TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 13, 1860.

ALARMED AT THEIR OWN WORK.—The democratic politicians, who did everything in their power to create the excitement which now rages in the Southern States, have suddenly become alarmed at their own work, and now implore the Republicans to allay it. They are now calling on Mr. Lincoln to issue a pronunciamento, or to make a speech, or even to write a telegraphic dispatch, in order to relieve the Southern people from all apprehensions. They do not seem to remember that Mr. Buchanan, and not Mr. Lincoln, has the control of the government until the Fourth of March, and that he alone is responsible for its faithful administration until that time. If these gentlemen really desire to quiet the agitation, let them come out openly and acknowledge that they have, for political purposes, misrepresented the views of the Republican candidate for the Presidency. We agree with the Philadelphia Bulletin in its opinion, that—

"The public have no right to force upon Mr. Lincoln the anxieties and responsibilities of government before the date at which he will be obliged to take the reins into his own hands. In less than four months he will have to take the oath of office, and enter upon the onerous business of the American executive. During this short interval, he has his private business to manage, he has an immense correspondence to carry on, he has to make up his mind as to the gentlemen he will summon to his cabinet, and he has to study and observe the course of public events, the acts of the present executive, the proceedings in Congress, the designs and the temper of the Southern people. This is enough for one man's occupation, and even if it were proper and respectful towards President Buchanan, for him to intervene in the threatened conflict between State and Federal authority at the South, he would scarcely be able to do it effectively. Let the public remember that we have an actual President; and while they bear this in mind, let them not insult him by presuming that he is not equal to the present crisis."

THE GENERAL RESULT.

The returns from the several States have been received with the exception of Texas, California and Oregon. The following is the result:

FOR LINCOLN.		FOR BRECKINRIDGE.

THE only counties in Pennsylvania that gave majorities for the Reading ticket were Berks, Northampton, Columbia, Pike, Monroe, Fulton, Greene, and Clarion—eight counties out of sixty-five. The combined majorities of these counties did not reach much over half that cast for Lincoln in Allegheny county. The unofficial majorities are reported as follow:

Berks	2100
Columbia	500
Monroe	1200
Northampton	1000
Pike	400
Fulton	200
Clarion	300
Greene	600
Total	6300

This result is without a precedent in the political history of the State.

HOW THE PRESIDENT IS ELECTED.—The successive steps in the election of President and Vice-President of the United States are taken, according to existing laws, at the following dates:

1. By the act of Congress of 1845 the Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States are appointed in each State on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.

2. By the act of 1792 these Electors are to meet on the first Wednesday in December after, in their respective States, to cast their votes.

3. These votes, when cast, are to be certified by the Electors and sealed up and sent to the President of the Senate.

4. On the second Wednesday in February after, the sealed certificates of the Electors are to be broken open and the votes counted, and the result declared in the presence of Congress.

THE National Intelligencer last week contained a five column article, attempting to show that the President and his Cabinet were faithful and loyal to the Union. This was rather a heavy undertaking in consideration of the fact that Secretary Cobb has openly avowed his sympathy with the secessionists. In a subsequent article on the same subject, the Intelligencer refers to Mr. Buchanan's inaugural address as an evidence of his devotion to the Union. It might with the same propriety quote from the Duquesne letter for the purpose of sealing the damaging disclosures of the Covode Investigation Committee.

THE SOUTHERN CITIES.—Nearly every large city in the slaveholding States, save Baltimore, which is as erratic now as it was in 1856, have passed the most complete vote of pensure upon John C. Breckinridge. He is beaten by both Douglas and Bell in St. Louis, New Orleans, Louisville and Covington, Ky.; Mobile, Ala.; and Memphis, Tenn., and is defeated in Richmond, Va., by Bell, and run closely by Douglas. All these large emporiums of Southern commerce are most emphatically for the Union.

LOUISIANA NOT FOR SECESSION.—The New Orleans Picayune, in an article on the secession movement in South Carolina and Georgia, says:

"Louisiana, we venture to affirm, will neither lead nor follow in any secession movement. She acknowledges a fealty to the Constitution, and regards her own honor too highly to favor extreme measures before they become the last alternatives. In the words of the illustrious Jackson, whose memory she reverses, she believes, that compared to disunion, all other evils yet experienced are light, because that brings with it an accumulation of all."

VIRGINIA.—The Lincoln vote in Virginia will be quite large, thanks to the bravery and energy of the Republicans in that State who stood up heroically to the task of maintaining their principles. As far as heard from it is as follows: Ohio 769, Brooke 179, Hancock 258, Monongalia 77, Prince William 55, Preston 150, Mason 71; Loudoun 25, Fairfax 24—total, so far, 1532.

A WOMAN THROWS HER CHILD FROM A CAR WINDOW AND JUMPS OUT HERSELF.—A woman supposed to be insane, threw her child from one of the car windows on the Dedham Branch Railroad, this afternoon, about a mile the other side of the Roxbury station, and then threw herself from the window. The train which was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour, was immediately stopped, and the cars ran back to the spot where the incident occurred, but neither the woman or child was found to be seriously injured apparently. They were brought on to Roxbury, where, it was said, the woman resides.—Boston Herald, 7th.

AFTER HIM WITH A CLEVER.—The St. Joseph Journal says that a barber who married a young woman in Winthrop, lately having been pursued on by a former wife and, had his possessed that he had been killed on a railroad. The second wife sent her brother after him with a rifle. The brother soon discovered the trick, but says the rifle shall not go back empty if he can help it.

Nobody, we take it, cares how soon South Carolina goes out of the Union. A convulsion of nature which would separate that pestilent little State from the body of the Republic, and open a deep channel, or raise a mountain barrier, between her and the main land, would be joyfully accepted as a final solution of the quarrel that she has never failed to maintain with her peaceful and more enlightened neighbors of the North. She was intensely Tory during the Revolution; she has been arbitrary and despotic since; she is traitorous now. With a slave population largely outnumbering her whites; with a dividing line between the whites which separates them into two classes—the slave owners, rich, haughty and aristocratic, on one side, and the "poor whites," ignorant, degraded and poverty-stricken, on the other—she is powerless for good and not fearfully potent for evil. She can be endured like a chronic disease, which, though irritating, threatens no fatal result; but the peace of all parties would be best promoted by her withdrawal. If she will, let her go, and like a limb lopped from a healthy trunk, wilt and rot where she falls.

As willing as the entire North may be to part company with South Carolina, there are portions of the South which, in no event, will she be permitted to carry off with her. We refer to Florida and Louisiana, bought with the money of the whole people—the one commanding the inlet to the Gulf of Mexico, and the other the outlet of the great Valley of the Mississippi where it opens into the sea. These integral parts of the Republic were purchased by our people and raised from the condition of appendages of a despotic power, to independence, not for the convenience of the residents therein, but as measures of national aggrandizement and security. They cost hard dollars at a time when dollars were scarce; they are the nation's by a title in fee simple; the residents are tenants under a compact which is a perpetual lease, but without the power to convey title or disturb the right of eminent domain in the hands where purchase has lodged it. They will remain as they are, because they are still necessary for the completion of the purposes which justified their acquisition, and inevitable, cannot yet afford to permit them to become once more, as they were originally, the possession of some foreign and unfriendly power. And Texas is in the same category. She was acquired after a struggle in which the country lost thousands of men and one hundred millions of money. Her Wigfalls and others who are mouthing disunion threats, will take notice that Texas does not own Texas for any purpose of alienation or sale; and that, when the treason which is to put her under the protection of England or France, is sought to be consummated, the North who fought for and paid for the territory, will interpose objections to which the secessionists will be compelled to listen. To be traiture depends upon their will; but to be successful robbers of the Republic, they must overcome all the forces which the Republic can command.

The admonition which the North will address to Florida, Texas and the State of Louisiana, apply with equal force to Arkansas, and Missouri, both of which were organized out of the Louisiana purchase, and both of which are the property of the nation. Let the renters to cash be forewarned that they are wasting their breath; that, with such a claim as the States will use, possess to the Mississippi from mouth to source, that stream will never be given up to the control of two, three or a dozen refractory and disloyal members of the national household; and that Florida, reaching down upon Cuba, is a part of the Republic which cannot peaceably be wrested from the guardianship of the whole. —Chicago Tribune.

Peace and Good Will.

We rejoice to think, that notwithstanding the noisy demonstration and the calm determination also, of men in some of the Southern States, the intervening period before the fourth of March, will bring cool reflection and forbearance. We have a very confidence, in the sober second thought of the people, especially in the Southern States; where an impulsive disposition may drive men to sudden threats or preparations, but where the institutions are such, the habits of the people, their situation the nature of their property, and their every interest that conservative action must eventually prevail.

It is to be observed, that all this note of angry preparation which comes to us from some of the Southern States, is not at all defensive. It is aggressive. While yet the fate of the Union is in the hands of those in whom the South has the most confidence, these acts of disunion are performed. Before Mr. Lincoln has been inaugurated, they inaugurate rebellion and secession against the government themselves control.

These things are to be regretted, not feared. We have very faith in the other States of the South. We look to Virginia, and North Carolina, to Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas. No such sentiments can control the Old Dominion. She founded this great Union, and her children will defend it to the latest generation. We find, in her reception of the late Commissioner from South Carolina, a token of what her conduct will now be. Mr. Ruffin is not a representative of the sentiment of Virginia, but Mr. Mason, from the Norfolk District, is.

The folly of men cannot be prevented; but we may hinder its spread and its effects. Anger and outrage, rebellion and war, quarrel and disturbance have always existed, but their recurrence may be looked for; but there also recurs a time, constantly, when peace and good will resume their sway. To that season, more now is to come, and the quicker by reason of the present violence we look with confidence and hope.—Baltimore Patriot.

THE WHEREABOUTS OF THE TRAITOR CO—The correspondent in Smyrna of the Ne Times, writes that the conduct of George much a puzzle to the people of Hungary the world. They be surrendered at Villagos on full. His chances of success were less than to many a battle which he had won. It is proved that he knew of the pr desertion of 20,000 of the enemy to his ste And yet the vulgar supposition that bought over by the Russians or the Au seems improbable. There is no evidence having been bribed. He is living in co tive obscurity, as a Professor of Chemis Klagenfurth. He possesses neither weal distinction. His conduct if it was prom any selfish motive, entirely failed of its and remains as unexplained and unrewa it was unexpected.

THE fact that Abraham Lincoln runs best in the Slave State of Delaware is s lessly significant among the many significa suggestive facts of the glorious political can through which we have just passed. Th mington State Journal and Statesman, wh exceedingly jubilant over the result, oc returns which are nearly complete, and foot up for Breckinridge 6 147; Lincoln Bell 3,272, and Douglas 1,022. George P. who sympathises with the Republicans their leading ideas—the non extension o very, Free Homesteads, protection to Am Industry, &c.—is elected to Congress, there is, according to The Express, and like vexatious authority, no Republican in the Southern States, little Delaware c said to have done remarkably well. Sh do even better the next time.—N. Y. T

KENTUCKY AND THE UNION.—The follo an extract from a letter of a large Mas House in Kentucky, to its correspondents ously:—Phil. Bull.

"The election being over, and Lincoln e beyond all doubt, we are in hopes all w they should, unite in giving his administ their hearty support. We have no fears secession or nullification. Rest assure people of Kentucky will see that he is inaugu no matter how the South may resist. They mu shall take Mr. Lincoln for President. We confidently look for better collections now that tion is over, and all branches of trade to revive.

Eruptions! Salt Rheum! Erysipelas!

It is now generally admitted that all eruptive diseases depend upon some internal or constitutional cause, and that to use washes or ointments for them is a sure way to injure the system, and only to drive, but not cure the disease. But HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC SALT RHEUM PILLS are a true specific for all such diseases. They cure Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Erysipelas, Pimples on the Face, Ringworm, and Nettle Rash, by curing the cause upon which they depend, and by restoring the skin to the state of health and purity. Thus, not only is the disease cured, but the softness and beauty of the complexion restored.

Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Five boxes, $1.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREY'S HOMŒOPATHIC Specifics, with Book of Directions, and twenty different Remedies, in large vials, morocco case, $5; ditto in plain case, $3; case of fifteen boxes, and Book, $2. Single boxes, 25 cents and 50 cents.
