he thinks proper," while at the same time he chops off the heads of Douglas men, reminds the Boston Journal of the French military officer's speech to his company previous to an election,—"You are at perfect liberty to vote as you please, any one who doesn't vote as I do will be shot."

THERE was an immense turn-out at Terre Haute on Tuesday, to hear Cassius M. Clay. The Express estimates the number at 15,000, "unprecedented enthusiasm" prevailing.—Speeches were made in the evening, to very large audiences, by Mr. Hassaurek of this city, and by Mr. Bromwell, of Charleston, Ill.

STILL THAT COIN.—Frank H. Firman, Esq., hitherto one of the leading Democrats of Madison, Wis., has just published a letter in the Argus & Democrat of that city, resigning his position as Chairman of the Dane County Democratic Committee, and announcing his intention to vote for Lincoln.

THE first canvass election is that of Missouri, August 6, and its result will be awaited with eager curiosity by all classes of politicians.—There are now four rival candidates for Governor, as follows:—J. B. Gardenshire, (Lincoln,) Semple Orr, (Bell,) Hancock Jackson, (Breckinridge,) Caleb F. Jackson, (Douglas.)

TENNESSEE POLITICS.—There have been two Opposition Conventions at Memphis, for the nomination of a Presidential elector of the Tenth district. The Breckinridge Convention nominated General H. S. Bradford, of Haywood county, and the Douglas Convention, Judge W. T. Brown, of Shelby.

We are glad to hear from the Troy (N. Y.) Whig, that the true blue Bell and Everett, men of that State intend, to run an electoral ticket "pure and simple." That's right. No union with Squatter Sovereigns or Breakneckers.—Balt. Pat.

THE VOTE OF BELLEVUE, IOWA.—In 1856 the vote of Bellevue was for Fremont, 44; Fillmore, 91; Buchanan, 91. A thorough canvass of the town has just been completed, and Lincoln has seventy-three majority over all parties.

The Phenomenon Elsewhere.

The Great Meteor, as Seen in the Lehigh Valley.—Easton, July 21.—Last night, at about a quarter of ten o'clock, a large luminous body rose in the northwest, traveling rapidly toward the zenith. At its first appearance, it resembled a globe of brilliant fire. As it neared the zenith, it assumed the form of two pear-shaped bodies, of a greenish blue color, in close proximity to each other, going with immense velocity, with a pulsating motion, and followed by a long train of balls of crimson fire. It was visible for about a minute, disappearing behind a bank of clouds in the southeast. It was seen at Manch Chunk and all through the Lehigh Valley.—Phila. Bulletin.

The Meteor as Seen in New York.—Shortly before 10 o'clock, last evening, a meteor of great size and brilliancy passed over this city, taking a direction from west to east. It was first observed, so far as we could learn, by passengers on the Jersey City ferry boats, to whom it appeared to have shot out from behind the houses in something of a circular course. It seemed to pass directly over the City Hall Park, when it formed into two distinct heads, one shooting ahead of the other, and leaving a long train of fiery rain between them, similar to the appearance of a rocket after it had burst. The light was of dazzling blue and white color, and during its flight it illuminated everything in its train.—N. Y. Times.

The Sight in Newark, N. J.—Last evening at a quarter of ten, a most remarkable and beautiful meteor passed over our city, passing from West to East, over Market street, and apparently not more than one hundred yards high, and travelling at the speed of pigeons, without either descending or ascending in its course. It appeared composed of two distinct bodies of equal size, and surmounted by a very brilliant blue and yellow light, and if it had been ascending as rockets do, instead of passing in a perfect horizontal direction, it might have been mistaken for an immense rocket, both from its appearance and the remarkable light. It was visible here for nearly half a minute, and in its course portions were thrown off like sparks from rockets, and these portions, instead of falling to the earth, kept on in the same course as the meteors themselves—as these were thrown off, there seemed a slight explosion, noticed by some but not heard by all. The meteor appeared to altogether different from all meteors noticed before, that we are at a loss what to say about it and shall look for further accounts with much interest.

Catarrh! Catarrh!! Catarrh!!! Catarrh!!!!

What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Most people know what its inconvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation and often enlargement of follicles and consequent thickening of the mucous membranes, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste.

The old school remedies have never been able to do any thing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they are generally worthless. Yet HUMPHREYS' DANDELION SPECIFIC, a simple Sugar Pill, taken two or three times per day, promptly cures the milder cases, cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures, by perseverring use, the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

NOTICE!
Read the following testimony to the success of Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CURE:
Morgan's Ville, July 20th, 1859
DR. EATON—Dear Sir: I have much pleasure in certifying to the perfect harmlessness and efficacy of your Infantile Cordial, and cheerfully recommend it to those who have children to raise. Since I have used it in my own family, and have sold over two hundred bottles the past year. All those who have ever used it unite in its praise for all diseases for which you recommend it. Yours, &c.,
R. F. LATHROP.

BLOOD FOOD! BLOOD FOOD!!
DR. EATON—Sir: It may not be valuable to you, to know that I have used the different Preparations of Blood Food in several cases, and uniformly with success; and that I am convinced they are a nearer approximation to the cure of a RADICAL CURE of those diseases of Chronic Disease for which they are prepared, than any other Medicine I have ever been introduced to the Pharmacopœia.
I recommend these Preparations, as I am naturally desirous that they should be most widely tested and adopted.
