Absurd Dancing.

Dancing is a very ancient and likewise a very universal institution. It is practiced by barbarous and civilized nations—by religious societies and in society to which religion is a stranger. It is the recreation and amusement of the Fejee Islander and Guinea negro, as well as of the most cultivated and refined nation. David, we are told, danced before the Tabernacle, and Socrates delighted in the dance. France, however, was the birthplace of modern dances and balls, and Catharine of Medicis was distinguished above all the Queens of France, for the gorgeousness and originality of her festivals and court balls. Once, while on a visit to Bayonne, her court was composed of her daughter, the Queen of Spain, the Dukes of Saxony, and Lorraine, and other princes—Balls, festivals, and plays followed each other in rapid succession; but the most brilliant of these entertainments was given upon a beautifully wooded island in the Bayonne river. Here was erected a large circular saloon, handsomely decorated and surrounded by twelve arbors. Festooned chandeliers depended from the trees, and within each arbor was a table that would seat twelve persons. In the center of the saloon was placed the table for the King, the two Queens, and the higher dignitaries of the court. The musicians were hid among the trees so as to be heard and not seen. The royal table was served by the Queen's maids of honor, dressed as wood nymphs and naiads, while the edibles and liquors were brought in by servants in the guise of satyrs. Whilst supper was in progress numerous groups of dancers appeared in the saloon, attired in their national costumes, accompanied by musicians performing characteristic airs and executing national dances. As the royal party and the guests arose from the table, the saloon, arbors, tables, and dancers, disappeared as if by magic, and the astonished guests found themselves within a seemingly natural amphitheatre. A series of the stately dances of that period concluded the affair.

At court balls in the sixteenth century it was the practice for the ladies to sit in rows, with their cavaliers behind them. When the signal for dancing was given the King or Prince rose from his seat, whereupon the entire assemblage also rose. The King then opened the dance with the Queen or a princess royal. The rest followed the royal couple in the order of their rank, the ladies on the right and their partners on the left. While the royal party was on the floor it was considered a breach of good manners for any one to be seated. Persons of the highest rank usually danced only five minutes. At these balls the ladies usually appeared in full gala costume, stiff whalebone skirts, and richly embroidered heavy robes, with long trails; uncommonly tight corsets; the dresses low in the neck, and exposing the shoulders; a coiffure of immense height; the head and neck overloaded with jewelry; and exceedingly tight shoes, with high pointed heels. All this would have made any of the fascinating dances of the present day impossible, and rendered even the slow and dignified steps of that age a wearisome task instead of a pleasure. A dancer who excelled in the minuet secured a European reputation, and Don John, of Austria, Viceroy of the Netherlands, once journeyed incognito from Brussels to Paris in order to see himself, unrecognized, the best dancer of the Continent—Margaret of Valois—go through a minuet at a Court ball.—[N. Y. Evening Post.

THE wife and daughter of Mr. Theophilus Johnson, a ship carpenter of San Francisco, were killed and his house set on fire, a few weeks since, by a crazy Sandwich-Islander, whose only motive seems to have been the desire to possess himself of a pair of Mr. Johnson's boots, and to conceal the theft by murder and arson.

MR. Daniel Swearingen, late of Tuscarawas county, Ohio, was crossing the prairie, lately, with his family, on his way to their home in the West. A prairie fire overtook them, his wife and four children were burned to death in the wagon, and he, falling out, was kicked by one of the horses, and unable to help them.

AN Irishman out West wanting to burn some green wood rapidly, directed a small stream of gunpowder from a keg upon the burning pile. He did not cut off the supply soon enough, and was blown to pieces. The coroner's jury brought in the verdict: "Died for want of common sense."

YOUNG Lincoln, son of the President elect, now in Harvard College, was, on Wednesday night, called upon by a large body of the students in that Institution, and congratulated on the success of his father. He had been previously waited on by many, but this call was more formal, though not more cordial.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by Local Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pain and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocence in all maladies in which it has been found, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Malignant Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headache, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative will prove successful to a degree which no description nor written attestation would render credible—invalids so long bedridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just return d from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of oppressed nervousness, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of torpid tone and dyspeptic overdrain to attend exercise for which the prescription is a boon.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and as restorative tonic to medical men, the properties of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old ordinal, its vigorous qualities, without being exciting and overheating and gently, regularly spasmodic, even in the most sensitive cases of constitution, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

It is the latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a chalybeate and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, inflammable as it is, of course, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when strenuously presented, confirmed, wasting, and apparently malignant, the Chalybeate Pills have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the kind pains, loss of flesh and strength debilitating cough, and resistless hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has effected the cures of friends and physicians in several very gratifying and latter instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of lotion, without any of their well known liabilities.

The selection of Sanitas cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory, in the latter, however, more decisively—it has been irresistibly useful, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must manifestly be a great and energetic restorative, and in progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects; Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid accumulation of strength, with an immediate disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow the use.

Put up to sell for one dollar per box, containing 50 pills price 50 cents per box. Sold by Druggists and Dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to the Proprietor,

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one on which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by the lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Tetter or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Blains and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all Complaints arising from Vitiated or Impure Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible, in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so compound that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenzas, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
