MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 24

Stars in my Country's Sky.

Are ye all there? Are ye all there,
Stars of my country's sky?
Are ye all there? Are ye all there,
As ye shone in days gone by,
As ye glorious perihelion,
And their field of blue,

I meant count ye rightly;
There's a cloud with sable rim,
I cannot make your number out,
For my eyes with tears are dim.
Oh! bright and blessed Angel,
On white wing floating by,
Help me to count, and not to miss
One star in my country's sky.

Then the Angel touch'd mine eyelids,
And touch'd the trembling cloud,
And I saw rise regardless,
And it fled with merry shroud
For my eyes no more are filled,
All of the olden race;
The Southern Cross gleams it radiant forth,
And the Pole Star is not its place.

Then I knew it was the Angel
Who woke the morning strain
That at our dear Redeemer's birth
Peal'd out o'er Bethlehem's plain;
And still its heavenly key rose
To the listening country maid,
For all her count-lasted years
The dispason swell'd.

HARTMAN, Conn., Dec. 1860. L. H. S.

GEN. WASHINGTON'S PUNCTUALITY.—On one occasion, when Washington was sitting for his portrait in Mr. Peale's painting room, he looked at his watch and said: "Mr. Peale, my time for sitting has expired, but if three minutes longer will be of any importance to you, I will remain, and make up the time by hastening my walk up to the State House (where Congress was in session.) I know exactly how long it will take to walk there, and it will not do for me, as President, to be absent at the hour of meeting." Mrs. Washington was as remarkable for punctuality as her illustrious husband. At one time, during the General's absence, he wrote to get Mr. James to paint her portrait in miniature, and to send it to him. Mrs. Washington wrote a note to the artist, saying that her presence at home was indispensable when the General was away, and it would not be convenient for her to attend at his painting room.—She requested him, therefore, to come to her house for the sitting, and offered to accommodate herself to any hour when it would suit him to be away from his studio.—In reply, Mr. Peale appointed seven o'clock in the morning. When he left his home to keep the engagement for the first sitting, it occurred to him that the lady might not be quite ready to see him at so early an hour. He walked on more slowly than usual. Mrs. Washington met him with the observation, "Mr. Peale I have been in the kitchen to give my orders for the day; have read the newspaper, and heard my niece take her lessons on the harp, and yet I have waited on you twenty minutes." The gentleman, of course, felt exceedingly mortified and remarked that if his engagement had been with Mr. Washington, he should have felt the importance of being punctual to the minute, but he thought it necessary to give a lady a little more time. "Sir," replied Mrs. Washington, "I am as punctual as the General." It may be imagined that Mr. Peale took care to be at the house the next day at the time appointed.

A STRANGE RUMOR.—THE DEAD RETURNED TO LIFE.—In the month of August last, Mr. Caleb D. Woodbury, postmaster at White Pigeon, Michigan, was arrested on the charge of robbing the U. S. mail. He was taken to Detroit, where a preliminary examination was had before a U. S. Commissioner, who required him to give bail in the sum of $4,000 to appear on trial, or in default to be imprisoned. On the 18th of August he was taken to his home by Deputy U. S. Marshal Moore, to give him an opportunity of obtaining the requisite surety. While in his own house he was permitted by the officer to retire for the purpose of changing his clothes and to take a short nap, the officer mounting guard at the door. Not making his appearance in due time, the door was burst open and Woodbury was found dead in bed. The fact that he had bought strychnine, and the presence of some of it in his room, led naturally, to the belief that he had committed suicide by its use. The Deputy Marshal returned home and reported the facts as narrated above.

But the strangest part of the story is to come. The Detroit Advertiser learns that Woodbury has been seen and spoken to by an old acquaintance in or near Chicago. The story reaching White Pigeon, the supposed grave of Woodbury was opened, and found to contain only a coffin enclosing a large stick of wood!

The Advertiser further states the United States authorities at Detroit will proceed to investigate the matter immediately.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by Hydrogen, Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experiment of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions, indolence in muscularity in almost every conceivable case, Dyspepsia in all maladies in which it has been used, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Constipation, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaint, Chronic Weakness, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description can ever written attestation would render credible.—Infants so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just return d from protracted travel in a distant land.—Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent consumption, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and constipation of nervous and dyspeptic assertion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to physicians, the operation of this preparation of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old system, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overwhelming and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inducing a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often suffered for the most habituat cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, exhausted, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and constant hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In flaccid and Tuberculous, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known inhibitions.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this powerful and restorative, in the cases peculiarly of young them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the former, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably and reported both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the more unwholesome of the West, will probably be one of high encomium and gratitude.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid assimilation of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box, for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, &c., should be addressed to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed, that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Scrofulous complaints, and that, in this, full will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes saved by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to relieve itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until that name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, this remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.
Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.
