WORLDWARD.

JOHNNY, NO. III.

O word'st (I time), whose watering noses rolls
Onward, still onward, as the ages all,
Countless and restless ages, late, and fall—
Life's shadows into darkness—into flame!
And, day and night, those ceaseless tides of life,
Piling on the shores of death their spray of souls!
O world! O life! reveal thy mystery!
But what? With action, passion, tumult rife,
Some pets of life keep quivering, that these are Passed to the world-scene, and the part
Which is assigned them to enact therein?
Pittsburgh, 1861. [J. M. MADDUX.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The third annual meeting of the National Local Preachers' Association of the M. E. Church, was held in Philadelphia, Pa., commencing Saturday, the 20th ult. The convention met precisely at 4 P. M., and was called to order by the President, Rev. Thomas T. Tasker, Sr., of Philadelphia, who opened the proceedings with some interesting remarks. The session was principally spent in receiving the credentials of the delegates and hearing brief addresses. Rev. Dr. Bartine and Castle gave addresses of welcome on behalf of the city pastors of the M. E. Churches in Philadelphia, and Revs. I. P. Cook, C. Shaffer and R. Holt, responded on the part of the delegates. At the night session, the election of officers occurred, and preparation was made for the Sabbath services. On Sunday, at 8 A. M., the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the Trinity M. E. Church, to the delegates and others, and the balance of the time was devoted to an experience meeting. At three o'clock a Love Feast was held in the same church. The pulpits of the different Methodist Churches were filled morning and evening by the delegates. Monday morning the Convention met at eight o'clock and transacted business till eleven, when the annual sermon was delivered by Rev. W. H. Dikeman, of New York. The Convention met again at 2 P. M., and devoted a portion of the session to business matters, and the remainder of the time brief addresses were delivered by the delegates from different parts of the work. The night session, except a short time, was appropriated to the delivery of ten minute addresses from the delegates. A deep religious feeling prevailed at this meeting. Convention adjourned "sine die," between ten and eleven o'clock, to meet in New York City, third Saturday of October, 1861. The Philadelphia "News" after reporting the proceedings impartially each day, says:

"We thus close our report of this most interesting Convention. Gentlemen composing it came from all ranks and positions of social life—lawyers, physicians, merchants, manufacturers and the more humble walks of private life—and met together as local preachers in this Convention—a noble army of unpaid laborers—a volunteer army, ready to do, good and preach the Gospel wherever their services are needed, and wherever they can be useful. They leave behind them a pleasing remembrance in the minds of all who had the happiness of seeing them and of hearing their burning eloquence."

——An exchange says that one of the ablest leaders of the Universalist denomination, at their recent Boston Convention, stated that "after twenty years labor he has not been able to induce the members of the Society to join the Church."

——The N. W. "Christian Advocate" says:

"At the recent annual meeting of the Baptist Bible Union in New York, it was voted to raise a fund of $100,000 for the purpose of circulating gratuitously the revised English Scriptures, when they shall have passed the final committee."

——The fifth General Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America, was held at Fulton, New York, commencing the 3d of October. Rev. L. C. Mattack was elected President and Rev. John McKeldowny, Secretary. Rev. Cyrus Prindle was unanimously re-elected Editor and Book Agent.

——It is generally conceded that the Rev. Anthony Bewley, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was hung somewhere in Texas. The first report that he was executed by the vote of a mob, was contradicted by the Southern papers, but facts have since come to light, that clearly indicate he suffered death by hanging in September last. It is no wonder that an effort was met to cover up the matter, as the atrocity of the crime was such, that no dispassionate man could approve.

——Christian Kesner, so favorably known as the "Apostle of Temperance in Maryland," died in Baltimore, October 23d, aged sixty six years. He was a prominent member of the M. E. Church.

——The twelfth anniversary meeting of the American Christian (Campbellite) Missionary Society was held in Cincinnati last week. The receipts received for missionary purposes during the past year $16,200, and expenditures $16,330. Twenty-three preachers are employed in the home fields.

——The following resolution was passed by the Iowa Annual Conference of the Wesleyan Church, at its late session:

Resolved, That hereafter no person shall receive elders' orders from this body who defiles himself by the use of the vile weed, tobacco.

——The Committees on Bills and Overtures of the Synod of Pittsburgh, O. S. Presbyterian Church, at its recent session at Indiana, Pa., reported the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That Synod recommend to the several Presbyteries to take such measures as may discourage the use of tobacco by all persons, and especially by those of our youth who are preparing to enter the Gospel ministry.

——Rev. Charles Chartie, a Roman Catholic priest, of the order of Lazarists, a native of France, was baptized and received into the Second Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. H. Brooks pastor, St. Louis, Mo., recently.

——The New York correspondent of the Presbyterian Banner writes:

It is estimated that there are in the city of New York about eighty-five thousand Germans, of whom about twenty-eight thousand are Roman Catholics, seven thousand Jews, eight thousand attendants on Protestant worship, and the remaining forty-two thousand are infidel, or at least indifferent to religion.

——The correspondent of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate writes that London, with its two millions of souls, the concentrated essence of evil, there is also in this great metropolis the concentrated essence of good, as the following interesting item will show in reference to the latter:

There is a great work before the churches in the evangelization of London, and that work must and will be done. The churches are alive to its importance, and are concerned to know how they can best accomplish it. The Bishop of London has got his Diocesan Mission; the Wesleyan Conference desiderates a London Home Mission; the Baptists are contemplating an aggressive effort, and the Congregationalists are engaged in devising a scheme by which the moral waste of the mammoth city may be reclaimed.

——The Synod of Pittsburgh, Presbyterian Church, met at Indiana on the 18th ult., and was opened with a sermon by the Moderator, Rev. S. C. Jennings, D. D., —text, "He that winneth souls is wise." After the sermon, the Synod was constituted with prayer by the Moderator. The Rev. C. P. Columbus was then elected Moderator and Rev. Jos. Mateer, Clerk. Synod adjourned Monday night following, after an interesting session.

——The November number of the Presbyterian Home and Foreign Record gives encouraging news from the mission work in China and Africa. The death of Mrs. Jonathan Wilson, Siam, is reported. Mr. and Mrs. Nevius, missionaries to Japan, had arrived. Latest news from India, as follows:

There had been more than the usual amount of sickness among the missionaries. Mr. Rogers, Mr. Theobald and Mr. Morrison were all sick. The recovery of the latter was very doubtful. Mr. Gibbon writes of an interesting case of conversion, at Rawal Pindi.

——The Rev. Gratan Guinness, of Ireland, is expected to arrive in Boston about the 1st inst.

——The European correspondent of the Presbyterian Banner writes that the meeting of the "Social Science Congress," at Glasgow, Scotland, "elicited very great interest. The inaugural address was preached by the Rev. Dr. Robertson, ... of the High (Cathedral) Church to a ... distinguished congregation. The Thy Kingdom come,' ... that the objects of the Association were ... mission, closely connected with the ... ch on the work, came into the world, ...
