Che Zinsburgh Gazette. THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1866. ADVERTISING RATES Established by the Press of Pilishurgh STANDING MATTER, One Square of Ten Lines, Eight Words to the Line, or 8-4 Inch Engle. Tiage. Daily, | 3 t. a | 2 t. a | 1 t. Mr. Covode Gets Heard at Last. When the President in partial respons to a resolution, transmitted to the Senate the report of Gen. Schurz, he stated that no report had been received from the Hon. John Covode. In view of the testimony of Mr. Covode, which we published yes terday, we think that the President's statenent will be deemed, to say the least disingenuous. Mr. Covode testifies that ne prepared a written report expressly for PET OF THE PETTICOATS. the President, entitled "Louisiana Politically Considered:"that he took it to the President cally Considered. That he took it to the President, together with documents belonging to it; that he read part of it to the President; and that, at the suggestion of the President, he filed that report with its accompanying papers in the War Office Report and papers have since disappeared nobody knows where or how. But inasmuch as the Senate resolution called by name for Mr. Covode's report, the President would have answered with more precision had he stated the facts as now given cision had he stated the facts as now given by Mr. Covode. To say briefly that "no report had been received," does seem a le inconsistent with the facts little inconsistent with the facts.
Judging from the evidence of Mr. Covode before the Reconstruction Committee, we should say that his report, had it been duly given to the public when called for, should have materially affected public opinion of the President's restoration policy. Mr. Covode is well known; he went South charged with an official investigation into the state AT MASONIC HALL. an official investigation into the state blic feeling; he examined deliberately ils conclusions are entitled to consideration. They are entirely opposed to i mediate readmission of the Rebel Sta mediate readmission of the Rebei States into the Union, and they confirm previous testimony in a quite remarkable manner.

It is well known that Mr. Roger A. Pryor, ex-Rebei-General, has said that for some time after the surrender of Lee the temper of the Southwess ex-physicism that the he South was so submissive that they ld have accepted, without a murmur, legro Suffrage as a condition of readmis-ion. In fact, the Rebels did about that time realize that they had been whipped and expected to take such terms as their conquerors close to grant. That is what Pryor says, and he must be deemed a competent and credible with a competent and credib Mr. Covode, "to find how dorlle and submissive they were "Low with the warm of the army which Kithy Smith had surrendered, conversing freely with both officers and men of that force. "I was surprised," says Mr. Covode, "to find how dorlle and submissive they were"." they were "—

"In no single instance either there or on the-steamboat where i traveled with them, did inear any bitter or unkind feeling expressed toward the Government. The general expression among them was that they were whipped and well whipped, that they were glad the war was over, and were ready tocome back mader the old dag, and submit to what was required of them. Many of the more instance of the standard made agreed with the standard the control of the land made agreed with the standard was required of them. Many of the more instandant was a standard with the standard was required of them. Many of the more instandard was a standard with the standard was required to the standard with political means, in which, they said, they could have been sure of the slid of the Northern bemcerats; that by precipitating the Robellion they had tied the bands of their Northern Fleuds. To all appearance, the men of the army had not the remotest expectation of being again intrusted with political power and privileges, at least for some time." We believe there is no doubt that such We believe there is no doubt that such was, there is no doubt that such was, there is no given at 7 o'cines, to connecte at 9 o'cines, to connecte a terms of readmission. They knew how they would have treated the North in similar circumstances; they looked for list in the creamagner of the South did undergo about that time a great change. So far as Louisiana is concerned, Mr. Covode's testimony supplies an explanation. He went down to New Orleans, many of Kirby Smith's men going also. Gov. Wells of Louisiana had just returned from Washington, and a public meeting was called to hear his report. He went to the meeting and made a speech, in which he stated "that he had seen the President, who was a Southern man and a Democrat, and that Mr. Johnson would be a bulwark between the South and Northern Abolitionists and fanaticism. He made open issue against the former administration of Mr. Lincoln, charging it with the contraction of an enormous debt, &c., and claiming that the administration of Mr. Lincoln, charging it with the contraction of an enormous debt, &c., and claiming that the administration of Mr. Lincoln, charging it with the contraction of an enormous debt, &c., and claiming that the administration of Mr. Lincoln, charging it with the contraction of Mr. Lincoln and the contraction of Mr R. H. LECKY, fresh from his consultations with Mr. Johnson, abandoned the loyal party that elected him, removed from office the loyal appointees of Gov. Hahn, filled their places with the worst class of Rebels, and from that day to this has done his utmost to throw the political power of the State again into the hands of the men who in 1860 took it out of the Union, in defiance of a majority of the people. Mr. Covode stayed in Louisiana long enough to observe the development of this, policy, came back to Washington, and reported that Gov. Wells ought to be removed. The result was that the President suppressed his report, kept Gov. Wells freah from his consultations with Mr. John ident suppressed his report, kept Gov. Wells in office, and to-day disloyally rules su-preme in Louisiana. If there is any more instructive lesson in Reconstruction, we know not where it is to be found. —N. Y. Tribune. BORING TOOLS.
