FUNERALS IN BRAZIL.—When a person dies in Rio the front entrances of the house is closed as the only occasion when such a thing happens. The law requires the body to be buried in twenty-four hours. If the deceased was married a heirloom of black cloth and gold is hung over the street door; if unmarried are also black but for young persons they are actually buried in shallow coffins of the country their principal use being to convey the corpse to the cemetery, and then, like the bearer, they are returned to the undertaker. Food of dress while living the Brasillians are buried in their best, and, punctilious to the last degree they enforce etiquette after death. Children under ten or eleven are set out as friars, nuns, saints, and angels. A boy as St. John, has a pen in one hand and a book in the other. As St. Joseph the pen is replaced by a staff crowned with flowers. Of higher types, Michael the Archangel is a fashionable one. Girls are made to represent madonnas and other popular characters. Formerly it was the custom in Rio, and still is so in the interior, to carry young corpses upright in procession through the streets, when but for the closed eyes a stranger could hardly believe the figure before him, with painted cheeks, hair blowing in the wind, in silk stockings and shoes, and his raiment sparkling with jewels, grasping a palm branch in one hand and resting the other quite naturally on some artificial support could be a dead child. Large sums of money are occasionally expended in dresses and jewels for the dead. Mourning is a long affair and widows never lay aside their weeds unless they marry; yet sisters of small purple flowers are known as "widow's tears." They bloom but once a year, and soon dry up.

THE STORY OF A FRENCH GIRL.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes:—

"A short time since one of the many agents that are abroad selecting musical talent for America, sent on to the care of Adams & Co.'s Express, a French girl, who was engaged to teach for one year in a Southern institution on a salary of 900 per year. On her way to New York saw a German merchant of this city, who was smitten with her, for she was a young lady of dazzling beauty. He followed her to New York, and made a formal proposal for her hand. The gentleman was well known to the head of the house of Adams & Co. as a gentleman of wealth and standing. But the young teacher declined the proposal, at least till her contract for teaching should expire, and the consent of parents obtained. But the gentleman was not to be put off. The lady had great confidence in the integrity of the company, and relied on what the house of Adams & Co. said of the honor and position of the applicant. She relented and yielded, and cards are now out for the wedding at one of our most fashionable hotels, and this young adventurer, with nothing but her talents and beauty, will soon be at the head of an establishment, with a husband worth $300,000."

RULES FOR PRUNING GRAPES.—The last number of Hovey's Magazine gives substantially the following general rules for grape pruning, after recommending grape-growers to be free in the use of the knife, followed by the remark that where one vine is pruned too severely, nine are not pruned enough: no shoots should be nearer than one foot of each other. Prune back to within one eye of the old wood, every fall and and spring, about one eye of the annual shoots—the remaining eyes producing canes to be retained for bearing next year—when the old bearing woods is in turn to be cut out, to make room for new shoots. Disbud or rub off, as soon as they appear, all shoots not wanted as bearing wood.

QUOTING SCRIPTURE.—A short time ago, says the Glasgow Guardian, a primitive Methodist, while discoursing in a chapel not 100 miles from Earl Gray's monument in Newcastle, took occasion to mention the many trials and difficulties which often had been his path. "But," said he, "in the midst of my difficulties, I am led to persevere in the good work by the following passage of scripture coming into my mind: 'Faint heart never won fair lady!'" This is about as good as the editor of the Glasgow Reformer's Gazette, in complimenting Lord Chesterfield for his sensible remark, that "evil communications corrupt good manners."

☞ TO ADVERTISERS.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men of and around the surrounding cities, among those who buy and who sell—and among manufacturers and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting rooms, store houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and principal station houses in the two cities, where it is read and carried home to the families for perusal. As a medium for advertising, therefore, it offers inducements which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can offer, to all who desire to reach this large class of our citizens. The WEEKLY GAZETTE at this time has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia among substantial farmers and merchants than any other similar paper in this section of the State.

☞ THE DAILY GAZETTE is the oldest Newspaper in the West, and having an extensive circulation amongst the business men, and reaching all classes, it offers superior facilities to advertisers as also best medium through which to reach the public.

☞ THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is issued every Wednesday and Saturday, on a large blanket sheet, and contains in addition to the news of the week, a carefully prepared and reliable report of the Markets, commercial and monetary affairs—making it the best family Newspaper in the West.

D. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by Combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and sallow complexions indicate its necessity in almost every constitution. Immediate in all maladies for which this class of remedies is used, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following maladies, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tubercles, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Incrustations, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the sedentary diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description can write, or attestation would render credible.—Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhood, have suddenly reappeared in the very world as if just returned from protracted travel to a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, considered victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and last complications of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician had no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old cathartic, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly assistant, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disordered stomach.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so secure a fully effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, intractable as are its causes, a single box of these (D. M.) Iron Pills has often suffered for the most habitual case, including the stipendiary Gentleman.

In wakeful Dizziness, even when attended by Dyspepsia, confirmed, inveterate, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and constant hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has received the assent of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and long-lasting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, the medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known inconveniences.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been largely and well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it most assuredly be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high success and brilliancy.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Cool, grateful, complete digestion, and accumulation of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow the use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free by mail, address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, &c., should be addressed to

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the distressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon the children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which gathers in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections of the like origin, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ITCH, ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RUPTIONS and SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but the more formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints:—Costiveness, Spiritlessness, Headachearising from disordered Stomach; Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in the Head Heartin of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenzas, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from gloomy and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
