MR. COVODE IN NEW YORK.—We learn from the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat that the Hon. John Covode addressed an immense Republican mass meeting in that city on Friday last. The Democrat says: "Mr. Covode's speech was throughout, one of the most effective political addresses ever delivered before a popular assemblage. The audience was held as if spell-bound during the whole time he occupied the stand." In the course of his remarks he gave a description of the means used to corrupt Congress in order to carry the Lecompton iniquity. The first trailor was Gen. Burns, of Ohio, who was secured by the promise of a marshalship and by the restoration of his son to the Post Office at Keokuk, Iowa. Mr. Covode referred to the Bean case and the connection of Bean with Judge Hall, of Ohio, a member of Congress who went over to Lecompton on the very day that a certain check for several thousand dollars was dated, which check was found in a bank at New York where it was cashed, with the name of the man in whose favor it was drawn, erased so thoroughly that not a letter of it could be deciphered. Some members who backed down were provided for by Judgeships, others by foreign missions, others by contracts, and the sons and relatives of others were provided for in various ways. The famous Utah army, Mr. Covode believed was raised for Kansas and not for Utah, as will be proved when the documents connected with the expedition are subjected to public scrutiny. Every means was taken to make that army effective as a political agent.

Mr. Covode was glad to be able to say that notwithstanding all the buying of members of Congress in that memorable contest about Lecompton, not one Republican succumbed, while the administration got as many Douglasites as it chose to purchase. The money was paid, the votes were obtained, but nobody could tell how much each man got for his share, nor who paid them.

Mr. Covode stated in his speech that thirty-two years ago, he had labored in Rochester, at $8 and $9 per month. He had been round looking for the houses in which he once lived, but found the city so much improved that he could not recognize the places where they stood. We learn from the Democrat that at the close of his speech an inquiry was made as to the time when the testimony taken before the Covode Committee would be ready for distribution. Mr. Covode replied that it was about ready. He had been subjected to a considerable amount of trouble in getting it through, owing to the opposition he met from the Senate and Executive. He went on to give some examples of the corruption exposed in his pages. He had an unbound copy of the book on the desk before him. It contains over 800 pages. This part of his speech was really interesting, and he concluded it by stating that Hon. Geo. W. Jones, of Tenn., who has for eleven years been a democratic member of Congress told him in private conversation that the investigating committee had saved the government a million of dollars.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—The Philadelphia North American, published in the only section of the State in which the so called constitutional Union party has an organization, remarks as follows in reference to the late election in North Carolina:

"In so much as is reported of this North Carolina election, it is interesting to observe that the western large slaveholding counties invariably show gains for Ellis, 'democrat;' twelve of these behind, which had 80,000 slaves, in 1850, to 95,000 free inhabitants, in all cases giving not only large but increased democratic majorities. Next five populous central counties, with 28,000 slaves to 56,000 free inhabitants, gave equal votes for the two candidates, the gain from 1858 being largely for the Opposition, however, and lastly, their populous western counties, with 85,000 free inhabitants to 5000 slaves, give very large majorities and large gains for the Opposition. These are striking facts, and they show clearly that States like North Carolina have a lively interest in such internal questions as that which entered into this election, and that the decision whether slave property shall continue, as now, exempt from taxation, is quite as important to them as the extension of slavery into new territories.

"With the present certain prospect of an united vote for Breckinridge in the Southern States, the comparatively salt of what was the fragmentary party proposing to vote for Bell and Everett can be in Pennsylvania, except to aid Buchanan and Breckinridge? It can do nothing more nor less than this, and it is now so arranged in New Jersey. For true Buchanan men this is well enough, and whomsoever is in favor of the 'peculiar institution' of the existing regime should and will signify it by voting to perpetuate it. A few honest members of the Opposition may hold on with the greater number to the end, and also serve their professed enemies; but the great majority of all such will avoid a course which will be as distasteful to the Opposition in such States as North Carolina as to the lovers of an honest management of affairs everywhere.—The Opposition in North Carolina are in earnest in their hostility to the Buchanan regime, and they will by fidelity in future only to those who assist in putting that management out of power, and not at all to those who pretend opposition, put do their best to re-elect Buchananism under Breckinridge."

If those who urge the election of BELL and EVERETT in the North are sincere in their professions of hostility to the disunion movement, the result of the election in North Carolina should convince them that by adhering to their present course they are rather benefitting than crushing the prospects of the Secessionists.

TRADE IN CUBA.—The Philadelphia ... letter from Cienfuegos, dated July 13, ... slave trade in Cuba. The Trini... ports of the province of that island, not ... same. The latter is as ... an American bark ... ves at Key Breton, ... of Casilda, port of ... steamer Wyan... morning, but ... old on the Key ... last three ... about ... in the Key ...

The Governor of Trinidad, it is said, was personally cognizant of their landing and sale, and is reported to have received over $30,000 hush money. Capt. Stanley, of the United States steamer Wyandotte, went and saw the Governor, and found out from him that he knew all about their landing. The Governor wished to talk with Capt. Stanley 'as a gentleman,' (business genteel I suppose,) and not as captain of the Wyandotte, during the conference. It is believed that Capt. Stanley has reported the matter to the government of the United States, as it ought to be.—The idea of Spanish officials allowing such illegal acts to be so publicly accomplished, our government should put an end to. If we were to join England, it could undoubtedly be done."

THE TRUE ISSUE.—The Washington Constitution, the President's central organ, says:

"Every candid man who now surveys the political field, and calculates the chances of the rival candidates now before the people for the highest offices in their gift, must come to the conclusion that the struggle is between Breckinridge and Lane on the one side, the nominees of the true democracy of the country, and Lincoln and Hamlin on the other side."

This is true to the very letter. No intelligent observer of political events can close his eyes to the fact that every vote cast for either Douglas or Bell is a vote in favor of Breckinridge and dismion. If the friends of the first named candidates, therefore, really apprehend danger to the Union from the success of the secessionists, the way to prevent that calamity is open to them.

BELL FOR A SLAVE CODE.—The Southern papers that support the Bell and Everett nominations are using the following extract from a speech of Mr. Bell, while in Congress, to prove that he is a safe candidate for the South:

"It is contended that the South is secured in the full benefit of the doctrine held by some of the most distinguished champions of its rights, who maintain that the Constitution, proprio vigore, that the flag of the Union protects the citizen in the enjoyment of his rights, property of every description recognized as such, in any of the States, on every sea and in every territory of the Union. The soundness of the general doctrine held on this point, I think, cannot well be questioned or disproved; and if the question relates to a territory situated as Oregon was, when the United States came into possession of it, property in slaves would be entitled to the protection of the laws and Constitution of the United States."

THE NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—Enough has been heard from North Carolina to show that the Breckinridge candidate for Governor is undoubtedly elected, and by probably from 8,000 to 10,000 majority. This result of the first in the series of Southern elections will be as disheartning to the Bell-Everett and Douglas parties, as, if they have heretofore spoken truly, it was wholly unexpected. They boasted their belief that Pool, the Bell and Everett candidate, would be elected by a "large majority." Instead of that, with the aid of a local issue which benefitted their side, and with the same kind of assistance from bolting Douglasites that is anticipated to-day in Kentucky, the Democratic majority of two years ago, has not been reduced sufficiently to afford the slightest hope of carrying the State for Bell and Everett. As compared with last year's Congressional election, in fact, there appears to be a decided Opposition loss.

The Enquirer says, with unparalleled impudence and hypocrisy: "The Seceders did not bolt this nomination, as they have done the nominee of the National Democracy, Douglas and Johnson, but supported Ellis." Now, the writer of that dishonest twaddle was well aware that Ellis was an open, avowed supporter of Breckinridge and Lane, and everywhere, in addressing the people, sustained their nominations. It is also well known that the Douglasites of North Carolina, if any there are who have not already given in their adhesion to Breckinridge and Lane, just as distinctly understood that every vote for Ellis would tell in favor of that Presidential ticket, as the Douglasites of Kentucky, in regard to it, understand that Bell or Breckinridge was the controlling issue. Gov. Ellis was no more "the nominee of the Democratic party" in North Carolina, than is McClarty in Kentucky. The issues are the same, and the motives controlling voters will be the same. Therefore, As the Democracy is relatively more numerous in Kentucky, however than in North Carolina, it is altogether probable that the result of their boiling and fratarnization with the Bell and Everett men will be different.—The utter failure, nevertheless, of the coalition in North Carolina will be most discouraging in its effect, should Kentucky go the same way to-day the Douglasites have nothing more to hope. Hence their determination, as the Enquirer has advised, to vote for their life-long opponent, Leslie Combs.

North Carolina, then, the first Southern State to declare itself in this canvass, may be set down for Breckinridge and Lane, beyond a peradventure. The majority for Buchanan in that State over Fillmore in 1856 was 11,460. The majority for Ellis now, when the returns are all in, will probably fall little, if any, short of that number. The aggregate Democratic majority on Congressmen, last year, was only 6,970, compared with which the Breckinridge gain in the late election is large and significant. There is little room for doubt that the South will go unitedly for Breckinridge and Lane.—Cin. Gaz.

WASHINGTON ON SLAVERY—General Washington to Robert Morris, Dated April 12, 1786.—"I hope that it will not be conceived from these observations that it is my wish to hold the unhappy people who are the subject of this letter in slavery. I can only say, there is not a man living who wishes more sincerely than I do to see a plan adopted for the abolition of it; but there is only one proper and effectual mode by which it can be accomplished, and that is by legislative authority; and this, as far as my suffrage will go, shall not be wanting."—[Sparks's edition, 9th vol.

TO JOHN F. MERCER, SEPTEMBER 9TH, 1786.

"I never mean, unless some particular circumstance should compel me to it, to possess another slave by purchase, it being among my first wishes to see some plan adopted by which slavery in this country may be abolished by law."

TO SIR JOHN SINCLAIR.

After speaking of the prices of land in Virginia, and of the much higher prices of land in the free states, he gives, among other reasons, the following:

"Because there are in Pennsylvania laws for the gradual abolition of slavery, which neither Maryland nor Virginia have at present, but which nothing is more certain than that they must have, and at a period not remote."

P. S Since writing the above I have met with the following, cut from a newspaper of the present year:

"GEORGE WASHINGTON IN FAVOR OF A CONFEDERATION OF FREE STATES.

The following is what George Washington, in a letter to General Lafayette, said about it:

"I agree with you cordially in your views in regard to negro slavery. I have long considered it a most serious evil, both socially and politically, and I should rejoice in any feasible scheme to rid our states of such a burden. The Congress of 1787 adopted an ordinance which prohibits the existance of involuntary servitude in our Northwestern territory forever. I consider it a wise measure. It meets with the approval and assent of nearly every member from the states more immediately interested in slave labor. The prevailing opinion in Virginia is against the spread of slavery in our new territories, and I trust we shall have a confederation of free states."

AMUSEMENT FOR A KING.—The Paris correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune gives the following anecdote of the old Prince Jerome, now just dead, which is worth knowing as an instance of royal amusement. It occurred at Cassel when he was King of Wesiphalia:

Between the pretty wives of courtiers, and piquant actresses, and playing leap frog, Jerome had a comfortable time of it. He was more particularly fond of playing leap frog, and would not unfrequently become so excited by desire to shine in this game as to strip himself to his shirt in order to execute with more airy ease the required super-capital leaps. On one occasion the windows of a private house which overlooked this scene of royal revelry were filled with spectators; they indulged in irreverent laughter; the next day the house was confiscated and raised to the ground. You see pulling down houses has long been a mania in the Bonaparte family.

Some of the journals are stating that the Prince of Wales is the first heir apparent to the throne of England that has ever visited the United States, but this is a mistake. Doubtless newspaper readers are familiar with the anecdote of William IV., before he came to his accession to the following effect:

While in New York the Prince called at a barber's shop to be shaved. When the operation was completed he stepped up to the barber's pretty wife, who chanced to be present, and, giving her a kiss remarked, "There, now, you can say you have been kissed by one of the most consummate blackguards that ever lived, and moreover that he will, on the accession of every superannuated woman whose name and age appears in the appears to sleep with him. In this capacity of steam lines, he will scarcely be more ...

DR. GEO. H. KETSER, No. 140 Wood street.

DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.

PITTSBURGH CERTIFICATES.

I have been sick now for nearly two years with a cough and liver complaint, and the whole of my breast inside was completely raw. I first took it with a bad intimation of the lungs, and I was attended by one of the best Doctors in Pittsburgh, who told me I had inflammation of the lungs. Some time in the early part of March last I called on Dr. Schenck, who was examining patients at Dr. Keyser's Drug Store, 140 Wood street. After he examined me carefully he told me that I had liver complaint, which had settled upon my lungs. My doctor, before I called on Dr. Schenck, told me that my lungs were badly affected. I was wasted very much in flesh, and my strength left me. My appetite was entirely gone, and I had very little hopes of recovery when I called on Dr. Schenck. The Doctor told me I would get well if I took his medicines and followed his directions, which I did faithfully until I had taken four bottles of "Pulmonic Syrup," two of "Seaweed Tonic," and a box of "Mandrake Pills," and now I am better than ever I was in my life, and weigh ten pounds more than ever I did in my life before, and I can now carry as much weight as any man of my height and size anywhere. I am entirely recovered from the disease which up to broke down my constitution and threatened my life, and I feel under a debt of gratitude to Dr. Schenck for his treatment. I know, besides, quite a number of my acquaintances, who have been cured by Dr. Schenck's medicines, when I recommended to take them. I always keep the "Mandrake Pills" in my house. They cured my wife of liver complaint when nothing else would help her. Her skin was sallow and she suffered much—she tried various other kinds of pills, but they all did no good, until she took your Mandrake Pills, which have made her a well woman. I am sure that I owe my life and present first rate health to Dr. Schenck and his medicines, and I take pleasure in bearing testimony to their efficacy. I have sent a great many persons for Dr. Schenck's medicines, and they have all been benefited. I am well known, and there are numbers of my neighbors can bear testimony to my statement.

ANOTHER CERTIFICATE.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, March 24, 1860.

DR. SCHENCK:—I write these lines to inform you that I was in Pittsburgh on February 15th, and bought a bottle of Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and when I arrived in Zanesville I commenced using the medicine according to directions, and it has improved my health more than I expected it would in so short a time. I am so well pleased with the Seaweed Tonic and "Pulmonic Syrup," that I want you to send me two bottles of "Seaweed Tonic" and one bottle of "Pulmonic Syrup" by express, and I will settle for the same by draft as soon as I receive it. I am well pleased with the Mandrake Pills I purchased from you.

ANOTHER CURE BY DR. SCHENCK.

I took last August—now nearly a year ago—a violent attack of cold, which I contracted by lying on the damp ground on a hunting excursion. I got wet, and a heavy cold and constant pain in my breast, and I expectorated a great deal of tough matter from my lungs and bronchial tubes. I thought I had consumption. I felt the disease fastening on me, the fact that I had such a hard cough and night-sweats very bad. I suffered a great deal with pain and tightness in my breast. I called on Dr. Schenck in October last—was he examined my lungs with his respirometer. He told me my bronchial tubes were very much affected, and he prescribed for me his Mandrake Pills, Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic. I took one box of the Pills and two of the Tonic, and four bottles of the Pulmonic Syrup. At this time I am entirely well, and weigh more and am stronger than I was before I took the disease.

Such has been the demand for my Syrup, that I have been compelled to resort to the most perfect steam machinery for the displacing of the herbs and boiling down the Syrup, by which the substance can be more conveniently and perfectly extracted. This process gives a different color to it, rendering it lighter, but stronger in substance. The difference in color may cause many to think it experiment, but my signature will always accompanies each bot le, and my agents are publicly announced to all readers of this notice.

Soyer's Sultana Sauce,

FOR HOT AND COLD DISHES OF ALL KINDS.

This most delicious and appetizing Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of Crosse & Blackwell, London, upon the original recipe. It is the favorite Sauce in England, and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid to digestion.

OPINIONS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

"We recommend our correspondent to try Mons. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe, its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Mirror.

DR. EATON'S INVARTILE CORDIAL.

"IT MUST be obvious to every attentive person that the fore runners of infants pains of Stag the bowels, and in this connection we know of a medicine which can be relied upon with perfect confidence in all infantile complaints whatsoever their nature may be. We speak of Dr. Eaton's INVARTILE CORDIAL. It contains no opiate or any kind—no paregoric, and relieves the sufferings of infants as if by magic. Mothers by all means, try the virtues of all other remedies have failed. See the advertisement of in another column of these papers, or agent, Druggist, Grocer, New York, who are the sole proprietors and also sole agents of the world-renowned "Dr. Eaton's Elixir Proof," which is a preparation for the relief of all complaints arising from a disordered state of the blood, from whatever cause such objectionable may proceed. It is without exception the most powerful acting cordial any invalid could take, as it is immediately absorbed by the blood without having to go through the process of digestion; and as blood is the life of the human body, by nourishing and producing it, it soon restores to perfect health those even who have been entirely given over. We commend the above two preparations decidedly the best of their kind offered to the public.—Chronicle, Quebec, C. E.
