FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 18.

Speech of Senator Trumbull.

I desire to express, at the outset of the very little I have to say, the satisfaction with which I have listened to much that has transpired in the course of this debate. I wish particularly to declare my hearty approbation of the eloquent sentiments which fell from the Senator from Bradford, (Mr. Landon,) this morning. The style and language is not only clear and forcible, but the argument is able, thorough and profound throughout. The moral tone of the speech is not less refreshing and admirable. Sir, it warms the heart with generous emotion, to meet, amid the tortuous windings of politicians, an occasional exhibition of such high moral purpose, and unswerving devotion to principle. While I am on this subject, permit me to call attention to another feature of this discourse, which I also desire to commend. It is frank—it is manly—it is free from all cant and hypocrisy. The Senator does not wish to mislead or deceive the South, as to our position, or as to our real feelings and intentions. They sir, are, so far, as stated to the majority of this Senate and the party they represent—pretty fully expressed in the Chicago platform. It would be idle, even were we so disposed, to disclaim them. The South is not to be cheated or deceived by empty professions and plausible resolves. They know by instinct where we naturally and necessarily stand. That the extension of slavery is not in our creed. That the recommendation of our present Governor, to permit or tolerate the Quinberry, or any other system of human slavery in Pennsylvania, is not to be thought of. The expression of the people at the polls in November last, was their deliberate verdict. It is not to be disclaimed or resisted, but is sustained and enforced in the usual prescribed and constitutional manner. Does any one imagine that Lincoln is to sneak into the Presidential chair behind the screen and shadow of false pretexts and disclaiming expressions on the part of his friends? This is not the way to dispel apprehension, and restore confidence. His position has been fully and clearly defined—that of his party is before the world. There is, in my opinion, nothing to be added, and nothing to be taken away from it at this time. I think we should be careful about doing anything that looks towards shifting our position during the present critical state of affairs.

When the resolutions offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, a few days since, were presented, I understood them, however, not as a challenge to partisan strife, but as intended to furnish a common ground, upon which we all might meet, and utter a united and unanimous expression of the prevailing feeling upon the course and attitude of the seceding States. Although I doubt the propriety of any expression by way of resolution at this time; although I incline to the opinion that when we speak on this subject it should be through the medium of acts and measures, rather than by resolution; although I consider the resolutions wanting in tone, tame in expression, inadequate to the emergency, and short of the expectations of the people—I had concluded, for the sake of presenting to the country a united front upon this question, to cast my vote in favor of them, and with one amendment, all the resolutions of the Senator from Philadelphia. I had hoped to find this the disposition of the entire Senate, but the proceedings of yesterday and to-day have shaken the expectation. We have since been presented with two entire sets of resolutions, breathing a different spirit and demanding different treatment. We are now beset with all manner of propositions to compromise, conciliate, renounce our principles, surrender our rights, and forsake our standard—to do anything rather than assume and maintain the calm, resolute, loyal position which the necessity of the times and the plain dictates of duty and duty require. I need not enumerate the sweeping concessions proposed in the resolutions proposed by the Senator from Huntingdon and the Senator from York. I believe they look towards conceding pretty much all the startling demands which are made by Toombs, Yancy, Wigfall and the rest, as the pretended condition of their submitting to the authority of the Federal Government. I need not say that I have but one answer for all such propositions. As often as the opportunity may be presented, I shall uniformly record myself against them.

It seems to me strange that there should exist, at this time, any difference of opinion among us respecting the wild and guilty schemes, plots and exploits, of the conspirators at the South. I should be at loss to account for the zealous labors of the conciliators and compromisers were it not that they seem to be infatuated with an idea that they are doing something to save the Union.

Why, sir, the Union has been wrecked by just such tinkering as this. If, twenty years ago, the North had stood squarely and firmly up, and said to the slave power—"thus far, where you are—not another inch"—instead of the dark and threatening troubles in which we are now involved, our skies would have been clear to day.

We have temporized, yielded, submitted and surrendered, until we have led the leaders of secession of the government to imagine, that we have no spirit which can be insulted, no principle we will not surrender, no courage which they need regard, no manhood which they need respect. And now, sir, what possible good is to be accomplished by new overtures and fresh concessions? It is not of the question to bring back peace or restore confidence to the country by such concessions, were we even willing to adopt it. Concessions now, only incite contempt and stimulate rebellion. You may write conciliation all over the State House, you may shout compromise until the danger of the conspirators are consummated, you may belittle the State by craven professions, and degrade her character by servile expressions and side resolves, but you cannot, by such childish means, arrest the wild whirl of revolution. We have been pushed to the wall—we cannot recede another inch.

I urge no hasty or inconsiderate proceeding, I recommend no rash or doubtful step. You may fold your arms and see the Union perish if you like. It is not for me to define how long we shall wait or how far we shall go. I am urging no leap in the dark, but simply protesting against the adoption of degrading resolves which can only complicate our difficulties and prolong our troubles.

For myself, I should prefer, when we do speak, that we should come squarely up to the question. I do not consider it simply as "a nigger question," as it has been termed by many, it is no more a nigger question than the Revolutionary war was a tea question. The question is whether this grand experiment of Republican self-government is to be a failure, of the beneficent dispenser of justice, liberty and happiness, as its founder designed. It is a question which may be presented in many forms. It comes in a shape of a query whether a constitutional majority of the people, having elected a President to carry out, according to the forms of the Constitution, the policy prescribed by them as best calculated to promote the national welfare, the people will tolerate a defeated and rebellious faction in defying the authority of the government.

Shall the government work go right, or be under the direction of the incoming Administration, according to the forms of the Constitution, or shall it fail to pieces at the touch of lawless violence?

These are the questions. There ought to be but one response. There should be no embarrassment or hesitation in indicating where we stand. For one, I have no difficulty; my answer is always ready. I shall record my vote against the resolution of the Senator from Huntingdon, as well as against those offered by the Senator from York.

I am also as fully prepared to vote in favor of the resolution offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, although I consider them, as I have before stated, inadequate and imperfect in many respects.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; on the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. Of these Tetter or ruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this hideous affection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our time can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, OR ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BOTCHES, BLAINS AND BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER AND SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RING-WORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC AND MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its disorders, and restoring it to its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find by the use of these Pills how soon he regains a healthful health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from Disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

WORTHY OF ANY CONFIDENCE FOR RESTORING
The Bald and Gray.

Many, since the Great Discovery of Prof. WOOD, have attempted not only to imitate his Restorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, leaving carried away by the wonderful success of Prof. Wood's preparation, and leave been forced to have the field to its rightful owner, Prof. the Original Inventor.

DAVIS, Maine, April 18th, 1859.
PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Dear Sirs—This letter I wrote you in 1856, concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has done all the injurious inquiries too long for me to do the same. The inquiries are: first, it is a test of my infallible and same, as stated in the communication second, is it free of all thereto contained; third, how my hair will come to be in good order; and fourthly, if natural color. To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for forty years past, more soft, glossy and better colored, the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, since it cure were used by wiping the hair in close contact the with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have b en in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good, and there is no doubt but the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been greatly imitated as I have myself not only without any good effect but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair remains as it was when I left, and has base examined it with surprise, as I am now of years old and not a gray hair is to be found on my face and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your favor of two great bottles last summer, for which I am very grateful, as you see in my friends and thereby induced them to try it, many were skeptical until after trial and then purchased and used it with universal success. I will ask as a favor, but you need not a test by which I can discover fraud in the Restorative, and by many, I fear, without entirely to you. A pure article will merit success, and I believe where good effects do not follow, the failure is caused by the impure article, which causes the increase of the gray. I am in full duty, and heretofore, to keep you apprised of the continued effect on my hair, and I assure all who inquire of me of my unshaken opinion of its valuable results.
Yours truly, A. G. THOMSON.

AARON'S REST, R. J., Nov. 20 1860.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir—I would certainly be doing you a great injustice not to make known to the world, the wonderful results which have followed the use I have experienced from using one bottle of your Hair Restorative. After using over a half bottle, I can say that it has restored my hair, and finding my head nearly destitute of hair I was finally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative, which, to my astonishment, in less than one month after its use, ever my head this, that I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, which I pronounce richer and handsomer than the one I had lost. I will therefore feel pleased to recommend this invaluable remedy to all who may feel the necessity of it. Respectfully yours, ELIAS SLEEP.
P. S. This testimonial or my approbation for your valuable medicine (as you are aware of) is unsolicited; but if it shall be the means of benefiting the rest, insert if you wish—if not, destroy, and say nothing.
Yours &c., REV S. R.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz. large, medium and small; the small holds half a pint and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a quart twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.
