THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 6.

A Dog Extract.—Daniel Hembaw, Esq., read a very interesting paper on Curiosities and Anecdotes of Travels before the New England Historical and Genealogical Society, which has since been printed in the Boston Gazette. He states that before the establishment of stage lines, people were some times greatly perplexed for means of transmitting messages and letters of importance. On one such occasion, the following very ingenious and extraordinary mode was adopted with entire success—

"A family living over fifty miles from Boston, who had removed from there a few years before, taking with them their favorite dog Rover, had several times made their annual visit there, always accompanied by the same faithful animal. The necessity of sending a letter to Boston had now become urgent in the extreme, and indispensably necessary, yet there seemed no possible way of transmitting it but by procuring some one to go on express, which at that time was next to impossible. While they were deeply perplexed in contriving ways and means, some one said, perhaps more in jest than in earnest, 'send Rover.' Now Rover had proved himself on many occasions intelligent and faithful beyond others of his race, and the idea took at once. It was decided at any rate to try the experiment of sending Rover in search of despatches, provided he could be induced to undertake so arduous and hazardous a mission.

"The letter was accordingly prepared, and while they were fastening it around his neck, the old dog would roll up his eyes in deep thought, as if pondering on the magnitude and the responsibility of his charge, while he seemed to say, 'I understand the business perfectly, but dislike the undertaking, and must beg to be excused.' And, when the crisis came, he did beg and plead most piteously. But, after pointing to the east, the command was preemptory—Go—and away he went in good earnest, not on the old, circuitous travelled road, but on a bee-line across lots, determined to make short work of it, and probably not stopping for refreshment till he had reached his place of destination, which was a little before daylight the next morning. There were two houses in Boston, not far apart, where the old dog felt equally at home. "He gave notice at first by howling and scratching at the door; but the family, not understanding the purport of so unseasonable a call, refused to respond, and he soon repaired to the other, where the surprise and astonishment at seeing the old dog with his message were indescribable. He was welcomed and greeted with an extra joy and gladness as if he had been an old intimate friend, just returned from a long and dangerous sea voyage.

He was, indeed, an old friend, the representative of long absent friends at a distance, and bringing glad tidings from afar. The fame of this achievement soon spread among the friends and through the neighborhood, and Rover became the lion of the day."

This is believed to be the only instance where a quadruped has ever acted as bearer of despatches or post, for carrying letters alone and so great a distance.

Remarkable Success of Women Novelists.—Within the last twelvemonth Derby & Jackson, the publishers, have issued no less than four novels by four different authors, that are, beyond question, the greatest successes of the season. We refer to Mrs. Stowe's "Minister's Wooing," which has reached thirty editions; Miss Evans's "Benlah," twenty-four editions; The press, has gone up to twelve editions; and Marion Harland's "Nemesis," the first edition, ten thousand copies being required to fill advance orders.—N. Y. Post.

DR MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and presented in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, deprivation of vital energy, pain and otherwise sickly conditions of the system indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Incases in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Episcleisa, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Pain in the Stomach, Intermittents, Whites, Chlorosis, Irregularities, Chronic Diseases, Liver Complaints, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued climatic action of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this invaluable tonic will be found successful, all to an extent which no description can write, and the cessation would render impossible—invalids so long bedridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhood, have already re-appeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. In one very signal instances of this kind are attested of four gentlemen, emaciated victims of aggravated nervous exhaustion, critical changes, and that rude expression of nervous and dyspeptic anguish to air and exercise, for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron is most commonly beneficial, for, while the old iron tonics irritate rigorously rouse, without leaving exciting and overstimulating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often suffered for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough and restless heats, which generally denote Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the sores cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

Heads of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must occasionally be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and "in progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

So remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully remedial effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

No. 12.—For Leucorrhea, Profuse Menses, and Bearing Down of Females.
No. 13.—For Croup, Hoarse Cough, Bad Breathing.
No. 14.—SALT RHEUM PILLS—For Erysipelas, Eruptions, Pimples on the Face.
No. 15.—RHEUMATIC PILLS.—For Pain, Lameness, or Soreness in the Chest, Back, Loins, or Limbs.

A.—For Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Old Misunderstood Agues.

B.—For Piles, Blind or Bleeding, Internal or External.

C.—For Sore, Weak, or Inflamed Eyes and Eyelids; Failing, Weak, or Blurred Sight.

D.—For Catarrh, of long standing or recent, either with obstruction or profuse discharge.

E.—For Whooping Cough, abating its violence and shortening its course.

In all acute diseases, such as Fevers, Inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Croup, Rheumatism, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, bronchitis and consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Weak Stomach, Constipation, Liver Complaints, Piles, Female Debility, and Irregularities, Old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, is more than paid for the case ten times over.
