John B. Gough.

This eloquent temperance lecturer has been publicly welcomed by his fellow-citizens of Worcester, Mass., on his return from Europe after a three year's absence. In answer to the Mayor's address of welcome, Mr. Gough mentioned the following incident of his experience in Great Britain:

Last November I had spoken in the City Hall at Glasgow to 2500 people. I was staying at the house of the merchant prince of that city, and when we came down stairs his carriage was at the door—silver mounted harness, coachman in livery, footman in plain clothes—you know it is seldom tee-total lecturers ride in such style, and it is proper, therefore, that we should speak of it when it does happen, for the good of the cause. [Laughter.] As we came down, the gentleman said to me: "It is so drizzly and cold you had better get into the carriage and wait until the ladies come down." I think I never had so many persons shake hands with me. "God bless you, Mr. Gough," said one, "you saved my father!" "God bless you" said another, "you saved my brother!" Said a third, "God bless you, I owe everything I have in the world to you!" My hands absolutely ached as they grasped them, one after another. Finally a poor wretched creature came to the door of a carriage; I saw his bare shoulder and naked feet; his hair seemed greyer than mine; he came up and said, "Will you shake hands with me?" I put my hand into his hot burning palm, and he said, "Don't you know me? "Why said I, "isn't your name Aiken?" "Yes. Harry Aiken?" Yes. You worked with me in the bookbinder's shop of Andrew Hutchison, in Worcester, Mass., in 1842—didn't you?"—"Yes." "What is the matter with you?" "I am desperately poor." I said, God pity you; you look like it." I gave him something, and obtained the services of Mr Marr, the secretary of the Scottish League, to find out about him. He picks up rags and bones in the streets of Glasgow, and resides in one of the foulest streets in that city. When the ladies came to the carriage and got in, I said, "Stop I don't shut that door! Look there, at that half starved, ragged, miserable wretch, shivering in the dim gas-light! Look at him!" The sting of that audience was in my ears; my hands aching with the grasp of friendship, from scores; my surroundings bright; my prospects pleasant; and I said ladies look there! There am I, but for the temperance movement. [Loud cheers] That man worked with me, roomed with me, slept with me, was a better workman than I —his prospects brighter than mine. A kind hand was laid on my shoulder in Worcester streets, in 1842; it was the turning point in my history. He went on. Seventeen years have passed and we meet again, with a gulf as deep as hell between us!" "I am a trophy of this movement, and I thank God for it.

WOMAN'S CHARITY.—That was a beautiful idea of the wife of an Irish schoolmaster, who, whilst poor himself, had given gratuitous instruction to poor scholars, but when increased in worldly goods, began to think that he could not afford to give his sevices for nothing:—

"Oh! James, don't say the like of that," said the gentle-hearted woman, "don't; a poor scholar never came into the house that I didn't feel as if he brought fresh air from heaven with him. I never miss the bit I give them; my heart warms to the soft and homely sound of their bare feet on the floor, and the door almost opens of itself to receive them in."

CHESS OF ITALY'S THROATS AND LEGS.—According to the journal Il Trovatore, the number of male and female singers in Italy is actually one thousand seven hundred and thirty. Of these there are four hundred and ten prime donne, three hundred and thirty tenors, two hundred and eighty baritones, one hundred and sixty bassi profundi, fifty bouffons, etc. Besides these Italy possesses one thousand six hundred and seventy male and female dancers."

AMONG the Sunday School children at the John Street (N. Y.) Church was a poor little fellow. He couldn't tell the number of the house in which he lived, and was charged, when he next came to school, to bring it. The next time he appeared, he was asked if he brought the number. "No, sir," said he, "it is nailed on the door so tight that I couldn't get the old thing off."

For Sale & To Let.

OIL! OIL! OIL!

VALUABLE PROPERTY OFFERED FOR SALE.—Wishing to forge my location, I offer to sell the one half of the fire-acre of ground, with the property of SHITH'S FERRY, on the Ohio river. It is one of the best locations for a general business, in this section of country. The ferry is one of the best on the river. The buildings are good and well calculated for public business, and have been occupied as a hotel and store for a long time. There is also a good station house, belonging to the same property, on the C. & P. R. R., and doing a good business. There are about 20 acres of land on the south side of the river, which secures a good ferry-landing, with a good dwelling house. On the west side of the river, there are about 100 acres of rough land, well supplied with coal, and a deep bed of fire clay. And last, but not least, is oilsand; I count the best site for Rock Oil that is on the river. This oil has been seen by the oldest settlers of this country, and has continued to be seen from day to day up to the present time. au18 1m1 SAMUEL SMITH.

FOR SALE.—A handsome SITE FOR A COUNTRY SEAT, GARDEN or FRUIT FARM, situate on the Beaver & Butler turnpike road, in Rose township, four miles from Allegheny City, containing 28 acres. It is in a high state of culture and has 12 Of fruit trees in excellent condition and of the finest varieties, most of which will bear the coming season. Two dwellings, a stable and never failing Water on the place. For terms, etc., refer to J. W. HALL, No. 58 Fifth street, or to ALEX. CAMPBELL, on the premises. se21:2w

OAKLAND RESIDENCES.—The undersigned has divided that portion of Oakland known as

into LOTS of convenient size for

COUNTRY RESIDENCES,

ranging in quantity from one to sixteen acres.

It is from 20 to 25 minutes' drive from the city, and is within two miles and a half of the city. The Pittsburgh & East Liberty PASSENGER RAILWAY runs within a short distance of it, and a branch of said railway is now constructed to run through the centre of the Lots.

Many of the Lots are symmetrical knolls, covered with forest trees, and susceptible of being cultivated in the most picturesque and beautiful manner. The soil is excellent for gardening, producing fine fruit and forest-growing. A good neighborhood. Public and Private Schools convenient.

The following very liberal terms are offered:—One-tenth in hand, and one tenth annually from the time of purchase. Plans may be seen at my office.

AN ORDINANCE authorizing the Mayor to borrow any sum not exceeding Eighty Thousand Dollars, and to provide for the issue of Certificates of Loan.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same, That the Mayor be and he is hereby authorized to borrow, upon the faith of the City, a sum not exceeding Eighty Thousand Dollars, and to issue bonds under the seal of his corporation therefor, which may be in the shape of certificates of loan, or have interest coupons attached, as the lender may prefer. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first days of April and October, or on the first days of January and July, according to the date of the certificate, in whose stead the new bonds are issued. The interest on the bonds with coupons attached shall be made payable at the Bank of America in the city of New York, and the interest on the certificates of loan shall be made payable either at the Commercial Bank of Philadelphia or at the Bank of America in the city of New York, at the option of the lender, and the said interest shall be paid in full without deduction for any claim for state taxes thereon. The said loan so to be issued shall be in sums of five hundred or one thousand dollars, at the option of the lender, shall be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Controller, and may be redeemable at any term not less than ten nor more than thirty years, and shall be transferable only at the Treasurer's office, and at the Bank where the interest is made payable.

SEC. 2. That the bonds authorized to be issued by the Ordinance of Councils, passed March 4th, 1859, and the Ordinance of Councils, passed May 9th, 1859, in sums of either five hundred or one thousand dollars, and with or without coupons attached, at the option of the lender, and may be issued for any term not less than ten nor more than thirty years, transferable in the same as the bonds issued under the first section of this Ordinance.

SEC. 3. That the faith, credit, funds, revenues and corporate property of the city be and they are hereby severally pledged for the payment of said bonds and certificates of loan and interest thereon as aforesaid, and for the payment of the interest on the same.

SEC. 4. That all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.
