ELECTROPATHY

PROFESSOR A. S. GREGORY and J. GOUCHER, M.D., have associated themselves together in the practice of their profession, thus uniting Electropathy and Hydropathy with a MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

They have their establishment supplied with a new set of ELECTRIC BATHS, which are superior to any now in use. The water used is of so fine a temperature, and the electric currents are so regulated, that the patients, in receiving the benefits of these remedial agents, experience no unpleasant sensation. This system of treatment is among the safest, most effectual and least objectionable, and restores a healthy balance to disordered functions. The medicine prescribed will be compounded and put up at their office under the immediate care of Dr. GOUCHER, who has had twenty years experience in treating diseases.
The following are some of the diseases that yield to their treatment:
Palsy or Paralysis, Incipient Consumption, Rheumatism, both Acute and Chronic; Neuralgia, Headache, Torpid Liver, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Weakness and Derangement of the Spine, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Deafness by Paralysis, Ringing in the Ears, Amaurosis, Gutta-percha, Weak Eyes, Erysipelas, Spasmodic Retention of the Urine, St. Vitus' Dance, Chills, Salt Rheum, Prolapsus Ani or Pilis, Female Weakness and Irregularities, General Debility, Derangements of the Nervous System, Stiff Joints, all Diseases of the Bowels, Fever and Ague; and Fits, Invariably Cured without the knife.
In addition to their office business, they will give attending to GENERAL PRACTICE. All calls in the city and vicinity receive prompt attention. Letters containing stamp for postage will be attended to immediately, and if assistance is required, Physicians must be sent for, for which they will send medicine by any part of the United States.
OFFICE HOURS, FROM 7 A. M. TO 9 P. M.
OFFICE—No. 85 GRANT STREET, se11-dAw3m opposite Court House, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Quack Nostrums.

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK says:
"The majority of Hair Washes, Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show window cards, and newspaper headlines, as hair preparations, are all humbugs of the first water; their real merit, when they possess any, is, that they do no harm. HOGG'S LABRADOR OIL, LARD OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and uncolored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics; and when thus costly, are baptized with some airy title, and sent out, caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. This gentleman comes before the world without any "high falutin'" Rhodomontade, or any other astounding and exciting catchpenny system to simply advertise a Hair Restorative—what it expresses precisely—and as a Restorative it acts. Say Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and as you value your hair, eye, your very brains, apply nothing else for it may be that you will get some worse substance than perfumed lard on your crown. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process,
Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color,
Will make Hair Grow on bald Heads,
Will restore the Natural Secretions,
Will remove all Dandruff,
Will cure all eruptions, even Scald Head,
Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy,
Will make the old appear young again,
Will preserve the Color of Hair to any age,
Will always Please it and stop its Falling,
And be one of the best Toilet Articles for the Hair now in use.

Manufactured by O. T. WOOD & CO., and sold Wholesale and Retail, at 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market st., St. Louis, Mo.

Sold in Pittsburgh by Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER, R. U. FAHNESTOCK & CO., and all Druggists. (tawthly)

A LITTLE ROMANCE ABOUT GARIBALDI.—The causes of the Dictator's Dislike to France.—The London Athenæum, says that a bit of romance about Garibaldi may help to explain the hostility of the Dictator of the Two Sicilies to France, and that of the Emperor of the French toward the Liberator of Italy. The family of Garibaldi, like the family of Bonaparte, is Corsican; and the name of Posso di Borgo or of Louis Blanc is evidence with what fiery hate a Corsican may pursue his vendetta against that lucky race. The Dictator's grandfather, Joseph Bastiata Maria Garibaldi, was one of those patriot Corsicans who gave the Crown to Count Von Fenhoff, crowned Theodore the First of Corsica; and being sent by the new king on a message to his mother, Madame Von Fenhoff, who lived at Pededonah, near Engguberg, in the Mark Country, (now part of Westphalia,) Garibaldi fell in love with the king's sister, Catherina Amalie, and, with his sovereign's consent, married her.

The registry of this marriage, we read in a Rhine paper, is still to be seen at Engguberg. In the same year, Garibaldi took Catherina home to Ajaccio; but fortune failing the patriots, Theodore fled before the Genoese to England, where he became the idol and hero of Walpole, who eradicated his character, and wrote the inscription over his monument in St. Anne's Church—bewailing the fortune which "bestowed a kingdom and denied him bread."

Joseph Bastien Maria Garibaldi, fled from Corsica to Nice, where, after the French conquest and occupation of the island put an end to the last hopes of Independence, he forgot politics and practised as a physician. His grandson is the Dictator. Meanwhile the offspring of the Bonaparte against the Garibaldi's have grown in bulk and atrocity. Corsica has been made French. Nice has now been made French. The old country, the new country, are alike gone. More, the very last bone of the hero is musseled. Caprera, the lonely green rock in the Straits of Bonifacio, which he has bought with his gains and peopled with his pigs and asses, belongs to the island of Sardinia, and must follow its path should a new "recovery" of territory to France take place.

Thus, the Bonapartes seem to chase the Garibaldis like an evil fate, leaving them no foot of earth on which the soles of their feet can rest in peace. Who can wonder at the Dictator's doubt, suspicion, and dislike. A romantic speculation may be allowed to close the record of these romantic facts. Theodore King of Corsica, left no lawful son. As illegitimacy runs, known about London streets as Col. Frederick, a man of mark in his day, plotted himself under one of the porches of Westminster Abbey. The title has been declared by the Orleanist Parliament hereditary to Theodore's family, near branch of which Dictator Garibaldi is now presente.—Thus, Garibaldi's title to the throne of Corsica is just as good as that of Louis Napoleon was a dozen years ago to the throne of France.

MR. ROBERT TAMES ON INSECT MARE.—The London News, in an account of Mary's last exhibition in the Handel Orchestra, London, says:

"When the Chestnut had been properly bobbled, tumbled and otherwise done for, the whole transaction was performance vocal with the unearthly screams of the Irish Jaunting Car. I was about to receive her first initiation into the mysteries of a civilized manage. This animal, which was rather a dingy gray, was evidently of great power. She had reared, kicked, bit, and appealed with all the traditional eloquence of her country for justice to Ireland. We certainly had never heard so much howling from a horse, and did not believe that even an Irish one could have managed it; but perhaps the fact of this animal being of the softer sex may account for her extraordinary excitement and volubility.

"But it was all of no use. Mr. Barey wiped his forehead, pulled out his strap, and waited his opportunity. The leg was soon up, and the mare soon down, but not without the execution of one of her wild national melodies, with brilliant variations, which brought down thunders of applause. Several times during the process of teaching she seemed quite ready to eat her persecutor, so that it was quite a treat to the onlookers when she was at last made to 'bite the dust.' A feat which she certainly performed with the most demonstrative vindictiveness. Having gone through with the whole lesson, she was at last released, when she relired a model of gravity and decorum, and evidently with her mind filled with perfectly new ideas on the subjects of kicking, screaming and biting in general."

THE SENATOR AND THE DROMIOS.—The senior Mr. Guy of the National Hotel at Washington bears quite a likeness to General Case, and upon this the correspondent of the New York Tribune tells the following story:

A stranger who supposed he knew Guy most well, put up at the National the other night and for the first night, was sent to the upper door to sleep. Coming down stairs the next morning, little Cross, he met General Case, who has a fine suite of rooms there, in the hall, stepped up to him, and in language more forcible and rapid than elegant, said: "I'll be d—d if I'll stand it! You've put me at the top of the house. I must have a room somewhere lower down."

General Case intergoing nervously.—"Sir, you are mistaken in the person you are addressing. I am General Case of Michigan." Stranger confusedly, "Beg your pardon General Case—thought it was my old friend Guy. Beg a thousand pardons, sir. All a mistake, all a mistake, all a mistake. I assure you, sir." The General passed out of the building, but soon returned; as look would have it, the stranger met him full in the face again, but in another position. This time he was sure he had mine host, for the Senator from Michigan he knew had just gone out. So the stranger stepped boldly up, slapped the General heartily and familiarly on the shoulder, and exclaimed: "By Jupiter, Guy, he's got a rich old overlaise. I met old Case up stairs, just now, thought it was you, and began cussing him about my room." General Case, (with ingenuity,) "Well, young man, you've met old Case again!" The stranger stepped, and has not been heard of since.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.—The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, heretofore the leading Democratic paper of Kings county, in the late Douglas campaign supported, first the Breckinridge candidates for Local offices, and afterward, when the regular or Douglas organization proved the stronger party, gave its aid to the latter. Since the election it has declared itself forever hereafter "free and independent." It assigns no reason for its action the fact that its partisan policy has involved a uniform pecuniary loss; that in upholding democracy it has repelled valuable patronage; and that all it has gained from democratic politicians, has been in the shape of material for police reports.—World.

A SHERIFF'S officer was sent to execute a writ against a Quaker. On arriving at the house, he saw the Quaker's wife, who in reply to the inquiry whether her husband was at home, answered in the affirmative, at the same time requesting him to be seated, and her husband would speedily see him. The officer waited patiently for some time, but the fair Quakeress coming into the room, he reminded her of her promise, that he should see her husband. "Nay friend I promised that he should see thee He did not like the looks, therefore avoided thee, and has left the house by another path."

"COUSINING MR. LINCOLN.—A few days since a stranger called on Mr. Lincoln, from Missouri, professing to be his cousin. Probably having been posted by some bogus campaign "Life," he tried to call to the remembrance of the President elect that he (the cousin) was "present at his wedding in Lexington, Ky."

"But I was married in Springfield," said Old Abe.

Since then that cousin may be put in the list of "not heard from."

Two young ladies were viewing some pictures in a store in Holyoke, and among others was one of the celebrated trotting horse "Pocahontas," being driven in a sulky by a jockey who seemed to just fill the eye of the fair lady, for she enthusiastically remarked to her companions: "Oh, wasn't Pocahontas a noble-looking ——" I wonder if that was the way he used to dress!" Such knowledge of history and taste for the finer arts should be encouraged by all means.

THE Secession cockade seems to be fashionable only with the middle aged men of Charleston. A card signed "Many Ladies," is published in the Evening News, which preposterously asks: "Why is it that our chivalric young men and our gallant old men do not adopt the emblem
