The Prospect in Italy.

[From the London Times of 7th.]

The French fleet has left Gaeta, with the exception of a single vessel, and to-morrow the short armistice concluded between the belligerents will expire. At the same time, the Monteur has revealed the last move of the imperial game and informs the world that the Emperor Napoleon yields at length to the representations of the British people, the indignation of the Italians, and the silent disapprobation of his own subjects.

* * * * * * *

Gaeta, almost impregnable from the land side, will probably be reduced in a few days by vigorous operations from the sea. The incident of Ancona is, in all likelihood, about to be repeated, and the King of Naples will have the honor to share the fate of an illustrious French general. But who can say the Emperor Napoleon is about to carry out the policy to which he has so often pledged himself? If interference ceases at Gaeta, to recommence somewhere else, if the Bourbons be allowed to fall only that some equally unpopular claimant may vex the distracted country, then the gain will have been but little. Even the greatest benefits do not allow him who has conferred them to dispose of the lives and honor of the recipients. Napoleon has given Lombardy to Feldmarshal, he has at the strong instance of England permitted Tuscany and the Romagna to dispose of themselves, and he did not interfere when the swarm of papal mercenaries was scattered by by General Cialdina. But the present agony of Italy is on the other hand, all of his own producing. The troubles in the kingdom of Naples, this discontent in Sicily, and the forcible restoration of the Pope's authority in several districts, are the result of this unfortunate and to most men unintelligible policy.

It is plain that the notion of holding the balance between the two principles which divide Europe is at the base of the imperial policy. The Emperor will not so far engage himself either to free government or to legitimacy as to give either his full support. His own position and the position of France are better, he thinks, as long as he can side with either party, and both must, consequently, study to obtain his favor. The decision with respect to Gaeta is a concession to Italy and England.

How terrible are the straits into which the court of Vienna is driven is only known to all those who care to inquire into the subject. The common language that Austria is poor, her subjects discontented, and her frontier threatened by a victorious enemy, expresses but faintly the confusion, and we might say despair, which have fallen upon the empire. East and West there is nothing but indignation breaking forth into sedition, and threatening treason. The arrest at the mouth of the Danube of several vessels with military stores of every kind, destined to support a Hungarian insurrection, has hardly attracted notice, so open is the conspiracy against the Austrian crown. We can well understand, then, that Count Rechberg should "deplore" the determination of Napoleon to withdraw his fleet. The Austrian minister, no doubt, sympathizes with a sovereign in distress, but there are other and nearer interests involved in the abandonment of Gaeta.

At the present time almost the whole strength of the sardinian army is employed in the papal States and the two Sicilies. The holding out of Gaeta not only necessitates the presence of a besieging army, but causes disturbances in the less enlightened districts, while the leaders of the royalist party derive comfort and encouragement by the support which the French Emperor gives their master. Let Gaeta be surrendered that Messina still holds out for Francis II., and that as long as he remains on Italian ground there will be a ferment in the kingdom which will prevent the Sardinians from turning their attention to the North. We learn that the Austrians have counted on two Sardinian army corps being detained on the line of the Garigliano for many months to come. This expectation is now, in all probability, doomed to disappointment. Should the French retire, the Sardinian squadron, as soon as the short period of the armistice has expired, will make the prolonged defense of Gaeta impossible. Either the fire or the blockade will compell a capitulation, and the king once out of the country, the disaffected will speedily submit, and the divisions which now prevail will be composed. Without possessing extraordinary powers of foresight, a political observer may predict the next move of the Turin cabinet. It is hardly concealed that in some way Austria it to be compelled to abandon Venice. Either negotiation, or the stirring up of intestine commotion, or open war, is to obtain this concession from Francis Joseph. The Austrian Emperor is declared to be resolute not to sell, and to see clearly that the alternative is war sooner or later. If the French fleet had remained at Gaeta, a year would have been lost to the Sardinians; now no one can tell what the spring evening will bring forth.

Secure Sound, Regular Sleep.

Dr. Cornwell, of Philadelphia, contributes to the Educator an article on sleep, from which we make the following brief extract:

No one who wishes to accomplish great things should deny himself the advantages of sleep or exercise. Any student will accomplish more, year by year, if he allows himself seven or eight hours sleep, and three or four for meals and amusements, than if he labors at his books; or with his pen, ten or twelve hours a day. It is true that some few persons are able to perform much mental labor, and to study late at night, and yet sleep well. Some require but little sleep. But such individuals are very rare. General Pichegru informed Sir Gilbert Blane, that during a whole year's campaign, he did not sleep more than one hour in twenty-four. Sleep seemed to be at the command of Napoleon, as he could sleep and awake apparently at will. M. Guizot, a minister of France under Louis Philippe, was a good sleeper. A late writer observed that this facility for going to sleep after extreme excitement and mental exercise, was prodigious, and it was fortunate for him that he was so constituted, otherwise his health would have materially suffered. A minister in France ought not to be a nervous man; it is a fate to him if he is. After the most boisterous and tumultuous sittings at the Chamber, after being baited by the opposition in the most savage manner—there is no milder expression for their excessive violence—he arriver home, throws himself upon his couch, and sink immediately into a profound sleep, from which he is undisturbed till midnight, when the people of the Moniteur are brought to him for inspection.

The most frequent and immediate cause of insanity, and one of the most important to guard against, is the want of sleep. Indeed, so rarely do we see a recent case of insanity, that is not preceded by the want of sleep, that it is regarded as almost a sure precursor of mental derangement. Notwithstanding strong hereditary predisposition, ill health, loss of kindred or property, insanity rarely results, unless the existing causes are such as produce a loss of sleep. A mother loses her only child, the merchant his fortune, the politician, the scholar, the enthusiast, may have their minds powerfully excited—yet, if they sleep well they will not become insane. No advice is too good, therefore, to those who have recovered from an attack or to those who are in delicate health, as that of securing, by all means, sound, regular and refreshing sleep.

Mrs. Winslow,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers the

SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING, which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH, of it what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—
NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO EFFECT CURE when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and truthful virtues. We speak in the matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after ten years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily relieved, is fatal.
We believe it THE BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

ANOTHER CURE BY DR SCHENCK.—I called on Dr. Schenck some time ago in one of his visits to Pittsburgh, at the Office of Dr. Keyser, No. 140 Wood st. He was examining patients with lung disease. One of my lungs and the bronchial tubes were found to be badly diseased. Oftentimes when I coughed I expectorated blood and matter in large quantities. I had night sweats and a great cough, and was greatly debilitated. Dr. Schenck prescribed for me his "PULMONIC SYRUP," "SEAWEED TONIC" and "MANDRAKE PILLS," and after taking them one month I have so far recovered that I do not spit up any blood or matter, and the cough has nearly left me. I live in Cumberland county, Unity township, Ohio, where I am well known. Have been sick for the last year.
MARTIN KOON.
Pittsburgh, August 27, 1859.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their virtues in the cure of the following complaints, viz:
Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every person in every community has been singularly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is so apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
