SEASONABLE HINTS ABOUT PERSONAL COMFORT.—A thin shawl may be made warm by folding a newspaper inside of it. The paper is impervious to the wind and cold air from outside, and prevents the rapid escape of the warm air beneath it. Every one knows that the heat of the body is carried off much more rapidly in a wind than in a calm. The wind blows away the heat enveloped from the body, but in a perfectly still air this heat remains, and consequently an atmospheric envelope so nearly of the same temperature with the body itself that the latter is not so quickly robbed of its natural heat.

A piece of silk oil cloth, stitched in the folds of a shawl, is more flexible than the paper, and will last a whole winter. It has the advantage of securing inward warmth without additional weight of a thicker garment.

When you set out upon a winter journey, if you are liable to suffer from cold toes, which many people do in spite of "rubbers," fold a piece of newspaper over your stockings, which you can readily do, if your boots or shoes are not irrationally tight. This is better than "rubbers," which are, in fact, very cold contrivances in extreme, while they make the feet sweat in moderate weather. The main use of India rubber overshoes is to keep out water, and for that they are second only to a stout, water-proof first-rate calf-skin boot. There is not a more villainously unwholesome article of wear made than the high-topped rubber boot. It makes the foot tender, especially in children, gives smugly gait, and when left off in any weather, the wearer is liable to catch cold.—Saint Crispin is the best friend of the human foot, when his leather and stitches are honest.

The constitutional vivacity and temper of a person has much to do with his endurance of cold. For this vivacity is a sort of nervous fire that lessens the sensibility to outward impressions. An indifferent, milk and water person, without energy and force, is at the mercy of every cold blast that sweeps round the corner. He, and especially she, has no defence but to wear a dozen shawls during the day, and sleep under a bale of blankets at night. One without mental purpose (unfortunately there are such,) though in vigorous health, is much more liable to catch cold than a spirited delicate body bent on some positive pursuit.—[The Century.

ROMANCE AND IGNORANCE IN AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS.—The poetic aspect is rather the favorite one for orators.—Fourth of July and other. People like to be told that the world rests on their shoulders. Country folk like to know that such grand old fellows as Varro and Palladus told the world in good latin long ago, how much they loved the country and good cresses. It is pleasant to think that a Roman senator concerned himself in our business; it makes it highly respectable; it gives a toga-ish fling to the cresses in our smoke frock. And when Mr. Everett, or such like mellifluent speakers enlarge upon the subject,—although they put the stramonium in barren fields where it never grew; or like Mr. Ward Beecher make the female birds (in his "Papers") chant us a gay carol—we overlook special ignorance of detail. Why should such mere trouble themselves to learn that stramonium loves only the flattest soils, or that mother birds (unlike mothers of the "rights" movement) keep a modest tongue in their little heads, and chirp blessings without ever warming to a "bravura?" When the great visitor comes, and pats our little boy on the head; and says, "you've a fine girl here, madam," why correct him? It is much more to the point that our babies should be petted at all! The misfortune about this farm rhetoric is the notable fact, that it is most persistently and pervasively indulged in by those who know very little about the practical drift and intent of farm life. They do not have the kicking cows to milk, or the corn to replant after the crows, or the bar-posts to rest after an Irish teamster. They never reach to the core of the matter.—[Ik Marvel.

GIRL DANCERS SOLD AT AUCTION.—A foreign correspondent, writing from a town in Germany, says:

The auction of dancers at a village is a curious affair. The girls are all assembled on an open space, generally in front of the burgomaster's house of business, and an auctioneer having been chosen among the young men, generally a wag in his way—the names of Roechen, Narmechen, Kirtchen, and all the other dens (an endearing diminutive by which the lasses are styled) are called out, and the auction for the dancers proceeds, which gives the highest bidder the sole right over her hand for the year, at all fete dances and rejoicings which take place, and these are not few. It is generally an understood thing that it is akin to a declaration, but still it is not in any way binding. Of course there are struggles and competition for the prettiest, but she falls to the richest. The cash goes to pay musicians and a spread or two, and, if anything is over, it is given to the church.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT.—A pair a long black stockings were nearly cut asunder below the garters this morning, by the threatened dismemberment of the limbs thereunto appertaining. As the Old Road train from Syracuse was nearing Farming, a woman walked out on the platform and jumped from the train, backwards. She fell between the cars, but was caught before reaching the ground by Mr. Phil. Deen, baggageman, who extricated her from her dangerous situation; she otherwise would have been run over. When "jerked out" by her rescuer, he indignantly demanded—"Gal, don't you know nothing?"—and she honestly responded—Well, I believe I don't; not a darned bootie!"

MEN are often deserted in adversity. When the sun sets our very shadows refuse to follow us.

THE love that has nothing but beauty to sustain it, soon withers and dies.

WHAT is society, after all, but a mixture of mister-ies and mies eries.

D. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by fermentation in Hydrogen. ranc-ioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate in necessity in almost every conceivable case. Inaction of the assimilative in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofula, Fever-sores, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Amenorrhœa, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In chlorosis or General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this preparative has proved successful to an extent which no description can write attestation would render credible.—Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just return d from protracted travel in a distant land; Scenes very signal instances of this kind are situated of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent consumption, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic evils so rife and afflicting for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old cathodic, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which is also apparent to exert a distinct and specific action, by diverting the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these thirty-cent Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, consisting, and apparently malignant, the same remedy has been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating sweats, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate the worst Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly adapting themselves.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the redness and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Bronchial Affections, it is not necessary to be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress to the very extremities of the West, will probably be one of high importance and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medication, which exerts such powerful, happy, and lasting remedial effects, thus appetite, complete digestion, rapid increase of strength, with an unusual disposition for sound and refreshing sleep. Every box [illegible] Pills. Sold by Druggists and dealers. With full directions. All letters, [illegible] Western agents, D. MOTT, N. Y.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "purifying of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,
are so compound that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is so assisted to find his health or cure restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
