WORLDWARD.

A SONNET.—NO. 2.

Is it not to thee an utmost unknown world?
Of its existence, just, that has been aware,
And hardly more than that, till even now?
Resting only at safe distance, wondering how
Its currents meet and mingle—as it whirled,
And rushed, and roared along its crowded ways,
Through many streated cities, loud with strife—
Cities of ships and commerce, where the tides
Of ocean, day and night come up—as if
Not the mere cosmic forces, but beside,
Life, Passion stirred them—yes, as if they came
Up from their ocean-deep to see the mood
Wild restlessness, and jides, and uncertitude,
Like seasons, thronging over human lives!

Pittsburgh, 1860. [J. M. MARVIN.

KISSES.

"Oh, kiss me and go!"
Said the maid of my heart,
And pr'ithead her lip
As a bait to depart—
The midnight approaches,
My Mother will scow,
My kindred be down!
Oh kiss me and go."

She gave me the blessing
In such a sweet way,
The thrill of its pleasure
Rattled me to stay!
So we kissed till the morning
Came in with its glow,
For she said every moment,
"O, kiss me and go!"

THOMAS CAMPBELL'S son who became insane, was the subject of conversation between the authors and "Traits of Character" and Mrs. Campbell. The writer says:

"I inquired if she could trace his aberration of intellect to any known and specific cause, or whether it were hereditary? The only cause she could assign as possible tending to his ultimate insanity was this?

"The very constant habit of visitors, when calling, saying to him, 'well, are you, my boy, a genius too? Are you going to make as great a name and fame as your father?'

"After these oft-repeated words, he would start up, anguish stamped in each line of his face—'Mother, what is to become of me? I shall never be a genius; I cannot learn'—would then rush out of the house and be lost sight of for hours. The motive perhaps is good which induces people to talk thus to the children of clever and celebrated parents; assuming and expecting that, with their name and worldly possessions, they will inherit also the more priceless patrimony of intellectual wealth. But I think the habit most injudicious, and of great questionable advantage to the ultimate development of the child's capability. If a boy or girl possesses within themselves that natural germ of genius which none can give or take away, depend upon it, sooner or later, it will burst into fruition without the aid of adventitious culture and cultivation. If they have it not, the consciousness of its absence, and being constantly taunted with absurd questions as 'Will have you the same brilliant endowments as your father or mother? I can quite understand exercising, over a child of brooding and misanthropic temperment, so depressing an influence, that ulterior insanity, as in the case of young Campbell, is an issue, however to be deplored, and scarcely to be much marvelled at.

"DIXIE'S LAND."—The most popular tune, since the publication of "Old Folks at Home," in the United States, is the plantation negro melody of "Dixie's Land." Throughout the Eastern States it is creating a perfect furore.—It is played and sung everywhere by brass bands string bands, orchestras and serenades—is whistled by ragged urchins in the streets, and by calliopes on steamboats, and forms one of the chief attractions in the musical soirees of the parlor.

During the visit of the Prince of Wales to the St. Louis Fair, it was alternated with "God save the Queen," "Yankee Doodle," "Hail to the Chief," "Hail Columbia," and other national airs of the two countries. At the late Douglas demonstration at Indianapolis, there were eight brass bands present, vieing with each other in the performance of this "taking" melody.

An amusing anecdote is told in regard to it which happened lately at a St. Louis theater. The orchester played it, when the curtain rose and the play began. But the audience would not listen. The cry of "Dixie" ran through the house from pit to gallery, completely drowning the voice of the actor. He made several ineffectual attempts to be heard, and left the stage.

The old manager appeared, flushed with anger, and in an excited voice exclaimed: "Gentlemen, what means all this ill-mannered confusion? What do you want?" Immediately a hundred voices cried out "Dixie." "Well, you can't have it. You're had 'Dixie' once to-night, and you'll have Dixie' no more.

He retired to the green-room, and the actor again appeared. But it was no use. A deafening shout for "Dixie" met him from the audience, and after stammering and stuttering for a few moments, he left the stage. The curtain dropped, the orchestra played "Dixie," and the play progressed without further interruption.—Leavenworth Herald.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men in this and the surrounding cities—among those who BUY and who SELL—ART among manufacturers, and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting-rooms, business houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and commission houses in the two cities. Hence it is the best medium for advertising, therefore, it offers peculiar advantages which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can claim to hold over it. It has a large class of our citizens. The WEEKLY GAZETTE at the time, has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia among substantial farmers and mechanics than any other secular paper in the section of the State.

☞ THE DAILY GAZETTE is the oldest Newspaper in the West, and leading as extensive circulation among of the business men, and ranking all cisses, it offers inducements to advertisers as the best medium through which to reach the public.

☞ THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is issued every Wednesday and Saturday, on a large, double sheet, and contains in addition to the news of the week, a carefully prepared and reliable report of the Markets, commercial and monetary affairs—making it the best Commercial Newspaper in the West is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. What-ever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but thirdly have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our time has devised for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, ULCERS and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, and RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, all the COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action; and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the timid pale face bowed, down with pain or physical debility is animated, and to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Inactive of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Sparadics, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonory organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

THE PREVENTIVE AND REMEDY FOR ALL INTERMITTENT AND BILIOUS FEVERS!

CURES INSURED IN A DAY.

Nature's Grand Restorative.

INPECTINE. INPECTINE. INPECTINE. INPECTINE. INPECTINE. INPECTINE.

The terrible malady known as the FEVER AND AGUE has smitten hundreds of thousands of persons throughout the world every year, and has never till now been met by successful medical treatment that has not produced severe

MEDICINAL DISEASES,

which affect the LUNGS, the SPLEEN, the LIVER, the HEART, or other parts of the human organism. The

INPECTINE

is the natural antagonist of all FEVERS, and, when it comes in contact with the skin, is absorbed by the interior organs, which restlessly misses and all tendencies toward those maladies which

PROSTRATE THE MIND AND BODY WITH FEVER.

Fever and Ague result from numerous causes. No place is exempt from the causes which promote the existence of the disease. That being once seated in the system, induces depression of spirits, lassitude, languor, pains, chills, fever, and a long train
