SUPREME COURT.—Chief Justice Lowrie and Judges Woodward, Thompson, Read and Strong on the Bench.

Thursday, Nov 15.—Court opened at 9 a. m. The following cases came up for argument:

Noggle vs. Hudson; error to Lawrence. Argued by McGuffin for plaintiff in error. Craig and Taylor, contra; not heard.

Hestle vs. McFarland; error to Lawrence. Argued by Taylor for plaintiff in error and by McGuffin contra.

Bay vs. Horts; error to Lawrence. Argued by Craig and McGuffin for plaintiff in error and by Ayers contra.

Boynton vs. Winslow; error to Elk. Argued by Lucas for plaintiff in error. Johnson, contra, not heard.

Gibson vs. Winslow; error to Elk. Argued by Cheffy for plaintiff in error and by Johnson contra.

Court adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Before Judges M'Clure, Adams and Parke.

Thursday, Nov. 15th.—This Court opened at 9 o'clock. The first case taken up was Commonwealth vs. Lucinda Hutchinson alias Patton, indicted for larceny on oath of Lizzie Ellis. The parties resided in a notorious bagnio in the Sixth ward last July, which the defendant left about the middle of that month, taking with her a quantity of clothing valued at $19 belonging to the prosecutrix. The defence was that when the defendant left she was going to the country to make a visit, and that the prosecutrix lent her the clothing above mentioned, with the understanding that she should return them, which she did as soon as she came back. The jury acquitted the defendant and she was discharged from custody.

Commonwealth vs. Caspar Gang, indicted for selling liquor without a license. This was one of the "Fair Ground cases," which came up several days since. Captain Gang received permission in September from the President of the Agricultural Society to occupy a stand on the Fair ground, and paid forty dollars for the privilege, as did a number of others. Notwithstanding the above they were all indicted by the grand jury for selling liquor without a license. When this case was called up yesterday, the Captain plead guilty to the charge, and was sentenced by Judge McClure to pay a fine of fifteen dollars.

Commonwealth vs. James Miller, indicted for larceny on oath of Maurice Brennan. The defendant was in the employ of the prosecutor, a saloon keeper on Grant street, last month, and on the 15th of that month was discharged for some reason that didn't come out. Soon after he left a number of small articles were missing, and Brennan arrived at the conclusion that Miller was the thief. An information was made against him before Alderman Lewis who had him arrested. The grand jury returned the case to Court, but as nothing could be proved against him, the jury acquitted him without leaving their box.

Com. vs. Joseph Kahn, indicted for larceny on oath of Joseph Spence. Kahn, who is a German Jew, was in the employ of Spence & Co., a firm in the trimming business on Market street, the first of last September. Goods were rapidly disappearing, which were known not to have been sold, Mr. Spence at last suspected Kahn as the thief, and accordingly watched him. His suspicions were at length verified by seeing Kahn dart out of the store one evening with a bundle of goods under his coat, when he thought no one was watching him, and go rapidly down the street to Diamond alley and enter the house of a Mrs. Cochran. Mr. Spence returned to the store and going up stairs to the room occupied by Kahn as a sleeping apartment, opened a trunk belonging to him, and found a lot of linen goods secreted in it. An information was made against the thief before Alderman Donaldson, which he got some inkling of and made an endeavor to escape, which nearly proved successful, as it was, he gave the police quite an exciting chase, but they eventually arrested him. The jury found a verdict of guilty without leaving their box.

George Barrows was sentenced by Judge McClure to pay a fine of $10, the costs of prosecution and undergo 10 days imprisonment, for selling liquor on Sunday.

Court adjourned at 1 o'clock to meet at 9 this morning.

COURT OF OYER & TERMINER—Before Judges McClure, Adams and Parke.

Thursday, Nov. 15, 1860.—Court opened at 9 o'clock. The first case taken up was the Com. vs. William Boniface, indicted for arson, on oath of Thomas Moreland.

The prosecutor, Mr. Moreland, is part owner in a livery stable on the corner of Liberty street and Spring alley, in the 5th ward, which was set on fire on the night of the 11th of September. The fire was fortunately discovered and extinguished before it had accomplished any considerable injury.

Mr. Moreland being sworn, testified that on the night in question, he locked up the stable about 10 o'clock. No person was left there. When he returned in the morning he was informed by his partner, Mr. Mitchell, that an attempt had been made the night before to fire the building, under a stairway leading from the first floor to the loft, which was occupied by Meyer & Son, cabinet makers, as a pain t g room. Witness repaired to the spot and found the charred remains of the fire.

Jacob Matters, one of the city night police, testified to passing the stable about 11 o'clock that night, and hearing an alarm of fire issue from Spring alley. He ran down to alley, and saw a man disappearing in the opposite direction; tried to overtake him, but could not, as the man was running very rapidly.

J. W. Connell being sworn, testified that he lived in Spring alley, near the stable. He was at home on the night in question. About eleven o'clock he was sitting at the window in his room and saw two men enter the stable, and presently emerge. Five minutes afterwards he saw the fire through the windows of the stable. Giving the alarm, he left the house with a bucket of water, and going over, broke into the stable, and succeeded in putting the fire out.

Robert Johnson, one of the Fifth ward police, testified that he arrested the defendant several days after the fire, as common vagrant. On their way to the jail, Boniface told him if he would call at the jail next day, he (Boniface) would tell him "something which he could make pay." The next day the officer did call and was informed that the fire in Moreland & Mitchell's livery stable had been made by a man named Andrew Connor. Boniface told Johnson that Connor had broached the plan of the fire to him, and said that they could make a good thing out of it, as a firm were putting up new fronts along there and would pay them for it. He said Connor went to the stable that night, but he became frightened and would not go in. Connor went in and set fire to the building, while he waited outside.

The witness went to Alderman Jones and related what the prisoner had told him. Connor was accordingly arrested, but after an examination was discharged, there being no evidence to hold him. Andrew Connor, the man whom Boniface accused as the incendiary, was sworn and testified that he had known the prisoner for seven or eight years. The night of the fire he was in the engine room under the Court House, all night, attending to the furnaces.

Elijah Ferguson, one of the Court House watchmen, corroborated the last part of Connor's testimony.

The defence commenced just at the time for adjournment, so the case will probably be concluded this morning.

DISCHARGED BY THE COURT.—Maurice Brennan was arrested while in Court yesterday (as prosecutor in the case of Ja mes Miller, whom he had arrested for larceny,) by Deputy Sheriff Cook, on the two procesess from Court, for selling liquor without a license. He was committed to jail, but afterwards entering bail, the Court discharged him from custody.

John McQuade, who was committed to jail by Alderman Bell, of Allegheny, for trover and conversion, was discharged from custody yesterday by the Court of Quarter Sessions.

LARCENY OF A CASE OF SHOES.—A native of the Emerald Isle named Michael Maloney, who has lately been employed as a deck hand on the Louisville packet Key West, was arrested yesterday afternoon, by officer Moon, of the Mayor's police, at the instance of the Captain of the boat who charged him with the larceny of a case of worth $21.85, from the steamer's cargo. The defendant was found by the officer breaking the case open on the levee. He was committed for trial.

THE SHERIDAN STREET ASSAULT.—Mr. Thos. Connor, the telegraph operator who was assaulted on Smithfield street, Tuesday afternoon, by Ellen Brown, alias Miss Mooney, made an information against her before Alderman Jones, of the Fifth ward, yesterday, charging her with committing an assault and battery with intent to kill on him. The defendant is now undergoing a ten days' imprisonment in the county jail for disorderly conduct.

DISCHARGED FROM CUSTODY.—Wash. Fraser, the suspected burglar, who was arrested by the Sixth ward police, but against whom nothing could be proved, (see GAZETTE of Wednesday,) which resulted in his being discharged from custody, there not being enough evidence to hold him.

OIL INTELLIGENCE.—The Titusville Gazette says Tibbals & Johnson, of Erie, have a good show for oil in a well at that place. They are down 140 feet.

The Warren Ledger says that Mr. Hall, of Erie, has a fine well at Tidioute. He has an engine and pump on the ground, and will soon be ready for active operations.

A lot of oil, consisting of some two hundred barrels, came up from Virginia on the steamer Eunice, Wednesday. It was in a crude state, and was taken from a well in the vicinity of Parkersburg. The Virginia wells are said to be yielding finely just now, and speculation in oil sites in the more favored districts are very brisk. Several Pittsburghers are interested down there, and others are making arrangements for investing in the same neighborhood.

In a letter to the Philadelphia North American Mr. P. M. Price, of Erie, who is travelling in the Allegheny oil region says:—On arriving at Union, 26 miles from Erie, we began to see the first indication of the oil region and its excitements. To this point the oil from Titusville, an Oil Creek, about 22 miles distance from the road, is brought by wagons. Here were great numbers of barrels and small engines on the platform, as at Erie, and an oil refinery has been here erected.

At Columbus, 39 miles from Erie, work was in active progress on the Atlantic and Great Western road, intended to connect the Sunbury and Erie at this point with New York and Erie at Little Valley, and thus divert the trade of Erie to New York, unless the middle division of the Sunbury and Erie road shall be speedily completed.

At Irvine, on the Allegheny river, 61 miles from Erie, the oil from Tidioute is received on the road, and here was the same display of barrels, engines, &c., as I have before alluded to. The oil placer lies on the Allegheny river, about 14 miles below Irvine, at the village of Tidioute, and its product is mostly brought to Irvine in boats, and there transferred to the railroad.

We went down to Tidioute in a buggy over an excellent road, but found many other pilgrims, by stages and other conveyances, pursuing the same laborious journey. At the lower end of the village, for a half mile each side of the river, and on an island in its middle, the wells were scattered thickly along, presenting a most animated and interesting spectacle. In this space there were over fifty wells in various stages of progress; some just commenced by some hardy and sanguine operators; some had gone down 50 feet, many over 100 feet, and some over 200 feet. There were six wells in full operation, and supplied with engines, several of which were pumping oil at the rate of 25 to 30 barrels each per day, some fifteen more had reached the oleaginous pressure, and were only awaiting their engines and pumps to commence active operations while the remainder had not yet reached a vein, but their sanguine owners appeared to have no doubts of ultimate success. From one well on the island, about 600 barrels had come up spontaneously when first opened, and had then stopped running. The owners are now putting up their engine and pump.

CLOTHES THIEF.—A man about thirty five years of age named Alexander Brown was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman McBride for stealing a quantity of children's clothes, the whole lot worth $5, from a clothes line belonging to a man named John A Jamison, who lives near the Copper Works, up the Allegheny river.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—John W. Johnson was committed to jail yesterday, by Alderman Jones, for committing a deadly assault on a miserable dealer on Wayne street, named Robert A Colville.

THEATRE.—Our American Cousin at home or Lord Dundreary abroad will be presented this evening. Mr. Sothern appears as "My Lord."

THE cheapest and the best—the Pittsburgh Almanac, published by Hunt & Miner. A large 72 page book, calculated and edited by Sanford C. Hill, Esq., is sold at five cents a copy by all subscribing dealers every where.

DIARIES of all kinds for 1861. The cheapest and best ever offered for sale in this city can be seen at Hunt & Miner's, 84 and 86 Wood street. Dealers will be supplied at extremely low prices.

SHINGLES.—The shingle market is very dull just now, and prices have a declining tendency. This decline is attributed by a great many to the supply being more than equal to the demand, but the real cause may be found in the fact that the demand is not so great as in former years, although it is also being thought of when "Groggon's celebrated Asphalt Roofing Felt" can be obtained. The agent for this excellent material may be found at his office, Laughlin's building, Canal bank, near the city Water Works.

☞We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must not be confounded with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is Food for the Blood already prepared for digestion, adapted to the taste and natural in action, and what one gains, he retains. Let those, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic disease or ailment, take of this Blood Food and be restored to health. Many persons have received a supply of this article, and also of the world renowned NATURE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL, which every mother should have. It contains the properties of any three other tonics, and of course must be invaluable for all infantile complaints, such as colic, allay all pain, and act on the gums in process of teething, and all the ailments of children. Let all mothers and nurses, who have sickened anxious eyes and sleepless nights, procure a supply, and be at once relieved.

THE LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

RECEIVED AT THE DAILY GAZETTE OFFICE.

Further News by the Canada.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The China advices received at London by the overland mail are contained in papers furnished by the arrival of the Canada. The dates from Hong Kong are to September 12th. It is reported that Lord Elgin and Baron Gros had gone to Pekin as the guests of the Emperor under an escort of cavalry. The conquest of the Taku forts is described as a dashing affair. The allies were established at Ootang, and had to march twelve miles before they arrived at the object of attack. They found the road fortified with cannon, and other military preparations indicating unwonted skill. The allied army worked together harmoniously and with equal gallantry in the attack. The English troops captured the first fort.

Napoleon's private Secretary has accepted the proposal of the English volunteers to make an excursion to Paris. He says they will be welcome.

The possession of the camp brought the allies within half a mile of the great fort, which appears to be the key of the whole position. The attack was made on the 21st from English and French boats drawing the attention of the forts lower down.

When the batteries were opened the Armstrong guns threw out commodious shells, which burst within the walls of the fort, causing an awful explosion, making the ground shake; but amid the ruins the Tartars stood to their guns, and as the field pieces advanced and the riflemen had got under the walls, the fire from the fort was still hot, and many were struck by the rude missiles. It was at this point that the allies lost many of their men. The resistance of the Tartars was at last overcome.

The surrender of the other forts followed, but not without some chicanery on the part of the Viceroy. The loss was severe; twenty-two officers were wounded, two dangerously. The 44th Regiment had ten men killed and fifty wounded, four mortally. The 67th Regiment had six killed and forty dangerously wounded. The total loss of the British killed and wounded was 161.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—An order has been issued by the Navy Department to fit out the sloop of war Macedon, at Portsmouth, N. H., for the home squadron. The St. Louis and Saline having nearly completed the usual term of office, are to be withdrawn from it.

It seems that Senator Hammond's resignation is immediate, a letter having been received here directing his personal effects to be sent forthwith to South Carolina.

The Collector at Beaufort, S. C., has officially indicated his resignation, being unwilling he says to serve under a Republican administration.

It has been heretofore stated that the subject of an address was under executive consideration, but it now appears that the idea is abandoned in view of the early meeting of Congress, to whom, by the constitution, the President is required to give information of the state of the Union.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15.—There is a better feeling in commercial circles to-day. There was a moderate run on the Citizens' Bank, but all demands were promptly met, and the best informed express full confidence in the soundness of that institution.—Many manufacturing establishments, clothiers, &c., have reduced the number of their employees, which affects severely the working classes, but it is hoped that confidence will soon be measurably restored, and the former activity in trade resumed.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 15.—A special correspondent of a Philadelphia paper is sending very exaggerated reports from this city. There was a slight demonstration made at the Citizens' Bank, yesterday, but all demands were promptly met. Shares sold at a slight decline, but higher than two weeks since.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—A Union demonstration is soon to take place in Bonds and Randolph counties. The coup, candle, and oil factory at the Penitentiary of Market street and Chouteau Avenue, three miles west of the city, burned last evening. The distance prevented the engines from doing service. The combustible nature of the material, joined with the great scarcity of water, rendered efforts to save the building fruitless. The loss is estimated at $80,000, and is partially insured.

AUGUSTA, GA., Nov. 15.—The brokers of this city buy Kentucky and Tennessee money at five per cent. discount, payable in Georgia and South Carolina money.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The steamship Hermonia sailed at noon to-day for Hamburgh, with 45,000 dollars in specie, and one hundred and seventeen passengers.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Samuel H. Barnes, the Canal Commissioner elect, died of erysipelas at Norwich, last night.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 15.—The Gazette has returns from 147 counties, which give Bell 472 and The remaining counties give Letcher 178 majority.

Weekly Review of the Pittsburgh Market.

Reported specially for the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY, Nov. 16, 1860.

REMARKS.—Now that the excitement which has been prevalent during the late Presidential contest, has subsided business is beginning to look up a little. There has been more activity in the general market since our last, but no change. The aggregate sales have been larger and our forwarders are pressed; there has been no essential business men seem pretty confident of a good season's trade. Several Pittsburghers are interested down there, and others are making arrangements for investing in the same neighborhood

In a letter to the Philadelphia North American Mr. P. M. Price, of Erie, who is travelling in the Allegheny oil region says:—On arriving at Union, 26 miles from Erie, we began to see the first indication of the oil region and its excitements. There were six wells in full operation, and supplied with engines, several of which were pumping oil at the rate of 25 to 30 barrels each per day, some fifteen more had reached the oleaginous pressure, and were only awaiting their engines and pumps to commence active operations while the remainder had not yet reached a vein, but their sanguine owners appeared to have no doubts of ultimate success. From one well on the island, about 600 barrels had come up spontaneously when first opened, and had then stopped running. The owners are now putting up their engine and pump.
