RECOLLECTIONS OF IRVIN.—We take the following from Mr. Putnam's interesting paper in the November number of the Atlantic :

The "Sketch Book" also received considerable new matter in the revised edition, and the story of the Palace, of the author's connection with Scott and with Murray added new interest to the volume, which has always been the favorite with the public. You will remember Bryant's remark about the change in the tone of Mr. Irvin's temperament shown in this work contrasted with Knickerbocker, and the probable cause of this change. Mr. Bryant's very delicate and judicious reference to the fact of Mr. Irvin's early engagement was undoubtedly correct. A miniature of a young lady, intelligent, refined and beautiful, was handed me one day by Mr. Irvin, with the request that I would have a slight injury repaired by an artist and a new case made for it, the old one being actually worn out by much use. The painting (on ivory) was exquisitely fine. When I returned it to him in a suitable velvet case, he took it to a quiet corner and looked intently on the face for some minutes, apparently unconscious of his tears falling freely on the glass as he gazed. That this was a miniature of the lady—Miss Hoffman, a sister of Ogden Hoffman—it is not now, perhaps, indelicate to surmise. It is for Scott to characterize the nature of an attachment so loyal, so fresh, and so fragrant, forty year after death had snatched away the mortal part of the object of affection.

We refer, however, briefly to Mr. Irvin's politics or religion, even if I had intimate knowledge of both, (which assuredly I had not,) would be, perhaps, to overstep decorous limits. It may, however, probably be mentioned, that, to the face off all inherent propabilities as to his comfortable conservatism, and his earnest instincts in favor of fraternal conciliation and justice, which was as marked a quality in him as in the great man whom he so faithfully portrayed, in spite of all the considerations urged by timid gentlemen of the old school in favor of Finance and the status quo, he voted in 1856, as he told me, for Fremont. In speaking of the candidates then in the fields, he said of Fremont, that his comparative youth and inexperience in party politics, were points in his favor, for he thought the condition of the country called for a man of nerve and energy, one in his prime, and unfettered by party traditions and bargains for the "spoils." His characterization of a more experienced functionary, who had once served in the State Department, was more severe than I ever heard from him of any other person; and severity from a man of his judicious and kindly impulses had a meaning in it.

THE BIBLE.—How comes it that this little volume, composed by humble men, in a rude age, when art and sciences were but in their childhood, has exercised more influence on the mind and on the social system than all books put together? Whence comes it that this book has achieved such marvelous changes in the opinion of mankind; has banished Idol worship; has put down polygamy and divorce; and exalted the condition of women; raised the standard of public morality; created families, that blessed thing, a Christian home, and caused its other triumphs by causing benevolent institutions, open and expansive, to spring up as with the wand of enchantment? What sort of a book is this, that even the winds and the waves of human passions obey it? What other engine of social improvement has operated so long and yet lost none of its virtue? Since it appears many boasted plans of amelioration have been tried, and failed; many codes of jurisprudence have arisen and run, their course, and expired. Empire after empire has launched upon the tide of time, and gone down leaving no traces upon the waters. But this Book is still going about doing good, leaving society with its holy principles, cheering the sorrowful with its consolation strengthening the tempted, encourage the penitent, calming the troubled spirit, and smoothing the pillow of death. Can such a book be the offspring of human genius? Does not the vastness of its effects demonstrate the excellency of the powers to be of God?

ALABAMA.—The Mobile Register, of the 20th, urges the people to take the control of the Convention, which is soon to be called, into their own hands, and not to allow it to be managed by professional politicians, whom it terms "that fungi of national prosperity." Delegates to it should, moreover be men of Southern birth. Besides this, Alabama should have due consideration for the rights of sister States in determining her own course; and the Register expresses the hope that the question presented will be discussed without "Union bigotry on the one side, or Yankee-phobia on the other. By Union bigotry," it says, "we understand that blind passion which would sacrifice all else to a poetical idea; which would invite future insults by a promise in advance of a tame acquiescence, the 'proper vitam vivendi perdere causa,' as contemptible in a nation as in an individual. And by Yankee phobia, we understand that equally blind, fanaticism which, under the guise of excessive devotion to the South, overrates the power of another section at the expense of our own; which, if it does not make us as contemptible as the first, makes us as ridiculous in the eyes of the world. The one would advise the course of a confessed coward; the other, that of a swaggering bully. It is necessary to add that both are equally alien to true, calm, collected courage?"

WHAT IS CONSCIENCE.—Wendell Phillips, in his late eulogy upon Theodore Parker said :

"The very last page those busy fingers ever wrote tells the childs story, than which, he says, no speech in my life has made so deep and lasting an impression on me. A little boy in petticoats, in my fourth year, my father sent me from the field home. A spotted tortoise, in shallow water, at the foot rhodora, caught his sight, and he lifted his stick to strike it, when a voice said it is wrong.

I stood with the lifted stick in wonder at the new emotion, till rhodora and tortoise vanished from my sight. I hastened home and asked my mother what it was that told me that it was wrong. Wiping a tear with her apron, and taking me in her arms, she said :—Some men call it conscience; but I prefer to call it the voice of God in the soul of man. If you listen to it and obey it, then it will speak clearer and clearer and always guide you right. But if you turn a deaf ear or disobey; then it will fade out, little by little, and leave you in the dark, without a guide."

AIR AND WATER.—Set a pitcher of water in a room, and in a few hours it will have absorbed nearly all the respired and perspired gases in the room, the air of which will have become purer, but the water utterly filthy. The colder the water is, the greater its capacity to contain these gases. At ordinary temperatures a pint of water will contain a pint of carbonic acid gas, and several pints of ammonia. This capacity is nearly doubled by reducing the water to temperature of that of ice. Hence water, kept in the room awhile, is always unfit for use.—For the same reason the water in a pump stock should always be pumped out in the morning before any is used. Impure water is more injurious than impure air.

☞ To ADVERTISERS.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men in this and the surrounding cities—among those who buy and who sell—and among manufacturers and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting rooms, store houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and commission houses in the two cities, where it is read and carried home to the families for perusal. As a medium for advertising, therefore, it offers inducements which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can offer, to all who desire to reach this large class of our citizens. The WEEKLY GAZETTE at this time has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia, among substantial farmers and merchants, than any other secular paper in this section of the State.

☞ THE DAILY GAZETTE is the oldest Newspaper in the West, and having an extensive circulation amongst the business men, and residing all classes, it offers inducements to advertisers as the best medium through which to reach the public.

☞ THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is issued every Wednesday and Saturday, on a large blanket sheet, and contains in addition to the news of the week, a carefully prepared and complete report of the Markets, commercial and monetary affairs—rendering it the best Commercial Newspaper in the West is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This final corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
