STATISTICS OF EARTHQUAKES.—During the first half of this century 3,240 of these visitations were noticed, or about one in every week. According to the researches of Professor Alstead, who has recently devoted much attention to the subject, only one in forty of these was of any considerable violence or extent.—Hence, we may expect once in eight months to hear of accidents more or less grave from this cause. In Europe, during the last ten years, there have been 320 earthquakes, or one in every nine days.

At the commencement of the fifteenth century, only 750 of these shocks had found a place in history, the rest having been either too faint to be noticed by ordinary observers, or all records of them having been lost. During the next 300 years, 2,604 earthquakes are recorded, or almost four times as many as during all the preceding ages.

From these facts it has been inferred that whatever may be the origin of these upheavings of the crust of the earth, the phenomena are greatly increasing in number, and their causes in violence. But this conclusion cannot evidently be justified by the facts adduced in its support, for the absence of accounts of earthquakes only proves the same want of intelligent habits of accurate observations which have rendered the early records of eclipses and almost all other natural phenomena so scanty, imperfect and unreliable. It seems at present as improbable to suppose that the terrestrial or cosmic influences operative in producing these vast undulations of earth's surface, act now more intensely than formerly, so that the laws of electricity, heat and light have undergone an analogous change.—[The World.

A NEW ONE BOOK.—The ancients advised students to read much, but not many books.—There is a maxim for persons to beware of the "man of one book," and the record of the lives of many eminent men show that they preserved an uninterrupted intercourse with some gifted author. Thus the biographer of Sir William Jones states that he invariably read through every year the works of Cicero. Lord Clarendon constantly studied Livy and Tacitus. Voltaire had usually on his table the Athelia of Racine, and Petit Careme of Massillon. The tragedies of one were the finest model of French verse; the sermons of the other, of French prose. Grotius had such a taste for Lucian, that he always carried a pocket edition about him. The favorite authors of the great Earl of Chatham was Barrow, on his style he had formed his eloquence, and he read his great master so constantly as to be able to repeat his elaborate sermons from memory. Lord Burleigh always carried Tulley's "Offices" in his pocket; Charles V. and Bonaparte had Machiavel frequently in their hands; and Davilla was the perpetual study of John Hampden, who seemed to have discovered in that historian of civil wars those which he anticipated in the land of his fathers.

SILENCE IS NATURE.—It is a remarkable and very instructive fact that many of the most important operations of nature are carried on in broken silence. There is no rushing sound when the broad tide of sunlight breaks on a dark world and floods it with light, nor when bright showers of water another falls from the fountain millions of miles away. There is no creaking of axles or groaning of cumbrous machinery as the solid earth wheels on its way, and every planet and system performs its revolutions.

The great trees bring forth their boughs and shadow the earth beneath them—the plants cover themselves with buds, and the buds burst into flowers; but the whole transaction is unheard. The change from snow and winter winds to blossom and the sunshine of summer is seen in its slow development, but is scarcely a sound to tell of the mighty transformation. The solemn chant of the ocean, as it raises its unchanged and its unceasing voice, the roar of the hurricane, and the mighty river, and the thunder of the black browed storm; all this is the language of nature—a great and swelling anthem of praise, breaking in on the universal calm.—There is a lesson for us here. The mightiest worker in the Universe is the most unobtrusive.

"Is your horse fast?" enquired a Vermont horse dealer. "Beats all creation." "Good bottom?" "He is all bottom. Why I drove him so far one day that it took me two days to get him back again."

☞ To ADVERTISERS.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men in this and the surrounding cities—among those who BUY and who SELL—and among manufacturers and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting rooms, store houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and commission houses in the two cities, where it is read and carried home to the families for perusal. As a medium for advertising, therefore, it offers inducements which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can offer, to all who desire to reach this large class of our citizens. The WEEKLY GAZETTE at this time has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia among substantial farmers and merchants than any other secular paper in this section of the State.

☞ THE DAILY GAZETTE is the oldest Newspaper on the West, and keeps an extended circulation amongst the business men, and reaching all classes, it offers inducements to advertisers as the best medium through which to reach the public.

☞ THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is issued every Wednesday and Saturday, on a large blanket sheet, and contains a synopsis of the news of the week, a carefully prepared and valuable report of the Markets, commercial and monetary affairs—making it the best COUNTRY Newspaper in the West.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Imparities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Inasmuch as all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Indigestion, Consumption, Rheumatism, Pain in the Limbs, Skin Diseases, Rheumatic Complaints, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headache, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued distinction of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful in an extraordinary degree—Invalids no long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten—Females, once anæmic, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attended of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent consumption, sanguineous evacuation, critical changes, and the completion of nervous and dyspeptic severities to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and no remedy hitherto in medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old extracts, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is in this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it may appear to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispensing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, Innumerable as are its causes, a perfect cure of them (and) been Pills has often suffered for the most inveterate cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In parboiled Diarrhœa, even when attended to Dysentery, continued, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

With the blood pales, lost of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has stilled the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculous, the medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly their own.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic tonic-restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high honors and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and lasting curative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active exercise of mind and body, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxe containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box. For sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent by mail, on receipt of price. All letters, orders, &c., should be addressed to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound recently designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is required to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Scrofulous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them, many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do it through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood pure, healthy, and all is well; but with this fountain of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand Ayer's, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by
