ARKANSAS.—If there is a State in the Union in which the secessionists and disunionists might claim as their own, we would suppose Arkansas to be that State. It appears, however, from the returns of the late election, that Johnson, the regular Brecknridge candidate for Governor, has probably been defeated by Rector, an "independent" candidate. But what is stranger than this, is the intelligence that Hindman—the inevitable and the indomitable—the head and front of the secessionists at Baltimore and at Charleston, who in his zeal for the disunion cause pitched into and blackened the eyes of his more moderate fellow citizen, Mr. Hooper—is believed to have been defeated for Congress in the First District, by his "Whig" opponent, Jesse N. Cypert. Hardman, whose services on the floor of Congress are so essential to maintain the Congressional reputation for thoroughfarism, has in all probability been compelled to remain at home in order to give place to a "Whig," who does not believe in disunion! In the Second District the regular democrat has been also defeated by a gentleman whose politics are marked "unknown." At the last election Hindman had a majority of about fifteen thousand over his opponent. It appears from this that even benighted, barbarous Arkansas is beginning to see the propriety of keeping her ruffians at home, and sending respectable men to Congress as her representatives. It is to be hoped, at all events, that she will not hereafter degrade herself by electing such fellows as Rust, Yell and Hardman to responsible positions, in the State or nation.

THE CRY IS STILL THEY COME!—We learn from a gentleman who was present that the Republican meeting at Brady's Bend, on Monday last, was one of the largest ever held in that section of country. Fifteen hundred people from the surrounding townships were present, who evinced the deepest interest in the proceedings. The meeting was addressed by the Hon. John N. Purviance and John Thompson, Esq., of Butler county, in speeches which enchained the attention of the audience for over three hours. At the close of the proceedings, a Lincoln and Hamlin Club was formed, and although the night was far advanced towards the "small hours," ninety-one persons enrolled themselves as members. Of this number, at least one-fourth were men who previous to this year, were active members of the Democratic party. Disgusted with the duplicity and corruption of the leaders of that organization, they have resolved to aid in the election of the Republican candidates; and thus reform the abuses which have characterized the rule of Buchanan and Pierce.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE DOUGLAS COMMITTEE.—We learn from Forney's Press that the Douglas State Central Committee have already struck from the electoral ticket formed at Reading, the name of Gen. Geo. Keim, one of the electors at large, and substituted John Cessna, Esq., of Bedford county. In regard to the district electors, by the 25th inst., the Committee will ascertain fully who among them will support the regular nominees of the party exclusively, and refuse to vote for Breckinridge in any contingency; and then every man who sustains the fusion arrangement will also be stricken off the list, and their places supplied by trusty friends of Douglas and Johnson. The Committee adopted the following resolutions, with a preamble charging the State Committee with the commission of surrender in their action of the 24 of July, by presenting candidates not nominated by the National Convention, and with mutilating the Reading ticket by striking out the names of two electors, and with other violations of the democratic law:—

Resolved, That we protest against the usurpation of the State Executive Committee in regard to the national contest, and as far as the Presidential election is concerned, place ourselves under the direction of the National Committee.

Resolved, That it is evident the Breckinridge faction in all the States in which Douglas is likely to defeat Lincoln, have no other object in pressing a Breckinridge ticket than the defeat of Douglas.

Resolved, That all measures of conciliation having failed, we do now proceed to the formation of an electoral ticket, pledged to the support of Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson.

Resolved, That we do also elect alternates to act as Douglas electors, in case any of the Reading electors refuse to serve on the ticket; and failing to complete the list, the duty is referred to a committee of seven, to be appointed by the Chairman, to act with this committee in districts where such action may be necessary.

A sub-committee of seven was appointed to correspond with the electors, and alternates were selected to serve in the place of such of them as would not declare their fixed purpose to vote for Douglas and Johnson. The Committee to report a Full Electoral Ticket on the 25th inst.

THE SUPREME COURT.—From the following which we find in the Washington correspondence of the New York Commercial Advertiser, we infer that the Democratic respect for the decision of the Supreme Court, depends very much on the side in which their decisions are rendered:

"Many of the southern men who have been willing to abide by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court, on all questions relative to Slavery in the territories now qualify that assent. The decision of the court will be respected, so long as it is in their favor. But, if Republican rule should exist for two terms—that is, for eight years from the 3d of March next, the majority of the court may represent the views of its present minority. The Supreme Court doctrine will not, therefore, be acceptable as a basis for the adjustment of the question."

Slavery, it seems, is to override their boasted respect for the Judiciary as well as for the articles of Confederation. It is the great Moloch before which all other questions must fall. Gentlemen bearing of the slavery interest, and you can predict with unerring certainty what will be the action of the Southern Democrats.

MISCHIEF.—The late triumph in St. Louis has inflamed a new spirit into the gallant Republicans of Missouri. Instead of being satisfied to fight in a minority without hope, they are buckling on their armor for a victorious contest. In which they have resolved to storm the fortresses of the enemy. The St. Louis Democrat of the 17th inst., says:—

The dark hour for the most sanguine Republicans in St. Louis did not dare to hope that Missouri could be carried for Lincoln and Hamlin. To-day the hope that it can be so carried, appears to us by no means rash or unfounded.

The manifesto of Senators Polk and Green; the call for a Breckinridge Convention by Jas. M. Hughes, in response to the appeals of the Breckinridge press; the emphatic counter demonstration by the Republicans yesterday morning; the determination evinced by each side to have a full electoral ticket of its own, with many other kindred circumstances, render it certain that the Douglas and Breckinridge factions will be found pitted against each other as two intensely hostile organizations, within a month or six weeks, and thereafter, until the bitter end shall be reached. The Presidential contest in this State will, undoubtedly, be a straight-out quadrangular one. No junctions, fusion or alliances between any two of the four parties are possible in the coming struggle. We do not imagine that projects of that character are meditated in any quarter—certainly not on our side. Under these unprecedented circumstances, the Republicans will join in the race with a fair chance of being first at the winning post—a chance which every hour may be made to improve.

This is the right spirit; and when once thoroughly aroused, the day when Missouri will be ranked among the free States is not far distant.

THE Pittsburgh Post is one of those newspapers that enjoy the rare felicity of pretending to sustain a principle while resorting to every means to destroy it. The Post is a curiosity in its way, having evidently no mind of its own, and no convictions of duty or of doctrine. It invented the plan of settling the difficulties in the Democratic party a year ago by offering Mr. Buchanan as the olive branch, and when laughed down for its folly, tried to escape under the pies that its recommendation was merely a joke. The Post has joked again. It now supports the fusion electoral ticket, and abuses the Press because the latter refuses to do so. The Post tells its readers that the Press is almost the only Democratic newspaper in the State that resists the miserable fizzle of the sleight-of-hand politicians at Cresson. Even if this were true, (as it is not true) it would only prove the utter debasement of every paper that sustains that juggle. Happily for the cause of truth, in these days no public journal is powerful that does not stand upon its conscientious convictions, and prove its sincerity by its acts. The moment a public print becomes the slave of power, and she echo of corrupt sophrants, it might as readily be circulated, and with as much effect upon popular opinion, as it came in white sheets from the paper mill. The Pittsburgh Post pretends to be for Douglas, and asks its readers to vote for Breckinridge Disunionists upon the electoral ticket. It pretends to be for Douglas, and advocates a scheme denounced in terms of bitter indignation by Douglas himself. Thus it joins in the hallos for fusion with those who swear they will never vote for Douglas at all, and assists in the chorus of the Fire-eaters, who denounce him as more objectionable than the extremest Republican. If the Democrats of Western Pennsylvania had not good sense they would be misled by such newspapers as the Post. Let them keep their eyes on this false guide, or they will find themselves fearfully cheated.—Phil. Press.

Outbreak at Constantinople.

The animosity which incited the recent horrible massacres of Christians in Syria has also been exhibited in Constantinople. A great disturbance took place on July 12 between the Moslem and Christian Armenians, which exhibited the temper of the Mahommedan population, and at the same time showed the insolibility and the inefficiency of the government. A Christian Armenian having died, his friends attempted to bury him in the burying ground where they had a legalized right, but were prevented by a mob of Mohammedan Armenians. The Christians appealed to the Armenian Patriarch, who sent an order with a police force to permit the burial, but the mob still refused. Night came on and interrupted the proceedings. On Sunday and Monday the Sultan was appealed to, and finally decided in favor of the Christians and dispatched a military force to protect them in the burial. On Tuesday the Patriarch went over to the side of the mob, and the Sultan, becoming frightened, revoked his order. The English and American Ministers then had an interview with the Sultan, and constrained him to do justice to the Christians. So on Tuesday the military were sent and cleared the ground. On Wednesday the burial was to take place, and several thousand troops were present, and after a conflict with the mob, the grave was dug and the body ordered to be put in.

The mob now became furious, and endeavored to press forward to the spot. At this juncture the commander's courage seemed to fail him, and he ordered the grave filled up and another one dug in the middle of a neighboring carriage road. In this most dishonorable place the Protestants, as previously advised by the consuls, were also refused to bury the dead. The commander would not yield, and the Protestants retired, leaving the body in the hands of the Turks. By this time it was buried in the street, after which the immense mob was allowed to rush over the grave, each one trampling and spitting upon it.

The correspondent of the N. Y. World, who furnishes these particulars, says:

The excuse which the government offer for this conduct is that this mob really had nothing to do with Protestantism, but was got up under Russian influences, for the purpose of bringing about a collision between the Turkish soldiers and the Christian population of the city. They say we know that 17 the soldiers had been allowed to gre on this mob, an immediate insurrection would have broken out all over the city.

There is undoubtedly some truth in this statement, but no more unfortunate policy could have been devised, under the present circumstances, than to call out a large military force, and then allow it to be overcome by the mob.

The result might easily have been foretold.—The experience of a single week has proved it it experimentally. A mob has driven the Protestants—since the trial last Wednesday—from their homes, not only in Ballat, but also from Samatin and Hasskney, two other quarters of Constantinople. In each instance they pretended to believe that there was a dead Protestant concealed in a certain house. In both Ballat and Samatin Protestant worship has been suspended by the Zabrah Pasha, to prevent outbreaks.

In view of this state of things, a meeting was held at the Eng.ish palace of all the Protestant ambassadors. They sent a most earnest and decisive protest to the Porte, and made important demands, which I am not at liberty to repeat.

On Saturday the American residents here received formal notice from their minister that the greatest caution was necessary to be observed, as affairs here were in a very troubled state, and an outbreak might occur at any time.

CARL SCHURZ ON THE BELL PLATFORM.—The following is an extract from a speech which was delivered at St. Louis:—

"Let us pass in review our political parties, and the remedies they propose.

"Here we encounter the Union party, with Bell and Everett, who tell us the best way to settle the conflict, is to ignore it.

"Ignore it! Ignore it, when attempts are made to plunge the country into war and disgrace, for the purpose of slavery extension. Ignore it, when slavery and free labor wage their fierce war about the possession of the national domain! Ignore it, when the liberties of speech and press are attacked? Ignore it, when the social settler claims the virgin soil, and the slaveholding capitalists claim it also! Ignore it, when the planting interest seeks to establish and maintain its exclusive supremacy in our economical policy! Ignore it, indeed! Ignore the fire that consumes the corner posts of the house! Ignore the storm that breaks the rudder and tears to tatters the sails of your ship! Conjure the revolted elements with a mask Mount Vernon lecture! Pour upon the furious waves the placid oil of a quotation from Washington's Farewell address.

"It is true, they tell us, they will enforce the laws and the Constitution. Well enough! But what laws? Those that free labor demand, or those that slavery gives us? What Constitution? That of Washington or Madison, or that of Sbidell, Douglas and Taney! (Loud and long continued cheering.)

"The conflict stands there with the stubborn, brutal force of reality. However severely it disturb the nerves of timid gentlemen, there it stands and speaks the hard, stern language of fact. I understand well that great problems and responsibilities should be approached with care and caution. But times like these demand the firm action of men who know what they will, and will it, not that eunuch policy, which, conscious of its own unproductiveness, invites us blandly to settle down into the imbecile contentment of general impotency. They cannot ignore the conflict if they would, but have not nerve enough to decide it if they could."

THE LAST DEMOCRAT is not only born, as Mr. Seward says, but has disappeared, if we may take Democratic authority, what there is left of it, for the definition of Democrat. What man is there of all the late Democratic party who, by the general assent of the survivors of that organization, has a full claim to the name of Democrat? Is it Breckinridge? Let the Douglas papers answer. Is it Douglas? The Breckinridge men say that he is worse than Lincoln. Where, then, is he to be found? Where is the living man that, by the general assent of those who belonged to the Democratic party before it was broken up, is a Democrat?—Providence Jour.

ANDREW MADCAP.—W. W. Boyce, late Democratic member of Congress from South Carolina, has just written a letter in which he says:

"If Lincoln be elected, I think the Southern States should withdraw from the Union; all, if not all, than as many as will; and if no other, South Carolina alone, in the prompt'st manner, and by the most direct means."

Gov. Wise has written a letter to a Democratic club in Boston. It must be the briefest letter he ever wrote. Our readers will hardly credit us when we say that it was less than half a column in length. He says:

"I shall give to the Breckinridge and Lane ticket all my support; I do not agree with those nominees in some essential particulars, and certainly do not subscribe the platform in two respects on which they are placed by their nomination; but their triumph will be the triumph of the vital doctrine of Protection to persons and property in the common territories of the United States. That is the issue of this contest—whether protection everywhere to all and all alike, shall prevail against this emasculating theory of non-intervention."

Having stated his reasons for this position with his usual vigor and with unusual brevity, he adds, in closing:

"God grant that our efforts be not in vain. I fear they will be—that Black Republicanism is to triumph in the coming election. If so, I mean, for one, to abide by and in the Union; to fight in it, not out of it—and in saving the country and its constitution; but not to submit one moment, or to concede one single item to a triumph which will degrade me and mine in this confederacy of free and equal States."

It cannot be too often repeated that by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise Slavery was admitted into Territory solemnly consecrated to Freedom. Douglas was the leading instrument by which this repeal was effected. Because of that repeal, the enemies of Slavery are obliged to fight to get back what was once "forever" guaranteed to them

It is denied that Kenneth Rayner (whom we have heretofore regarded as one of the truest Anti-Sectional, Opposition men of the South,) has gone over to the Breckinridge side, as has been reported. The New York Express is the only authority we have seen for the denial, but we hope it is well founded.

Piles! Piles! Piles! Piles!

What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of persons have Piles—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleedings, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal vessels or circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hæmorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are so ineffectual.

DR. HUMPHREYS' HOMŒOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, takes two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefited by it Price, 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS with Book of Directions, and twenty different Remedies, in large vials, morocco case, $5; ditto, in plain case, $4; case of fifteen boxes, and Book, $3. Single boxes, 25 cents and 50 cents.
