...ge of 16. At the ...ected one of the Scottish ...to Paris, and held the honor until ...ade his first speech in Parliament, on moving the address in the House of Lords in answer to the Prince Regent's speech. In 1813 he was sent on a secret Envoy to Vienna to detach Austria from her enforced alliance with Napoleon. The mission was successful, and he was soon afterward sent there again to arrange matters between the Emperor of Austria and Murat, King of Naples, with a view to the restoration of the Bourbons the Neapolitan throne. From the peace to 1828, Lord Aberdeen was much in political life; but now he went into Wellington's Cabinet as Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. This Ministry was distinguished by the abolition of the Test and the Corporation acts, and the passage of the Catholic Emancipation act; but they became unpopular by opposing Parliamentary reform, and on the death of George IV. they made room for Earl Grey. In 1841, he again took the Foreign Office under Sir Robert Peel, and his returning gave great satisfaction on the Continent, leading to renewed good feeling between France and England, as instanced in the interchange of visits by Louis Phillippe and Queen Victoria. It was during this term of office that Lord Aberdeen and Daniel Webster settled the Maine and Oregon boundary questions. In 1853, Aberdeen was made Prime Minister. The Russo-Turkish war was just threatening, and he was much censured for hesitancy, but he soon instituted more active measures, though not such as satisfied the nation, and he soon resigned. His political faith was always high Tory. At the time of the difficulties which resulted in the secession of a large number of Ministers, and the establishment of the Free Church of Scotland, Lord Aberdeen took an active part as a peace-maker. He had long filled the place of President of the Society of Antiquaries, and in 1822 published a work on Grecian architecture. He has been twice married.

FROM CHINA.—A correspondent writes of the Imperial Palace:

"No discription can give an idea of the splendor of this residence. The entrance or reception hall is paved with marble, and painted with gold, azure and scarlet in the most gorgeous style. The throne of the Emperor is of beautiful carved dark wood, and the cushions, embroidered with gold dragons, attracted general admiration; every inner chamber and saloon was very handsomely fitted up, and the rolls of silk, satin, and crape, all of splendid workmanship, furnished commerbunds and puggarees for the French soldiers, who appear to have adopted our custom in this respect. The jade stone and china ware of great value, and some 32-tree ohina of Louis Quatorze would have delighted the eye of many a curious fancier and a presentation sword, with the English coat of arms studded with gems, and evidently of antiquity, gave rise to some speculation.—The last treaty of Tien'tsin was also found, and the immense quantity of loot of all kinds made it almost impossible to know what to take away. Some idea of the quantity of silk may be given by the fact that towels, old pots, &c, were wrapped in the most costly silks and satins.—All the ladies had disappeared, but their little Japanese dogs, something resembling a King Charles, I should say, were running about in a distracted state. Mr. Wade secured some valuable books and papers, some we believe for the British Museum. The Emperor had left the day before, but his destination is, I believe, unknown. It is said that a panic took place among the French, and that they evacuated the palace, returning however, when the alarm subsided." One thing is certain, our allies took care of themselves."

LIFE EVERYWHERE.—Under this caption a deeply interesting and instructive article makes its appearance in the Cornhill Magazine:

Life everywhere! The air is crowded with birds—beautiful, tender, intelligent birds, to whom life is a song and a thrilling anxiety—the anxiety of love. The air is swarming with insect—those little animated miricles.—The waters are peopled with innumerable forms—from the animalcule, so small that one hundred and fifty millions of them would not weigh a grain; to the whale, so large that it seems an island as it sleeps upon the waves. The bed of the sea is alive with polypi, coral, star-fishes, and with shell animalcules. The rugged face of the rock is scarred by the silent boring of soft creatures, and blacke ned with countless muscles, barnacles and limpets.

Life everywhere! on earth, in the earth, crawling, creeping, burrowing, boring, leaping running. If the sequestered coolness of the wood tempt us to sumter into its checkered shade, we are saluted by the numerous din of insects, the twitter of birds, the scrambling of squirrels the startled rush of unseen beasts, all telling how populous is this seeming solitude. If we pause before a tree, or shrub, or plant, our cusory and half abstracted glance detects a colony of various inhabitants. We pluck a flower, and in its bosom we see many a clearing insect busy in its appointed labor. We pick up a fallen leaf, and if nothing is visible on it, there is probably a trace of an insect larva hidden in its tissue, and awaiting their development. The drop of dew upon this leaf will probably contain its animals, under the microscope.

LINCOLN'S BENEVOLENCE.—The following incident is narrated by the St. Louis Republican, a paper bitterly opposed to Mr. Lincoln and the Republican party :

An unfortunate man made his appearance at the police office yesterday, and solicited money for the purchase of a cork arm. It happened that on last 4th of July, while engaged in firing a national salute in Bloomington, Illinois, the cannon prematurely exploded, and the man was very severely injured, and subsequently, lost the use of one eye, and was compelled to have both hands amputated eight or nine inches from the elbow. Several dollars were taken up in his behalf in the police office, and the unfortunate man flourished his hooks in acknowledgment thereof, and in a manner betokening the utmost gratitude. He then stated that he had lately started out. The largest contribution taken up for him was in Springfield, Illinois, where he happened to meet with Mr. Lincoln, the President elect. The poor man's condition being made known, Honest Old Abe addressed him as follows :

"Who did you vote for?"

"Well," replied the man "to tell the truth I didn't vote for you; I voted for John Bell."

Honest Old Abe said 'just your right and at once gave the man a twenty dollar bill, and then collected ten dollars additional from the bystanders.

As soon as the man stated that he voted for John Bell, a strong Bell man, who had previously contributed five dollars, immediately doubled the amount, and subsequently, in consideration of its being Christmas, trebled the amount.

TEXAS is a woman in Bernardstown, Mass., over fifty years old, who drinks one quart of laudanum and two quarts of ether per week, and has been in the habit of using these stimulents to the extent for twenty years. Sometimes she takes them separately, and sometimes mixed. She is dependent on the town for assistance, and the druggist's bill for the above article is generally paid by the town. She complains of nervousness.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS.—The Pittsburgh DAILY GAZETTE has a large circulation among the business men in the and the surrounding cities—among those who spy and shop—and among manufacturers and producers. Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everprevailing and fatal malady. It is a concentrated from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINES and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "Sugar of Lead" as a blood purifier is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so compound that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also the formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints:

Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Torn in and Morbid Action of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenzas, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of the kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
