Quack Nostrums.

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK SAYS: "Of the quackery of Hair Washes, Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, typographical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show windows and in the newspapers, all hair preparations, are all humbugs of the first water, that not merely disappoint any, in that they do no harm. BOOTS' LAND PLASTER OIL, WARE'S OIL OF LIFE, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and with fine names, the costliest character of tonics, and when not costly, are generally in some trifling third term, also caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, patiently Rhodyfolerum, or any other astounding and unattained and unattainable. We simply advertise a Hair Restorative—what it expresses, positively it performs. It restores it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and see the whole poor world made new in many instances, applying also, for it may be that you will get some extra use, the benefit performed first off on your relation. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process, Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color,

When made Hair Grow on Bald Heads, Will restore the Natural Secretions, Will remove at once all Itching, Will remove all Dandruff, Will cure all Humors from an Scald Head, Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy, Will prevent the Hair from ever turning Gray, Will always Restore it and stop its Falling, And in case of the best Toilet Articles for the Hair now in use.

DO YOU WANT WHISKERS? DO YOU WANT WHISKERS? DO YOU WANT A MUSTACHE? DO YOU WANT A MUSTACHE? BELLINGHAM'S CELEBRATED STIMULATING ONGUENT, For the Whiskers and Hair.

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing to the Citizens of the United States, that they have obtained the Agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public, the above justly celebrated and world renowned article.

THE STIMULATING ONGUENT

is prepared by Dr. C. P. BELLINGHAM, an eminent physician of London, and is warranted to bring out a thick set of in from three to six weeks. This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied to the scalp, it will cure BALDNESS, and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new hair. Applied according to directions, it will turn red or rusty hair dark, and restore gray hair to its original color, leaving it soft, smooth and glossy. The "ONGUENT" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toilet, and after one week's use they would not for any consideration be without it.

The subscribers are the only Agents for the article in the United States, to whom all orders must be addressed.

Price One Dollar a box—for sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the "Ongunent" (warranted to have the desired effect), will be sent to any one desiring it, by mail (free), securely packed, on receipt of price and postage, $1 in advance. Apply to or address

Pittsburgh Gazette.

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY BY S. RIDDLE & CO., FIFTH STREET, ABOVE SMITHFIELD.

PITTSBURGH: MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 1.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 28th, 1861.

The Administration and Fort Sumter.

The Captain Fox, whose visit to Fort Sumter was alluded to in the New York Tribune despatches of Wednesday, was recommended to Mr. Lincoln by a number of leading men in New York, among them Mr. Aspinwall, the great ship owner, and when he reached Washington some two weeks ago, succeeded in impressing at least two members of the Cabinet that his plan of reinforcing Fort Sumter was entirely feasible. Secretary of War Cameron, Mr. Seward, and a number of others did not agree with him; and took ground that any such attempt would lead to bloodshed. General Scott's opinion, heretofore published, to the effect that it would require the whole navy of the United States, and a land force of at least ten thousand men to do the work, met the approval of Major Anderson himself, who, although believing, at a late moment, that he might be able to maintain his position, at last yielded to the necessities of the case, and concurred with the venerable Lieutenant General. The President first took the opinions of his Cabinet in regard to the proposed evacuation, and then induced Captain Fox and his personal friend, Col. Lamon, to visit Sumter, which they did, with the result that General Scott and the Secretary of War were satisfied that the evacuation must take place.—Phil. Press.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says in his despatch:

No decision has yet been made by the President in regard to Fort Sumter, but, from the nature of the official and personal reports submitted to him, there can be no little doubt as to his final determination. It may be announced immediately, or withheld; according to circumstances. Mr. Lincoln has never concealed his indisposition to make any seeming concession to the rebels, and nothing but a necessity which cannot be avoided will induce him to yield now.

And in the special dispatches of the Cincinnati Gazette, we find:

No order for the evacuation of Fort Sumter has yet been issued. Fort Pickens is immediately to be reinforced.

I am informed by one of the Commissioners of the Southern Confederacy that they have not received any dispatches indicating the policy of the present Administration. They are satisfied that Fort Sumter will be, if it be not already, evacuated, and they await advices from the Provisional Government at Montgomery. They expect to know in a few days what course Mr. Lincoln will pursue in relation to their new Confederacy, but they deny utterly the story current here, that they have received advices of Sumter's evacuation. —N. Y. Times.

A delegation of Union men from the Border States have waited upon the President to urge the propriety and importance of considering the Union element of the South in the distribution of appointments. This presentation of the case was not necessary in order to set Mr. Lincoln right upon the point in question, for he already fully understood the importance of the policy suggested, and has followed it to far as opportunity has occurred. That few appointments in the South have hitherto been made, results solely from the fact that applications have not been pressed from that quarter, while members of Congress from the free States have quite exhausted the time of the Executive in considering cases presented by them in person.—N. Y. Times.

I have been put in possession of several letters from members of Congress in the seceding States, who have written to Washington to have forwarded to them their quota of Congressional boots, exactly as though they still considered themselves members of the United States Congress. In some instances their letters are franked "In the Senate, C. S. A.," but all of them are dated from "The Confederate States of North America." The boots will be sent—for even in secession there is no disposition to recognize secession.—N. Y. Times.

In some of these California cases a distinct and specific charge of dishonesty has been preferred, which the candidate attempts to parry by producing general testimonials to good character, signed by respectable men, who can know nothing of the fact as they know, their certificates mean nothing, but who do not touch the point of disproving the specific facts involved in the charges made. Of course, a testimonial to character cannot override the positive and special statement of reputable men, who indicate their readiness to make them good or abide the consequences. There are good men and bad ones in Republicanism enough in all the States to fill the offices—so there is no necessity for accepting those against whom reasonable suspicion lies.—N. Y. Times.

Advices received here from Charleston indicate that a violent debate is likely to take place in the confidential caucus of the Convention relative to the adoption of the new Constitution for the Confederate States, the objection being to the Slave trade clause and the admission of non-slaveholding States. It will probably be ratified, however, by a large majority.—N. Y. Times.

Yesterday, Chevalier Bertinatti, who for some years past, has represented the Government of Sardinia in this country as Consul General and Charge d'Affaires, presented his credentials to the President as minister resident of that kingdom. He accompanied the presentation with a few appropriate remarks expressive of his pleasure at being introduced to the new administration as the minister of his Government; and the wishes of his sovereign for the prosperity of the United States and of his determination to endeavor to merit all the benevolent esteem which he had on more than one occasion been the recipient of from this government.

The President briefly responded, congratulating the new Minister upon the high position held by his Government in the scale of nations, and expressing a hope that the good wishes of our country are reciprocated by us, for both, and that it should be our constant care to maintain the friendly relations now existing between them.—Cin. Gazette.

Newspaper men had better keep away from Washington, for Secretary Seward seems to ask and exile every one of them who happens within his reach. Two more unfortunates went by the board to-day, viz: F. S. Pike, of the Tribune, who was dominated and confirmed Minister to the Hague, and James E. Harvey, of the same establishment, Minister to Portugal. In view of these appointments, nobody henceforth can doubt Mr. Seward's magnanimity, whatever else they may say of him. Of course, there are those illnatured enough to charge their success to a desire of the Administration to get rid of them.

Charles Francis Adams has arrived here, and, after receiving his instruction, will depart immediately for the mission to England.

It is esteemed of great importance by the Department of State that all the new Ministers should be at their posts as early as possible.

The transfer of Mr. Clay to Russia, and the substitution of Mr. Schurz to Spain, was made agreeably to the wishes of both parties, and is necessarily agreeable to the Administration. All parties are now satisfied.—N. Y. Tribune.

Cassius M. Clay is much gratified with his transfer from the Madrid to the St. Petersburg Mission, as the latter, strange to say, was his choice.

The appointment of Carl Schurz to the Spanish Mission, delights his German friends, who are serenading him to-night.

Geo. C. Fogg's accidental loss of the Commissionership of Patents proved his gain, and he takes the Mission to Switzerland, one of the most agreeable in Europe. No man deserves it more. A strong effort was made to retain Fay, but it was deemed important in the present crisis to have somebody there fresh from the people to represent the country.—N. Y. Times.

Quite a number of office seekers are leaving every day, and the pressure on the Departments is not so great. Secretary Chase is adopting the Commendable rule of only appointing those who pass successful and critical examinations. Hundreds of incompetent men are therefore started home very soon. This morning, only fifty waited an interview with Secretary Smith, which is a great decrease of the crowd. The Secretary of that Department has been very pleasing, thus far, to his numerous friends.—Cin. Gazette.

Soon after the Senators got away, the President will be ready to proceed deliberately with the distribution of patronage in the various States. The remaining New York appointments will probably be taken up and disposed of first in order, and then the California appointments, it is thought, will be promptly made. The President and Secretaries will have occasion for scrupulous care in making their selections of officers for the Pacific Coast. A more desperate set of bad men never sought to control Federal appointments than are some of those who seek to get entrusted with official position in the State of California at the present hour.—N. Y. Times.

The fact that Wilder Davis, of Maryland, has not been nominated for any position yet, revives the rumor that he is training for the Supreme Court Bench.—N. Y. Times.

William H. Russell, correspondent of the London Times, had an interview with Mr. Seward, and one presented by him to the President.—Mr. Russell, after a few days sojourn here, goes South, and expects to remain some time in New Orleans.—N. Y. Times.

The old game of intimidation is essayed again by parties here who find their designs upon the Administration interfered with, and threats of personal attack upon those who boldly expose the unfitness of men for places, are indulged in. But the ruffian's argument will hardly avail to accomplish its end, and silence any man who feels that he has a disagreeable duty to perform, either through the Press or by personal representations to the Executive. A list of this character is needed, and those who take it will do well to observe it also.—N. Y. Times.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

[For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.]

EDS. GAZETTE: Some thick-headed fellow who very properly styles himself "Fort Pitt," says that $28,000 damages has been collected for the extension of Pennsylvania avenue into Fifth street; that some six or eight thousand dollars of that sum has been paid into Court, and the balance was paid into the City Solicitor.

Please state, for the edification of "Fort Pitt," that $28,000 has not been collected; that six or eight thousand damages has not been paid into Court, but he can ascertain what has become of the money actually collected by consulting the Report of the Auditors, (Messrs. McConnell, Mellon and McClowery?) appointed by the Court to distribute the same as soon as it is made out and placed on file. If "Fort Pitt" ain't satisfied in this distribution of the money, let him extend "Pennsylvania avenue into Fifth street" on his own hook.

March 30, 1861. SPECTATOR.

TWENTY YEARS WAR FOR A NEGRO.—The London Times, in discussing the Anderson case, says:

"Lawyers have discussed the judgment of the Canadian courts in a dry, lawyer-like way, but, so far as any expression of public opinion is concerned, it might well be imagined that the English people cared no more about Anderson, the negro, than if it were a question of putting to death a crippled horse. How strangely mistaken, however, would any foreigner be who would so read the public mind. Either than give up that man England would go to war. Even if we had fought for twenty years, and were drooping from the drain of men and treasure; if we were gasping from great disasters, we don't think a man would be found to suggest as a solution of our difficulties, that we should hand over
