Curiosity's Prayer.—One of the literary men of England, who has outgrown many of the boyish reverences of his childhood, gives the following touching sketch of the impression made on him by the habit of prayer taught at his mother's knee:—

"A very slender and very pleasing to me is the recollection of that simple piety of childhood, the prayer which was said so punctually, night and morning, kneeling by the bedside.—What did I think of? Guiltless then of metaphysics, what image did I bring before my mind of the supposed my learnt petition with such scrupulous fidelity? Did I see some venerable form bending down to listen? Did He cease to look on the face when I had said it all? Half prayer, half lesson, how difficult it is now to summon back again! But this I know, that the bedside where I knelt to this morning and evening devotion, became sacred to me as an altar. I shall as I recall the innocent superstition that grew up in me that the prayer must be said kneeling just there: If, some cold, winter's night, I had crept into bed, thinking to repeat the petition from the warm nest itself, it would not do.—It was felt in this court of conscience to be an insufficient performance; there was no sleep to be had till I had risen, and, bedgowned as I was, knelt at the accustomed place, and said it all over again from the beginning to the end. To this day I never see the little clean, white bed in which a child is to sleep, but I see also the figure of a child kneeling at its side. And I, for a moment, am that child.—Nothing after in the most sumptuous church in Christendom, could prompt my knee to bend like that snow white coverlet, tucked in for a child's slumber.

Life and Death.

A thin cadaverous looking German about fifty years of age entered the office of a Health Insurance Company in Indiana a few days ago, says the Daily Courier, and inquired:—

"Iss dis man in vot insures the peoples lifes?"

The agent politely answered: "I attend to that business sir."

"Well, I vants mine helts insured; vot you charge?"

"Different prices," answered the agent, "from three to ten dollars a week in a case of sickness."

"Well," said Mynheer, "I vants ten dollars a week."

The agent then inquired the state of his health.

"Well, I ish sick all te time. I'se shust out to spad two or tree hours a day, and te doctor says he can't do nuting more dat ish good for me."

"If that is the state of your health," returned the agent, "we can't insure it. We only insure persons who are in good health."

At this Mynheer bristled up in great anger "You must tink I'm a fool. Vot you tink I'd ose pay you ten dollars for insure my helts ven I vas vell."

Quack Nostrums.

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK says:

"The majority of Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we are pasting in the columns of our daily, and newspaper headings, as hair preparations, are all but humbugs of the first water, their real merit, when they possess any, is that they do no harm. HOPE'S LAND, WILLIS OIL, LAND OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics; and when true quality, are bandied with some irreplicable term, and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes, but is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. This preparation comes before the world without any "high falutin" Rigmaroleries, or any other astounding and sounding entrapping terms: he simply advertises a Hair Restorative—what it expresses precisely—and as a Restorative it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and on you value your scalp, eye, your very brains, apply soothing balm to it, may be that you will get those worthless nostrums that perfumed lard oil on your cranium. Remember Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process,

Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color, Will make Hair Grow on Bald Heads, Will restore its natural luxuriance, Will remove at once all Itching, Will prevent all Scurf, Will cure all eruptions—even Scald Head, Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy, Will make the old appear young again, Will preserve the Color of Hair to old age, It will always Restore it and stop its Falling. And by one of the best Toilet Articles for the Hair now in use.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by connection in Hydrogen, sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocuous in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emeticisms, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Saltrheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In case of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this preparation has proved successful to an extent which no description can put within reasonable bounds. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just return d from protracted travels in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are recorded of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that completion of nervous and dyspeptic swredon to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary for, unlike the old order, it is vigorously tonic without being exciting and overpowering; and gently, regularly carried, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

LIQUORS and a fit be feels confident in recommending to the public for their excellence.
