MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 5.

FORCE OF VOLCANOES.—Cotapaxi, in 1738, threw its fiery rockets 3,000 feet above its crater, while in 1744 the blazing mass, struggling for an outlet, roared so that its awful voice was heard at a distance of more than 600 miles. In 1794 the crater of Tunguragua, one of the great peaks of the Andes, flung out torrents of mud which dammed up rivers, opened new lakes, and in its valleys of a thousand feet wide made deposits six hundred feet deep. The stream from Vesavius, which, in 1737, passed through Torre del Greco, contained 33,600,000 cubic feet of solid matter, and, in 1794, when Torre del Greco was destroyed a second time, the mass of lava amounted to 45,000,000 cubic feet. In 1679, Etna poured forth a flood which covered 84 square miles of surface, and measured nearly 100,000,000 cubic feet. On this occasion the sand and scoriæ formed the Monte Rossi, near Nicolosi, a cone two miles in circumference and 4,000 feet high. The stream thrown out by Etna, in 1810, was in motion at the rate of a yard per day, for nine months after the eruption; and it is on record that the lavas of the same mountain, after a terrible eruption, were not thoroughly cooled and consolidated ten years after the event. In the eruption of Vesavius, A. D. 79, the scoriæ and ashes vomited forth far exceed the entire bulk of the mountain, while in 1660 Etna disgorged more than twenty times its own mass. Vesavius has thrown its ashes as far as Constantinople, Syria and Egypt; it hurled stones eight pounds in weight, to Pompeii, a distance of six miles, while similar masses were tossed up 2,000 feet above its summit. Cotapaxi has projected a block of 109 cubic yards in volume a distance of nine miles, and Sambawa, in 1815, during the most terrible eruption on record, sent its ashes as far as Java, a distance of 300 miles of surface, and out of a population of 12,000 souls only twenty-six escaped.—[Recreative Science.

AVERSION TO A LARGE HOUSE.—We want it—but our taste is unanimously against it. Or, so thinks an English writer who thus explains himself: "Do you think that a rich man, sitting in his sumptuous library, all oak and morocco glittering backs of splendid volumes, lounge and sofas of every degree, which he merely paid for, has half the enjoyment that Robinson Crusoe had when he looked around his cave with its rude shelves and bulkheads, its clumsy arm chair and its pottery, all contrived and made by his own hands? Now the poor cottager has a good deal of the Robinson Crusoe enjoyment; something of the pleasure Sanford and Merton felt when they had built and thatched their house and then sat within it gravely proud and happy, whilst the pelting shower came down but could not reach them. When a man gets the length of considering the architectural character of his house, the imposing effect which the great entrance hall has upon visitors, the vista of drawing-room retiring within drawing room, he looses the relish which accompanies the original idea of a house as something which is to keep us snug and warm from wind, and rain, and cold. So if you gain something by having a grand house, you lose something, too, and something which is the more constantly felt—you lose the joy of simple tidiness; and your life grows so artificial, that many days you never think of your dwelling.

GIRLS AND BOYS.—Henry Ward Beecher says: "A girl is not allowed to be a girl after she is ten years old. If you treat her as if she were one, she will ask you what you mean. If she starts to run across the street, she is brought back to the nursery to listen to a lecture on the proprieties of womanhood. Now, it seems to me that a girl ought to be nothing but a girl until she is seventeen. Of course there are proprieties belonging to her sex which it is fitting for her to observe, but it seems to me that aside from these she ought to have the utmost latitude. She ought to be encouraged to do much out of doors, to run to exercise in all of those ways which are calculated to develope the muscular frame. What is true of boys in the matter of bodily health, is eminently of girls. It is vastly more important that women should be more healthy than that men should be. Man votes, and writes, and does business, but woman is the teacher and the mother of the world; and anything that deteriorates or adulterates woman, is a comprehensive plague on human life itself. Health among women is a thing that every man who is wise and considerate for his race should most earnestly desire and seek."

MARRIAGE IN GERMANY.—Marriage in Germany is preceded by the following forms and ceremonies: 1st, proposal; 2d, betrothal; 3d, a public dinner or supper of announcement; 4th, the protocolling or testimonials required by government, being—1st, a certificate of vaccination; 2d, a week-day school ticket; in proof of regular attendance there; 3d, a certificate of attendance upon a religious teacher—4th, a certificate of conformation; 5th, a wanderbuch (this refers to the compulsory travels of their handworks barchen or handicraftsmen;) 6th, an apprentice ticket; 7th, a statement made and certificated as to property, which if not satisfactory according to circumstances, destroys the whole thing; 8th, a residence permission ticket; 9th, a certificate as to the performance of militia duties; 10th, an examination ticket; 11th, a ticket of business, or occupation at the time.—The higher classes have more difficulties than these. Thus a Bavarian officer cannot marry until he has provided £40 per annum for his future family.

"I WAS," said a reverend gentleman, "attending divine service in Norfolk several years ago, during a season of some excitement. While the officiating clergyman was in the midst of a most interesting discussion, an old lady among the congregation arose, clapped her hands, and exclaimed, "Merciful Father, if I had one more feather in my wing of faith, I would fly off to glory." The worthy gentleman thus interrupted, immediately replied, "Good Lord, stick it in and let her go, she's but a trobble here." That quieted the old lady.

D. MOTT'S
PILLS & IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Its power in restoring the blood, deficiency of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Inasmuch as in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Eruptions, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatisms, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of sore throat or of the confirmed disfiguration of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description can express; attestation would render credible—Invalids go from bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have evidently re-appeared in the busy world as if just return-d from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent consumption, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic averdion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron, mixed mechanically is salutary, for, unlike the old crude, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gentle purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is in this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by lessening the local tendency which forms them.

In dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these (3-6) boxes Pills has often suffered for the most loathsome cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, continued nauseating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been usually decisive and astonishing.

In the bad pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and vexatious hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculous, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The solution of Scrofula cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restoratives, in its cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and specific preventative, and in its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high reserve and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and radically restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, &c., should be addressed to

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, in which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this disease, where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, all COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so compounded that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human system, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cure and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Piles in a Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
