PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 29, 1860.

☞ In order to enable all who are connected with this office to observe Thanksgiving day, no paper will be issued to-morrow.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

In accordance with the appointment of the State Executive the people of Pennsylvania will observe this day as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The churches of the christian denominations of this city and vicinity will be open for all who feel that they owe a debt of gratitude to Heaven, for the blessings which have been conferred upon them during the present year. The Mayor of the city of New York, with an impious daring that shows the wickedness of his own heart, in an official proclamation, has declared, that in his poor judgment, "the country, either in its political, financial or commercial aspect, presents no feature for which we should be thankful." Such blasphemy as this is, we are sure, will meet with no sympathetic response from the people of this city, nor of any other community in which the Gospel has shed its blessed light. Indeed there never was an occasion on which the people, without regard to class or condition, had such great cause to approach, with feelings of thankfulness and songs of praise, the Throne of the Great Giver of every perfect gift. While the earth has yielded of its fullness—while each season, in its return, has brought with it its peculiar blessings—and while neither pestilence, nor war have been permitted to cast their dark shadows over our favored land—our hearts have been rejoiced with observing the progress of human liberty, not only in our country, but throughout that portion of Europe, which, until lately, was the stronghold of an iron despotism. The heart that could contemplate all these evidences of the power and guidance of an overruling Providence with indifference and ingratitude, must be obdurate indeed.

SHALL WE KNUCKLE OR NOT?—We notice a disposition, in various quarters of the North, to yield to the present clamor in the South and to recommend the repeal of the laws against kidnapping, by the legislatures of the Northern States, as a peace offering to those who threaten to go out of the Union if something of this kind is not done.

If anybody can show us that the law of 1847, in this State, for instance, is unconstitutional, we will give our aid in repealing it. If the Supreme Court will decide it to be unconstitutional we will assist in blotting it out. But we are opposed to its repeal solely to appease the noisy demands of men who have never shown the least spirit of conciliation towards us, and who assume a domineering tone towards us, as if they possessed an exclusive right to rule. We are willing to do anything reasonable in the spirit of good will; but we enter our protest against yielding one jot to the menaces of a humiliated and angry minority.

The simple question before the people of the Union, at this moment, is, Will the minority submit to the majority, if the majority violate no Constitutional principle? Or will they demand as the condition of their remaining in the Union that the majority shall submit to the minority? If the latter, then, it would be craven to yield to them. The Union is of great value, we admit; but the manhood of the people of the North is of more than equal value; and if the Union can be preserved only by the sacrifice of that manhood, the price is one that an honorable people cannot pay.

The Republicans of the country do not contemplate, and never have contemplated any violation of the Constitution. They are prepared to fulfill all their Constitutional obligations. Their platform contains nothing at variance with the Constitution and they have no object before them at war with the rights of any State in the Confederacy. Why, then, should they be called upon to make concessions? Merely to satisfy the exactions of those who think this a good time for extorting new advantages for the South? To conciliate men who have lashed themselves into a passion over fancied wrongs? To stop the clamor of demagogues who are struggling to gather all the advantages of victory out of defeat? That would be both simple and disgraceful. For what did we fight the Presidential battle—for what go through a fierce struggle, in which the hosts of a free and intelligent people were arrayed with an earnestness never before witnessed? Was it to yield, in the hour of triumph, to those who contested the field with us, and give to the defeated party the honors of victory? That would be a new way of terminating a contest. The only instance of the kind on record is that of the Duke of Alva, in the times of Philip II., who whipped the Pope, carrying his triumphant arms to the gates of Rome, and was afterwards compelled by his master to apologize for it to the Pope and ask pardon for it on his bended knee. Those who have stomach for that, can do it; we have none.

If the North yields, now, to the clamor for concession and conciliation, either her act will be spurned or she will become the vassal of those to whom she yields. She can never more hold up her head or breast the tide of southern aggression. The fruit of our victory will turn to ashes in our mouths, and the victorious party will be swept from existence, with nothing to mark its brief career but the disgrace of its unfaithful end. Let us stand up to the work we have marked out for ourselves, like men, and abide the consequences.

We have done nothing but what is right; we profess nothing but the faith of the fathers of the Republic; we propose to do nothing more than to follow in the footsteps of Washington, and Jefferson and Madison. If, for this, there are men willing to try to sunder the Union, let them try it, and the guilt be upon their heads.

The Personal Liberty laws of the north were not passed by the Republican party, and it is not responsible for them. They have been upon the statute books for years, and no demand has been made for their repeal until now. If Breckinridge had been elected we should have heard nothing of this clamor. The law of Pennsylvania has been in existance since 1847, and was assailed to suit the south in 1852. Throughout the whole of Pierce's and Buchanan's administrations not a word has been heard against or about it; but as soon as Lincoln is elected, we hear that Pennsylvania is unfaithful to the Constitution for having passed it! Why this silence for eight years and this sudden outbreak now? If the silence is justifiable, the clamor must be lawless.

The offence of Pennsylvania does not consist in having passed the act of 1847, but in having voted for Lincoln; and having taken that step, let her stand up to it, without flinching, let them clamor never so loudly.

Our Seventy-Fourth Volume.

With this issue the GAZETTE completes the seventy-third year of its existence. It was established in 1786, and is therefore older than the National Constitution. It was printed and published three years before the first President of the Republic was elected, and has lived and prospered through the administration of fourteen of his successors. From Washington to Buchanan—what a transition! It has of course seen many ups and downs, but we can assure our readers that it never exhibited greater evidences of vitality than it does at the present time.

PITTSBURGH ART ASSOCIATION.—The success of this Association, last year, has induced it to make another effort, and it will open its Second Annual Exhibition at Mr. Jackson's new hall, corner Penn and St. Clair streets, about the 15th of December, and continue until the 25th day of January. The Association has the promise, already, of about 300 pictures, and their solicitations will undoubtedly be rewarded by a considerable addition to this number. We bespeak for this Exhibition the co-operation of all lovers of art in this city and vicinity.

THE PALMETTO FLAG IN BALTIMORE.

—A few hot-headed sympathisers with the secession movement, under the influence of the Breckinridge politicians of Baltimore, hoisted a South Carolina secession flag at one of the engine houses in that city, one day last week. This action excited the indignation of the citizens generally to such an extent, as to cause the withdrawal of the offensive and treasonable emblem. This expression of feeling on the part of the citizens of Baltimore shows that they understand their true interests much better than their politicians do. A separation from the old confederacy would be a fatal move for the future prosperity of that city, as it would involve the certain loss of its great and growing trade with Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. This is too important an advantage to give up for a mere abstraction, and hence the aversion of its people to being "hitched" to the cause of the rabid secessionists.

CENSUS OF NEW JERSEY.—The population of the State of New Jersey, according to the census just taken, is a fraction over 600,000. This will enable the State to retain her present delegation in Congress, even though the ratio should be fixed as high as 132,000 inhabitants to each Representative. The increase in population in ten years is about 170,000—more than half of which has been gained in Essex and Hudson counties. The relative increase in each Congressional District is exhibited in the following table:

The large increase of population in the Fifth District renders a change in it a several districts imperative.

NISI PRIUS—Justice Read—Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Ex rel John C. Knox, Attorney General vs. D. C. Salisbury et al. This was an application for an injunction to restrain the defendants from obstructing the navigation of the Allegheny river, near Tidioute, by the erection of works for the purpose of securing oil on the bed of the river. The case came informally before the Western district, but it was certified to Philadelphia for argument.

The bill charges that the Allegheny river is a public highway, upon which all the citizens of this Commonwealth have the right to navigate, and pass and re pass with boats, rafts, and all other crafts, and as such it should be kept free and clear from all and every obstruction.

That the defendants, on the 5th of November, at Tidioute, did erect and still are erecting in the bed and channel of the Allegheny river, piers of timber, filled in with stones and gravel, so as to be permanent and fixed; they are also placing rafts in the bed and channel of said river, and are securing thereby piles, and thus the free use and enjoyment of the said river as a public highway is and will be obstructed.

That the bed and channel of the river belongs to the Commonwealth, and except for the purpose of a highway, the title and property is and remains in the Commonwealth; that in the earth and rock beneath the bed and channel is petroleum or sennecca oil in large quantities, that the defendants with many others are sinking wells for the purpose of taking therefrom, and appropriating to their own use the oil.

The bill charges that if the defendants are not restrained, many others will engage in the same work, and great quantities of oil will be taken to the waste and impoverishment of the bed and channel of said river, and against the rights and domain of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

After hearing the arguments the preliminary injunction was granted.—Phila. Bull.

THE PALMETTO FLAG.—The Palmetto flags raised on the old Liberty Eagle house, corner of Liberty and Fayette, and the bank Isabella C. Jones, lying at Corner's wharf, East Baltimore, were at nightfall lowered. Some of the members of the Liberty Fire Co. Company, on being informed of the use made of their building, remonstrated strongly, alleging that the company had pre viously determined not to rent their room for any political or sectional object. It appeared that one of the committee who have the building in charge, without consulting with his associates consented to the Association meeting there on Monday night. As soon as the meeting is closed, the key was given up again to the committee. Joshua Vansant, Esq., the President of the Company, forbade the re hoisting of the flag this morning on those grounds.—Baltimore Amer.

A FEW days before Victor Emmanuel entered Naples, the English community there sent a memorial to Garibaldi, praying him to grant them permission to purchase a site, in that city, for a Protestant church. Garibaldi's reply ran thus:

"Grateful for the effusions and generous sympathy of the English, the Dictator thinks that this is a very small return to make for so many services received from them in support of the noble cause of the Italians. Not only is permission granted to erect a church within the limits of the capital to those who worship the same God as the Italians, but the English are requested to accept as a national gift, the small spot of ground required for the proposed project for which they desire to use it. "GARIBALDI."

THE PLAN.—A New Orleans correspondent of the Courrier des Etats Unis, who favors the secession of the Southern States, gives the following as one of the plans proposed: After the separation, the Southern States will abolish the boundary lines dividing them from one another, so as to make one great State, with one legislature, one administration, identical laws, municipal institutions everywhere the same—in a word, a grand monarchy, all but the monarch, instead of whom there will be a President elected for a long term. This is a pretty scheme for a Frenchman of the Louis Napoleon school to devise. But we have our doubts as to its proving satisfactory to Americans, even at the South. —Phil. Press.

Population of Massachusetts.

The work of taking the census of Massachusetts, under the direction of United States Marshal Watson Freeman, has been completed. The population amounts to 1,231,697. We give in the table below the population of each county, at the present time, in 1850 and 1855:

SALE OF FREE NEGROES IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The Charleston Mercury publishes a bill which is to be brought before the Legislature of South Carolina, proclaiming all free negroes to be slaves on and after the 1st of January, to be sold at public auction, and the proceeds to be applied to the fair fund of the various counties. The Mercury, however, accompanies its publication with the following remarks:

We regard it as a measure harsh in its policy, and wholly unrequired by the public exigencies, while it is mischievous in its effects, and remarkably ill-timed in its promulgation. The Legislature has something else to do besides the discussion of such topics as this, and we sincerely trust that, upon reflection, it will by tacit consent be consigned to the tomb of the Capulets. The measure must fall still born upon that body.

A GOOD ONE.—Bloomfield precinct, Scott county, Illinois, is a strong Democratic place. There are about 70 Democrats and 3 Republicans. The Judges in that precinct, at the late election, were all Democrats. Two Democratic Clerks were appointed and neither of them could write. Two more were appointed and they, too, were unable to write. At this juncture of affairs, Jim Brown, a leading Democrat, known as "Timber Jim," went shouting through the crowd, "is there a'ry Republican here?" His Democratic friends desired to know what he wanted of a Republican. "Why," said Jim, "I—I—I all, I want to find some body that can write, so that we can go on with this election!"—Scott Co. (Ill.) News.

TOM Toledo Times thus mentions a narrow escape from a horrible death:

"Walter Titus, of this city, who wields the trimming knife in the slaughtering house of Bishop & Towabridge, on the docks, while assisting early last week about some work over the scalding vat, accidentally lost his footing and dropped in!—but was rescued in a twinkling. His heavy boots, greasy overalls and shirts, saved his hide, and he came off with the loss of the skin of his arms and hands as far as his sleeves were rolled up, and the additional loss of one week's time No more Thompsonian practice for him."

WESTERN NEW YORK APPLE TRADE.—Over 100,000 barrels of apples have passed out of the Erie canal at Albany, brought down from the West. This fruit all came from three or four of the western counties of New York. The Lyons (Wayne county) Press says: Notwithstanding the large drop of apples raised this year in western New York, there has been but a small quantity, comparatively, sent east. The ruling prices have dantained a great many from selling, and, as a consequence, there are more apples in the country, waiting a rise in the market, than at any previous time during the past ten years.

VOTE OF MISSOURI.—A dispatch from Jefferson City to the Republican says:

"The vote from the counties officially reported is as follows: Douglas, 57,797; Bell, 57,250; Breckinridge, 30,387; Lincoln, 16,370.

"Messengers have been sent for the returns of the counties not in, and the vote will not be counted until they are received."

THE Raleigh Standard, the leading Breckinridge paper of North Carolina, has come out boldly against secession, and in favor of fighting the battle of the Union.

Coughs and Colds! Coughs and Colds!

SEASONABLE ADVICE.

Let no one neglect a cold or a slight cough. Too much doing so, have had one cold added to another, until the mucous membrane, lining the air passages, has become excessively irritated, and even permanently thickened, and soon bronchitis, chronic pneumonia, and consumption, are eventually gallen ground. The best time to cure all this is when it begins. If you are so fortunate as to possess a can of HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMEOPATHIC REMEDIES, and if you do not, you ought to at once take a CORDIAL and then two or three pills per day, with care as to your diet, which will bring you all right in a day or two.

If your cough has got further along, more care and more patience is necessary for a cure, though it is in the same direction. Our advice is to keep the feet warm, the head cool, and take Humphrey's Homeopathic Dodds Pills, two pills per hour.

Physicians who use Wines and Liquors in their practice, should give the preference to some article.

Manufactures every variety of

COOK, PARLOR AND HEATING

STOVES,

GRATE FRONTS, FENDERS,

&c. &c. &c.

Sole Proprietor of the celebrated

PATENT GAS BURNING AND SMOKE CONSUMING ARRANGEMENTS,

(as applied to our COOK STOVES,) the advantages of which are:

1st. A great saving of Fuel.

2d. A much quicker and hotter oven, from the same fire.

3d. The proper action of the centre plates.

4th. Cleanliness, as there is not one-half the soot and dirt that is found in other stoves.

5th. These stoves, and all stoves we ever sold, have a current of cold air passing between oven and fire-back, which prevents it and adds to the durability of our Stoves, over all others.

Persons wishing the BEST STOVE in the market will find our PATENT "Tropic," "Eureka," or "Arbiter," with DOUBLE TOP, to be THE Stove, as hundreds in this city and vicinity can testify.

Would also call particular attention to our stock of Parlor Stoves and Grate Fronts, which, together with our other wares, we will
