CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Skating Contest.

It having been announced in the city papers that a skating contest would come off at the Contral Park yesterday afternoon for certain izes, a large number of our citizens, including the young and old, grave and gay, merante and man afacturers, bankers and brokors, professional men, handsome women, and beautiful girls, all wended their way to the spot where the promised sport was to come off. On arriving at the Park, we found all the reception rooms filled, and the ice covered with merry skaters. At the upper end a large gang-of men were at work with scrapers, brooms heelbarrows and shovels, and soon that por wheelbarrows and shorels, and soon that por-tion of the ice was as smooth as a polished mirror. A rope was stretched across the pond from the music stand to the opposite side, say-ing as plainly as a rope could speak, to the estilde akators, or those who had not entered for the prizes, thus far shalt thou go, and no farther. At length, the hour having urrived, it was an nounced that every thing was in rea-diness for the contest. The skaters awarned to the rope, while the onnaus thand was filled with laddes, and the walk along the fence was also crowled.

 b) the set of the se with hadfes, and the walk along the fence was also crowded. The gentlemen skaters were the first to entry the areas, there being only three or four en-tries. The prize contested for was a set of massive gold sleeve links or buttons. As a matter of course, each gentleman did his best, and they all performed their evolutions splen-this trial that we have found on skaters at this trial that we have found on skaters. The monts, whirling, turning, twisting, jumping, walting, enting eircles backwards and for yower by using it alternately on one side and then on the other of the foot, that remained upon the ice; these and a thoo-sand other performances, some of them seem-ing impossible, were among the feats of the contestants. Marchall and Freeke-Preparations for their Execution. If the death warrants of Benjamin Bern-hardt Marchall and August Freeke are executed at the time required, as they will in all probability be, those wretched criminals have less than forty-eight hours to live. At three in the afternoon of Friday next their time or pires. Marchall has no hope of escape or replie, asserts his readiness to the, and admits the juilles of his punishment. On the other hand, Precke now, as ever, stouly denice his guilt, and with tears and sobs declares himself the victum of Marchall's perfidy. Marchall still retains that composure and resignation which characterized his conduct during the rial. He is perfectly aware of Freeko's trepi-dation, and it is said that, until recently-he had annoyed Freeke a great deal by talking "through the pipe," and keening him in "hot water." Freeke stated that he had as-surances from Marchall that he would yet come out and state the truth, exculpating him of the murder. Freeke pretends to believe that Marchall will make a statement on the gallows to that effect, if he does not do so be-fore. But, whatever may have been asid "through the pipe," it is certain that Marchall have fully will make a statement on the gallows to that effect, if he does not do so be-fore. But, whatever may have been asid "through the pipe," it is certain that Marchall have infinite-til on any responsible party that his "confession" was not true, or that Freeke was not guily. Sheriff stewart paid a visit to the condemaned to-day, and was met by Marchall will a good-haurer (smile. Finding him in such good humor, the sheriff romarked, "Well, Marchall, nor you going." to take back why here the pipe, and you going. PITTSHURGH PETROLEUM MARKET. OFFICE OF THE PITTER BOIL GARTYE ; WADNEDAY, JAN. 10, 1953. There is no movement in the Petroleum market to note, and it is hard to even con-jecture when such an event will take place. There seems to be no demand for either Grude or Bethoed, ou the spot, or for future delivery, and the market continues dull and heavy, with a drooping tendeucy. We can report two semial sales of Grude, folds at 25, bhis re-turned; and 10 bbis at 25, which show a de-cline as compared with yesteriary. The east-ch advices generally continue discouraging, though some hopes are generatined that there will be a reaction there soon, and more ne-citivity manifested, but the indications at pres-ent point to a lower range of prices, as the sea-son is too far advanced to expect an export de-mand unless preting large inducement are held out to exporters. HITEL, WAATURE ETC. Since our last we have quite a change in inst-ters to chronicle. The river has raised about vix inches, and the weather has molerated very much. The thermometer at three o'clock yesteriag afterdoon indicated a temperature of thirty degrees, so that although there has not as yet here any thaw, the weather was quite comfortable, when compared with the recent cold snap. The feeling of the atmos-phere denoises a breaking up, and we have no doubt but that a day or two more will change the present hard and dry walking, to soft and slushy thoroughfares.  To-morrow, the blood stained souls of the two Boyd's Hill munilerers, Marchall and Freeke, will, by the stern mandate of an of-funded law, be launched into evenity. In the meantime preparations for the aw ful event are going silently on. The juil is closed to the exernal world, and there is no access to be had to the prisoners except to clergymen, attorneys, members of the. Press, or immediate friends of the condemned. Yesterday the neys, members of the frees, or immediate friends of the condemond. Jesterday the work of erecting the scaffold was commenced, and to-'ny fit will be fullkind. The ropes to be ueue are arcudy prepared, and to-fay their measures will be taken for their collns. It is often remarked that solitary imprisonment for life is a far more terrible punishment than death. We doubt it, for while Uners is life there is hope that the inducate of friends may be brought to bear, and a parlon be secured. But where death is certain-er in the present instance-when the prisoner can count the horns, que, even the very inhuits of his life, and know that they are passing rapidly way. River Thief. Business at the river being at a stand still, and many of the boats having received a por-tion of their cargoes preparatory to learing when the break up comes, a fine field is open for the operations of that class of scondrels known as river thieres. They prowi about the river, and whenever they can lay hold of any article of value that they can scripte, they carry it of, and self it to gentlemen with convenient consciences, who ask no questions, but pay low prices. One of these individuals was yesterday noticed loafing about the steamers America and Armenia. Twenty-nine of the lending corporations, with an aggregate capital of about $27,000,000, decident dividends for the six months amounting to $3,284,000, which is equiv-alent in $25,0 per cent per annual. Beddes these disbursements of interest, several of the companies have laid aside large reserves for extending their works or increasing their working capital. It is all the more remark-able that such large profits should have been realized, considering that the manufacturers have had, for the last six minuts, to contend with a failing market for raw materials, and that some of them commenced the half year with a failing market for raw materials, and that some of the war they bad the advantage of a rising market for raw materials, and the disadvantage of an accumulation of goods at the close of the war they bad the advantage of a rising market for the case was reversed—a decline in raw materials and an extreme searcity of fabrics. --The Sectory of the Treasury, we are reli-ably informed, has not as yet given the House Finance.
