UNITED PRAYER FOR THE COUNTRY.

Christians of all denominations meet every morning at nine o'clock, at the Lecture Room of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, to pray for the country and our brave friends who are leaving us every day to defend it in this day of darkness and peril. All are cordially invited to come; for "except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain."

"THE CHRONICLE claims to have now the largest circulation of any paper in Western Pennsylvania, and over double the combined circulation of all the two cent dailies of this county."—Chronicle.

That is all stuff. We are only restricted as to circulation by the inability of one of the fastest presses in the country, to work as many papers as are required for our editions.—Dispatch.

We have no time for quarreling with our cotemporaries just now, and desire merely to enter our protest against any attempt at bragging about circulation. We run a double cylinder press, at the rate of 4,000 per hour, from 1 o'clock to 6½ o'clock every evening, and a single cylinder, at the rate of 1,600 per hour, from 7 o'clock in the evening until 6 o'clock in the morning, and we cannot possibly supply the demand for either edition. We ask the Chronicle to take down that braggadocio heading which has so long stood at its column's head, disputed always, but still "indisputable." Be honorable, gentlemen.

Military Matters.

The Pennsylvania Rover Guards, Birmingham, are fully organized and ready to march.

The Anderson Guards, Capt. Wm. A. Anderson, recruiting at Anderson's Hall, No. 135 Smithfield street, report 60 men enrolled and ready to march at three hours' notice.

The City Guards have organized a second company, with the following officers; Captain, C. P. Jackson; 1st Lieutenant, J. Brookhart; 2d Lieutenant, T. B. Sweeringen; Brevet Second, Wallace Strain. The company has 93 men on the roll, and will go into service forthwith.

The Turtle Creek Guards have organized under Captain Kunkel. Lieutenants Johnston, Wileman and Stewart, and Orderly Sergeant Carothers.

The Connellsville Guards, Capt. Mekel, Lieut. Allen, report their company full and ready for orders to march.

The Pennsylvania Central Guards is the name of a new military company at the outer depot of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad. The following officers have been elected: President, Major John Daily; Secretary, George F. Larimer; Captain, Wm. W. Willi; First Lieutenant, C. A. Naumas; Second, Wash. W. Wood; Third, Thomas M. De Armit; Orderly Sergeant, Miles H. England.

The Pennsylvania Home Guards organized in the Fourth Ward, Allegheny, and elected the following officers: Captain, W. W. Ball; 1st Lieut., W. Singleton; 2d Lieut., M. B. Smith.

The Second Ward Allegheny Home Guard Rifles have organized as follows: Captain, Robert Lee; 1st Lieut., John Blair; 2d Lieut., James Sloss; 3d Lieut., ——Blair. The company meets every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening, for drill, at Large's Hall.

Latest from Head-quarters—Movement of Pittsburgh Troops.

Col. David Campbell, of the Second Pennsylvania Regiment, arrived in this city yesterday, having been despatched upon special business. He has official orders to Col. Hults, notifying him to close the Military Bureau here for the present

The Duquesne Greys, Company B, Capt. Poland, left for Harrisburg at four o'clock last evening. Their uniforms were not yet completed, but they expect to remain at Camp Curtin until Sunday, when their uniforms will be forwarded to them. Lieutenant John Quinn will remain to attend to the shipping of the uniforms, and such other articles as the company may require.

Col Hultz has been ordered to secure transportation for the City Guards, Capt. Hays, on Sunday it possible, at which time Col. Campbell will accompany them. If sufficient cannot be afforded on Sunday, the company will likely go east this morning. Eight horses, for artillery and field service, will also be sent east with this company.

The City Guards go to complete the Tenth Regiment and the Duquesne Greys, Company B, to fill up the Eleventh Regiment.

The ——Regiment has been organized by the election of the following officers: Colonel, T. A. Rowley, of Pittsburgh; Lieutenant Colonel, John N. Purviance, of Butler; Major, Wm. S. Mellinger, of Washington.

A Jewish Synagogue—Corner Stone Corner Stone Laid.

On Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock, the Hebrew congregation Rodef Schalim, which interpreted signifies "The Pursuers of Peace," laid the corner stone of a new Synagogue on Hancock street, in the Fourth Ward. The occasion was the first of the kind in Pittsburgh, our Hebrew fellow citizens having hitherto worshipped, and do so now, in some of the Halls of the city. The ceremonies, although not particularly different from those on similar occasions among our Christian congregations, were sufficiently interesting and peculiar as to attract a large number of persons of all denominations—Jew and Christian.

Rev. Mr. Arenhold officiated on the occasion, and delivered a most eloquent and appropriate discourse upon Religious Liberty as it exists in this glorious country, and counseled a strict adherance to the Constitution and laws. He concluded with a fervent prayer for the upholding of the freedom of religion and the perpetuity of the Constitution of the United States.

He was followed by Mr. Cohen, a teacher of the Hebrew school, English class, who delivered an appropriate oration.

In the corner stone was deposited a box, in which were placed the Pittsburgh daily papers of yesterday, several United States coin, and, enwrapped in the American flag, the names of the officers and members of the Church.

Bandages of the Army.

As all our ladies are patriotic and anxious to do something for the relief and comfort of our volunteers, no doubt the following information in relation to the preparation of bandages for the Medical Department of the army will be quite acceptable to them:

"Bandages should be made of soft, pliable, unglazed muslin, such as is sold at 6 to 10 cents per yard. The muslin should be torn, not cut, into strips, and these strips sewed together at the ends with a soft flat seam. When long enough the bandage should be rolled as tightly and compactly as possible, and when rolled, the loose threads should be removed from the ends of the roll. The length of the bandage should be marked with a pencil on each roll."

The bandages of the following length and width are most useful:

12 yards long and 4 inches wide.
8 yards long and 2 inches wide.
3 yards long and 2½ inches wide.
3 yards long and 2 inches wide.
3 yards long and 2 inches wide.

Pennsylvania's Quota

From an official paper, received from the War Department at Washington, we are enable to give the quota of officers, General, Regimental and Company, and of men to be furnished by Pennsylvania for the defense of our flag. The following is the official list:

Major Generals, 2; Aids de Camp to Major Generals, (ranking as Majors,) 4; Division Inspectors, (ranking as Lieutenant Colonels,) 2; Brigadier Generals, 4; Aids to Brigadier Generals, (Captains,) 4; Brigade Inspectors, 4; Number of Regiments, 16; Colonels, 16; Lieutenant Colonels, 16; Majors, 16; Adjutants, (Lieutenants,) 16; Regular Quarter Masters, (Lieutenants,) 16; Surgeons, 16; Surgeons' Mates, 16; Lieut. From Harper's Ferry.

Rev. John McMillan, of Allegheny, has received a lengthy and very interesting letter from a well informed friend residing in the valley of Virginia.

The writer is strongly opposed to the administration, and expresses the determination of the people there to die rather than submit to Lincoln's rule. In reference to Harper's Ferry, he says:

"David has returned from the Harper's Ferry expedition, the object—the securement of the place and the seizure of the arms—being attained in part, and frustrated in part. They got some 4,000 or 5,000 stand of improved arms, and the balance was destroyed by the Federal Guard, by fire before they left. They also got complete possession of the works, without any damage to the same. There are now some 3000 troops there, and they are concentrating rapidly. The events at Baltimore, as detailed in the Sun of to-day, (20th) are only a prelude to the horrid history to be written in the future."

AGNES OF SORRENTO is the title of the New Romance which Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has just written for the Atlantic Monthly. The first pages are given in the May number of that work, and the manner in which the story opens assures us that its publication will add to the already brilliant reputation of this most popular of American authors.

The story is one of love and duty, of joy and trial. Its heroine is a young girl, born in a Catholic country and educated under the influence of Catholic institutions, and in the development of the plot the author has sought to illustrate the influence of that creed upon the lives and characters of its votaries.

From the intense interest in this subject which has been manifested by the people of the United States within the past few years, and the fact that it cannot be touched upon largely into the discussion of the day, through the medium of fictitious narrative, of it, through the medium of fictitious narrative, politics as well as religious questions of the time, will cause it to be so widely sought for and eagerly perused as her previous brilliant creations, to American literature have been."

Highly Important Meeting—Twenty-six Additional Companies Ready to March!

"The Committee on Quartering Troops and Furnishing Provisions", met at the Board of Trade Rooms last evening. The Committee, as at present organized, consists of the following gentlemen:

Samuel M'Kelvy, Chairman; John W. Biddle, Secretary, Wm. Robinson, jr., R. Patterson, T. J. Gallaher, Joshua Rhodes Alex. Speer, Wm. Holmes, and W. Howard.

The object of the meeting was to make arrangements for the temporary accommodation of the different volunteer companies who are ready to enter the service of the Government as soon as called upon. Astonishing as it may seem, no less than twenty-six companies, representing an aggregate force of 2,000 men, reported themselves to the Committee. The following are the companies:

Government Guards, Capt. Robert Anderson.
Fayette Guards, Uniontown, Capt. Oliphant.
Chartiers Valley Guards, Capt. Barnes.
Pittsburgh Rifles, Capt. Smith.
Pennsylvania Rover Guards, Capt. Barr.
Duncan Guards, Capt. Duncan.
City Guards, Company B., Capt. Jackson.
Lafayette Blues, Capt. Wilkinson.
Highland Grenadier Guards, Capt. Chester.
Anderson Guards, Capt. W. A. Anderson.
Plummer Guards, Capt. A. Hay.
Denny Guards, Capt. Mackerell.
Minute Riflemen, Pine township, Capt. Gibson.
Allegheny Rangers, Capt. H. S. Fleming.
Independent Rangers, Capt. J. T. M'Combs.
Anderson Cadets, Capt. Geo. S. Hays.
Pennsylvania Life Guards, Capt. Williamson;
Jefferson Riflemen, Capt. Johnston;
Pittsburgh Artillery, Capt. D. C. Kammerer;
National Guards, Company B, Capt. J. Meyers;
Penn Life Guards, Capt. B. W. Leonard;
Montgomery Guards, Capt. M. Brennan;
Anderson Infantry, Capt. Scott;
National Guards, Company A, Capt. H. Hults;
Irish Volunteers, Capt. Hall.

These companies, with one exception belong to Allegheny county.

Capt. J. K. Barbour reported that the steamboat owners would accommodate the volunteers as heretofore for the present.

The Committee and the respective commanders will hold an adjourned meeting this morning, at nine o'clock, and it is not improbable that a camp will be formed at the Fair Grounds, in this city, next week.

Our readers must bear in mind that the above companies have no connection whatever with the Home Guards. They are all enlisted for the war, and ready to march at any time.

When we take it into consideration the fact that some 3,000 volunteers have already gone into service from this point, we may well exclaim—"Well done for Allegheny county!"

The Committee on Home Defense—Important Regulations.

The following additional rules have been adopted by the Committee on Home Defense, to which we direct the attention of military organizations:

11. It is recommended that each company adopt as uniform, a cheap military regulation cap; but no company will be excluded for neglect of this recommendation.

12. An appropropriate national badge, designating each company, will be allowed; but it is earnestly solicited, for sake of economy, that no further expense for uniform be indulged in.

13. Uniform as above recommended to be furnished by each company at its own expense.

14. Companies armed in whole or in part by the committee will be required to give bonds, signed by the officers, with sufficient surety, for the safe keeping and return of the same.

15. Companies ready for inspection will please report without delay, at the head-quarters, No. 94 Fourth street.

Another Seizure of Contraband Goods.

The Committee of Safety, through information conveyed to them by other parties, yesterday, took possession of several boxes of goods, at the Duquesne Depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which were destined for the South. The Committee having this matter in hand have resolved to keep their operations secret, and we find it very difficult to get the desired information. We understand that the boxes were overhauled, and removed to Minick's old warehouse, on the levee. They were shipped by a firm in New York, to a house in Clarksville, Tennessee. The reason of the shippers in not, since the boxes, containing pistols, guns, etc., were partly filled with dry goods, and marked "hardware." An attempt will be made to have the shipper handed over to the authorities of New York City.

SHERMAN'S BATTERY.—We learn from the Philadelphia Ledger that Sherman's famous battery, that city on Wednesday last, and is now located at Easton, on the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Wilmington Railroad. This road is well guarded from Easton to Havre de Grace. At the former place, there are some 200 soldiers, besides Sherman's Flying Artillery. At Perryville there are about 2000 troops, under the command of Col. Dare. A large number of these are from Pennsylvania. The camp occupies all the buildings belonging to the Railroad Company. There are troops also at Charleston, Northeast, &c.

INSPECTION.—Company A, Home Guards of the Third ward, Pittsburgh, numbering over one hundred men, under command of Capt. T. B. Hamilton, were inspected yesterday evening by the Committee of Home Defence, at their office on Fourth street, and admitted into the organization. This is the first one inspected. The commissions of the officers will be issued to-day. We observe that the citizens of New York have honored our Committee by adopting their system. Let all companies report for inspection forthwith, so that regiments may be formed.

A PATRIOTIC ENGLISHMAN.—Mr. John Siddons, the proprietor of Washington Hall, First Ward, Allegheny, quite grieved because we yesterday stated that his hall has been used as an armory by the First Ward Home Guard, Capt. Hambright. Mr. Siddons states that his hall is at the service of the Company, and his good right arm, too, but that it is given free, as a donation to the national cause. All honor to such liberality and patriotism.

TROOPS AT CHAMBERSBURG.—A letter received by Sheriff Graham states that there are two regiments of Pennsylvania volunteers now at Chambersburg—among them Capt. Trovillo's company. Wm. Graham has been appointed First Lieutenant, vice John C. Dawes. They expect to remain at Chambersburg one week. This point is but forty miles from Harper's Ferry.

Three persons were scalded; one named Wm. Young died of the injuries he received on Wednesday, the 24th. The others will recover; their names are Cooley and Topper.

ARRIVAL OF OHIO VOLUNTEERS.—Two hundred and ten Ohio Volunteers, from Columbus, arrived at 2:45 yesterday, by the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad. They went directly forward by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

A SPLENDID FLAG was presented to Company B of the Duquesne Greys, yesterday, on Third street, in front of Edmundson & Co.'s store. It was gotten up by W. R. Bajeman, a member of the above firm.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., April 24.

DEAR GAZETTE:—For the information of your numerous readers, I send you a short sketch of the doings of the various military companies at present in this place. While at Camp Jackson this evening we were very much gratified to see a great number of soldiers marching and countermarching. There are at present within a fraction of five thousand men in camp. Everything here looks very warlike. At the time of my writing the beating of the drums is almost deafening. There are a large number compelled to quarter in the State House and public halls, the rush being so great that provisions could not be made in camp for them. Every train that arrives brings several hundred men who are ready to risk their lives for this beloved Union.

I received a pass this afternoon from General CARRINGTON, admitting "Reporter of Pittsburgh Gazette," which I shall make good use of and try to keep you posted. More anon. B. B. H.

NEW ALEXANDRIA, Westmoreland Co. Pa.

EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:—Gentlemen—As your valuable paper circulates more here than any other Pittsburgh paper, I therefore, take the liberty of requesting you to publish the following card:

With sentiments, of esteem.
You rs, truly, SAMUEL COOPER.

Captain Samuel Cooper, of the war of 1812, (an old Pittsburgher,) requests the officers of the Association of soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, if not already organized, to call a meeting for that purpose and commence enrolling. I can obtain from thirty to forty tried soldiers of the war of 1812, who now reside in Westmoreland county, and who are anxious to associate with their brethren of Allegheny county for the defence of the Capitol, if needs be, or any of our Border towns in Pennsylvania if necessary. I have resided in New Alexandria, Westmoreland county, sixteen years since I left Pittsburgh. Any communication the Association may be pleased to address me on their action on organization, a letter addressed to me at this place, will be immediately attended to.

SAMUEL COOPER,
New Alexandria, Westmoreland Co.

Lieutenant Parker.

Ed. Gazette: In times like these, when half of our army officers are deserting the flag and cause of their country, and more than half of our navy officers have either gone over to the enemy or remain only to do us the greater harm, it becomes every one, when traveling among strangers, and meeting after his name with "U. S. A." or "U. S. N.," especially with the additional titles of Captain or Lieutenant, to guard well his words.

Lieut. Parker would have had no detention at Harrisburg, and no suspicion of his loyalty here, had he not, after registering himself at the Monongahela House, "Lieut. U. S. N.," stated at the tea table that "the people of Baltimore had done right in burning the bridges and tearing up the track."

We are happy to learn from Harrisburg, that upon examination his papers were found all right, and that his only fault is that of imprudent talking. J. P. DARE.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

In the programme or circular of the services in connexion with the opening of Mr. Spurgeon's new monster chapel in London, a communion service is announced, at which Dr. Stearne, Spurgeon, and Dr. Hamilton will preside. It is intended to set forth the ONENESS of the Church, and the real fellowship in the body of Christ, which is the real privilege of all her members. The circular invites members of the various Protestant bodies to apply for cards through their pastor, or any member of the church under the care of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. The new Tabernacle will cost upwards of £30,000.

——The General Assemblies of the Presbyterian bodies for 1861—time and place of meeting—are as follows: Old School, Philadelphia, May 16th; New School, Syracuse, N. Y., May 16th; Cumberland, St. Louis, Mo., May 16th; United Synod, Richmond, Va., May 16th; United Presbyterian, Monmouth, Illinois, May 15th; Reformed Presbyterian, New York city, May 15th.

——The English correspondent of the "Banner" writes there lives and labors in London the Rev. Ridley Hershell, one of four brothers, all of whom were Jews by birth and blood, as well as by early training in the faith of Judaism, but who are now either Evangelical clergymen of the Church of England, or Dissenting ministers.

——At a meeting of Presbyterian ministers held last Monday, the Rev. J. J. Marks, D.D., of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. A. M. Stowart, of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, offered their services as chaplains. The ministers present agreed to defray their expenses, if appointed, until the Government made provisions for their support. A prayer-meeting has been commenced at the First Presbyterian church, at which all denominations are invited to attend, to pray for the country. It is held every morning.

——The senior proprietor of the "Presbyterian," Mr Wm. S. Mertien, died on the 16th inst., in the sixty-third year of his age. He was the publisher of the "Presbyterian" from its origin and has been very active in some of the leading interests of the Presbyterian Church. His illness was short, but very severe.
