They have won the control of the Government; and the present Congress has no right to set saide the popular verdict in advance of the opportunity to carry it into effect.

The political doctors had better let this matter alone. The patient will get well if they will but keep their hands of him. All that is needed is time—time for the new administration to get into looperation. The physician the people have chosen, from Springfield will set the matter all right, and that is more than the whole medical faculty now at Weshington City can do. Let tham give the case up; is dispair, if they will; but any how, let them give important task of vindicating the power and integrity of the Government. That is much more essential than any attempt at Conclination and Compromise.
