Now, Republicans!

The subjoined article, from the N. Y. Tribune, is so well adapted to this locality, that we cannot do better than give it with an alteration or two to suit our State:

"Half the interval between the Chicago Convention and the Presidential Election has passed, yet we have not, to this hour, been impelled to stimulate or exhort to general organization on the part of the supporters of Lincoln and Hamlin. We have preferred that the canvass should be a quiet one, so that, in the general decay and disruption of old parties, the largest possible number of minds should be open to the reception of new truths. Even in the past three months the busiest season of the year for our farmers and we have wished that devotion to politics should not interfere essentially with their Summer labors and the securing of the magnificent Harvest wherewith a bounteous Providence has blessed their exertions. In every point of view, it seemed advisable that the earlier half of the canvass of 1860 should be signalized, on the part of the Republicans, by the quiet that springs from conscious strength rather than the frantic energy which betrays doubt if not desperation. But now the Summer harvest is substantially ended, and there is a less urgent call upon the Farmers for incessant, absorbing labor. The long, hot days are passing away; the cool, bright evenings are coming on. Those who cannot give days to the canvass can at least give evenings, and these will suffice. It would have no man neglect his proper business, nor even to pollute the hours and efforts required to do justice to his creditors and earn the subsistance of his family. There is no such conflict between public and private duties as such infidelity to the latter would imply; and he who deserts his self and his home to go shouting and singing at mass meetings, in the blind hope that an office, or some lucky accident, will make all right, will very certainly be disappointed. The best patriot is he who knows how to be useful to his country without being unjust to his wife and children.

"There are those who, giving a superficial glance at the general aspects of the canvass, say—'The Republican enthusiasm is dying out; the party evinces far less energy in '60 than it did in '56.' It is certainly true that, where everything seemed moving quietly on to certain triumph, our friends have put forth less strenuous, less vehement efforts this season than they did four years ago. But, on the other hand, never was our full strength better polled out than in Connecticut last April; never did any party exhibit a grander array of intellectual and numerical strength than was displayed at the Chicago Convention; never was there a more magnificent assemblage of the masses than that which enveloped Springfield, Ill., last week; never did Republicanism win by determined energy a nobler triumph than in the recent election of Speak Blair. Twelve thousand votes polled in the chief city of the Slave States for a prominent and uncompromising Emancipationist, and the election of every man on its Legislative ticket, form a triumph more brilliant and suspicious than any single achievement of 1856. We feel confident that Lincoln and Hamlin will receive not one less than Thirty Thousand Votes next November in Missouri, where hardly one was cast for Fremont and Dayton, while Ten Thousand more would be added if those who want to vote for them in the Pro-Slavery strongholds could do so with entire immunity from personal harm. As it is, few Republicans save those living in cities and large villages will venture to vote as they would. But the flag is planted, and will stand; we shall carry Missouri in 1864; while Maryland, if her Republicans vote their own ticket instead of lending their suffrages to those who will never thank them therefor, will give at least Ten Thousand votes this Fall for Lincoln and Hamlin. How German-born citizens alone are good for half the number.

"Thus we pass the dead-point in 1860, and can no more be reproached, with even plausibility, as a 'geographical' or 'sectional' party.

"Brother Republicans in every election district township, we implore you, if not already fully organized and at work, to lose not another moment! Do not say, 'Our county is safe enough,' or 'cannot be carried'—for we need every member of Congress or the Legislature that can possibly be chosen—we need to be strengthened in the Popular Vote. We need to show that our victory is no accident—no result of adverse distractions—but the deliberate verdict of the American People. To this end, Westmoreland, Fayette, Cambria and Greene, can contribute as really as Allegheny or Erie—Westmoreland has a Republican vote which is rarely put in full; so have Fayette and Greene; so have Clarion and Cambria. Why should they be content with anything less than their full vote? One vote lost in either not only counts against us, but may endanger the success of our candidates for Congress, the State Senate, and the Assembly.

"Republican reader! ask yourself forthwith—Is there a Republican club or other working organization in my township, ward, village, or precinct; if there be, and you have not already joined it, do so at once; if it be asleep, try to wake it; if it be hopelessly dead, crawl out of the stifling carcass and organize a live one immediately. Half a dozen live clubs in the same township are better than a single dead one; though, of course, a single live one is better still. But one in each election district is not too many, so that its primary purpose be not the exaltation of A. or B., but the promotion of the Republican cause. If at work, there can hardly be too many. If dead, they can do little more unless permitted to block the way. And if there be no working Republican organization in your locality, we implore you not to let this deficiency continue another week. See half a dozen Republican neighbors, agree with them to meet forthwith at the house of one of your number; organize your Club and go to work, leaving others free to join you or organize another Club as to them shall seem best. This done, send one of your number into the next district (or township not already organized to start there a similar organization; and so pass on the word to the next, and the next. There is now no time to be lost.

"We believe there is hardly a township in this or any other Free State wherein a free circulation of the best documents, including the Life of Lincoln, would not give him at least ten additional votes next November. And these ten votes may make the difference between success and failure in the contest—or, if not in the choice of President, then in the complexion of the House.

"Men and brethren! we shall win this battle, because we shall deserve to win it! Mere boasting will not win it. Blind confidence will not win it. Relying on the divisions of our opponents—which may be healed at any moment—will not win it. We shall win it by hearty, well-directed WORK, and of that work a share justly devolves on you. We adjure you not to shrink from your duty!

"The great battle of November is to be settled in Pennsylvania by the preliminary fight in October. If we elect CURTIN, as we can do if we will, the election of LINCOLN will be settled; if we lose CURTIN, as we may by apathy and neglect, the fight in November will be close and doubtful. All that is needed to ensure CURTIN's success is ORGANIZATION and WORK. We have the votes to do it, if they are only got out. We appeal, therefore, to every Republican, whose eye may chance to see this article, to lose no time in seeing that his election district is thoroughly organized, and everything in preparation for the great fight. Victory is certain, if we but prove ourselves worthy of it by working for it."

POLITICAL ITEMS.

THE LAST DODGE.—The secret cause of the loud vaunts of the Western Douglasites that their candidate would carry New York, has come to light at last. The Douglas Rump of the bogus Democracy, and the Booby Brooks Rump of exploded Know Nothingism have wedded. The billing and cooing, the loving looks and tender dalliance, kept up by their respective leaders and journals for the past sixty days, have resulted as every body expected. The twain have covered themselves with one blanket.

John Hughes, the American Primate, in full canonicals, and Brooks, the American Booby, in full blossom, have laid down together.

Our friends in the West need not fear the result of the disgraceful union. It can have but one issue—the utter demoralization, if they have any morals left, of both parties to the contract. Americans of sense and understanding who have been such out of fear of the improper influence of the foreign Catholic element in our national politics, will not, upon the call of their self-constituted leaders and fuglemen, surrender their organization into the hands of the foe against which they have been contending for years. And Democrats whose shibboleth since 1853 has been "Death to Know Nothingism!" will not now be inclined to enter the dark-lantern lodge rooms of a defunct organization and take up the mummeries and become parties to the narrow intolerance that have always been their special scorn. It is easy for gambling politicians to trade their partizans off; but it is hard to deliver; and if the plotters at Syracuse do not realize the truth of the assertion, men in the East are not made of the same clay that is used in the West. —Chicago Press.

Beauties of Douglasism.—A well known speech of Douglas contains this passage:

"No man can vindicate the character, the motives, and the conduct of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, except upon the hypothesis that they referred to the white race alone and not to the African, when they declared all men to have been created free and equal."

The most ultra fire-eater among the slavery extensionists could hardly do more than denounce the "motives and conduct" of those men of '76 who believed that "all men" meant everybody. That's Douglas' position. Now hear Senator Green of Missouri on the Little Giant's associate:

"Who is upon the ticket with Douglas? Herschel V. Johnson, who a few years since, ran for Governor on the secession ticket, and my friend Howell Cobb had to go down to Georgia and, by running on the Union ticket, whip Johnson the disunionist, from the course. And yet, those who pretend to object to Breckinridge because he contains proclivities, place the acknowledged and rabid disunionists, Herschel V. Johnson, in the second post of honor in their national affections!"

Perhaps those who really believe that a vote for Douglas is a vote against the disunionists and slavery-extensionists of the South, can find in these facts some for useful reflection.

Douglas vs. Douglas and the Missouri Compromise.—The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of the patriotic men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious Union—an origin akin to that of the Constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only danger which threatens at some distant day to sever the social bond of Union. All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this Compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sacred thing, which no ruthless hand would be reckless enough to disturb.—Douglas' Speech in Springfield, Ill., 1850.

My friend over there—friend or enemy, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. (Cheers.) I have not the slightest objection to telling him all he desires to know upon that question. I brought in the bill to repeal the Missouri Compromise.—Douglas' Speech at Providence, August 3, 1860.

THE Philadelphia Pennsylvanian explodes the story reported by the telegraph, alleging the entry of Breckinridge men into the office of the Democrat at Fulton, (Pa.) the installation of the form, and issuing of a paper with Breckinridge and Lane at the head as candidates, in place of Douglas and Johnson, who had been supported by the editor. The junior editor did it, it seems in the absence of the senior, and he tells the story as follows:

"We, the junior editor of this paper, being strongly in favor of Breckinridge and Lane, believing them to be the true representatives of Democratic principles and the regularly nominated candidates of the party, take this opportunity, while the senior editor is absent at Orrstown, attending the meeting of the State central committee, on our own responsibility, to hoist the names of our favorite candidates, to express our individual opinion, what we know to be the almost unanimous feeling of the voters of this county."

JUDGE COLLAMER ON BELL.—In a recent political speech, Senator Collamer, of Vt., thus referred to the Constitutional Union candidate for the Presidency:

Mr. Bell, of the slave candidate represents nothing in particular, but anything and everything in general. He is like the lawyer who was desirous of pleading neither "guilty" nor "not guilty," but wished to let the whole matter rest dead. Like the clerk who refused to work because his oath required him only to support the Constitution. Mr. Bell was going to do nothing but support the Constitution. He is offered as the representative of "compromise" which is against the spirit of the times and the emergency of the case. He is the representative of "masterly inactivity," when our position, domestic and foreign, requires us to be up and doing.

BRECKINRIDGE AND LANE IN IOWA.—The Breckinridge and Lane party of Iowa met in State Convention at Davenport yesterday. The following electoral ticket was nominated:

Electors at Large.—C. R. Mitchell of Davenport, and Gen. Espey, of Lee Co.

District Electors—J. D Test, of Council Bluffs, and Hon. J. F. Duncombe, of Fort Dodge.

Resolutions were adopted addressing Breckinridge and Lane, denouncing Republicanism and Popular Sovereignty, and avowing the doctrine that the Supreme Court is the only tribunal recognized by the Constitution as the final arbiter and exponent of that instrument.

There was a good attendance, and harmony prevailed.

WON'T STAND THE SELL.—The rank and file of the Bell and Everett party in New Jersey are indignant at the conduct of their leaders in transferring them to the supporters of Breckinridge in that State. The Monmouth Herald says: "The Bell men declare openly that their votes and principles are not to be sold or traded off to'as corrupt an administration as the present one in power, and that they will now give their votes and interest to the Republican cause."

CHARACTERISTIC SENTIMENTS OF DIFFERENT MEN.—Give me Liberty or give me Death.—Patrick Henry.

Slavery is the sum of all villainies.—John Wesley.

I DO NOT CARE whether Slavery is voted up or down.—S. A. Douglas.

THE Hon. John Hutchins, of the Ashtabula Congressional District, was nominated on Thursday for re-election. The nomination was by acclamation, Mr. Giddings having written a letter stating he was not a candidate. He had allowed his friends to use his name, but withdrew it.

SERIOUS WARTS.—Mr. Lunt is reported as saying at a Bell meeting in Boston, that "the two great impediments in the way of the Bell party were want of knowledge and want of faith." Those are pretty serious obstacles. Their want of faith seems to us the less surprising of the two impediments.—Prov. Jour.

THE vote at the late election in Kentucky was about 40,000 less than a full vote. Peters, the Breckinridge candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Louisville District, is elected, contrary to first reports, by more than 1,000 majority. The plurality for Combs is from 20,000 to 25,000 in the whole State.

DELAWARE.—George P. Fisher is supported for Congressman by both the Republicans and the Union parties of Delaware. He has a good prospect and Mr. Whiting, the present Democratic member, declined to be a candidate against him. Delaware will soon be a reliable Republican State.

CALIFORNIA.—The San Francisco Times predicts that Douglas will not get as many votes in California as Breckinridge by five thousand, and will be behind both him and Lincoln, the latter of whom will carry the State, unless all the signs fail.

THE Troy Times avers that during Mr. Douglas' sojourn in that city, "a consultation was held between him and several others, in which it was determined that the best way to help him was to organize Bell-Everett clubs."

SINCE the State election in Missouri the fight between the Breckinridge and Douglas factions of the Democracy is being carried on with intense bitterness.

JUDGE MILTON T. PETERS, of Bureau Co., has written a letter avowing his intention to support Lincoln and Hamlin, and is announced to speak at Hennipin next Saturday.—Chic. Tribune.

ALBERT S. WHITE has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the 5th (Lafayette) District of Indiana, in place of Mr. Rice deceased.

NO SUCH LUCK.—We read in the papers the arrest of James Buchanan Crone, the notorious forger, and sigh when we think that cross James Buchanan, the notorious scamp, cannot possibly be arrested for some sort of rascality to come.

JAMES WAGGONER PROVED FREE.—Readers will recollect the brutal kidnapping of James Waggoner from Ohio some months ago, the running of him by his captors to Kentucky, his incarceration in a jail of that State, and his subsequent sale into slavery by the sheriff of Newport on the 6th of June last for the cost of his keeping in prison. The case was one forcibly illustrating the barbarism of slavery, and its demoralizing influences on beings bearing the form and color of white men.

His suit for freedom came up before the Circuit Court in Newport on the 15th, and it was clearly established that the alleged fugitive was born in 1840, in Brown county, Ohio, of free parents. The Court took time to consider its decision whether the free citizen of this State shall be again permitted to enjoy the liberty slavery has for nearly a year defrauded him of.

LATER.—The Kentucky Court declared Charles Waggoner a free man—free to go where he pleased. Yet only two months since he was sold in Kentucky on the auction block as a slave! How is he to obtain justice for the wrongs done to him by the accursed institution of human slavery.—Cleveland Leader.

IN Massachusetts, in Webster County, they have a lake which is unrivaled for scenery and chowder. The only difficulty is, how to get there—not that the way is not plain enough to horses and oxen, but to men it is difficult—the reason being that they cannot pronounce its name. A great many people have nearly accomplished the lookjaw in the experiment. It is called Dake Chaubunagungamaug.

KILLED WHILE IN PRAYER.—A Mrs. John Brown, says the Portsmouth (N. H.) Chronicle, during a thunderstorm was killed by lightning, while on her knees at prayer. She had just made the remark that if the Lord wished to take them, she knew of nothing better to be doing than to be at prayer.

MRS. BURDELL CUNNINGHAM was married in San Francisco on the 16th of June last.—Exchange.

The bridegroom must no doubt be very happy —too happy probably to live long.—Louisville Journal.

WHEN this Union can only be maintained by frightening the people of the North or of the South into the belief that the election of this or that man to the Presidency will be the cause of its dissolution, it will be too far gone to be worth preserving.

Piles! Piles! Piles! Piles!

What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of persons have Piles—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleedings, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces enlargement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are so ineffectual.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC FILE SPECIFIC a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefited by it Price, 50 cents a box.
