...ned Chicken Pies.

...intended right after Thanksgiving, to ...e published the reason why chicken pie is often poisonous. We heard of two thanksgiving parties made sick by eating chicken pie, and that reminded us of the necessity of again repeating what has traveled the rounds of the papers—the cause of such sickness. But we forgot the duty. Had we been more mindful it might have saved at least one of our most constant and respected readers, an after Christmas sickness. For at a family dinner that day, our long time friend, the quondam master of the Sylph—who has rode the ocean waves year in and year out, and often bounded on the billows of old Erie maintaining his perpendicular on deck when all else were stowed away "sick as death" in the hold—was brought to a horizontal by eating chicken pie. The entire party who partook of the tempting dish were also made sick.

Now a word for good housewives. You who are observing, have noticed that your mothers always made a hole in the top crust of the pie. You may have never inquired the why or the wherefore, and your mothers may have followed their mothers, not asking the meaning of that hole.

In fact the cause of that hole in the chicken pie may have not had even traditionary authority—a hole without any known margin. But after all, that hole meant something; it was an outlet for a deleterious gas that is generated during the cooking process of the pie, and unless that hole, or some rupture in the crust permits an escape of that gas, those who partake of the pie may be made sick.

Many agents—the most common one the gissing on the dish—have been held responsible for this effect; but again we repeat, that any chicken pie that is not provided by the cook with a ventilator, or in process of cooking does not itself provide a ventilator for the escape of that gas, will make all sick who eat of it.—[Cleveland Herald.

Absurd Financial Reasoning.

The following, from a Southern journal, shows how some of our well-wishing friends attempt to persuade themselves of the truth of what they so much desire.

THE EFFECT OF LINCOLN'S ELECTION.—The New Haven (Conn.) Register says two thousand men are out of employment in that city, owing to the withdrawal of Southern trade.

The Clay County (Ind.) Democrat estimates that the farmers of that district have lost $45,000 in the decline of pork, in consequence of the panic inspired by Lincoln's election. The loss to the whole Union in diminution of prices and the fall of Securities amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars. A bad election, that of Lincoln.

The Union has not lost a dollar by the election of Lincoln, nor, indeed, has it lost much from the panic which has been forced upon us by the corrupt combination of political and stock jobbers. Can any one explain how a fall in a price of securities can be a national loss? It may cause a loss to the holders, but stocks are neither bread nor coin, nor can a change in their nominal value make the slightest difference in the real wealth of the country. The same is true of provisions, for, the existing amount remains, should the price be one half lower than at present. The poor classes would be rather benefited than otherwise by a decline in provisions.

Popular ideas on the subject of political economy are not as enlightened as they should be. If a man invests a large amount in stocks when the price is high, and a panic occurs which decreases their nominal value, the holder of such securities suffers a money loss, but the country is not one whit the poorer, for the property which those stocks represent, if real, is just as valuable as ever. If a speculator buys up a large quantity of provisions, and is ruined by their decline in price, the people are rather benefited than otherwise, and the provisions are just as really valuable for consumption as before. Money may change hands in a panic, so as to ruin many individuals, but coin, which is the only solid circulating medium, remains in the country as before, and the whole people are not a whit injured.—[Phil. News.

Pat and the Railroad President.

It is well known that the President of the Vermont and Massachusetts R. R., the Rev. Thomas Whittemore, is a Universalist clergyman. The following anecdote, therefore, will be appreciated by all who know him; and, as he frequently tells it himself, we consider ourselves relieved from all violation of secrecy in putting it in print.

During his pedestrian survey of the railroad, the President came across a gang of Milesians at the depot in Athol, throwing rails off from a platform car, with that reckless disregard of property which characterizes this class of laborers when not watched. Mr. Whittemore, without revealing his official relation to the road, very quietly requested them to be more careful, when with true Irish impudence at what they deemed an interference with their business, they replied, "Go way wid ye!"

Mr. Whittemore, not the least ruffled, very mildly said, "I don't like to see property destroyed, and you are destroying property here."

"Arrah, divel burn yez and yer property!—who was aither tellin' the likes of yez to be meddlin' here?"

Mr. Whittemore, still in a mild but firmer tone, told them they must desist. At this the principal Pat bastled fiercely up and shouted, "To h— wid yez!"

"Ah, my friend," said Mr. W., "that is a very bad place,—it is the last place I want to go to."

"Faix and it'll be the last place ye'll go to!" said Pat, resuming his work.

Pat's wit was too much for the reverend President's equanimity, which gave way in a hearty laugh, after which he revealed his official character to the Hibernians and put a stop to the smashing business in which they were engaged.

THE CONDITION OF THE MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS.—NOT A GLOOMY PROSPECT.—Manayunk and Frankford are the two great manufacturing districts of Philadelphia. There are in the two boroughs some sixty factories, mills, &c., most of which are very large and employing in the aggregate, an immense number of hands. The majority of these industrial establishments are running on part time; but the partial employment thus afforded the hands is sufficient to keep the wolf from their doors, and to enable them to procure the necessaries of life. There is consequently in these districts but little or no suffering among the working people. As a significant fact we might mention that on New Year's day five hundred loaves of bread were baked for distribution to the poor of Frankford, and although all comers were liberally supplied, fully one half of the bread was left on hand. On the whole, the condition of things in the manufacturing districts of Philadelphia is discouraging, and there can be no greater mistake than that made by some Southern orators and newspapers, that the operatives of the north are in a starving condition and ripe for insurrection. There are no more patriotic or devoted friends of the Union than the working men of the North.

WHAT SOUTH CAROLINA EXPECTS.—It is obvious, says the Richmond Whig, that South Carolina expects to force all the Slave States into her measures. She has gone on without the counsel or advice of Virginia or her sister Southern States, and she will expect to rule in the movement or secede again. Nothing will do unless South Carolina is king. Her institutions are protected on all sides by slave States. She is liable to no molestation on her borders. She is exposed only on the side of the ocean where she is in little danger. Virginia has forborne under the ill-execution of a clause of the Federal Constitution for her benefit. The evil she has not judged sufficient to justify revolution and it is not without a remedy. The Free States lie all along her northern border, and she has no interest in making them enemies or foreigners. This is an interest this state cannot overlook, aside from the general interest in the preservation of the Union. Secession is now a blind unreasoning passion, and it is very easy to act in haste, and have to repent at leisure.

WHITE GUNPOWDER.—A letter from London says:

"I have heard in the city of a curious invention, which concerns alike sportsmen, riflemen, and the scientific. It is the manufacture of white gunpowder. It is made no mystery of being composed of yellow prussiate, chlorold of potassium, loaf sugar, crystalised sugar and brimstone. It possesses superior qualities over the black powder, being quicker and more powerful in its action, and not fouling the gun. For the delicate in the olfactory nerves it may be added that it is without unpleasant smell. It has just been patented."

THE ACT OF PIRACY IN CHARLESTON HARBOR.—The traitors of the United States revenue cutter brig in Charleston harbor the other day to the secession leaders, was as gross and atrocious an act of naked piracy as ever was perpetrated. Her commander, a South Carolinian, one morning wrote to the Treasury Department a letter resigning his commission in the service of the United States. On the same afternoon he discharged his crew, and pretended their oaths as United States sailors, swore them in as sailors of the independent State of South Carolina, and hoisting the Palmetto flag, proclaimed the vessel and her appurtenances the property of the said independent State. That the secession leaders have received from him this United States vessel so obtained, merely proves that they are willing to resort to even flat-footed piracy to precipitate civil war, to make the settlement of the sectional troubles in the Union impossible. It will be remembered that in this case the oligarchy are without the pretence that the property appertained directly or indirectly to South Carolina soil, as in the case of the forts, arsenal, custom house, and other Government fixed property there.—[Washington Star.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. System once thus purified by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channel of the blood. Indeed whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of compassing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been found to be poor stuff, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.
