OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 14, 1860.

CITY AFFAIRS.

☞ BOOK AND JOB PRINTING,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION;

Executed at THIS OFFICE, on the most favorable terms and at the shortest notice.

We called in at the establishment of our friend Samuel Riddle, No. 21 Diamond, yesterday, and were courteously shown through his establishment. Mr. R., we are glad to find, has established a very good and prosperous business, and has a well assorted stock of Wooden and Willow Ware, much of it of his own manufacture, which he is able to offer to city and country trade at fair prices.

He has an extensive Cooperage on Avery st., in Allegheny, where he manufactures Pine, Cedar and Oak Churns, Tubs, Measures, Buckets, etc., and where he also keeps his heaviest stock of this kind of Ware. He is also prepared to execute orders for all kinds of Pine, Cedar and Oak Vessels.

On the third story of his establishment, in the Diamond, we found a number of workmen engaged in making Willow Baskets of every variety. The willow used is partly American, but mostly French and Belgian. The quality of Mr. Riddle's willow work is of the very best; indeed a comparison of some of his domestic Baskets will convince any one that in this particular line we excel the East.

The second floor is filled with miscellaneous goods in the line—such as Zino and Wooden Washboards, Wooden Bowls, Horse Buckets, Red and White Cedar Pails, iron and brass bound, Mop Sticks, varnished and painted Keelers, Cedar Barrel Churns, Buckets, Tubs and Baskets, in great variety. We desire to invite attention to Mr. R.'s stock, and to the multifarious items which he keeps, from a clothes pin to a mouse trap, and from a clothes horse to a palate master. See advertisement in another column.

"The Mother in Law; or, Scotchworth. For sale by W. A. Gildemeister & Co., Fifth street."

Mrs. Southworth's novels are very popular with the American public, so that a word or two indicating that the one now published is not inferior to its predecessors, is all sufficient. The object of the work, as the authoress states, is to illustrate pride in its monstrous excess and terrible consequences, and the story is founded on facts that occurred in her grandmothers native country—the Old Dominion—where a century ago a stanch old aristocracy existed that might almost rival Europe in pride and arrogance. The characters and events are said to have been softened instead of exaggerated, so that if there are any revolting scenes or events portrayed, the authoress may allege in the phrase of Caleb Balderstone, that it is "an over true story," and that its darkest colorings have not been given. The narrative is well sustained and possesses great dramatic interest. The characters and scenes are adopted to the American taste, so that the novel has all the elements of popularity.

BURGLARIES IN ALLEGHENY.—Burglaries are becoming quite common in the neighborhood of the Third ward, Allegheny. On Wednesday night the grocery store of a Mr. McKarahan, on the corner of Third and East streets, was entered, and after searching through the dining and store room, the rascals succeeded in getting about $6. They effected an entrance by opening the back shutters, which admitted them into the kitchen, from whence they proceeded into the store without trouble, the door between the two apartments being unlocked. This makes the fourth time Mr. McK.'s house has been entered during the past year. He says if they make him up in the next time they come he will give them a warm reception.

Another store kept by a widow lady on Ohio st. was entered on the same night, and it is supposed by the same parties. But beyond some change, mostly coppers, which had been left in the till, they got nothing for their trouble.

PATENT SHOES.—We call attention this morning to the advertisement of Mr. H. Hall, who is to be found at the Scott House. He exhibited to us a patent shoe and boot, which will produce a marvellous revolution in the shoe making business. The sole is composed of two pieces of gum wood, the inner sole being lasted and pegged, in the usual way, to the upper leather, making it perfectly tight and firm; then the outer sole is fastened by means of screws. Having examined and tried them, we think that the patent shoes are lighter, more durable than those now worn, and above all, they will be less expensive. They are the easiest we ever had on our feet.

TROUBLE AT GALLOWAY'S CASTLE.—This favorite resort for persons of the most depraved natures, was visited by the Allegheny police, on Wednesday evening, and Henry Hoock, Henry Lane, John Williams, and Elizabeth Orr, were arrested and taken before Mayor Morrison, a complaint having been made against them by some persons residing in that vicinity. After a hearing, from which it appeared that they had been drinking, and as usual, became very noisy, they were all committed from 24 hours up to 20 days—according to the nature of their offense. They are all excellent customers for our police magistrates, whom they patronize frequently.

SUICIDE.—A German, residing in Lawrenceville, named Charles Whitberg, committed suicide, yesterday, by hanging himself. He was laboring under mania a potu, or the effects of it, at the time. The Coroner held an inquest upon the body, and the jury found a verdict that the deceased came to his death by hanging, while laboring under the effects of the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors

THE LEGITIMATE AGAIN.—The favorable reception given to Macbeth, on Tuesday evening, has induced Manager Henderson to return to the "legitimate" once more; and to-night he brings out the great tragedy of Hamlet—the finest of all Shakspeare's plays, for its fine and subtle philosophy, and its insight into the passions and motives of men. Mr. Hanchett appears as Hamlet, supported by a powerful cast.

VOTES ON A TRAIN.—A vote was taken on one of the crowded trains which came down from Cleveland, Monday last. A gentleman who was present obtained the result, and placed the figures in our possession, as follows: For Lincoln, 1,210; Bell, 220; Douglas, 420; Breckinridge, 44; Houston, 10. The vote was taken between Alliance and Hudson.

ARRESTED HIS WIFE.—Larry Whitty was committed 12 days to jail, on Wednesday, by Ald. Bell, at the instance of his wife, who alleges that Larry has been drinking for some time past, and while in that condition, treated her in the most cruel manner. Larry is an old offender, and spends about two-thirds of his time in jail.

THE Republicans of the Eighth Ward intend holding a meeting this evening on Pennsylvania Avenue, at 7½ o'clock. The Eighth Ward Wide Awakes will be out in full force, and the meeting will be a large one. Hon. J. K. Moorhead, D. L. Eaton and J. J. Seibeneck will be the speakers for the evening.

We understand that the employees of Smith, Park & Co., of the Ninth ward intend to turn out on the 27th inst. in full flash. They will represent the foundry of the above firm in full operation, making rails upon which the Republican party will ride "Old Abe" into the White House.

STILL AT LARGE.—Ald. Bell's police have as yet been unsuccessful in capturing Jackson, the colored man who cut Robert Buck, on Wednesday, while in a drunken fit, without the least provocation. Buck had his injuries attended to by Dr. Parchment, who is of the opinion that nothing serious need be apprehended.

MASS MEETING in Birmingham on Saturday evening, Sept. 15, 1860. The friends of Lincoln and Hamlin and Curtin turn out and keep the ball a moving. Addresses by Gen. Moorhead, D. L Eaton, and others. The Wide Awake Clubs, &c., are invited to be present.

DROWNED.—The Coroner yesterday held an inquest on a man named James Grant, who had fallen overboard from a flat in the Allegheny river, and was drowned before aid could reach him. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

OIL LAND.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Samuel Smith, in our paper, offering for sale the property on the Ohio River, at Smith's Ferry. It possesses many advantages to purchasers, which are set forth in the advertisement.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—The Wheeling Intelligencer of yesterday says: "On Thursday last, a horse ran away with a buggy in Monongahela tp., and a child belonging to a Miss Hannah Spratt was killed. We have no particulars."

TO BE STOPPED.—We understand that the Board of Directors of the Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway Company have determined to cease running their cars on Sunday.

SHINGLES.—The shingle market is very dull just now, and prices have a declining tendency. This decline is attributed by a great many to the supply being more than equal to the demand, but the real cause may be found in the fact that the demand is not so great as in former years, shingle roofs not being thought of when "Groggan's celebrated Asphalt Roofing Felt" can be obtained. The agent for this excellent material can be found at his office, Loughlin's building, Canal bank, near the city Water Works.

ANOTHER GRAND RALLY!

Enthusiastic Meeting at Lafayette Hall!!

It is rare that our people have an opportunity of listening to two such Speeches as were delivered by Messrs. CURTIN and GROW last night. At an early hour Lafayette Hall was jammed full, and it continued full during the evening, many going away, unable to gain admittance. The following was the organization of the meeting:

President—Hon. HENRY A. WRIGHT.

Vice Presidents—Hon. George Wilson; Hon. J. P. Penney, James J. Kuhn, Esq., J. J. Seibeneck, Esq., Dr. E. D. Garrett, Thomas Steel, Esq., Pittsburgh; Col. J. Harrison Sewell, Hon. John Morrison, Allegheny; Thomas Howard, Esq., Lawrenceville; James Fife, Snowden tp.; Thos. McKee, Birmingham; J. K. Scott, McKeesport; Fred. H. Collier, Sharpsburg; Hon. David Negley, East Liberty; John J. Muse, Versailles tp.; Col. J. A. Ekin, Elizabeth.

Secretaries—Col. Joseph C. Carry, Pittsburgh; Robt. Pollock, Esq., Pitt tp.; Hon. D. L. Smith, George Gerst, Jr., Allegheny City.

Col. CURTIN made the first speech. It is no abuse of language to say that it was a magnificent one.

He discussed the Slavery question in all its bearings; exposed the bugaboo of Disunion; showed the necessity of the people of the North taking a firm stand in defence of Republican principles; vindicated in detail the principles of the party whose standard-bearer he is; and eloquently defended the cause of his political friends from the aspersions cast upon it.

He spoke for an hour and a half, and held his audience spell-bound from first to last. It would be impossible to give a sketch of his remarks, and we will not undertake to do it. Suffice it to say that every one who heard it pronounced it the best speech of the campaign, and went away delighted.

We are glad this speech was delivered, for our people have now a fair chance to appreciate the worth of our candidate for Governor. He has fully sustained his reputation as a first-class orator, and left behind him a reputation that will tell immensely in his favor on the second Tuesday of October.

The speech of Mr. GROW was also a splendid one, and he kept the audience in continual good humor from the beginning to the close. After alluding to the question of Free Homesteads, he passed to a review of Douglas and Squatter Sovereignty, which he subjected to as severe a handling as they received at the hands of Carl Schurz on Monday night. He laid bare the humbug of Squatter Sovereignty; analyzed, exposed and ridiculed the Dred Scott decision; showed what the fathers thought about the power of the Supreme Court to decide political questions; drew a beautiful and eloquent picture of the difference in the material progress of the free and the slave States; showed why the free settler preferred to fight the savage and the wild beast in the wilderness to contact with slavery; and why it was necessary to preserve the public domain for the present and future generations of freemen seeking for free homes. It was a heart-stirring, rousing, eloquent speech, and with the equally eloquent and brilliant speech of Col. Curtin, a triumphant vindication of Republican principles.

The meeting was, altogether, a great success—large, spirited and enthusiastic. It has given new life to our people—infused new blood into their veins. It was a grand sight to see such a multitude of gratified faces; and we feel sure that every one present went away resolved to work harder than ever for the grand success that awaits us.

The Great Republican Mass Convention at Erie.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Thirty Thousand Strangers from Penn'a.

ERIE, WEDNESDAY, Sept. 12, 1860.

Probably the grandest political demonstration that has taken place thus far during the campaign, came off on Wednesday, in this city. It is estimated that there were at least 30,000 strangers from Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, and the North-west, in attendance. All day Tuesday, the cars on the different railroads leading into Erie, came in crowded with passengers; so by evening, it was a very difficult thing to find any room, though every exertion was made by the citizens of Erie to entertain their guests. Wednesday morning found the city fairly choking with the numbers of strangers that came in, and it was really a serious matter to provide accommodations for them, though it was at length accomplished.

The Allegheny County Wide Awakes arrived here at 2 o'clock on Wednesday morning. They comprised the following clubs: Pittsburgh—The Central Club, and Fourth Ward Lincoln Guards. Allegheny—The Central Club and Rail Splitters Battalion.

At Alliance, Caesius M. Clay got on the train, on his way here, and was taken under the special protection of the delegation. When they arrived at Cleveland, they engaged the services of the Citizens' Brass Band, who accompanied the Washington friends to the ferry-boat.

On arriving here, the Allegheny delegation was met at the depot and welcomed by the Erie Wide Awakes, who escorted them first to the Head Quarters and afterwards to the different private houses, where they were entertained during the day. When the other clubs commenced arriving, about 9 o'clock, the Pittsburgh Club was detailed by the Chief Marshal to do escort duty, a high tribute to their splendid drill and appearance.

The New York Delegation arrived in the morning. It consisted of about 800 men. The Ohio Delegation consisted of about 300 men, but I could only learn the name of one club, the Kingsville Wide Awakes. The clubs commenced forming into line on French street, for the procession. A large number of carts and wagons, with men in them splitting rails, formed a prominent feature in the procession, which by the way was nearly two miles and a half long.

The processions was under the command of the Chief Marshal of the day, Col. John W. McLain, of Erie, assisted by ten aids. At 11 o'clock they took up their line of march, which was as follows: Down French street to Second; along Second to State st.; up State street to Western depot; thence to Peach street; down Peach street to Ninth street; along Ninth street to Sassafras street; down Sassafras to Sixth street; along Sixth street to Peach street; down Peach street, to and around the south side of the Parks. At the Parks the procession halted and broke, after which they proceed to the stands which had been erected at the two Parks, and the Convention was then organized by appointing Gen. SIMON CAMERON, President. (There was a long list of Vice Presidents but we are compelled to omit them for want of space.)

There were two meetings, one in the north and one in the south Park. Caesius M. Clay, of Kentucky, opened in the former place, speaking about two hours. It was a magnificent effort, and I am sorry I could not get near enough to report it. He was succeeded by Col. Richmond, of Meadville, and afterwards by the Hon. Mr. Chandler, of Erie. At the south Park, the Hon. B. F. Wade, of Ohio, opened, and spoke for about an hour and a quarter. He was succeeded by Ex-Gov. Reader, of Kansas, who made a very pertinent, lengthy and short speech, of about an hours length. The speakers were frequently interrupted by loud and prolonged cheers from the thousands who were listening. At the conclusion of each speech, Budworth's Band from New York, discoursed some delicious music.

A STRAY LEG.—Last Saturday, in Timber creek, was found floating a portion of a human trunk—the leg of a boy, that seemed to have been crushed off at the knee. Upon the foot was a boot of ordinary calfskin, high-heeled, half-soled with a red top. Dr. Stafford, of Gloucester, took charge of it. It is believed to be the limb of a boy who fell from a steaming a few days previously, and was crushed to death.

Mr. Dewdis has returned to Victoria, from the country in the neighborhood of Nass River, bearing specimen s of gold quartz and copper pyrites, and ores of all we, lead and plumbago of very fine quality, specimens of which he made drawing-pencils from. The whole district is rich with minerals.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The barbecue at Jones' Woods was attended by about twenty thousand persons. Messrs. Douglas and Johnson were both present, and their appearance was received with enthusiasm. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Douglas said that he was in favor of a cordial union with every Union man, every man who was true to the Constitution, every man that was in favor of preserving the Union in all contingencies. If Major Breckinridge was in favor of enforcing the laws against secessionists, dissolutionists and abolitionists in all contingencies then he (the speaker) was with him. Believing as he did that the Union is in danger, the speaker would make any sacrifice to save it. If the withdrawal of his name would defeat Mr. Lincoln he would at this moment withdraw it, more especially if the withdrawal would secure the election of some man who was true to the constitution and the Union, and would enforce the laws.

He believed that the only organization that can serve the present crisis is the Democratic organization. He was in favor of maintaining that organization. He then proceeded to eulogize its history; he believed that the Union could be maintained only by the co-operation of Northern and Southern dissunionism; he appealed to all Union loving men in favor of the enforcement of the laws in every contingency, to rally with one common electoral ticket, and beat the Abolitionists, and he conjured his hearers to make no fusion, no bargain, no compromise with the friends of any candidate who will not pledge himself to sustain the Constitution and Union, and to enforce the laws under all circumstances.

Ex-Governor Moorhead, of North Carolina, and others, addressed the throng. Messrs. Douglas and Johnson were serenaded to-night at their hotel.

The passenger trains that heretofore run via Elizabethtown, will, for the present, run via Columbia, making the same time.

Weekly Review of the Pittsburgh Market.

[Reported specially for the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY, Sept. 14, 1860.

Business during the week that has just closed has improved a little, and our merchants and manufacturers generally anticipate a good fall trade, which it is to be hoped they will realize to the fullest extent. The general market presents no new feature—save a slight advance on flour—worthy of special mention. The operations in all the leading articles have been moderately active, but with the exception above mentioned, we have but few changes to make from our last report.

Our rivers, under the influence of the recent heavy rains, are again in fine condition for steamboating, and several large fleets of flour have arrived during the past few days. The river is rising generally, and we pretty confidently expect to see a good business from this out, provided the rivers keep up.

ASHES.—Are becoming very dull and most with a good demand, while prices are drooping. Sales at $4 for common, and $4.50@4.60 for medium, and $4.50 for choice.

ASHES.—The week's sales were small at former prices viz: Sale Ash 30@32½; Pots range from 45@46½. Pearls 45½@45½. The stock in first hands is ample for all ordinary purposes.

ALE.—Pittsburgh manufacture continues in fair demand, with steady shipments to all parts of the country. The established rates at present are:

	bbls	half bbls.

BAGS.—The price current of Messrs. Burlet & Barker, for prices page 14 as follows: Gunny sacks, 12½ lbs, $7.50@7.50 ₩ 100; 25 lbs $20.25@20.50; 50 lbs $36@36; 90 lbs $100@110; salt bags—6 lbs $12@13; 10 lbs $22.50@23; 14 do $32@30; 20 do $40@42.50; 24 do $47.50@48.
