WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 12.

SCOTCH LORD BETRAYED—RETRIBUTION.—Nearly two hundred years the little estate of Fa'side was owned by one who, from his staunchness in the cause of the Covenant, had become obnoxious to the rulers of the land. Accordingly dragoons were sent out to watch and catch him, but for a long time the kindness of friends saved him.

At length one of his own servants was induced by a bribe to betray him. This servant, whom we shall call John, knew that his master was expected home on a certain night. Accordingly he went to the neighboring laird with a plot they thought would succeed. This laird had a bull of a choice breed, which had become so ferocious as to make his death necessary. The plan was, that John should take the slaughtered animal and secrete the quarters in the Covenanter's barn, and that on the night their victim was to be at home, the laird should pretend a search for his stolen meat, and they were finally to go, as if by accident, to Fa'side, where of course it would be found and the poor man seized at one time.

The plan succeeded, and at dead of night, John saw his master dragged from the home he had scarcely entered, and hurried to jail, from which he only came out to death.

The traitor got his money, but from that moment gloom and melancholy clouded his days, and his nights were rendered dreadful by hideous dreams. With the reward of his iniquity he bought some land, and built a small house but it was so near Fa'side, that he could not endure it, and at length in utter despair, he went and hanged himself, six years after the death of his innocent master.

The scheme was found out, and the other plotters were punished, but not till after John's death had terrified the laird so as to cause him to betray his own guilty secret.

WOMEN IN HISTORY.—When the Grecian world rested from its war labors in the age of Pericles, we began to hear of Aspasia, his counsellor and wife, whom historic criticism has lately vindicated from the aspersions of her own and Pericles' personal enemies. When Rome had conquered a peace in the first centuries of the empire, Hypathia appeared in the school of Alexandria, inferior to none of her male contemporaries, as a lecturer in philosophy; when the Italian republics were at their intellectual height, the Italian women, especially the female lawgivers of Bologna, were unsurpassed by the other sex in learning and genius. In diplomatic circles, and on the thrones of modern Europe, women have displayed a grandeur of talent and willed a power that was irresistible. The late Queen of Portugal, the present Queen of Spain, Victoria of England, and the Arch-duchess Sophia of Austria, are no more inferior to Louis Napoleon, the King of Peidmont, the Czar of Russia, than to Isabella of Castile, Elizabeth of England, Catherine of Russia, and Maria Theresa. They are superior to the King of Prussia and the Emperor of Austria.—[Christian Examiner.

BUTTER AND SUGAR FOR HORSES.—Langley, his Residence in Seekin, states that butter and sugar, in that country, are fed to horses. He says:

The Meer's horses consume a great deal of grain. The evening feed is about three quarters of a peck of barley, or occasionally maize, and in the morning, after watering, each horse gets his breakfast, consisting of one pound of coarse sugar, and the like quantity of clarified butter. This is made up into balls, and when accustomed to the diet after a few days' use, horses become very fond of the mixture, which fattens them prodigiously.

Trusting that this is not a "horse story," we hope the experiment will be tried here, and the more so, as we have a vast quantity of butter in market that must be good for horse food, we think. It certainly is not good for human food, and we don't know what else it is good for, unless for horses. The only question is, how can it be clarified.

PACKAGE OF BOOKS.—Then there is a great delight in occasionally receiving a large bundle of books which have been ordered from your book-seller in the city a hundred miles off; in reading the address in such big letters that they must have been made with a brush; in stripping off the successive layers of immensely thick brown paper; in reaching the precious board within, all such fresh copies, who are they that buy the copies you have over in the shop, but which you would not on any account take!); such fresh copies, with their brand new bindings, and their leaves so pure in a material sense: in cutting the leaves at the rate of two or three volumes an evening, and in seeing the entire accession of literature lying about the other table (not the one you write on) for a few days ere they are given to the shelves.—[Recreations of a Country Parson.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, save themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Scarcely an internal organ can go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and worthlessness. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are decidedly in the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.
Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.
