STOP AND THINK!

If there is one loyal man who proposes to follow the lead of the President in his crusade against Congress, we ask him first to pause and read the following article, which we copy from the Norfolk (Va.) Post. See what [illegible] rejoicing [illegible] men who hate the Union and its defenders make of the President and his conduct:

GREAT VICTORY FOR THE SOUTH.

Since the morning of July 21, 1861, when the news of the great Southern victory, achieved by Beauregard over McDowell, and the total rout of the Federal army on the plains of Manassas, was borne through the South, on the wings of the wind, as it were, carrying joy and jubilation into every loyal Southern household, and gladdening every true southern heart, there has been no news received with so much rejoicing by the people of the South as that contained in the dispatch informing them that the President had vetoed the Freedmen's Bureau bill. This is the greatest victory they have achieved during the war—greater than any of the feats of arms of Stonewall Jackson or of Robert E. Lee; and it has given them more pleasure than had Gen. Lee been elected Governor of Virginia. They have found an ally in the President worth more to them than the alliance of France or England, and they now begin to see, even as they saw foreshadowed at Manassas, the final triumph of the great Southern cause. The Republicans have been ignominiously defeated and driven from the field, horse, foot and dragoons; and nothing can save them from total annihilation. All that is necessary for the South to do, is to continue to hold up the President's hands and wage an unceasing and bitter warfare against the Republican Congress. True, that Congress has numbers; but then it is only a mongrel horde of miscreants who can easily be put to flight, and with [illegible] friends of the North [illegible] them as long as they did during the armed struggle, all that is necessary for the South is to bring every available man to the front, and push the present victory to a [illegible] consummation of their dearest and most cherished hopes. But in the general joy of the moment there are still a few "croakers" to be found, as there were in the days of open warfare, who caution their friends against too much exuberance of feeling, lest it should prove to be "that joy which kills." They say it is certainly a most brilliant victory, and has secured much; the President—who will be kindly welcomed back even as the Prodigal Son—and they will kill the fatted calf for him, but [illegible] much yet remains undone. The President is only one of the Republican armies that has been [illegible], the least powerful at that. The Republicans, though mean and miserable [illegible], are wiley and determined fellows, and it will probably [illegible] defeat, as that at Manassas, will serve their purpose to "fire the Northern heart," and will only make them the more determined to restore the Government on their basis. They will now, in all probability, draw the sword, and, throwing away the scabbard, wage a relentless warfare against the South till it acknowledges the people as the legitimate source of all power, and Congress as its representative. Glad tidings are sometimes the saddest tidings [illegible]. The President, backed by a powerful [illegible] and a small faction in the North [illegible] has [illegible] declared war against the Congress [illegible] which elevated him to office, and whose members [illegible] opponents, and that Congress, too, which possesses the power to nullify all of his acts except [illegible] and [illegible] which it is not probable he would [illegible] enough to [illegible] at this day among a people so tenacious of their rights as the American race have ever shown themselves. [illegible] victory for the South [illegible] and triumphant one, [illegible] to rejoice exceedingly. The Republicans are defeated for the moment, and there is comfort for them in that. They [illegible] a rebuff from one of their most trusted leaders, who has turned his back upon them at the very moment when [illegible] upon their standards [illegible] the fortunes of the day, for the moment at least, and they are beaten back dismayed and flying panic-stricken from the field. A terrible howl will go up from every Republican press in the land against the President [illegible] which have been so kind to [illegible] all the white will be as bitter as their [illegible] were gentle in their praise, and the South will have to pass through another ordeal of years of [illegible] that? We do not [illegible] knowing that the President is their best friend, though as powerless to restore them to their former position in the Union, or to assist the reconstruction of their damaged fortunes, as is he himself. The aspect of the war [illegible] changed a little—formerly they fought outside of the Union for a separate government, now they have entered upon equally as hopeful a contest to fight in the Union against the powerful Republican party. There are those who have counseled that it was the best policy for the South to make all the friends they could among the people of the North, and that it was especially to their interests to conciliate the Republican party, but they flouted that powerful organization's overtures for peace, and scornfully refused all proffered kindness from fanatics and radicals. Thus they have succeeded in making radicals of [illegible] the sole representative of power in the north. But it is sweet to dream, even though the visions of our drowsy imaginings should be doomed never to be realized, and they are consoled that they have the President all to themselves. The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner, and Andrew Johnson is now enshrined in every loyal southern heart. Yet they must not be cast down if some [illegible] should spring from this victory [illegible] they must [illegible] themselves up manfully to fight it out no matter what cost. They will accept no terms from the radicals—they ask for no favors and expect none. The fanatics may roar and hiss, but their claws are cut and their fangs are poisonless. The watchword must henceforth be "Johnson and Victory," and although the odds are as four to one against them, did they not carry on four years of open war in the field, successfully, against still greater odds? A fig for your Republican Congress. We have a President, with absolute powers, who can carry on the Government good enough for this section without the assistance of Congress; and if they refuse to vote him supplies, why the South can contribute from its surplus wealth to defray the expenses of running the Executive branch at least. Stevens and Sumner, and Wilson, can now retire, for their defeat is irremediable.

GENERAL NEWS.

CAPT. J. M. REAM, formerly of the 55th Kentucky Volunteers, was fined four thousand dollars by a jury in the Circuit Court, of Campbell county, Kentucky, at Alexandria, on Thursday, on two indictments, charging him with preventing legal voters from voting. Being unable or unwilling to pay the fine, he was committed to jail. Captain R. claimed to have acted under orders from Gen. Palmer, in preventing the parties from voting. The question arises whether General Palmer can permit his subordinates to be punished for the execution of his order.

THE London Athenæum says: "Cervantes has often been suspected of intending 'Don Quixote' for a political satire on the Duke of Lerma, and some recent discoveries made by Mr. Rawdon Brown in Venice tend to raise the suspicion to the rank of a literary fact. Having got an inner meaning of the famous romance, by means of his direct discoveries, Mr. Brown has devised a key to the characters, by which many obscure parts of the satire are brought [illegible]."

NEW OIL DEVELOPMENT.—The New Lisbon Buckeye State says: Last week a new well was struck on the farm formerly owned by Capt. May, located near Dry Run, in Ohio, and about two miles below the mouth of Little Beaver Creek. This well from appearances, will yield about twenty barrels of oil per day. It is located within twenty rods of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, which will afford great facilities for shipping.

PARDONED.—Chas. H. Dyer, formerly a book-keeper of the National Bank of Crawford county, who was convicted of robbing the bank about a year ago, and sentenced to four years' confinement in the Western Penitentiary, has been pardoned by Gov. Curtin. M. Officer, Cashier of the Bank, has received a letter from Dyer offering to make restitution for all losses sustained by the institution.

THE Wellsville Union, of the 22d, says: We saw, yesterday, a sample of oil from near Smithville. The oil is of a heavy, lubricating quality, and is obtained at a depth of fifty-eight feet. The well is yielding three barrels per day.

AN installment of the evidence before the Reconstruction Committee will soon be given to the public. Its detail of horrible cruelties committed on defenceless Union men and negroes by rebels will astound the country.

THE Steubenville Herald announces the death of the aged minister, Rev. Intrepid Morse, who was forty years the esteemed pastor of St. Paul's Church, in that city. He died at the age of 76.

LOYALISTS AND FREEDMEN.—Major General Howard continues to receive advices from his assistants in the Southern States, which confirm the general impression that the reconstructed rebels daily commit outrages upon the loyalists and freedmen of that benighted section. Not only is the lash plied with vigor, but the knife and pistol are used in order to suppress every sentiment of patriotism. Since the reception of the intelligence that President Johnson has vetoed the great institution which has done so much to promote harmony between the belligerent former slave lord and the freedmen, the "pardoned" enemies of the country openly boast that as soon as military protection is withdrawn, the freedmen will have to suffer.

THE Wilkes-Barre Record gives a report that money is being collected among the Copperheads of Luzerne county, for the relief of Wilkes Booth, who is believed by them to be still alive. Couldn't they do a little towards erecting a monument to Benedict Arnold?

The Recreant President—Action of the Editors of Illinois.

The Republican editors of Illinois, in convention at Peoria last week, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the Republican editors of the State of Illinois, in view of the late action of the President of the United States in vetoing the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, a measure designed only to operate in those States and districts where the [illegible] of freedom were denied and the law of liberty set at naught, a measure humane, benignant, and [illegible] in its general provisions, and passed by more than two-thirds of the members of both Houses of Congress, receiving the united support of every true Republican member thereof, do hereby declare our unqualified disapprobation of said veto, and deprecate the spirit in which the President turns his back upon the tried friends and supporters of this Government, and joins hands with the late rebels and copperheads, whose common purpose it was, and still is, to overthrow our republican form of government and destroy freedom.

Resolved, That we send greeting to the loyal and true members of Congress, especially to the Illinois delegation, Senators and Representatives, for their consistent and manly support and enthusiastic approval of the loyal editors of Illinois.

Resolved, That it is unbecoming a loyal, magnanimous people, after illustrating the brightest pages in the history of national progress, at the very moment of their highest achievement, to take a step backward, and to clearly undo the best work of a century, condensed into the short space of four bloody years.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to each of our loyal Representatives and Senators in Congress, and that the loyal papers of the State of Illinois be requested to give the same a place in their columns.

NATIONAL BANKS.

THE EXCHANGE NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, January 25, 1866.

BY AUTHORITY FROM THE Comptroller of the Currency, the Directors of this Bank have declared a dividend of fifty per cent. out of the reserved profits, payable in shares of new stock to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), making the capital fifteen hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000.)
Stockholders will have credit on the books of the Bank with one new share of fifty dollars for each two shares held on this twenty-sixth day of January, A. D., 1866.
When this allotment makes one-half of a share a portion of the dividend, the owner may complete the share by a payment of twenty-five dollars, or receive that amount as an equivalent; but this option will cease upon the completion of the increase to the capital, when all remaining fractions will be paid in cash.

DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK, No. 59 FOURTH STREET.

CHARTERED IN 1855.

Open daily from 9 to 2 o'clock, also on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, from May 1st to November 1st, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and from November 1st to May 1st, from 6 to 8 o'clock.
Deposits received of all sums of not less than One Dollar, and a dividend of the profits declared twice a year, in June and December. Interest has been declared semi-annually in June and December since the Bank was organized, at the rate of six per cent. a year.
Interest, if not drawn out, is placed to the credit of the depositor as principal, and bears the same interest from the first days of June and December, compounding twice a year without troubling the depositor to call, or even to present his pass book. At this rate money will double in less than twelve years.
Books containing the Charter, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, furnished gratis, on application at the office.
