PITTSBURGH:
TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 20, 1860.

THE RESULT IN PENNSYLVANIA

We publish in this morning's Gazette the official vote of all the counties in this State except Forest—a small county which gave Curtin 60 majority in a poll of 208 votes. It will be seen that Lincoln leads the Reading ticket 92,622 votes, and has over all parties combined, the magnificent majority of 62,518—nearly twice as large as that cast for the Republicans in October. The total vote of the State, not including Forest, was 474,518; which, compared with the October election, shows a decrease of 18,124. Lincoln, however, polled 6,116 votes more than Curtin. Pennsylvania leads the Republican column, and in the dolls from the last Presidential election is taken into consideration, she is unquestionably THE BANNER STATE OF THE UNION.

False Alarms and Bogus Dispatches.

The New York Herald and the Philadelphia Enquirer, which is a very weak imitation of the New York Herald, through correspondents in South Carolina, Georgia and other Southern States, have given currency to a number of exciting rumors in regard to the secession movement, which have no foundation in truth. Some of these reports are manufactured at home, while others are originated by mischievous agitators at the South. Among the large number of sensation items that have been already pronounced fabrications, our attention has been directed to the following:

The Public Treasurer of North Carolina telegraphs that the story that "the Governor and Council" of that State "are in session and ready to secede," is an unfounded hoax.

The Collector of the Port of Charleston telegraphs denying the story that Clearances are refused at that office, and says his "business goes on as usual."

The President indignantly denies the story started that he is "pledged to secession."

The Secretary of War announces that there is no truth in the story that a Charleston Military Company has "taken possession of the U. S. Arsenal" there.

The Captain of a steamer said to have "hoisted the Palmetto flag" denies that he has ever raised any ensign but the stars and stripes."

The "Cavalry Encampment" in Virginia is announced to be only an ordinary military matter, called before the election and without any reference to it. Discussion. So of the "State Military Convention" of Georgia."

Only one of the resignations of Southern Senators and Representatives takes effect until the day after the close of the session of Congress.

The resignations of the Judicial Officers depend on their acceptance by the President, and not one of them has been yet accepted.

The "resignation of Postmasters" amount to precisely one, in a country village.

The "Declaration of Independence of South Carolina, instead of a public document, turns out to be merely a bit of scribbling by a Government Clerk for his own amusement.

It is clear that reports from the South should be received with great caution, as there are mischievous and unprincipled agitators in both sections who would hesitate at no falsehood in their efforts to bring about a revolution in the country. To such persons the columns of the "sensation" press are always open, and hence the profusion of false rumors, which are daily inflicted on the country.

NOW AND THEN.—Among the most rampant of the blue cockade secessionists of South Carolina is Mr. Boyce, one of the members of Congress from that State. He professes to be anxious to leave the Union immediately, and expatiates in a glowing manner at the prospect of South Carolina leading off in the formation of a separate government. Nine years ago Mr. Boyce did not talk after this fashion. In 1851 he wrote a letter against secession, in which he said: "Secession is against the wishes of the other Southern States. Ought not this have some influence with us? Should we not defer to our allies, who have twenty times the interest in the institution of Slavery that we have? How can we ever hope for a union of the South if we, a mere handful of Southern people insist on enforcing our opinions on the rest of the South?" Again, he said: "Secession, separate nationalities, with all its burdens, is no remedy. It is no redress for the past; it is no security for the future. It is only a magnificent sacrifice of the present, without anywise gaining in the future."

CONSIDERATE.—VERY.—The New York Herald lately published the following despatch from Charleston:

"Mayor Macbeth to-day notified the agents of the southern steamship lines that he would not henceforth permit the landing of steerage passengers unless the steamship companies guarantee to maintain them in case they become emigrants. The agents here have accordingly telegraphed North to refuse such passengers. This movement is an expansion of an ordinance hitherto a dead letter, but now revived because it is feared that in the midst of anticipated secession next winter at the North, crowds of paupers will flood the southern cities."

The South is now getting the material for its "corn dodgers" from the North, and the price of beef per pound in that charming region is about 20 cents. "Northern paupers," if they find it necessary to emigrate, will seek a more plentiful land. They have no stomachs for cotton seed garnished with clay, which is, we believe, the ailment of that class of Southern citizens whom the negroes denominate "white trash."

As act of retribution has been done to Mr. Garrit Smith by the New York Democratic Vigilant Association, in withdrawing the charge they made a year ago, that Mr. Smith was implicated in the insanity of the John Brown raid. They say:

"We are now convinced that there was no ground for such connection, and we therefore take this opportunity to make the correction, and to express our regret for the error and for the wrong done to you.

"It seems proper that we should also say that the address in question was chiefly compiled from articles in the newspapers, and that before its publication we were assured that its statements were correct."

It is said, per contra, that some time since Smith commenced suit for slander against these gentlemen, and that they have settled by writing this letter and paying $1,000 each, which sum Mr. Smith intends to devote to charitable purposes.

We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Morris, Tasker & Co., in another column, headed "Artesian Well." They have sent us a circular list of Artesian Well Tubes. From their established character which is so favorably known in every section of the country, we deem it only necessary to ask those interested to give the notice a perusal, and to remember the "Pearl Iron Works" when they desire anything in that line.

A WASHINGTON despatch to the New York Herald says:

A letter from a strong cotton house in Charleston says that there is really no unanimity even in South Carolina for secession. The business men and artisans and mechanics, and all the professional classes, are decidedly opposed to secession, and did not wish South Carolina "to throw the tea overboard," as she has done.

GRATIFYING NEWS!—The New Orleans Crescent says that the mayor of that city received "a dispatch from Boston, signed by a 'Mr. Whaley,' to this effect: That the Black Republicans are thoroughly organized to attack the South upon any attempt at secession; that they have employed General Shields, of this country, and General McMahon, of France, to lead the army, which will number a million of men, or more; and that if called out, their first movement will be to seize and occupy the cities of Boston, New York and New Orleans. A bloody civil war, adds Mr. Whaley, is inevitable, and the South should be prepared.

A CORRESPONDENT suggests that the "Minute men" companies forming at the South, should personate the last syllable of an well known, instead of that of Bedford Minute Mercury.

[For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Will you permit a suggestion or two in your paper on the subject of the election of a United States Senator? Since hanging Daniel Sturgeon fell asleep, (politically,) Pennsylvania has had no representative in the Upper House of Congress from West of the Alleghenies. Is it not time, then, that the west should be again considered, in the councils of the State, in the selection of a person for this high and most important position?

But while the west has been hallooed, within the last three or four decades, to furnish for this high office one man, and that a cipher—a cipher, however, that was made to tell but too often, by its position, against the true interests of the commonwealth—the north-western portion of the State, bounding full one-third of its territory, has never yet been favored with a Senatorial representative in Congress. Is it not just, then, that the man who is to succeed Governor Bigler in the Senate of the United States should be chosen from the western part of the State, and in strict justice, from the Northern portion of that part? But the character of the man is quite as important as his locality; and among the Republicans who have been named in connection with the next Senatorship, none, it impresses me, have higher claims, or are better fitted by age, political experience, integrity, and exalted talents to honor the office and serve the State efficiently, than the Hon. JOHN H. WALKER, of Erie. A native of Pennsylvania, who has passed his whole life on to mature years within her borders, he has learned to love the dear old Commonwealth, and has always labored, both in private and public life, to advance her best interests. As a member of the State Senate a few years since, and as Speaker of that body, he commanded the highest respect and confidence of his peers by his ability, integrity, and energy of character. At the bar and on the public platform, he has few superiors as a logical, forcible, and eloquent orator. As a Republican, he has been a true and faithful worker in the ranks of the party since its organization, and during the last campaign rendered most efficient services in behalf of Republican principles, and in advocating the election of Abraham Lincoln. Possessing great strength of will and inflexibility of purpose, when satisfied that he is in the right, with a clear brain and a brave heart, he is just of that stamp of men most needed in the national councils in these troublous times.

If not in the west, the north-west, is entitled to the Senator, where can a better man be found than John H. WALKER. Yours, &c.,

R.

Secession Curing Itself.

The violent language of certain individuals at the South—for the secession movement really extends no further than this—and especially the unfeatured disregard of the interests of all other Southern states manifested by these talkers in South Carolina, are beginning to have their effect; and that is now no doubt will rapidly prove to be a curative one. The game of the panic makers here and elsewhere is to be beginning to be understood, and when this comes to be generally known, the reaction will only add largely to the curative process. On the former subject the Washington Star, which more than any other Democratic newspaper published at the federal capital reflects the opinion of the unbiassed intelligent citizens and residents, holds the following language in its issue of yesterday:

The manner in which Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland and Tennessee are now awaking to a sense of their duty to themselves in the crisis which is, however, soon to spoil the sport of those in New York and elsewhere who are thus "operating for a fall." They have put their people of the States named down in simply whether they will consent to have their slave property rendered still more insecure, in order that the people of the states further South, whose slave property is now certainly secure, may, as some of them falsely tender it will more secure. The extreme Southern states cannot precipitate themselves, even into revolution, without well nigh entirely depriving the Northern tier of slaveholding states of all hope of the future security of their slave property.

Hence the even greater and more immediate interest than their own, in their proposed action, which the northern tier of slaveholding states really have. Under such circumstances what could be in worse faith towards Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, and Tennessee than the conduct of the late speech of Mr. Keitt, delivered at Charleston, wherein he proclaims it to be the purpose of South Carolina alone, to pull down the pillars of the constitution, if the other slaveholding states decline taking part in that undertaking?

Who is there that does not perceive in that declaration that the election of Lincoln is not the cause of, but rather the mere opportunity for, the present attitude of South Carolina with reference to the future of the South, in which her interest is—to make the most of it—not a tithe of that of Virginia, Maryland or Kentucky? Where she now loses one dollar by the escape of slaves, each of those states lose one hundred. Were her current schemes carried out, they would lose five thousand dollars in that way, where she would lose five dollars. Yet forsooth Mr. Keitt claims for her—South Carolina—the right thus to jeopard without Virginia's consent, her vast property interest in slaves, under the plea of seeking greater security for slave property where it is at this moment as secure as any existing under the government of the United States.

ANOTHER Instance of Southern intolerance is mentioned. Geo. B. Eddy, a piano forte tuner was sent to Augusta, Ga., by one of the largest houses in the trade in Boston at the request of their agent in that city. Mr. Eddy reached there on the 5th of Oct., and entered into the employ of a Southerner. At one of the houses he visited he entered into conversation with two young ladies who appeared to have been instigated to draw out his political preferances, which were expressed in favor of the nominations of Bell and Everett. These replies appear to have been falsely reported to the editor of the Independent South a fire-eating newspaper in Waynesboro', Ga., and a sensation article in that paper and the reception of a note by Mr. Eddy, over the signature of "Many Citizens" ordering him to leave the city immediately. Mr. Eddy accordingly left on the 8th inst., and has returned to Boston.

THE NEXT U. S. SENATOR.—The Albany Express, discussing the question as to who the next U. S. Senator from this State will be, says:

"Carl Schurz will probably be a candidate, but the Know-Nothing proclivities of the leading Republicans there will be likely to keep him out in the cold."

No man stands higher in the confidence and regard of the Republicans of Wisconsin than Carl Schurz. They appreciate his great talents and his eminent services to the Republican cause. But he is not eligible to the U. S. Senate and is not a candidate for the political honor. As to "Know Nothingism" among "the leading Republicans" of Wisconsin, there is not as much of it in the whole State, as there is in any one column of the Albany Express.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

WARM AUTUMN WEATHER.—On the 16th October, the thermometer in Stockton, California, was ranged from 90 to 98 degrees in the shade.

OUR VICE PRESIDENT ELECT.—The Hon. W. S. Lindsay, who is now in this country as the representative of the British shipping interest, paid the following deserved tribute to Mr. Hamlin in his speech before the Philadelphia Board of Trade:

While he said he had met most of the Governors of the States through which he had passed, and had enjoyed interviews with a very large number of prominent men of the country, in particular the Hon. Hannibal Hamlin of Maine. He spent an afternoon at the quiet residence of this gentleman, and felt bound to say that for comprehensive knowledge of those commercial and maritime questions in which both nations are interested he had met with no gentleman so fully versed as the gentleman just elected Vice President of the United States."

UNITED STATES TROOPS AT THE SOUTH.—As some interest attaches at present to the complement of the United States soldiers stationed at the South, we append a correct list of them: At Fort Monroe, Va., 8 Companies of Artillery; at Fayetteville Arsenal, N. C., 1 Company of Artillery; at Fort Moultrie, S. C., 2 Companies of Artillery; at Augusta, Ga., 1 Company of Artillery; Key West, Fa., 1 Company of Artillery; Barracks Barracks, near Pensacola, Fa., 1 Company of Artillery; Baton Rouge, La., one Company of Artillery. Total, about eight hundred men. There are about 120 U. S. Marines at Norfolk and Pensacola. The recruiting station of Jefferson Mo., and Louisville, have no full company garrisoning them just now.

FATAL CARELESSNESS.—George Day, while carelessly handling an old flintlock musket, last Friday, at Eldridge Landing, Delaware, pulled the trigger not, supposing the piece was loaded. It went off however, the contents taking effect in the body of a little daughter of Nathan Watson, killing her on the spot.

A NAIL IN THE BRAIN.—Geoffrey J. Lovalle, who was shot in a fight with T. B. Kershaw, at Petersburg, Va., died on the 12th inst. The wound was inflicted on the 15th of October, and the pistol was charged with a horse shoe nail. The nail was found in his brain, where it has been for nearly a month.

AT the late vote on annexation in Naples, a woman, who, from her heroism, has become famous, La Sanglovannara, claimed the right to vote, and voted. She is the leader of a large district in the City of Naples, and fought at Capua. Having borne arms she was adjudged to have gained the right of suffrage.

ESMONDALE ADVICE.

Let no one neglect a cold or a slight cough. Tooomuch delog so, have had one cold added to another, until the mucous membranes, lining the air passages, has become excessively irritated, and even permanently thickened, and soon chronic cough, chronic pneumonia, and consumption, successively gallop along. The best time to cure all this is when it begins. If you are so fortunate as to possess a case of HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC REMEDIES, and if you do not, you ought to set out and take Coton PILLS, and then two or three pills per day, with care as to renewed exposure, will bring you all right in a day or two.

If your cough has got further along, then more care and more patience is necessary for a cure, though it has in the same direction. Our advice is, to keep the feet warm, the head cool, and take Humphrey's Homœopathic Coton Pills. Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes, $1.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREY'S HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS' with Book of Directions, and twenty different Remedies, in large vials, morocco case, $5; ditto, in plain case, $4; case of fifteen boxes, and book, $2. Single boxes, 25 cents and 50 cents.

These Remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address Dr. F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.—This purely vegetable remedy combines in itself the properties of an Antiseptic, a mild Cathartic, and a Tonic. It quickly removes from the blood, and other fluids of the body, the impurities of unhealthy secretions, which engendered and feed disease, thus striking at the root of the matter. Although proved an efficacious, it may be taken at all times with perfect safety, as it contains no powerful drastic properties to irritate the system, or mineral poison to ruin the constitution.

Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 100 Fulton street, New York.

Sold also by R. A. FAHNESTOCK & CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold also by Druggists generally. no7-d1w&wly
