HON. J. K. MOORHEAD, Some days ago we mentioned the fact that some days ago we mentioned the natural does not surprise us. Having encouraged the business men of this city were taking the Southern leaders to go into the rebellion, by huge promises of sympathy and the surprise in Congress. In our advertising columns this morning will be found a letter addressed to him, requesting the use of his name as a the republic but love of the rabels that considered. candidate This letter is Igned by a large number of the most reputable and influential houses. Whatever may be Mr Moonmonial from friends and neighbors-constit uents during the long period of his public services-is highly honorable to him and President, or had his approbation. The cordial, if not confidential, relations subsisting between the President and the Sen ator, was the cause of this supposition. It made at the suggestion of Mr. H. S. FOOTE of Tennessee, whose daughter is the wife of Mr STEWART The President does not tayor the suggestion. Indeed, his police excludes adjustments of every description. He holds that the Southern States forfeited to be of their rights by rebellion, and that as precedent to restoration. True, his own practice does not conform to this theory, quite the reverse, but he means the action of Congress shall conform thereto. This will be more distinctly discerned, in the masses of royal people. It will be foun tha' whatever arbitrary authority the Pretheir has exercised hitherto, or may exercise hereafter, over the rebellious State gress that impinges on the idea that the and unqualified sense as the loval States.

His boldness and energy, ever when in excess and degenerating into nake obstinacy, command a certain sort of repect To the multitude Congress appear ceptible of apt definition. It is, indeed inderstood that Congress insists on con ditions-on guarantees for future tranaility and progress-but precisely what these conditions are no one can tell. There is a strong and deep feeling among loyal men in accordance with this prevailing ide: in Congress. This popular demand is that conditions of restoration has propounded and enforced, and that these conditions cover to a large degree as the imperfections of human forecast will allow, all the points ent want of it in the Chambers is not anonalous, but in the very nature of things. Where only one has to deliberate, and that single individual is possessed of a clear understanding and an unbending will, there is little difficulty in maturing a judgment, giving it a sharp expression, and causing it to be recognized in all its parts as well as in its entirety. The case is very unlike this when many persons are thrown together in a deliberative assembly. It is not easy, in any negotiation of prime importance, to bring two or three hundred men promptly bring two or three hundred men prompti) to concurrence Each one necessarily sees her as such, provided she has resolved not Geo. The perplexity is increased when two assemblies organized on different bases, and hence subiect, in a measure, to conflicting influences and motives, must necessarily come to subtial agreement before a judgment can be rendered and a plan be finally developed.
