East Indian Cotton.

[From the New York Economist.]

The cotton supply movement in England has at last taken a decidedly practical turn. After a great deal of random speechifying and inflated writing, with not a little Quixotic action also, the men of Manchester have determined on showing their faith in their theories by their works. At length a bona fide corporation is launched, styled the "Cotton Company," (limited), with a capital of $500 000, and thirteen directors, the pick of the cotton lords of Manchester. The object of the Company is to develope the cotton trade of India, confining its operations chiefly to the district of Dharwar. The prospectus of the Company thus describes its intended operations: "The first efforts of the Company will be directed to the cotton district of Dharwar, in the Bombay Presidency. The urgent representations of the Cotton-Supply Association have induced the Indian government to commence the construction of a pier and harbor at Sedasheveghur, and also a road seventy miles in length leading from that port into the heart of the cotton district. In Dharwar, 150,000 acres of American cotton are now grown, the value of which cotton, in the Liverpool market is to 6d per lb. At present this cotton is used only for mixing with the native variety, to give it value in the Bombay market. It is intended that the company should establish itself in Dharwar for the purpose of buying this cotton direct from the grower, cleaning, packing, and shipping it from Sedasheveghur direct to this country. By offering a fair price to the ryot for this cotton, it is the opinion of Dr. Forbes that the area under cultivation may be rapidly and extensively augmented."

The prospectus sets forth at great length the reasons that have led to the formation of the company. It is asserted that the efforts of the Cotton Supply Association have demonstrated "the important fact that India, Africa, Australia, South America and other quarters of the world can and will furnish cotton in unlimited quantity and of excellent staples." The position of the United States in relation to the supply is thus alluded to: "Our dependance up on America for four-fifths of our supplies, gives to that country a virtual monopoly, which involves—

1. An annual excess in outlay of eight to ten millions sterling for the cotton we consume.

2. The perpetuation of a system of slave labor, liable to interruption from disease, insurrection, and other causes.

3. A periodic or chronic anxiety, arising from the dread of injury to the crop by frosts, disease, worm, drought, inundation, and many other accidents from climatic causes.

4. A constant liability to frauds, from adulterations with sand, dust, &c.

5. A consequent and serious fluctuation in our total annual supplies."

The company proposes to introduce machinery into India for the purposes of cleaning and packing cotton, which it is supposed will materially improve its quality and price. Negotiations have been opened with the Government of India, which has promised to meet the views of the Company, by making grants of land for buildings and other necessary purposes, and to generally aid the prosecution of the enterprise. The projectors estimate that they can place cotton equal to American in Liverpool at 4d. per lb. and sell it at 6d, thus realizing a profit of 50 per cent, on their outlay!

The Piedmontese Government finds it expedient not to cross the old Catholic prejudices of the people too rudely; for, although it wishes well to liberty of conscience, yet it does not publicly proclaim the changes which result from the new clergy. It prefers to tolerate Protestant institutions silently, especially those which tend to evangelical propaganda. This policy has been shown in the case of a Protestant school which the Rev. Mr. Dieselhoff has opened in Florence. Cavour and Ricasoli showed themselves very kindly disposed toward him, but he was not able to get an authorization to receive Catholic children into his school. Yet his school is established, and probably the admission of children belonging to non-evangelical confessions will be tolerated.

To Advertisers.—The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette has a large circulation among the business men in this and the surrounding cities—among those who buy and who sell—and among manufacturers and producers. It may be found in nearly all the counting rooms, store houses, banking houses, hotels, factories and commission houses in the two cities, where it is read and carried home to the families for perusal. As a medium for advertising, therefore, it offers inducements which no other paper in Western Pennsylvania can offer, to all who desire to reach this large class of our citizens. The Weekly Gazette at this time has a much larger circulation in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia, than any two ordinary first-class newspapers! Consequently, it offers unusual facilities to advertisers in the best section of the State.

☞The Daily Gazette is the oldest Newspaper in the State, and, having an extensive circulation among the business men, and reaching all classes, it offers inducements to advertisers in the best medium through which to reach the public.

☞The Weekly Gazette is issued every Wednesday and Saturday, on a large hanilsome sheet, and contains matter in the form of the Daily, as well as a carefully prepared and reliable report of the Markets, commercial and monetary affairs—making it the best Commercial Newspaper in the West.

D. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and recommended in Under practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Imperfities of the blood, diseases of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every case. Its immediate effects in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofula, Scrofulous Tumors, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Whites, Obstructs, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description can write. Attention would render credible—invalids long bedridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world to View, return'd from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are witnessed in Philadelphia—exhaustion, critical changes, and the complication of nervous and dyspeptic sensation to air and attention for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of Iron is most necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old article, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overbearing; but gently, regularly aperient, and in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, Intermittents as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often suffised for the most habitual case, baffling the attendant Gentleman.

In Disordered Bowels, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, exhausting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the bowel pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent fevers, which generally indicate its actual Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known inconveniences.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably and repeatedly found to alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and complete restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high interest and usefulness.

Is it really true that never has been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which asserts such prompt, happy, and fully remedial effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, pain as a usual disposition for sleep and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 60 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, &c., for information to

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is formed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system, we must renovate the blood, by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this evil, where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Blains and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all Complaints arising from Vitiated or Impure Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
