PITTSBURGH:

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 1, 1860.

PEACEABLE SECESSION.—A letter appears in the Cincinnati papers from Hon. ROBERT DALE OWEN, in which, while he admits that no State has a right to secede, he thinks it would be better to permit those States to go, which feel determined to do so, than attempt to coerce them to remain. He so utterly deprecates civil war that he would much rather let them go than sticke about their right to go. The Gazette, of that city, says that he reminds it of the man who was in favor of the Maine Law but opposed to its enforcement.

Peaceable Secession is a great idea, with some people, just now; but, however smooth the phrase may seem, the thing itself is preposterous one. Our convictions upon this subject are so well expressed in the following letter from Cassius M. CLAY to some Republican friends in Ohio, that we heartily endorse it:

"Whilst we would bear with a brotherly forbearance, with the sore disappointments of our hits, rulers; and give them, patiently, time to accommodate themselves to the new order of things, frankness and a wise philanthropy, compel me to say to them at once, that 'peaceable secession' is but peaceable rebellion—an utter absurdity. Neither one slave State, four slave States, nor all the slave States, will be allowed peaceably to secede. Every man of sense sees that civil war would be better than that eternal war which would be the result of a divided nation. The forces engaged would be less, and the result final. The Union party of the South would be our allies, and with victory, which would be sure, for the Union and the right, would come peace and a homogeneous empire. But allow secession, and then with the Southern seceding States united, would come war inevitable the first time we met upon the rivers or the seas, which would be settled and renewed from century to century. The South must know that the Republicans intend to allow her all Constitutional rights, and then maintain their own to the last extremity. This is Government of the people, and not a 'compact of States;' there is no way to dissolve the Union but by rebellion and civil war. It remains for the slaveholders to choose the Union as it is and was, and to remain, or rush into war with it, and take all the chances of weal or woe. For us, we have no choice; we are bound by all that is sacred among men, to maintain the government in its supremacy, and our principles upon which it is based. We cannot choose our ground. Destiny places us in the post of honor, and perhaps of danger, and we are cowards if we falter in our duty to our country, and the liberties of the people. We must stand on the immortal language of Jackson, 'The Union, by the eternal, it shall be preserved.' There we must stand, now and henceforth, or be forever slaves."

Peaceable secession, or secession which the North may choose to permit, could not prevent war. If the lower Mississippi fell into the hands of a nation foreign to us, that very possession would lead inevitably to war. The great West would never agree to see herself thus cut off from the Gulf and her southern outlet destroyed. The country—the whole country paid a heavy price for the Louisiana territory, solely for the purpose of securing the undisputed possession of the Mississippi; and the people of the country will not tamely submit to its surrender.

The preservation of the Union as it is will be the duty of the Republican party as soon as it comes into power. That duty it will discharge, faithfully. If South Carolina and the Cotton States choose to put themselves in the attitude of rebellion, they will have to be treated the same as other offenders against the laws. We can make no terms with traitors, nor with those who meditate treason.

THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND AND SECESSION.—A few hot-headed agitators in Maryland recently addressed a petition to Gov. Hicks, of Maryland, requesting him to convene an extra session of the Legislature of that State, in order to take into consideration the secession question. The Governor, however, cannot see the matter in the same light that they see it. This is probably owing to the fact that he is not a member of the party that is about to be compelled to yield up the offices and spoils of the government, and consequently cannot perceive the necessity for breaking up things generally. He declines to comply with their request in a very able and patriotic letter, in which, among other sensible things, he says:

"Personally, I was as much opposed to his [Mr. Lincoln's] election as any other man in the country, and so far as my influence could extend, I did all in my power to defeat him. But he has been constitutionally chosen as an election where we all presented our favorite candidates, and the South is bound in honor to recognize and respect the result, as we would have required the North to do had either of the other candidates been elected. So far, then, as the cause of excitement is concerned, I cannot but think it without just foundation.

Identified as I am by birth, and every other tie with the South, a slaveholder, and feeling as warmly for my native State as any man can do, I am yet compelled by my sense of fair dealing and my respect for the constitution of our country, to declare that I see nothing in the bare election of Mr. Lincoln which would justify the South in taking any steps tending toward a separation of these States. Mr. Lincoln being elected, I am willing to await further results. If he will administer the government in a proper and patriotic manner, we are all bound to submit to his administration, much as we may have opposed his election.

As an individual, I will very cheerfully sustain him in well doing, because my suffering country will be benefited by a constitutional administration of the government. If, on the contrary, he shall abuse the trust confided to him, I shall be found as ready and determined as will any other man to arrest him in his wrong courses, and to seek redress of our grievances by any and all proper means."

This patriotic position of Gov. Hicks stands in noble contrast with that of those Northern panderers to the secession movement—Caleb Cushing, Wm. B. Reed, and their associates.

MR. EDMUND RUFFIN, of Virginia, presented the Legislature, through the Governor, one of the pikes intended by John Brown to be used by the negroes of Virginia upon the unoffending and peaceable inhabitants of that State, which is suggested should, in accordance with Mr. Ruffin's request, be placed in some conspicuous place in the State House.—Charleston Mercury.

Next to Gov. Wise, the most industrious agitator, in behalf of disunion, outside of South Carolina, is that old mondumatloo Edmund Ruffin. Ruffin and Wise are both Virginians—both are industrious seekers after notoriety—and both can trace their insanity to the time of the invasion of Harper's Ferry by John Brown. Ruffin is an old man—a very old man—and persons who were present during the excitement which attended the trial and execution of Brown and his associates, remember him on account of his vindictive feelings against the prisoners and his hatred of Northern men. Disgusted with the quiet which pervades society in Virginia, this miserable old man has taken up a temporary residence in South Carolina, and there he seems to have met with congenial spirits. It is indeed a melancholy spectacle to see a man at his time of life, leaving his home, to counsel revolution and discord. He should be with his family thinking of better things, and preparing for an event which concerns his own welfare, much more than the action of a State or people. Poor old man—has he no friends to place him under restraint?

AN INTERESTING POSITION.—Mr. Harris, who represents the Congressional district formerly represented by Gov. Letcher, in a recent letter said that the proper position for Virginia to assume in these times, was to keep one eye on the North and the other on the South. It is a pity the "Old Dominion" was not gifted with an extra number of visual organs, as under present circumstances, its vigilance will be a severe task.

NORTHERN MERCHANTS DEFENDED.—The Cincinnati Gazette gives the experience of one of the leading grocers of the Queen city, who was forced to leave New Orleans on account of the excitement against Northern men. Every Northern firm that has a Republican member, has been "spotted," and many merchants arrived from New Orleans state that this is not enough for merchants to come down there, but one merchant in particular is contemned that his life would be in jeopardy if he should come to the Crescent city.

Trouble in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28, 1860.—There was a special meeting of the Cabinet to-day, the object being the discussion of the Presidents message, especially of the controverted points relating to the questions of secession.

Mr. Cobb attended the meeting. His views were in opposition to those of the President. It is probable that he will resign.

He is about to send his family and effects to Georgia. He will return to that State and be put in nomination for the Convention, of which body he will be a leading and influential member. He will undoubtedly advocate there the extreme measures of the Secessionists.

Secretary Thompson will remain, although not agreeing with the President's views.

There is no truth in the intended resignation of Chief Justice Taney. The report of his actual resignation was entirely unauthorized.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—It is now stated to be certain that the Cabinet cannot hold together until the meeting of Congress, on Monday next. Secretary Cobb, of the Treasury Department, and Secretary Thompson, of the Interior Department, have openly taken stand against the Union doctrine of the President's forthcoming message. Governor Cobb's family have shipped their goods for Georgia, and will leave on Saturday. He, himself, had not written one word of his annual report as late as last evening, and his severe sickness, if not his withdrawal from the Cabinet, may prevent his making any at all. I learn that secretary Thompson's family are also preparing to take their departure for the South. Is it grown more hopeful that Mr. Buchanan will be equal to the crisis.—Phil. Press.

SECESSION AND CORRCION.—The following is from the Charleston (S. C.) News:

"In what relation would seceding States which had been coercively brought back into the Union, if that were possible, stand to the other States? Would it be that of colonies—subdued provinces? We wish those who contend that, although there is no part of the Constitution giving the right to coerce, there is a clear implication of such right, would name the clause in which, submission following coercion, there is provision made for holding in perpetual subjection States forced back into the Confederacy!"

Such talk as this displays a very crude notion of the nature of governments. It seems to assume that any State may go out of the Union at pleasure,—and come back at pleasure,—that the Union was never designed to be anything more than a matter of convenience for the several States, to be dissolved, and re-formed or destroyed, at the whim of its separate members.

This is all very puerile and absurd. South Carolina is under the most solemn obligations which a State can assume to obey the Constitution of the United States, and all laws made in pursuance thereof. This is all she has to do. It is not a question of "going out" or coming in; it is simply a question of obeying the law, and any coercion that may be applied will be directed solely to the enforcement of that obligation. N. Y. Times

A KANSAS ITEM.—We are informed by an intelligent gentleman from Southern Kansas, who in no way sympathizes with Montgomery and his recent acts, that one of the prominent disturbing elements leading to the late outbreak, was the act of the State of Arkansas expatriating her free colored population. Our readers will remember that something more than a year ago the Legislature of that State enacted a law requiring all free persons of color, who should remain within its limits after a certain date, to choose masters and enter into the blessings of slavery. Many of the pariahs, thus cruelly smitten by the hand of power, fled to the Canadas. Others went to Ohio and other Northern States. But a considerable number, residing in the Western and North western counties, migrated to the Cherokee country and southern Kansas. Hardly had they become settled in the latter region when a gang of kidnappers, having their head quarters in Missouri, commenced stealing and selling them to traders for the Southern slave markets. Among these Russel Hinds was particularly prominent and especially offensive. His arrest and execution by Jennison and his men, was the first act of the recent outbreak.—Chic Press.

CHILD BURNED.—A friend in Independence township sends us the following particulars of a most distressing occurrence which took place in that neighborhood on Saturday the 17th inst. A little daughter of Mr. Martin Lowry was burned so badly by her clothes taking fire that she died about twelve hours afterwards. Mr. Lowry was out of the house at the time, and her mother was passing gone to the spring some twenty yards distant, during her absence the child by some means came in contact with the fire in the grate. Her screams attracted the parents who ran to her relief but did not reach her until her clothing was almost entirely consumed. The father plunged her into a rain barrel that stood nearby and extinguished the flames at once, but almost the entire surface of her body being burned to a crisp, she lingered for only about 12 hours as above stated, when death came to her relief. As this is the season for large fires parents cannot be careful about leaving their children alone.—Washington Reporter.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday the 10th inst., as John A. Houphrey, James O Nulf and Amos M'Mullen, with two horses and a wagon, were crossing the bridge over Red Bank, near M'Elvy's mill, and when near the middle of the structure, it gave way and precipitated the team into the water, which was very high at the time. They all floated down the stream about a mile and a half, and were taken up near Anthony's. The horses were almost exhausted. Humphrey's skull badly fractured and has been trepanned by Dr. Jas. Rose, surgeon, of Greenville, taking out four pieces of bone, the smallest the size of a new cent piece—case doubtful. Nulf's collar bone is broken and injured in the back, and is now doing well. M'Mullen was but slightly hurt.—Clarion Banner.

WILD WATER FOWL.—It is said that the sounds, inlets, bays and rivers of Eastern North Carolina are alive with ducks, geese and swan, particularly the geese and swan. It is asserted by those who have their lives among the wild fowl hunters of North Carolina, that so many swans were never seen in one season before. We learn also, from a gentleman who resides on the Roanoke, in this state, that while the ducks are not so abundant as yet, he has never seen the like of wild geese. The season for wild fowl is going to be an abundant one, and they will be cheap enough to adult of everybody's eating them.—Norfolk Day Book.

SAD RESULT OF THE LOTTERY MANIA.—In Philadelphia, a few days since, a woman committed suicide under melancholy circumstances. She was married and had a comfortable home but was tormented with an insatiable desire to become rich. Urged on by this passion, she pawned most of her clothing and a considerable portion of her husbands for money to purchase lottery tickets, which gave her only false promises of wealth. The result may be easily imagined. Her husband came home one day to find that his deluded wife had committed suicide. To how many families even in New England has the lottery proved a base and a curse.

HOUSE BURNED.—We regret to learn that on Friday night, last, the dwelling house of our friend Samuel Jamison, of Independence, was totally destroyed by fire. The flames broke out at a late hour of the night when the family were all sound asleep, and had made such headway when first discovered that the inmates were glad to flee in their night clothes; indeed we are informed that some of the children narrowly escaped with their lives. The furniture and household goods were all lost. We sincerely sympathize with Mr. J. in his misfortune. He has no insurance either upon the house or its contents.—Wash. Rep

IT IS USELESS to imagine that the Mississippi river can ever be divided between two independent nations—that the source in the distant North can be the property of one people, and the mouth on the Gulf of Mexico the property of another.—[Times.

Of course it is. After so many millions of dollars were paid by the United States for the Louisiana Territory, for the special purpose of securing control of the Mississippi, that advantage will not be surrendered, to gratify a set of Mexicanized politicians and factious agitators. The sooner that idea is abandoned, the better for the Disunionists.—Chi. Jou

NOT SUSPENDED.—We understand the Directors of the Fayette County Bank, met on Monday last, and resolved not to suspend specie payment. The bank is abundantly protected, not only by available means, but public confidence, and it should be the pride of our citizens not to reduce her specie basis unnecessarily, but rather to hold up her hands in this laudable determination to sustain her credit.—Uniontown Standard.

INSTANTLY KILLED.—Mr. Ely Rees, a prominent citizen of Coudersport, Pa., Treasurer of the county, was accidentally killed on Saturday last. Mr. Rees, and another man, carrying a loaded gun, were searching the wood for timber, and proceeding in single file through the bushes when the man in advance spied some stone coal on the ground, and stooping down to pick it up, the gun was discharged, lodging its contents in the right breast of Mr. Rees, killing him instantly.

THE WHEAT CROP IN TENNESSEE.—The Gallatin (Tenn.) Courier says that reports from various sections of that region represent the prospect for the growing crop of wheat as unusually promising. A favorable winter will only be necessary to the production of a larger crop than was ever harvested in that section.

GAME.—The Uniontown Standard states that Deer and Wild turkies are unusually abundant in the mountains, and that partridges and pheasants are very plenty in the vicinity of Uniontown. Mr. Skiles of that place killed a large deer near Ohio Pyle Falls a few days since.

PACIFIC FOREST SCORCHER.—The Boston correspondent of the Springfield Republican suggests that the country might be pacified by a series of telegraphic dispatches, as follows:

No 1.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.

DEAR CURTIS: Will you accept the office of Secretary of State? ABE.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.

Hallett has applied for it but you shall be taken care of. Tom Ewing is to take his old place as Secretary of the Treasury. Tyler and Wise are provided for. The country is safe. ABE.

CHILD BADLY BURNED.—A child of Mr. Welsh of this place, was so badly burned, on Tuesday evening last, that its recovery is doubtful. The accident occurred in the usual manner. The child had been left alone in a room containing fire, and in playing around the grate its clothes caught the flames, and, being of cotton material were almost entirely consumed before assistance reached the poor sufferer. This is the third case of the kind in this county within as many weeks. —Washington Reporter.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—George Coughenour, a young man, and son of Daniel Coughenour, of this place, was very seriously injured on Monday last, while working in Robison's Foundry. While pouring mettle into a mould it exploded in consequence of frost being in the sand. His face and eyes were dreadfully burned, one eye being entirely destroyed, and the other is in a critical condition.—Uniontown Standard.

VENISON.—A number of deer have been shot upon the mountain opposite the Bald Eagle Furnace during the past week. One hunter succeeded in bringing down three in one day. The first deer snow will make venison plenty.—Tyrone Star, Nov. 21

Coughs and Colds! Coughs and Colds!

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.

Let no one neglect a cold or a slight cough. Thousands, doing so, have had one cold added to another, until the mucous membrane, lining the air passages, has become excessively irritated, and even permanently thickened, and such chronic cough, chronic pneumonia, and consumption, are easily gotten along! The best time to cure all this is when it begins. If you are so for unate as to procure a case of HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC HOMŒOPATHIC REMEDIES, and if you do not, you ought to at once take a Cotton Pad, and then take one of the pellets per day, with care as to reasonable exposure, will bring you all right in a day or two.

If your cough has got further along, then more care and more patience is necessary for a cure, though it is on the same direction. Our advice is to keep the feet warm, the head cool, and take Humphrey's Homœopathic Cough Pills Price, 25 cents per box, with directions. Six boxes, $1.

N. B—A full set of HUMPHREY'S HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS with Book of Directions, and twenty different Remedies, in large vials, morocco case, $5; ditto, in plain case, $4; case of fifteen boxes, and book, $3. Single boxes, 25 cents and 50 cents.

These Remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address Dr. C. HUMPHREYS & CO.,

IF YOU ARE ANNOYED BY RATS, MICE, or VERMIN of any description,

Use the Rat Paste—the Rat Paste which rids the house of their beauty—for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irrepressible nuisance remains. Then, again, the Gordian is a perfect mother's relief. Takes a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Gordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And you ye wives, who desire to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands; for while the former are often ashamed to speak, or to proclaim their sufferings rather than let their condition be known to the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business, that if it were not for you, they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to accept their fatal fall. For the modest it always virginal, and to the confidently appeal, for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need.

G. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York; 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.; and sold by all good Druggists. Price One Dollar per bottle.

PROF. WOOD'S

Restorative Cordial AND BLOOD RENOVATOR

IS PRECISELY WHAT ITS NAME INDICATES—for while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also purifies, regulates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted to use to act in perfect accordance with the laws of Nature, and hence controls weakness, restores and tones up the digestive organs, and all of all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is compounded entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the physician and patient, for while science and also by all who have suffered from debility: for it needs no medical skill or knowledge to use it, as one trial of it will convince all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy hypochondria, night sweats, languor, giddiness, and all that class of cases so terribly fatal if unattended to in time called female weakness or irregularities. Also, liver derangements or torpidity, and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, producing all slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following colds and fevers, but prevent all attacks arising from them, thereby saving much sickness, misery and suffering, and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, producing all slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following colds and fevers, but prevent all attacks arising from them, thereby saving much sickness, misery and suffering, and is truly a remarkable cancer.

For CONSUMPTION and BRONCHITIS,
For SCROFULA in all its developments,
For WEAKNESS, WASTING, and every form of DEBILITY, it cannot be surpassed.

It may be taken without disrelish by the most delicate patient, and retained without effort in the most sensitive stomach. Its superiority in this and all other important characteristics of gaudiness has guaranteed for it the commendations of the most eminent Physicians throughout the States, the written testimony of the Faculty of the best medical schools in the country of the

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA,
JEFFERSON COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA,
PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF MEDICINE, and others.

Invalids should be careful to purchase of the Agent who has the Cordial and Renovator for sale, and avail themselves at once of the remedy. That which will prepare has decided evidences of superiority over all other brands. Manufactured only by
