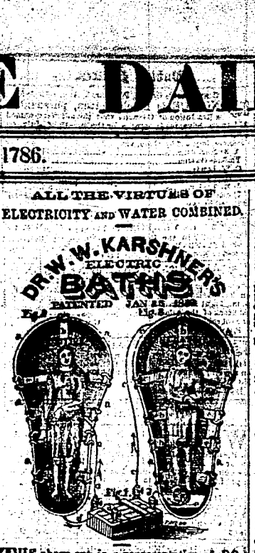
ALL THE VIRTUES OF

ELECTRICITY AND WATER COMBINED.



THE above cut is a representation of DR. KARSHNER'S POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE ELECTRO-THERAPEUTIC BATHS, for which he has obtained letters patent from the Patent Office of the United States. These Baths have been in successful operation for the last two years, in many of our principal towns and cities, during which time hundreds of patients have tested their astonishing powers with signal success. Dr. K. challenges the entire medical world to produce any one system or combined set of systems, that will cure as many diseases, and in so short a time, as his Electric Baths alone, when rightly administered. The scientific minds of all professions are cordially invited to call, examine and test for themselves.

The duration of each Bath, the temperature of the water, and the strength of the electric current, are varied according to the disease, the condition of the patient at the time, and the effects desired. The water is about blood heat, and the electricity so graduated as to produce nothing but pleasurable sensations.

There is no class of Diseases, either Acute or Chronic, to which they are not adapted—which do not yield at once to their all pervading and health-restoring influences. The aged and decrepid have been led, voluntarily, to testify that they felt many years younger, and slept better than they had done for years. Others have been cured of painful diseases in a few Baths.

Nor do their healthful effects seem to be confined solely to the physical man; they have an equally happy influence upon the mental faculties, making them a most efficient means in the treatment of Insanity and all abnormal mental conditions.

Among the diseases successfully treated by Dr. K.'s Baths are: Incipient Consumption, Scrofula, Paralysis, Epilepsy, (Fits,) Insanity, Delirium Tremens, St. Vitus' Dance, Curvature of the Spine, Rheumatism, Nervous Diseases, Weakness in the Back and Joints, Nervousness, Nervous Headache, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Weak Eyes, Partial Deafness, Dumbness, Sore Throat and Genital Diseases, Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhœa, and other Uterine Derangements, Fever, Fever and Ague, etc. etc.

The Baths are in successful operation at

BOOK OF THE FAIR.

THE SUBSCRIBERS would respectfully announce that, with the approbation and hearty assistance of the Board of Directors

Allegheny County Agricultural Association,

they will publish on 5th, 6th and 7th of October next, a volume bearing the above title.

THE BOOK OF THE FAIR will contain a full historical account of the origin and progress of the Association, statistics of its various Exhibitions, and much other interesting matter, relative to Allegheny County, and the Cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, with Fine Lithographic Views of many of our Public Buildings and Churches.

Also, a fine Steel Portrait of the Two Cities and Vicinity, now engraving by William Schaschauer.

TEN THOUSAND COPIES of this memorable book will be issued and ready for the opening of the Exhibition.

A PORTION of the volume will be devoted to a historical and statistical account of the various establishments in which Manufactured articles on exhibition may have been made, with full descriptions of the articles exhibited.

As the book will be in the hands of the majority if not nearly all the visitors to the Fair, the shrewd business man, mechanic or agriculturist will see the great advantage to be obtained in a proper presentation of his wares, patent or goods, through the pages of the volume, by making and having a neat and correctly written notice thereof intimately associated with the matter printed in the pages of the book.

BOOK OF THE FAIR.

As a medium of introduction to a large number of persons of any business or manufacturing establishment, this volume, from its permanent character, will be found to be exceedingly valuable for many years to come. Not only will its good offices, during the continuance of the Fair, amply repay the investment of the exhibitor, but its existence, publicity in its pages, but as, from the historical, descriptive and illustrated character, it will necessarily pass from hand to hand, and be consulted for and with, it is at once apparent to any shrewd business man that it offers unusual inducements to one who would intelligently commend their skillful productions to the notice of the world, and to the whole country, people of which he has customers by thousands.

Each of the trade utilities of the Fair, being duly prepared and printed, and the volumes issued in time for distribution on the opening of the Fair, it will be obvious that all parties desiring to avail themselves of the great world exhibition must be in the publisher's hands at an early day.

PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 14.

THE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN AS SEEN FROM THE COAST OF LABRADOR.—Prof. Alexander, thus describes the late eclipse of the Sun, as observed on the coast of Labrador by himself and associates, who were sent there under the direction of the Superintendent of the United States Coast Survey:

The point was found desolate beyond comparison; mountains, as it seemed, of cast iron; the whole coast apparently destitute of arborescence. The most discouraging feature was, that a long line or belt of mist extended itself along the foot of the mountains. When arrived at their destination, they found a line of mountains 4000 feet high, and it was evident that they must interpose this mountain barrier between themselves and the mist. This was done by getting on the warm side of those hills, and they proceeded to fulfil their duties. The weather was not clear more than two days at a time, and at the time of the eclipse more than nine-tenths of the heavens were obscured.

He next gave a very vivid account of the arrangements of himself and his assistants. Next him was the photographer; one was detailed to observe the seconds, and another whose only duty was to watch the chronometer. They watched; no one spoke; until at a call from the superintendent, the photographer let the spring fly, and took the ragged edge of the moon just entering upon the sun. One beautiful phenomenon was a bright light around the edge of the moon, and again the faithful photographer noted it. One of the party observed that the moon on the side next the sun was of a blueish color, and this, too, the photographer succeeded in fixing. As the eclipse advanced, nothing could be more beautiful than the sharp and diminishing shape of the sun, and it was wonderful to see the effect these had upon the party, except by using the language of Prof. Alexander himself. Each one having a special part to observe, little opportunity was had for general observations, and thus the corps did not have the attention it deserved. But as it was, plenty of interesting and true prepared in advance for the scenes, and they were instructed what and how to observe. The account given by an intelligent quartermaster was such as he would have given if he had read the account of it in books. From his description a drawing was made, and he with the other seamen was called upon to examine and correct it until they pronounced it exactly the thing.

MORE DISUNION NONSENSE.—The Charleston Mercury the other day said that Lincoln would certainly be defeated, and that the North could be made to believe that in such an event the South would dissolve the Union. To the effect of this menace the Mercury places its last hope of defeating the Republican candidate. Southern Slavery Democrats evidently take the same view of the case, and are trying to act upon it. They have planned a regular political campaign, based on making the North believe that Disunion will follow Lincoln's election. A Committee has been appointed to enclosing Southern members of Congress, and elicit from them letters in favor of Disunion. Fire-eating Gov. Gist's ferocious manifesto—full of sound and fury, written in the Evans vein—and proclaiming the instant secession of South Carolina in case Lincoln should be elected. It was the first gun in the general bombardment, but it scared nobody but the poor old woman who edits the Herald, and whose nerves have been for a long time so shattered that the notes of a pop-gun gives her apoplexy. Everybody else laughed—and there it ended. Next came Speaker Orr's pronunciamiento, in which the menace was slightly modified. He was in favor of secession,—quite as much so as Col. Keitt,—but he was more judicious:—he was opposed to South Carolina's going out alone;—when she could get four or five States to keep her in countenance, then he was in favor of her departure,—but not before. This, so far as it goes, is sensible,—and everybody saw at once that, if the Union lasted until Mr. Orr could get everything comfortably arranged for its dissolution, the peril of that event was not immediate. So Boyce is the next customer: and his fulmination will be found in full in another column. Mr. Boyce takes a comprehensive view of the case. If Lincoln is elected he thinks all the Southern States should at once secede. If all will not go, then as many as will;—and if nobody else starts, South Carolina should secede alone. If she declines also, Mr. Boyce will probably pack his trunk and withdraw from the Union on his own responsibility. This will be unfortunate for him,—to say nothing of the country at large. We hope he will reconsider his resolution.

Mr. Boyce bases his whole political system on the assumption that "the vital principle of the Republican Party is negro equality,—the only logical finale of which is Emancipation." He proves this rash assertion by quoting one of the Chicago platitudes which repeats the words of the Declaration of Independence. The Declaration of Independence declares that "all men are born free and equal;" therefore the Republicans are in favor of negro equality:—This is the beautiful argument by which Mr. Boyce advocates the dismemberment of the Union. The Republican Party has control of a large number of the Free States:—yet in only one or two of them has it placed the free negro on a footing of political equality with the white man. Mr. Boyce is quite certain the party means to emancipate every slave, for the purpose of giving him all the rights which the white citizen now enjoys. We beg to inform Mr. Boyce that according to our observation the great body of our Northern people prize their political privileges much too highly thus to think of sharing them with three or four millions of emancipated blacks.—N. Y. Times

IT IS strange that people can be so unreasonable as to charge upon the southern Democratic designs against the Union of the States. The following from the Southern Confederacy, a Douglas paper in Georgia, shows how moderate they are in their demands, and how ready they are to accept his concessions:

"We are for a perpetuation of the Union, provided the neutrality laws, the compromise measures of 1850, and all subsequent compromises, are repealed.

We are for the repeal of the restrictions upon the African slave trade, regarding it as construed impolicy by southern fanatics and southern submissionists.

We regard the foregoing restrictions as unwarranted by the constitution; depriving degrading, insulting, and grievously sectional in legislation to the south, &c.

We are opposed to the acquisition of any more territory until the African slave trade is reopened, and the immediate sale and enslavement of all free negroes that are found within the limits of the southern States, after a specified time to emigrate."

This is from a Douglas paper. Too Breckinridge papers are more stringent in their demands; but even they would be satisfied if they could be assured of the quiet possession of the political power all the time. And yet the Republicans, by refusing their assent to such constitutional propositions, are pushing the Union towards destruction.

SUPERABUNDANT LOYALTY.—It would be difficult to find a richer specimen of provincial flunkeyism than is afforded in the address of the authorities of the village of Hantsport, on the arrival of the Prince of Wales. It commences:

"To the Most High, Puissant and Illustrious Prince Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Coburg and Gotha, Great Steward of Scotland, Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay, Earl of Chester, Carrick and Dublin, Baron of Renfrew and the Lord of the Isles, K. G. &c.

May it please your Royal Highness, we, the inhabitants of Hantsport, would humbly represent that, in favoring our quiet, village with your presence, your Royal Highness confers on us an honor greater than our words can express or any demonstration of ours can testify. Yet, though our language and our means may fail, that honor is not the less appreciated, nor less that deep and lasting sense of obligation our hearts must ever acknowledge through the gracious permission of your august mother."

This precious document ends as follows:

"Long live your Royal Highness! Long may you grace the mighty throne of Britain, and when in after years, if your august eldest child be inseparably associated with deeds as great and glorious as ever hallowed the memory of earth's noblest, may we hope, presumptuous though it may seem, that when, relaxing from the toils of state, the mind of the king shall repose, it ever be with joy and pride, to his youthful days, the hour spent in Hantsport may not have been forgotten."

GARIBALDI has issued the following spirited proclamation, which his friends in Naples found means to print and circulate in the royal army:

"Gentlemen!—We have to create an army of two hundred thousand men. I much appreciate and esteem volunteers; nevertheless, I would rather make a colonel of a loyal captain who knows his business well, than of an advocate. I prefer to make a captain of a sergeant than of a surgeon. If you are royalists, I am so too; but king for king, I prefer Victor Emanuel, who will one day lead us all against the Austrians, to Francis of Bourbon, who sets Italians against Italians. Gentlemen, it is for you to choose. We shall conquer without you, but I should be proud to conquer with you. G. GARIBALDI."

In the order of the day announcing the death of the Hungarian General, Teukery, he says:

"The fraternity of the two peoples, cemented by blood upon the fields of battle is imperishable. Free Italy is answerable and responsible in the face of the world for the freedom of Hungary. The sons of this land will answer the cry of war against tyranny, raised on the banks of the Danube, the very day when the broken chains of our brothers shall be changed into swords for fighting the oppressors.

Yes! The Italians swear upon the tomb of the heroic martyr, that the cause of Hungary shall be theirs, and that they will repay with their blood the blood she has shed for them."

THE Union men of St. Louis traded on their votes to Barrett, (the Democratic candidate,) for the short Congressional term, in exchange for the votes for the Barrett men for Orr, the Union candidate for Governor. As usual the Unionists were cheated, for while their votes have probably elected Barrett. Orr got no commensurate increase from the Barret vote. The despatches of the New York Express and its trading contemporaries, we notice, are all in favor of Barrett. Of course. They are all bound for Breckinridge. It is only a question of time.—Balt. Pat.

FRANK BLAIR.—The St. Louis Democrat claims that Frank P. Blair, jr., is elected to Congress for both the short and the long terms. By official count there are over two hundred Republican tickets which were polled for "F. Blair for Congress," which he has not received credit for, and which give him a majority over Barret of fifty or sixty votes. That he is entitled to these votes both on the long and the short term, no doubt can be entertained."
