OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

Executed at THIS OFFICE, on the most favorable terms and at the shortest notice.

MEETING OF THE ROLLING MILL MEN.—The Rolling Mill men met at Lafayette Hall, last night, to make arrangements for attending the Republican Mass Convention of the 27th, in a body. MATTHEWS, Secretary.

On motion of Geo. W. Scott, of Shoenberger's mill, the chair was authorized to appoint a committee of arrangements, consisting of two from each mill, and report to an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday night next.

The following persons were present from the various mills:

Shoenberger—Gen. W. Scott, Albert Crawford, Robt. McGowan.

Hussey, Wells & Co.—Richard Thompson.

Hailman, Rahm & Co.—W. Mathews.

Lyon, Shorb & Co.—Wm. Young, W. H. Watt.

Graff, Bennett & Co.—Daniel Brosey, H. T. O'Kane, James Riley, Thos. Geoghehan.

Singer, Nimick & Co.—George L. Dryden, Edw. Bigham.

Coy & Painter—Henry Whipple, W. W. Gordon.

Jamie Wood & Co.—James Russell, Swaris Rolling, John Davis, Jonathan Morgan.

Knapp, Wood & Co.—James Hudson, Wm. Ferguson.

McKnight & Bro.—Wm. Brown, Stephen Jones.

Chess, Wilson & Co.—Sam'l Dearall, David Morgan.

Jones, Lamb & Co.—Miss Humphries, David Berran.

Pearson, Preston & Co.—Joseph Caskey, David Evans.

Kensington Iron Works.—Samuel Allison, Jos. Nixon.

A. G. Hussey & Co., Copper Works.—John Gray, Henry Johns.

Moorhead & Co.—Mr. M'Lain, M. K. Moorhead.

Jones, Boyd & Co.—Hezekiah Retan, Wm. Woods and Jacob Kalar.

Logan Boland & Co., Sharpsburg.—John Hanna, Samual P. Taylor and Elijah Reston.

Spang, Chalfant & Co's mill was not represented, but it was announced that the men in that mill had arranged to take part in the procession.

THE BEAVER MASS MEETING.—The Republicans of Beaver County met in mass meeting, on Tuesday evening, in Beaver, and were addressed by Col. A. G. Curtin, candidate for Governor, John H. Hampton, Esq., of this city, and Dr. Wallace, candidate for Congress in the Beaver-Lawrence District. The meeting was a very large and spirited one—not less than 4,000 people present.

The Allegheny Central Wide Awake Club, and the Lincoln Minute Men, of Allegheny, notwithstanding the unpropitious state of the weather, turned out about 180 torches, and at 7,15 P. M., under the safe conduct of Mr. Bradley, (who had pleased a special train at their disposal,) left on a visit to their Republican friends of Beaver. Owing to detentions, arising from meeting the regular trains, the excursion did not reach Beaver Bridge until near 10 o'clock. The Wide Awakes were out in strong force; they received their guests, and conducted them up the hill, and through the principal streets. Arriving at the stand, Col. Curtin was called upon, and made a short but stirring speech to the Wide Awakes, after which the procession marched down to Rochester, and embarked on their train, arriving home at about 2 o'clock, A. M., highly gratified with the evening's excursion.

Beaver County is fully aroused, and will give "Abe and Andy" at least 1,200 majority.

THE WEATHER.—A considerable change has occurred in the weather, within a week past. Several heavy showers have fallen and the cold frosty mornings of Autumn have set in, rendering fires quite cosy and comfortable. There was a heavy white frost on one or two mornings of this week. As the corn has generally done earing, we presume no mischief will result to the crop. Our friends farther North are, however, not so safe, if frosty weather has begun as early there. Their seasons being shorter and their ripening later, the grain has a shorter season in which to mature and early frosts are its chief enemy. Their corn crop, if a good one, is very profitable, especially in New England, where the grain almost invariably commands a dollar per bushel—a very different thing from the prices in the West at present, where we understand corn will be delivered at railway stations for 10 cents a bushel. This is said to be the case in parts of Illinois. It would require a pretty large yield to pay the farmer at that figure—more, we think, than the black loams of the prairie would produce, in the most favorable season. This price we regard as almost fabulous and apprehend there may be some inaccuracy in our informant's statement.

THE Central Board of Education met Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th.

Present—Messrs. Duncan, Hunter, Marshall, Sergeant and Varnum—Mr. Varnum in the chair.

The report of the principal of the High School was received and filed.

Warrants were authorized in payment of the following bills, viz:

Daily Gazette, advertising Auditor's Report, &c			$16 25
" Dispatch,	do	do	12 75
" Post,	do	do	12
" Journal,	do	do	2 06
James Dubois, carpenter work, High School,			4 50
Sarah Elsbury, scrubbing Colored	do		5 00

On motion of Mr. Hunter, the Faculty were authorized to introduce the study of Greek in the High School, provided it does not interfere with the other studies now pursued.

The monthly report of the Secretary was read and ordered to be filed.

On motion, adjourned.

NEW DAILY LINE OF U. S. MAIL HACKS.—We take pleasure in being able to inform the traveling public that a daily line of excellent Concord built coaches, good horses and careful and attentive drivers, is now running upon the turnpike road between Johnstown and Somerset. This line will connect at the former place with trains on the Penn'a Central R. R., for this city, and other points East and West. Mr. E. Kiernan, the extensible proprietor of this line of fine coaches, deserves a hearty commendation of the traveling public for the excellent arrangements which he has just consummated. We are personally acquainted with Mr. K., and know, that wherever he undertakes will be carried out to the satisfaction of all parties interested, as he is a thorough business man, and will leave nothing undone to please those patronizing the new line of coaches.

We call attention this morning to the advertisement of Mr. H. Hall, who is to be found at the Scott House. He exhibited to us a patent shoe, which, if the expectations of the patentee are realized, will produce a marvellous revolution in the shoe-making business. The sole is of two pieces of wood, between which the uppers are fastened by means of a few screws. The patent shoe is lighter, more durable and, above all, less expensive than those now worn. The latter particular is the most important, as it is alleged the sum of $3 will be saved on each pair of fine boots. The patentee says:

When leather boots are heeled, they are begun:
When those boots are lasted, they are done.

SENT TO THE REFUGE.—A lad named William Haybriar was committed to the House of Refuge yesterday by Mayor Morrison, at the instance of his father. The boy, although but 12 years of age, has of late been a source of much trouble to his parents. They have had him in the Alleghany lock-up on several occasions, thinking it might probably have a good effect in frightening him from the errors of his way. But as soon as he regained his liberty he would leave home and would be away 10 or 15 days, thereby causing much uneasiness on the part of his family, who were entirely ignorant of his whereabouts.

A NUISANCE.—Five persons named Martin, Barbara, Martha Drawdy, Jane Nevin and Rose Ann Zimmerman, have been keeping up a most intolerable nuisance on Penn street, in the Fifth ward. Drunkenness, profanity, gambling and all the other vices common to disorderly houses have prevailed to a most pernicious extent, so that a neighbor named Thaddeus Lotz was compelled to lodge a complaint and have the foregoing parties arrested. They were held to bail for their appearance at Court, when it is hoped none will be found to suppress the house.

NEW COUNTERFEIT.—Messrs. Feld & Lare, of the National Bank Note Reporter, showed us yesterday a new and dangerous spurious two dollar bill on the Bank of Middlebury, Vermont. Vignette, two farmers loading and three farmers working in a wheat field; man plowing with two oxen on lower left corner, figure 2 on red die on each upper corner. The lettering is in red ink, and has a muddled appearance. The paper of the bill is new, and dated March 1st, 1860. On close examination the figure 58 can be seen beneath the figure 60, which are executed with a pen.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.—Augustus Barker was before Alderman Jones yesterday, on a charge of surety of the peace, preferred against him by Mrs. Ann Burns. It seems from the statement made by Mrs. B. that Barker, with whom she had some difficulty, threatened to burn her house, smash the windows, etc., and that she was afraid he would do her some great injury in person or property. Augustus was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at Court. Both parties reside in the Fifth ward.

RETURNED.—The Washington Infantry returned this morning in the 10 o'clock Cleveland train. They appeared to be a little fatigued from traveling, though, perhaps a little dissatisfaction at their trip may have given their countenances a careless aspect. They marched from the Liberty street depot to their armory and dispersed.

TROUBLE AT THE ALLEGHENY POOR HOUSE.—For some days past a rumor has been prevalent that an insane pauper, Miss Mogee, confined at the Allegheny Poor House, had been badly treated, and coming to the ears of the Commissioners, they authorized their chief clerk, Mr. D. L. Smith, to investigate the matter. Yesterday evening the parties appeared at the office of Alderman Scott—Mr. Smith and several ladies on one side, and the Directors of the Poor, Messrs. Fleming, Ashworth and Davidson, on the other, when the following facts were elicited:

Mrs. Cameron, sworn—Knew Miss Mary Mogee; have known her for ten years; she has been generally hired out; and was always considered simple minded; she was sent to the Poor House by her sister, because she would not stay at her places; I saw her the day she left the Poor House; she had on a blue drilling dress, and it appeared to me that she had not much else on; her clothes were changed there before we took her away; she left the Poor House on Thursday morning, and I stripped and washed her the following Saturday; observed several marks upon her back; they were made by something, I cannot say what; she was at my house from the time she left the Poor House until she was sent to jail; when I was at the Poor House before, I noticed that the girl had a straight jacket on; the girl said she would go home with her aunt, (she called me aunt,) and Mr. Horst said if she tore her clothes he would whip her again. From what I seen before, I believed that she had not been well treated. I saw her with the straight jacket on, and I don't think that's good treatment.

Mr. Fleming—Why was the girl sent to jail?

Mrs. Cameron—I did not send her to jail—you must ask somebody else about that.

Mr. Gould—Did you not tell me when you took the girl away that you removed her in the belief that she would be better out of the Poor House, and not because she had been badly treated?

Mrs. Cameron—Yes, but I had not seen her body then.

Mr. Ashworth—Was she sent to jail because her friends could not control her?

Mrs. Cameron—I could manage her myself if I had nothing else to do.

Mrs. Cluey, sworn—I did not say in the Court House that the girl had been badly used at the Poor House; my impression was that she had either thrown herself about, or that they had whipped her; the general impression was that she had not been well treated; Mrs. Cameron told me that Sarah Culbertson had seen a colored girl from about the Poor House, and that they had whipped her (Miss Mogee) till her cries could be heard all over the place; I went to the Poor House that day, on foot; met Mr. Gould, who informed me that Nancy was quite insane; she was then standing on the ground, outside the building, with a straight jacket on, very tightly buckled; it was quite cool and she had nothing on but a bit of a blue dress; I did not think that she was at all comfortable; I unbuckled her jacket because she could not raise her hand to her head; Mr. Gould treated us well, and I think he is a perfect gentleman; I do not think that the German is a very feeling or a very suitable man to look over the house; the girl would run through the sun without a green leaf to cover her—without shoes or stockings—her hair cut off, and her eyes blistered with the sun; we took her away, because we thought she was badly treated.

Mr. Gould—Did you not notice trees about the house?

Mrs. Cluey—There might have been trees away off, but the girl had wit to go to them.

Mr. Ashworth—Was your first reason for supposing bad usage, because the girl had a jacket on?

Mrs. Cluey—No. It was because she had no shoes or stockings on, and was shivering outside of the house.

Mr. Gould—Did you know that Nancy's nerves would shake for a week at a time?

Mrs. Cluey—No. I never knew her to be in that condition. I have seen her at Mrs. Cameron's and at jail, and her nerves were always quiet.

John Horst, sworn—Never whipped Miss Mogee, or anybody else, in the Poor House; never turned anybody out in cold weather (This session here lost his temper, and told Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Cluey that the weather was quite warm when they were there—to use his own language, "Your so hot as an oven.")

Here the matter ended for the present. An effort will be made to have her sent to the Insane Hospital, at the expense of Allegheny Co.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

'Forty Years' Experience in Sunday Schools. By Stephen H. Tyng, D. D. New York: Sheldon & Co."

An excellent work by an excellent man. The experience of such a man as Dr. Tyng must be worth perusing, and all who take a practical interest in Sabbath Schools should get it and read it. The book is written in a plain, unpretending style, and breathes a lofty Christian spirit throughout.

"History of Scotland and its adjacent Islands. By Mrs. Thos. Gaskell. New York: Sheldon & Co."

A little book, with illustrations, but, though little, full of interest to both old and young. The authoress has gathered together in small compass the leading events in Scotch history, combining with them a full description of the principal places in that country.

"American History, vol. 2 Discovery of America. By John Abbott. New York: Sheldon & Co."

This is one of a series of volumes commenced by Abbott, in which he relates American History in his familiar and easily understood but chaste and attractive style. Children always read his books with avidity, because he relates events so as to interest them. The series, we have no doubt, will prove a popular one.

"A Treasury of Scripture Stories. Illustrated with colored plates. New York: Sheldon & Co."

The stories here narrated are those of Samson, Noah, Ruth, Samuel, David and Joseph, all of which have an intense attraction for children, and they are here presented, not only in an attractive garb of words, but with beautiful colored illustrations. It is a very handsome book for children.

All of the above for sale at Davis' Book Store, corner of Wood street and Diamond alley.

Chambers' Encyclopedia, Part 19, has been received and is for sale by Hunt & Miner; price 15 cents a part. Cheap but excellent.

CUTTING AFFRAY IN ALLEGHENY.—A colored man named Robert Suck came to the office of Alex. Ball, about noon yesterday, bleeding very profusely, and stated that he had been cut in two places, by John Jackson, also colored. The following are the circumstances, as stated by himself: He was passing down East Lane, between Liberty street and the Canal, Allegheny city, when he met John Jackson, also colored, and being intimately acquainted with him, and as he (Buck) says, a particular friend, saluted him with "how do you do?" Jackson, who was under the influence of liquor, commenced to curse him, and pulled a knife out and inflicted two cuts on his person—one on the left arm and the other in the breast. He also cut at him a third time, but a bystander interfered, threw Jackson to one side, and in all probability, thus saved Buck's life.

A search was issued for the arrest of Jackson, but up to last evening he had not been captured. He has in all probability left for parts unknown.

Buck's wounds, although very painful, are not, we believe, considered dangerous. Both parties reside in the Third Ward, Allegheny, and are river men by occupation.

DROWNED.—A German named Henry Myers, employed as firemen on the steamer Marmora, was drowned off the bar during her recent trip from this city to St. Louis. It appears he had been awakened about 12 o'clock at night, for the purpose of going on watch, while the boat was between Cairo and St. Louis, and was not missed for sometime afterwards. Search was made, but he could not be found, and it is supposed that he must have fallen overboard a short time after he got up. He resided on Chestnut street, in Allegheny, where he leaves a wife and four children to mourn his untimely end.

THE PRINCE OF WALES COMING.—By a dispatch from the Associated Press to the New York papers, dated Toronto, Sept. 10, we learn that, on that day, the deputation from this city had an interview with the Prince to ask him to pass through that city on his way to Washington, and by a private dispatch to this city we learn that an authorized agent will be in this city on Friday next to make arrangements for the Prince of Wales, who will positively visit Pittsburgh, en route for Washington.

FARM AT PUBLIC SALE.—It rarely occurs that so fine an opportunity is offered of obtaining a good farm at a moderate price, on easy terms, and so convenient to the city, as that advertised in another column, under the caption: "Baden Farm for Sale." The accommodation train leaves the Allegheny depot at 10 o'clock this morning, and persons attending the sale can get tickets at half the regular fare, from the complitex at the depot, shortly before starting.

THEATRE.—The Hero of Switzerland to-night. Sheridan Knowles' famous drama of William Tell will be brought out at the Pittsburgh Theatre. The performance is concluded with the "Flower of Erin," making an unusually attractive programme.

THE NEW YORK EVENING POST.—JOHN W. PITTOCK will deliver this popular journal, daily, at the residences of subscribers.

SHINGLES.—The shingle market is very dull just now, and prices have a declining tendency. This decline is attributed by a great many to the supply being more than equal to the demand, but the real cause may be found in the fact that the demand is not so great as in former years, shingle roofs not being thought of when "Gregson's celebrated Asphalt Roofing Felt" can be obtained. The agent for this excellent material can be found at his office, Loughlin's building, Canal bank, near the city Water Works.

MR. EDITOR: Amongst the names of the victims of late disaster on Lake Michigan, the telegraph seems to report one better known in some literary and political circles in parts of Old England, than to the public generally on either side of the Atlantic. If H. Mr. D. L. Smith, to investigate the matter. Yesterday evening the parties appeared at the office of Alderman Scott—Mr. Smith and several ladies on one side, and the Directors of the Poor, Messrs. THE LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

RECEIVED AT THE DAILY GAZETTE OFFICE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The coroners jury, yesterday, commenced an investigation of the wreck Lady Elgin. John Jervis, a Milwaukee passenger, testified: Just before the schooner struck, I was standing at the middle gangway, I saw the schooner about two minutes before the collision. She appeared to be coming towards us about an angle of 45 degrees. About half a minute before she struck, I left the gangway. Capt. Wilson was at the after gangway, and asked some one on the schooner if they would come on board; the reply was they did not think they were injured, and would stay where they were. The schooner was not dipping at; I saw a light on the schooner before the collision but none afterwards; I went down into the coal bunker and saw the water coming in very fast; I then went over to the break; the steward was then trying to stop the leak with mattrasses; the vessel had before been listed up; the captain stood at the edge of the scuttle, ordering the men to fire up as fast as possible; I then went aft; the captain went aft the same time, and gave orders that everything should be thrown overboard; the captain when I next saw him was coming from the bow; I then went below to see how long we could keep afloat; when I got to the engine room, the engines had just stopped; I went back to the cabin, the hold being then half full of water; the captain and myself then got from 20 to 25 ladies upon the hurricane deck; the boat went down two minutes afterwards. There were between 20 and 30 in the forward part of the hurricane roof; It was very dark and raining at the time; the ball commenced ringing almost at once after the collision, and the whistle commenced blowing at the same time.

Thos. Cummings, of the Lady Elgin, testified that the schooner did not strike the steamer quartering, but at right angles ran square into her. The steamer is moving turned the schooner round. I think we were about 10 miles from the shore; saw a vessel's light after we left the steamer; think we could have seen a light on a vessel three miles off; did not see the schooner after she got clear of us; saw that the steamer's head lights were up; the schooner was running about due east when it struck us. There is a rule that boats going to Milwaukee should pass vessels on the larboard side; think a vessel under that wind and headway could have avoided the steamer if within 20 rods of her, by great exertion; even if the vessel was but three times her length from the steamer, she could have avoided doing serious damage by pulling her helm hard up.—Had the schooner seen the steamer half a mile off, she could not have struck, except by great negligence. It seems to me that the helm of the vessel must have been put down instead of up, and that was the cause of the disaster. The schooner could not have lain to within a mile of us after the collision with perfect safety. It was not very dark, though raining heavily.

John Veone, the first mate, of Augusta, says that at the time of the collision he was the Captain's watch. The second mate was on deck when the squall came up, and called the Captain, who got on deck as the squall struck us. About one-third of the foresail and one-fourth of the mainsail were up when we struck the steamer. When I saw the steamer's lights, I heard the Captain sing out, "hard up." The steamer was then crossing our bow. The schooner showed a white light from 9 to 12. I don't know whether she did at the time of the collision or not. I heard the helmsman answer the order "hard up," but did not notice any change in the vessel's course. The Augusta steers well, that is, it will not answer the helm readily. It was not two minutes at the outside, after the order, that the vessel struck. I heard no noise whatever from the steamer after the collision.

George Budge, 2d mate, says it was the captain's watch. I was on deck. The vessel's course was S. by E., sind under full sail except the main gaff topsail. We showed a white light when we first saw the steamer's light. About 10 minutes before, we called the captain. It was about 20 minutes before the collision when I called the captain; called him because it looked rough; when he came up I showed him the light. He ran forward and looked at it, but made no remark to me about it. From three to five minutes before it struck the steamer, he ordered the helm hard up. The order was obeyed, but the vessel did not mind her helm. I did not hear any noise on the steamer after the collision. The wind was blowing so that we could not hear ourselves from one end of the vessel to the other.

One of the schooner's crew, who was stationed forward as a look-out, swore that he did not see the steamer's lights until just as the captain ordered the helm hard up.

Up to this morning 49 bodies have been recovered, most of whom resided at Milwaukee.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Navy Department, from Flag Officer Stribling, of the East India Squadron, says that it is believed that Baron Gros and Lord Elgin have urged the leading commanders of the French and British forces at the mouth of the Peiho, 6, to summon hostilities at once, without waiting to be fully prepared.

An official letter states that the new steamship Seminole had arrived off French Galua in 31 days from Norfolk.

Instead of Mr. Barbour, Superintendent of the Harpers Ferry Armory, having been removed for political reasons, as stated, he tendered his resignation, which the President declined to accept.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The steamship North Star arrived at this port this morning; from Aspinwall, with $791,000 in specie. Her California advices have been anticipated by the Pony Express. Mr. Dium, an American resident of Buenaventura, had been arrested at Panama, for the non-payment of a note given to the Custom House authorities at Buenaventura, for duties. The American Consul was investigating the matter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The bark Wethergate was seized by the United States authorities this morning on suspicion of being connected with the slave trade.

WHEELING, Sept. 12.—The fair of the Western Virginia Agricultural Society is now in full blast.

The city is all excitement to-night with the Republican and Bell and Everett demonstrations. The Wide Awakes made their first and quite a large and enthusiastic turn-out. The Bell Guards also paraded in large numbers. The Republicans are holding their meeting at the Court House, and have eminent speakers from abroad, among whom are the Hons. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, and J. R. I. White, of Philadelphia.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Sept. 12.—The Democratic Convention has nominated Ralph J. Ingersoll and Thomas H. Seymour as electors at large, with four district electors. They are instructed to vote for Stephen A. Douglas for President, but if not, to vote for any Northern Democrat.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 12.—The Breckinridge State Convention met in this city at noon and was organized by the election of R. J. Ingersoll, as President. The Convention then took a recess.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 12.—The regular Democratic State Convention met here to-day, and was addressed to the Douglas men by the other wing. Henry D. Beach, of Springfield, was nominated for Governor by acclamation, with a full State ticket. Isaac Davis, of Worcester, and Charles Hesbner, of Lee, were chosen electors at large. Strong Douglas resolutions were adopted, and the feeling prevalent was decidedly against fusion.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—The American Pomological Society commenced its eighth annual session in this city yesterday. Delegations from nineteen States are present. The President, Hon Marshall P. Wilder, of Mass., delivered a highly interesting and instructive address, after which the election of officers and committees took place. The collection of fruits and the attendance are large.

KALAMAZOO, Sept. 12.—The national exhibition of horses commenced here to-day, and promises to be more than ever successful. Some of the finest horses in the country are on exhibition. Flora Temple and Ethan Allen are among the number. Two thousand people are on the ground to-day, notwithstanding the rain.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12.—The schooner Vermont, with a cargo of wheat and corn, struck the pier last night and sunk just inside. No lives lost. The cargo was insured.

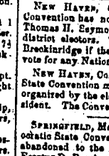
Soyer's Sultana Sauce,

FOR HOT AND COLD DISHES OF ALL KINDS.



This most delicious and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "Soyer," of the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well-known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite Sauce in England, and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid to digestion.

OPINIONS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

"We recommend our correspondent to try MISS. SOYER'S new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Atlas.

Educational.

THE FALL TERM OF H. WILLIAMS' Classical and Commercial School, No. 28 St. Clair street, will commence on MONDAY, Sept. 3d, 1860.

TERMS—$11 per scholar per quarter of 11 weeks, in advance.

TESTIMONY OF FORMER PATRONS.

I take great pleasure in saying that Mr. H. Williams is an excellent teacher, intelligent, discreet and faithful. It is a profession to which he has devoted his life, and which he brings not only a long experience and an ardent enthusiasm, but a conscientiousness, in which, I can testify from my own knowledge, parents and patrons may fully confide. ALEX T. MOORE.

Class Tutor Seminary, April 30th, 1860.

I cheerfully concur with Dr. Moffat in the above statement and recommendation. D. ELLIOTT.

His method of teaching and managing his pupils is not surpassed by any that I have known at any time.

R. M. SPARE.

Teaching is a profession for which he is peculiarly fitted. CHARLES SEALE.

Within the range of my acquaintance, he has no superior as a teacher. JOSEPH P. GAZZAM.
